

Chapter 401 Mack Harassed Her Again

Mack quickly messaged back, "I'm not afraid of making a scene! I'm not afraid of Tyson knowing about this. He is a loser. Even if he finds out, so what? All that will happen is that he will let you go, and then I'll be able to fuck you at will."

As she read his obscene words, Celia was so angry.

Her hands trembled as she replied furiously, "Mack, I'm warning you. If you dare to talk like this again, I will screenshot it and show your grandpa every obscene thing you've sent me. I'll let him know what a disgusting guy you are, and we'll see how he chooses to punish you! You'd better stop."

Mack's tone softened a little when she mentioned Hobson, as he still felt in awe of the man.

"Cece, don't say that. Remember, I have something on you. If I go down, we're going down together."

Celia clenched her fists in anger as she thought about how he knew her true identity. He was threatening her with the information of her being a substitute bride.

She didn't dare to handle this situation with Mack too rashly because she was afraid of what he might do. She could only try to stifle her anger as she replied, "Anyway, don't harass me anymore. I trust Tyson. He won't blame me for this, even if you tell him. Even if he cares that I lied to him, that's something for the two of us to handle together. Don't think that I'm a pushover just because you threaten me."

Mack's next response was even more disgusting.

"I didn't expect you to be so feisty. I like you even more now! You may not know, but I'm a man who loves a challenge. I will slowly conquer you and your body. I believe that after you sleep with me once, you'll no longer spare a thought for that loser Tyson."

Celia felt so angry that she nearly cursed out loud.

She still tried her best to hold back her anger as she sent her next message to Mack.

"Are you out of your mind, Mack? I suggest you see a doctor about these insane thoughts. If you need me to, I can find one for you, for Tyson's sake."

Mack didn't get angry at this response. Instead, he replied, "I like your stubborn attitude. Since it's inconvenient for us to meet today, I'll come back another day. I hope that your attitude will have changed by then."

The more Celia thought about Mack and his words, the angrier she became. Instead of replying again, she blocked his number.

Then she angrily put down her phone and inhaled deeply, trying to calm herself down. Unexpectedly, she received a message from Tyson at that moment.

"Cece, when will you get off work today? I'll come pick you up."

Celia picked up her phone again and replied, "I have something to do still. I'll be off work once I finish it."

Tyson replied quickly, "You work so hard, Cece. Don't tire yourself out. Just try your best to finish what you can. I'll come and pick you up soon. What do you want to eat tonight? I'll buy the ingredients on the way."

As she read his caring words, Celia felt the dark cloud that Mack had caused dissolve, and her spirits lifted.

She continued to chat with Tyson for a while and waited for her mood to improve further before continuing to work on the design draft.

When it was time to get off work, Kiley came by to say goodbye to Celia. "I'm heading out, Cece. Why are you still working? It's so late!"

She smiled sweetly as she looked at Celia pleasantly.

Looking at her now, no one would think that she and Celia had been at such odds before.

"I'll leave soon. There's still a bit of work to do."

"Then I'll leave first," Kiley said with another sweet smile.

Celia saw her off with a polite smile of her own.

As soon as Kiley left, Derek walked out of his office.

In the past, he would say goodbye to Celia before leaving. But today, he simply glanced at Celia with a bitter smile and then left the office in a hurry.

He walked so quickly that it looked like he was fleeing from her!
