

Chapter 255 Competing For The Dress

When the shop assistant who took out the best dress heard that Tyson was from the Shaw family, she immediately put on a smile and was about to serve Tyson and Celia flatteringly.

However, she soon heard that he was kicked out of the Shaw family long ago. Then she realized that he was the rumored illegitimate son who was driven out of the Shaw family because of a car accident that disfigured his face.

Therefore, the shop assistant's attitude changed dramatically. She told Tyson coldly, "This dress is not an ordinary one. It's the most expensive in our shop, and it's worth eight million dollars."

The shop assistant, who was frightened by Tyson's imposing aura earlier also became bold. She snorted coldly and said to Tyson, "If you can't afford it, don't pretend to be rich and affect our business. We don't have time to play with you."

"That's right! Just drop the act. You are no longer a member of a rich family," echoed another shop assistant.

But Tyson didn't explain anything. He just took out his bank card and handed it to the first shop assistant indifferently. "I'll pay for this dress by card."

The shop assistant took the bank card suspiciously. But when she looked at it, she was stunned for a while.

Celia was shocked when Tyson took out his bank card. She secretly asked him in disbelief, "Tyson, do you have so much money? It's eight million dollars."

Tyson gently said in a low voice, "Don't worry. There is enough money on this card. I'll explain it to you later."

Celia was still confused. But she couldn't convince him.

The shop assistants looked at each other, finally believing that Tyson would really buy the dress. Their attitude also changed greatly.

"Please come with me," said the shop assistant who took out the dress.

But when they were about to go to the counter, Mabel clutched her torn skirt and rushed forward to stop them. "Wait! I want this dress. My dress is torn, and I need to change. I want this one."

The shop assistant couldn't afford to offend either of them, so she was in a dilemma again. She had no choice but to say, "But there is only one this dress in our shop. Since both of you like it, who will buy it?"

When Cerissa saw that Mabel was so impulsive, she rushed over and pulled her to the side.

The expression on her face changed. She looked around vigilantly and whispered, "Mom, don't act rashly. The dress costs eight million dollars. It is too expensive. We usually buy a dress that is only worth thousands of dollars. At most, we can spend ten thousand dollars on a dress. But eight million dollars? If Dad finds out that you spend that much on a dress, he will be furious."

However, Mabel was in a fit of rage at this time. She didn't mind Cerissa's advice at all.

She glared at Cerissa and said in a voice that only the two of them could hear, "I don't care. I just want to compete with her to make her and her husband unhappy."

I have never been humiliated like this all my life. If I don't teach them a lesson today, will they still take me seriously? Besides, your father and I have been together for decades. What's wrong with buying a dress worth millions of dollars? The fucking ring of Celia's mother is worth millions of dollars. Can't I spend part of it?"

Actually, Cerissa agreed with Mabel. But she knew the current financial situation of the Kane family, so she said in a low voice, "Mom, I won't stop you if you want to compete with them. But is there enough money on our card? If you can't pay for the dress, you will only embarrass yourself."

Mabel snorted coldly, pulled her hand back, and took out her bank card.

"That's not something you have to worry about. Anyway, no matter what happens today, I'll buy this dress and slap that bitch and her useless husband hard in the face."

She rushed to the shop assistant and handed her the bank card directly. Then she looked at Celia and Tyson arrogantly and said aloud, "Give that dress to me now."

Swipe my card immediately.

I want this dress right now.

I need to change."

Mabel glared at Celia, before looking at the shop assistant and saying, "Bring me the POS terminal now!"
