

Chapter 386 Alick Was A Freak

When Kiley read Alick's reply, her mouth twitched in anger.

He said he liked coquettish women. But the last time she took the initiative to show her affection to him, why did he push her away?

The truth was, he liked bitches pretending to be innocent. Someone like Celia.

She didn't understand. What was so good about Celia? Why did these men stare at her as if they had never seen a woman before? She seemed a fairy in their eyes.

Alick and Derek both liked Celia. Could it be possible that even their CEO had a crush on her?

Kiley held back her anger and replied to Alick, "Mr. Juarez, trust me. I won't screw things up. Now that Celia is willing to be my friend, I'll find an opportunity to drug her at the dinner party tomorrow evening. By that time, I'll take her to your bed, and you can do anything you want. You will definitely have fun."

"Kiley, you're doing a great job! I will wait for your good news," Alick replied. "After it's done, you will get more benefits. In addition to one hundred thousand dollars, I will give you a designer bag. You can choose what you like. It's on me."

This message made Kiley very happy. She was so excited to have another designer bag.

But on second thought, she also felt unhappy.

This man was willing to do anything to get Celia. Was she really worth this effort?

Actually, one hundred thousand dollars and the designer bag were more than enough for Alick to have a female star sleep with him. Why did he spend this much money just to sleep with Celia? There must be something wrong with his brain.

Kiley was not reconciled. She asked again, "Mr. Juarez, you know that Celia and Derek must have slept together, right?" Don't you mind?"

Alick replied, but his tone was apparently not nice, "You're asking so many questions. It's none of your business! Besides, I don't believe it. I know Derek. He and Celia are just friends. I know better than you what kind of people they are. They couldn't have slept together at all. And even if they have, I don't mind. Maybe we can have a threesome. Isn't it more exciting? Derek is not ugly. I'm happy to have a threesome with him. It's actually interesting."

Kiley was rendered speechless.

She couldn't help thinking that Alick was a freak. Normal people wouldn't like a threesome, right? Who would want to be watched by someone else while having sex? Besides, he and the other man would fuck the same woman.

But Kiley didn't reply anymore. She put her phone down, intending to start working.

But his last message ignited a strange flame in her heart.

She also thought about it. Actually, she didn't mind having a threesome with Celia as long as the man was Alick.

After all, Alick was very handsome. And he must be good in bed. She really wanted to experience how it felt to have sex with him.

But he had no interest in her. He wouldn't possibly have sex with her.

While she was working, Kiley's mind was not in her work at all. She was imagining a scene wherein she and Alick were having sex.

At this moment, Celia and Derek were still in the latter's office, discussing the style of the dress for Vida.

Derek gave Celia a lot of information about Vida. He also shared with her his experiences when he worked with Vida.

Then he encouraged her, "When you were in college, your designs were already excellent. Now, you are already one of the best in this industry. As long as you find the design style that Vida likes, you will definitely satisfy her. Don't worry, Cece. I wish you a bright future in the design industry."

Celia could tell from Derek's sincere tone that he meant what he said.

She stood up and bowed to him to show her gratitude.

"Derek, thank you so much for always helping me out. You've been doing this since I was a student. Now, you're still helping me."

"You don't have to say that. We are good friends. I'm happy to see that you are doing well." After saying this, Derek also stood up and said, "By the way, I have another document here. It's about the dresses Vida wore on the red carpet before."

He opened the drawer, took out a document, and handed it to Celia. But unexpectedly, a photo was with the document. It slipped and fell to the floor.

When Celia took the document, her attention was caught by the photo. She subconsciously looked at the floor.

Derek panicked at once. He hurriedly picked up the photo, turned it over, and put it under the files on the desk.

Then he raised his head and looked at Celia nervously as if he wanted to explain something.

Celia was both startled and surprised.

She saw herself in the photo.
