

Chapter 385 I Like Coquettish Women

Celia was stunned for a moment. She didn't expect that Derek would get to know about it.

But anyway, she didn't intend to hide it from him. So she nodded and said, "Yes, I accepted Vida's order. I'll be designing her dress."

Derek frowned slightly. There seemed to be a worried look on his face.

He knew Brea's character too well, and he also knew how difficult it was to deal with Vida. He was worried about Celia's situation. He was afraid that Celia's future career would be ruined because of this.

He was so worried that he even forgot to control his tone. He asked nervously, "Cece, how did you know Vida? Are you not Brea's full-time designer? Does Brea know about this? I think you have to ask for her permission first."

Celia was taken aback. She had never seen him this worried. Although she could tell from his words that he cared about her, she felt a little uncomfortable.

For some reason that she couldn't specify, she felt awkward when she got along with him. His concern for her always made her feel that he was out of bounds.

However, she tried her best not to show the awkwardness she felt. After she calmed herself down, a decent smile appeared at the corners of her mouth. She said, "Don't worry. Brea knows. Actually, it's all thanks to her that I got this chance to cooperate with Vida. She helped me reach an agreement with Vida. Brea is very nice and considerate."

Derek was stunned for a while. Apparently, he didn't expect to hear such a thing from Celia. But he was relieved. So when he came back to his senses, he said, "That's good then. I thought you designed for another star in private without her permission. I was a little worried just now because I was afraid that you would offend Brea."

Celia shook her head and said in a polite yet alienated tone, "I know you are doing this because you care about me. You don't want anything bad to happen to me. I'm your subordinate, after all."

Every word she said emphasized the boundary of the relationship between her and Derek. He was her boss, and she was his subordinate. And she kept a distance from him.

But when Kiley heard their conversation, she was very jealous.

Everyone in the company knew that Vida had just played the female supporting role in a blockbuster TV series, and was quite popular recently. Celia was only new in the Semshy Group, but she was already given the opportunity to design a dress for Vida. Celia would probably get promoted step by step and become better and better in the design industry.

On the other hand, Kiley had been in the design industry for so many years, but she remained a nobody. It seemed that she was so unknown that no big shot had ever asked for her service.

And the thing she hated the most was that many powerful people were helping Celia. This was something she really couldn't understand.

Kiley was almost engulfed in the flames of jealousy. She cursed Celia countless times in her heart, using the most unpleasant words she had learned all her life.

At first, she didn't want to let Alick sleep with Celia. After all, Alick was a handsome man, and she liked him very much.

But she changed her mind. All she wanted now was to let Alick take Celia to bed. Then she would let the entire company know about it.

With this, Kiley would reap two benefits. First, she would get paid. Second, she could make Celia suffer.

But when she thought about it, she realized that Celia wouldn't seem to suffer any loss in sleeping with Alick. After all, he was very handsome.

The more she thought about it, the angrier she became until she almost couldn't hide her emotions anymore.

But she forced herself to calm down. She continued to quietly listen to Celia and Derek's conversation.

At this moment, Derek said, "Cece, I have worked with Vida before. The result was not bad, and she was also satisfied with my performance. So I know her preferences and characteristics. I will share these materials with you for your reference."

Celia was happy and grateful for Derek's kindness. "That's great! I'm actually worried that I can't design a dress suitable for Vida. I didn't expect that you had worked with her before."

"Well, that was before." As he spoke, Derek looked at Celia and added, "Come to my office. I'll discuss with you the work I did for Vida before."

"Okay. Thank you." Celia then left with Derek with a heart full of gratitude.

Kiley was left there alone, standing awkwardly.

She secretly rolled her eyes, took out her phone, and secretly took a photo of Celia and Derek entering the office. Then she sent it to Alick.

"Mr. Juarez, Celia has just entered Mr. Watson's office. Maybe she's planning to seduce him again. She seems so coquettish, right? She's only pretending to be reserved."

Kiley didn't expect Alick to reply so fast.

"It seems that she has changed a lot. But anyway, I like coquettish women. Kiley, help me keep an eye on Celia. And remember your mission. Don't screw it up at the dinner party tomorrow."
