

Chapter 323 Baby, What Are You Expecting

Brea was stunned for a moment. Then she subconsciously asked Wayne, "What do you mean? Liable for what?"

"Don't you really understand, or you're just pretending not to?" Wayne stroked her soft lips and asked, "Don't you want to be my real girlfriend?"

Brea's eyes widened in surprise. Although she was elated, she said stubbornly, "You haven't woken up yet, right? Do you think you're still in a dream?"

Wayne held her face again and said seriously, "I'm awake now. And I know I'm not dreaming. As long as you say yes, I'll be your real boyfriend."

Brea was still in a daze. Those crazy kisses just now made her realize that she was still in a state of confusion.

She didn't know if he was really sincere or just teasing her again.

Although she could feel her love for him, she couldn't imagine what would happen if she really became his girlfriend. After all, Wayne was the prince of the Evans family, and his family was not just an ordinary wealthy family. Moreover, she couldn't tell whether he really loved her or not.

But Brea didn't dare to ask because she was afraid that Wayne would think she was really eager to be his girlfriend. Her face flushed. But to hide her panic, she asked a different question. "Why did you kiss me just now?"

Wayne smiled and said, "Didn't you kiss me first? I suddenly found that it felt good to kiss you, so I couldn't control myself at that time. That's why I kissed you."

Brea was not satisfied with her answer. She even felt a little upset.

She gritted her teeth and glared at him. "So if other beautiful women kiss you, you won't be able to control yourself too? And then you will also kiss them crazily like what you did to me just now?"

Wayne smiled helplessly. "My lady, you're overthinking. Am I the kind of man who can't control myself all the time? At present, there is only one woman who can make me lose control of myself. And that woman is right in front of me now. She is you, Brea."

Sweetness filled Brea's heart. She wished she could throw herself into Wayne's arms, act like a spoiled girl in front of him, and be intimate with him.

But she also felt that it would be too fast if she agreed to be his girlfriend now.

Besides, she heard that if a woman was too easy to get, the man would not cherish her that much.

Therefore, she intended to play hard to get for the time being. She raised her chin proudly and snorted coldly, "Since you sincerely want me to be your girlfriend, I will be merciful enough to think about it. I will think it over before I give you my answer."

Wayne smiled. "I didn't expect you to be so reserved. Is it because I didn't make you happy enough that you need to see more men to compare with me?"

Brea pushed him and said coquettishly, "Shut up, you bastard!"

But as soon as she said this, he pressed her under him again.

Wayne snickered and whispered in her ear, "Since you call me like that, I'll show you what a bastard can do now."

Although Brea was being pressed by him like this, she didn't resist. Instead, she just smiled.

At this moment, all she felt was indescribable happiness in her heart. She closed her eyes and took the initiative to hold Wayne's waist, waiting for his rogue behavior.

Brea thought Wayne was going to kiss her. But after she waited for a while, there was no kiss. She was about to open her eyes when she felt his body pressed down, and a wave of heat sprayed on her face.

It seemed that he was about to kiss her.

Brea felt a little nervous. She felt that his lips, which she had been expecting to kiss her for a long time, gently rubbed against her face, then moved to her ear.

Soon, she heard Wayne say in a low and magnetic voice, "Baby, what are you expecting?"
