

Chapter 135 The Turmoil Subsided

Tyson read Kiley's apology statement.

She seemed sincere. And there were many comments below her statement.

Most of the people commented in a friendly tone. Although many of them mentioned Celia, they respected her opinion and did not force her to accept the apology.

But there were also a few people who claimed the moral high ground and accused Celia of disregarding the sincerity of her colleague, because for so long, she had remained silent.

Tyson's frown deepened. He used his authority to enter the homepages of these people and silently remembered their names and appearances in his mind.

Fortunately, there were only a few of them. Celia finally accepted the apology and subsided the turmoil, but it could be seen that she was not forced.

The sooner the matter was resolved, the less impact it would have on her and the easier the public opinion would favor her. Tyson understood this, so he silently approved of her decision.

After these twists and turns, he didn't intend to deal with Kiley anymore.

He had already planned to call the human resources department to talk about her termination after she was discharged from the hospital. He would also ask her to clarify this matter and apologize to Celia in public.

Tyson didn't want to keep Kiley in the company. But before he fired her, he had to let her prove Celia's innocence and make sure that Celia wouldn't be criticized in the future.

But he didn't expect that before he could start to deal with this matter, Kiley had already issued an apology statement in the company forum.

He didn't know much about Kiley. But on second thought, it was a good thing.

Celia's crisis was solved without his help.

Moreover, as long as Kiley didn't stir up more trouble, keeping her in the company would only add prestige to Celia. It could also help Celia establish a healthy relationship with her colleagues. Tyson believed that after this matter with Kiley, others would not easily make trouble for Celia in the future.

Just when he felt relieved about it, a new message came in. It was from Celia.

"Honey, I have good news to tell you. That colleague I had a dispute with yesterday already apologized to me. Since the issue was clarified, everyone understood and stopped talking about me. Now I can finally focus on my work." Tyson felt her message was full of joy.

He was also happy about it.

He immediately replied, "Congratulations, honey! This deserves a celebration, so I'll cook delicious dinner for you tonight."

"Honey, you're so good. I'm more motivated to work now." Tyson felt Celia's excitement in her reply.

Thinking that she must be smiling sweetly now, he couldn't help smiling too.

"Okay, honey, focus on your work now. Come home early. I'll wait for you."

Celia and Tyson exchanged a few more sweet nothings. They only stopped when Briar knocked on the door and came in.

"You came just in time."

Tyson put his phone aside and looked at Briar. "You don't need to ask Kiley to see me anymore. But after she comes back to work, you have to arrange for someone to keep an eye on her all the time. If you find that she is making trouble for Celia of the design department, remember to report it to me right away."

Briar nodded and got to the point. "Mr. Shaw, I already have the result of what you asked me to investigate yesterday.

I sent someone to the Kane family's house to give the servants a few benefits, and we got some useful information from them.

It turned out that Celia returned home yesterday to retrieve a sapphire ring. According to the servants, the ring belonged to her late mother, Jenifer Mitchel. So it's very important to her. But for some reason, it fell on Adrien's hands. And now, he said that he sold it."

Tyson's brows furrowed, and he felt the anger surging in his heart.

Thinking that the woman he cherished the most was bullied, and she couldn't even get her mother's ring back from her father, he was so furious that he wanted to immediately punish those bastards for Celia.

"I don't care what method you use, but I want to quickly take over the Kane Group," Tyson said to Briar with a cold face.
