

Chapter 397 The Gift I Want Is You

Wayne's words made Brea completely fall for him.

The moment she saw the necklace, she knew that it must have been carefully chosen by Wayne. She quickly nodded and said, "I like it very much. Thank you. But I'm just wondering why you are giving me these? First, the flowers. And now, this necklace. It's not my birthday today. There's also no holiday or celebration."

Wayne smiled and said, "You're right. Today is not a special day or a holiday. But I just want to make you happy. Since I want to pursue you, how can I not work hard to make you happy? I know giving stuff like these is kind of tacky, but I still want to do it. After all, a man wants to spend money on a woman he loves, right? And since most women like these things, I hope you do too."

Wayne was an extroverted person. But when he said this, he was a little shy. He didn't even dare to look into her eyes.

Brea couldn't help smiling. "Well, this trick actually works on me. I mean, I like receiving gifts. But I'm not the kind of woman who can easily be tempted by gifts. If you think you can impress me by giving me gifts, then you're wrong."

Wayne was not discouraged at all. He smiled and said, "Then I'll make persistent efforts and try to get your yes as soon as possible. Anyway, I'm going to love you for the rest of my life, so I'm willing to pursue you for the rest of my life too. I'll be very happy to do that."

Brea touched the necklace without saying anything. But her heart was filled with joy.

Judging from Wayne's determination, he should be serious about her.

However, she quickly thought and wondered if he had used this method to chase other women. Because if he had not, he wouldn't be so familiar with it.

All of a sudden, she thought he was the kind of playboy who was good at flirting with women. And she began to worry.

Therefore, Brea planned to observe Wayne for a while. If he sincerely loved her, and she felt that she liked him enough, there was no need for her to play hard to get. She could consider being with him.

While lost in thought, Brea couldn't help looking at Wayne.

She could deceive others but not herself. She had him in her heart already. But she knew that the Evans family was a top rich family while the Duffy family was only an ordinary rich family. Although she loved him, she wasn't sure if she could get along well with his family.

But Brea encouraged herself secretly.

Actually, she was not that bad, so she should not belittle herself. Perhaps the Evans family would like her by that time.

Brea was lost in thought when Wayne suddenly held her hand and took the necklace from her. "I'll put it on for you, okay?"

She was too stunned to say a word, so she only nodded.

Wayne smiled, unlocked the necklace, and put it on her neck, rubbing his fingertips against her smooth skin.

Putting on a necklace was simple and easy, but it took him a long time to finish it.

The atmosphere also became a little romantic during this period. Brea felt Wayne's rapid and hot breath spray on her neck, and her body changed a little.

When she thought that he would do something reckless again, he only properly put on the necklace for her.

"Here, take a look at it. It suits you very well."

As he spoke, Wayne picked up the vanity mirror on the table and handed it to Brea.

Brea took the mirror and looked at her reflection again and again. Then she smiled with satisfaction.

"I didn't expect you have a good taste."

She put down the mirror and looked at him. "Is there anything you want? Courtesy demands reciprocity. I'll also give you something."

Wayne smiled and leaned closer to her. "Actually, there's one gift I really like recently."

Brea immediately felt that he had ill intentions. Would he use this opportunity to say something like he wanted to sleep with her? But anyway, it was she who asked if he wanted anything. It was too late to regret it now. So she had to say, "Tell me. As long as I can afford it, I will give it to you."

"I'm sure you can afford it." Wayne's handsome face loomed large in front of her. He smiled and said, "The gift I want is you."
