

Chapter 358 Questioning Adrien

Tyson and Celia soon arrived home. With his arms around her, they entered the house together. Then he said with a smile, "Cece, I'll just go to the balcony to make a phone call."

Celia didn't ask anything. She just smiled sweetly at him and nodded.

When Tyson got to the balcony, he immediately called Briar, who answered in less than three seconds.

"I need you to investigate a woman named Lesly Gomez."

"Okay, sir," Briar quickly replied.

Tyson knew that Lesly and Celia were classmates in college. He thought for a while and continued, "She majored in fashion design. And now that she bullied my woman, you immediately shut her out from Hosworth. No companies in the fashion design industry should hire her. I don't want her to stay in Hosworth anymore."

Although he sounded very calm, Briar felt his anger.

Briar was stunned for a moment before he said cautiously, "Sir, you seem to have to deal with a lot of people recently. We've just dealt with the Kane Group, and now we have to deal with this woman. I understand why you wanted to deal with the Kane Group. But this woman? She is just a nobody and not worth your attention. Do we really need to ban her from the industry?"

Briar clearly knew that his words would displease Tyson, but he couldn't hide his curiosity.

Sure enough, Tyson frowned upon hearing this. "You talk too much."

Briar didn't dare to say anything more about it. He fawningly said, "I'll do it right away, sir."

After saying this, he immediately hung up the phone as if he was afraid that Tyson would make trouble for him.

But Tyson's brows furrowed even tighter.

In the past, Briar never dared to talk to him like this. Had he become more approachable after being with Celia for a long time?

It must be. Otherwise, Briar wouldn't have been so bold.

For the first time, Tyson faced a change in him. And he felt a little incredible.

Back then, he didn't have time to care about these trivial things. But now, he had done a lot of things he would never do before, and this was all for Celia's sake.

He didn't care about what others thought of him. All he wanted was for her to be happy.

Celia, on the other hand, took the opportunity that Tyson went to the balcony to send a message to Adrien.

Since she met Cerissa and Mabel at the mall, she had long wanted to settle accounts with Adrien. But it was inconvenient for her to take care of this matter when Tyson was around, so she couldn't find a chance.

She and Tyson seemed inseparable recently. So now that she finally got a chance, she must get things done right away.

This time, her words for Adrien were sharper than ever.

"I met Cerissa and Mabel at the mall. Didn't you say you don't have money? How come they could still buy products from luxury stores? Adrien, you lied to me again. Every time you told me that you didn't have money to redeem the ring, I believed you. But it turned out you're a liar. You lie to me again and again. I'm telling you, I already know the truth. I won't let you continue lying to me. You'd better go and redeem the ring now. Otherwise, I will directly see you in court."

After sending this message, Celia looked at the door nervously. She was afraid that Tyson would suddenly come back.

It only took a short while for Adrien to reply.

"Cece, I heard that Tyson bought you a dress worth eight million dollars. He is so rich, isn't he? Why do you still want that ring back? And how can you say such things to me? You break my heart. Anyway, he is from the Shaw family, and he has a lot of money. He could even afford to buy you a dress worth eight million dollars. Why don't you ask him to redeem the ring instead? He is your husband. If you ask him, he will definitely not refuse you."

Celia noticed that Adrien's reply was not as cautious as before. It seemed that he was throwing caution to the wind. Perhaps Cerissa and Mabel had said something to him after they went home from the mall.
