

Chapter 405 Medical Examination Repor

At the sight of Tyson, all Celia's worries vanished.

The day had been long and too many things had happened. All she wanted right now was to run into the safety of Tyson's arms and cocoon herself in his warmth.

Celia didn't stifle her urge. She picked up her pace until she was jogging. The minute she was in the car, she lunged towards Tyson and hugged him. As she held on to him with all her might, Celia wished she could merge herself into his body.

Tyson noticed the change in her mood immediately. "What's wrong? What happened today?" he asked in a slightly worried tone.

For a moment, Celia didn't know how to reply to the questions. She didn't want him to know about the Kane Group because she was afraid that he would ask Hobson for help. If he did that, the Shaw family would look down on him.

Having decided that the best thing she could do right now was to keep Tyson in the dark, she shook her head and said, "Honey, why did you ask me that? Do you want me to be in trouble? I just miss you and want to hug you. Can't I? If you don't like me hugging you, then I won't do it anymore."

The words were deliberate, meant to distract Tyson. It worked. Afraid that she would really stop hugging him, Tyson wrapped his arms around her and murmured, "I didn't mean it like that. I like you hugging me. I wish you could hang on to me every day and never separate from me."

Celia blushed and pushed him away. "Well, I don't think we need to have this discussion on the street. Drive us home."

"Your wish is my command, honey."

Tyson fastened the seat belt for her before starting the car. On their way home, Tyson chatted with her.

"Cece, how was work in the company today? And the colleague who made trouble for you? Are you getting along with her?"

Tyson asked the questions on purpose. He knew that a colleague named Kiley had targeted Celia before. If he got confirmation from Celia that Kiley was still troubling her, then he would fire Kiley immediately.

Celia smiled. "Why do you ask this again? Haven't I told you that Kiley has returned to work? Besides, she was nice to me today. She wanted to be friends with me. Anyway, I'm fine. No one bullies me in the company now."

"I know you already told me this in the message, but I just wanted to hear it from your mouth. Cece, I'm worried that you might be wronged and still hide it from me. You keep everything to yourself."

His words pricked at her heart as she remembered the current situation with the Kane Group. A bitter smile crossed Celia's face and she looked at her hands. He was right after all. She was hiding many things from him.

But this was not the time to fall under the weight of her guilt. Pushing her emotions away for the moment, she turned to look at her husband and said, "I'll tell you everything." Then she stuck out her tongue.

"Well, keep it in mind." Tyson smiled. "But your colleague's attitude has changed too fast."

Celia nodded. "You're right. And I felt it was strange."

Tyson frowned slightly and said, "It's necessary to be cautious. You'd better keep an eye on her. After all, she has been against you before. It wouldn't be wise to trust her too much."

"Don't worry. I agree with you," Celia agreed with a nod.

The two chatted all the way home. Not once did Celia mention Mack and the messages he sent to harass her nor the Kane Group.

When they arrived home, Tyson went to the kitchen with the groceries he had bought. Celia tried to help him make dinner, but Tyson shooed her out of the kitchen. "You just returned from work. Go and rest a little, I'm good here."

Tyson usually prepared their dinner, so Celia didn't put up a lot of protest when he refused her help. She just kissed him and went back to the living room to have a rest. After a while, she took out her phone and chatted with Alita.

Alita was very concerned about Flavia. She sent messages to check on Flavia from time to time. Right now, Celia brought her up to date on everything that was happening with Flavia.

Soon, Celia received a reply from Alita.

"I'm glad to hear that Flavia is fine. I'm not in Hosworth right now but I will visit Flavia when I return. By the way, have you seen the news? I saw a news report about Brea and Wayne. Honestly, I always thought that they looked well matched and I had been wishing that the two of them would be together for some time now. But I didn't expect that they really would end up together. It's perfect! Although everyone says that Brea has a bad temper, she is really beautiful. She and Mr. Evans are a perfect match!"

"I think so too," Celia replied. Then she added, "They are a quarrelsome and loving couple. Maybe it's indeed a good match."

Seconds later, Alita sent a reply. "Cece, don't you have a good relationship with Brea? Keep an eye on their relationship for me. If there's any developments in their relationship, please tell me. Don't worry. I promise I won't tell anyone. Their secret is safe with me."

Celia sent an emoji and said yes. Mere moments later, Tyson called out to inform her that dinner was ready.

She went to help set the table and had dinner with him.

The dinner was simple and delicious, just like her and Tyson's life, plain but happy.

Before going to bed, Tyson took out the medical examination report and said, "I didn't expect it to come out so soon. Wayne is very efficient."

Celia was so anxious that she hurried over to check the report. She also searched online while reading. She was dismayed to find out that something was indeed wrong with Tyson's body!

There were abnormalities in the ECG, and he had various ailments, which dizzied her.
