

Chapter 194 The Rival Of Brea

As soon as Brea left, the whole performing arts department returned to normal as the staff went back to do their respective work.

The other stars sneered at Vida and some gave a disdainful glance at her before they went back to work.

Celia motioned Vida to sit down and asked her about her preferences in fashion as she took out a notebook.

Vida seriously put forward a lot of requirements, from the color to the fabric. She made very specific requirements as if she was imaging the dress design from top to bottom in her mind.

Celia cooperated very well as she wrote down all one by one, before she measured the key ratios of Vida's body and took photos of her body from all directions.

"I'll add you to my contact list and send you some photos of my past styles for reference."

The two of them quickly exchanged their contact information. Vida immediately sent her past photos to Celia.

After receiving the photos, Celia saved them in her phone and shook hands with Vida. "I hope we will have a pleasant cooperation."

Vida smiled gently and said, "I'm looking forward to your work. Since the event I'm going to attend will be three months later, you should have plenty of time to work on it. I hope you can hand over the satisfactory work to me. After all, I expect that my dress and style will also earn me a trending topic like Brea did last time."

Hearing this, Celia chuckled awkwardly. Although she was confident in her own ability, she couldn't guarantee that she could make Vida earn the same amount of attention as Brea did. After all, the future was always unpredictable. She knew not to assume things the same way all the time. Therefore, she only said, "I'll try my best. I promise I won't treat you differently."

Knowing what she meant, Vida patted her on the shoulder and encouraged, "Don't be too pressured by it. I believe in your talent."

Then, Vida looked down at her watch and said, "I have to go now as I have to attend a variety show in the evening. If you have any questions, you can text me at any time. I will reply to you when I see the message."

"Okay."

After parting ways with Vida, Celia was about to go to the lounge to say goodbye to Brea before going back to work in the design department.

However, as soon as she turned around, she slightly bumped into a petite woman behind her.

"I'm sorry!"

Celia raised her hands and apologized in a hurry. She looked at the woman, and what she noticed was the attire and the accessories the woman was wearing. All of them were the latest products of various luxury brands. Even the seemingly unremarkable watch on her wrist cost a lot. Obviously, she was not an ordinary person.

After she apologized, she was about to leave when the woman suddenly showed a gentle smile and asked, "Are you Celia?"

The woman's smile was so sweet and charming, and the curve of her mouth was almost perfect. However, accompanied by this perfect smile was the emotionless eyes which attracted Celia's attention.

The simper that people talked about on the internet was just like this, wasn't it?

But it had to be said that she was indeed very beautiful. Although her beauty was not up to the standard of Brea, she could be considered to be more beautiful than Vida. Her pure and delicate face became sweet and obedient once she smiled like this. It was the kind of flower-like beauty which could arouse men's desire to unleash their protective side.

However, the perfume on her smelled a bit exaggerated. Celia couldn't help but suppress her urge to wrinkle her nose as she took two steps back.

"I'm Celia. Who are you?"

When the woman heard Celia ask about her identity, a trace of surprise flashed through her eyes, but she quickly smiled again. She looked confident as she asked, "You don't know me? Haven't you seen me on TV?"

Before Celia could answer, she added, "Anyway, that's not important right now. Can I have your phone number? I want to cooperate with you in the future."

Celia was a little hesitant. Although Brea had just assured her that she could take on some private work, it was not good to take too much as she also had a main job as a full-time designer. Besides, too much workload would drain her energy.

Just as she didn't know what to do, Brea came over. With a nonchalant expression, she pulled Celia behind her and interrupted, "Cece won't cooperate with you. You'd better give up."

"Brea, you..." The woman's face darkened. It seemed that she was about to lose her temper, but she held it back.

Without caring about what she had to say, Brea directly pulled Celia away.

"Cece, have you finished your talk with Vida? You are going back to the design department, right? I'll go there with you." Without a beat, Brea said all this and walked alongside Celia towards the direction of the design department.

Seeing that Brea had taken off the black dress and changed into other clothes, Celia asked, "Brea, why did you change your dress?"

Brea explained with a smile, "That dress was carefully modified by you for the upcoming event. It's very precious, so I have to preserve it well. What's more, the fewer people see it, the better. Only in this way can I surprise and impress the audiences at the party."

Celia shook her head and said honestly, "In fact, you are impressive no matter what you wear. After all, you are so beautiful. By the way, thank you very much for your encouragement in doing the cooperation with Vida. I am going to earn a lot of extra money."

"Don't mention it." Brea waved her hand and said, "It's mainly because Vida has become popular recently. So, it's a good idea for you to help her. If she gets very well-known in the future, your position in the design circle will also be promoted."

"Thank you, Brea." Celia was grateful for Brea's consideration to her. Very few people had the attitude of Brea. Suddenly, she thought of the woman just now. She couldn't help asking, "By the way, who is that pretty woman we met just now? Is she a female star as well? You don't seem to like her very much."

Hearing her mentioning that woman, Brea suddenly sneered.

"She can be considered as my rival. Her name is Keira Guerrero. She is basically a celebrity who relies on her family background. Her family is rich and has invested in several movies to make her the heroine. But none of them made it through, and by now, I am sure her family has lost a lot of money. She has been in the entertainment industry for several years, but none of the works she has taken part in is remarkable. But she often competes with me for resources. We are not even in the same field of artists or in the same level, but she always likes to compete with me about the resources I am interested in every time!"

Celia made an understanding face before she asked in confusion, "Isn't she embarrassed by doing so when she works in the same company with you?"

Brea didn't hide her scornful expression. "She doesn't know how to be shameful. And she is not a star of the Semsby Group. Mr. Reyes dislikes this kind of incompetent woman the most. This time, she probably came to the Semsby Group for someone. I don't know who she is looking for."

After a short pause, Brea suddenly stopped and said, "Right, I just remember it. I heard that she came to see Mr. Reyes today."

