

Chapter 183 Gentlemen Don't Fight With Women

Brea seemed to have sensed Wayne's frustration. The look in her eyes turned cold. After looking at him for a long time, she sneered, "I'm really unlucky today. I ran into a beast as soon as I came out."

This sentence shattered Wayne's nice impression of her and made him come to his senses.

He glared at her and said, "What are you talking about? Are you calling me a beast? Do you want to find fault with me?"

Brea sneered coldly, "Did I say you are a beast? Why are you in such a hurry to match yourself?"

Wayne gritted his teeth in anger. Thinking of his fight with her in Evans Group last time, he wondered if he should continue to go against her.

After all, this woman was very difficult to deal with. Worse was, she had a quick tongue. He might be no match for her.

When the fans saw that Wayne was too angry to say a word, they clapped their hands, praising Brea.

"Well done, Brea! This man slandered you in front of us just now. We brought him here to apologize to you."

Brea turned around and smiled at her fans. Then she said, "Thank you, everyone!"

Seeing her smile, the fans were immediately elated.

"Oh, Brea smiled at me! I am so happy!"

On the other hand, when Dilan saw that Wayne was surrounded by a group of young women, he did his best to squeeze through the crowd. He wanted to give Wayne some support. But he was immediately deflated by the several burly men around Brea.

He was just an assistant and driver, and these bodyguards were obviously skilled. So he could only smile awkwardly and say, "It's a misunderstanding. It's all a misunderstanding. Mr. Evans has something important to do, so we must go now."

After saying this, he took Wayne's arm and tried to squeeze out of the crowd.

Brea winked at her bodyguards. Then they immediately surrounded Wayne and Dilan to stop them from leaving.

Upon seeing that they were in an unfavorable situation, Dilan immediately apologized. "Miss Duffy, we're sorry. Please let my boss and I go. We have a meeting with a client, so we can't waste time here."

Wayne got angrier when he saw Dilan become a coward. He glared at Dilan and said, "Why are you apologizing? Don't apologize to her. Are you my subordinate or not? Why are you so spineless? Not everyone can be reasoned with. For someone like Brea, who is very irrational, you can't change her mind no matter what you say. If she is a reasonable person, how can she have so many unreasonable fans?"

Dilan got anxious at once. He grabbed Wayne's arm and said, "A smart man should know his place. Everyone here right now is on Brea's side. It's disadvantageous for us to fight against her."

However, Wayne didn't listen to Dilan. He said stubbornly, "No, we can't abandon our dignity. I won't yield to Brea no matter what."

Dilan felt his head ache even more.

He was actually confused. Wayne was very outgoing and never had a conflict with others. But why did he keep arguing with Brea?

Did they have a mystical bond?

But it was almost time for their meeting, and this client was difficult to deal with. Wayne's father, the CEO of Evans Group, personally asked Wayne to win this deal. If Wayne failed to get this project, his father would blame him.

Dilan immediately reminded Wayne, "Mr. Evans, you are a gentleman. Gentlemen don't fight with women. It's about time to meet the client. Don't act on impulse and delay the meeting."

He thought that Wayne would give in and leave after hearing his words. After all, Wayne was a reasonable man who knew his priorities.

But much to his surprise, Wayne insisted on being tough. "We can talk about the cooperation later. Today, I have to show a man's integrity."

Wayne snorted coldly. He pushed the bodyguards away, walked up to Brea, and looked at her aggressively.

"Brea, do you really want a fight? I will fight with you to the end then."
