

Chapter 426 Who Was Crazy

Upon hearing Adrien's words, Celia was disappointed beyond imagination.

Although it was not her first time hearing such harsh words from her father, she was still a bit surprised.

After all, her cunning father was finally revealing his true self.

Celia pushed aside her pity for him and sneered. "You have lost your company now. Instead of spending your time blaming me, I suggest you use the time to think about what to do next. After all, you still have a wife and a daughter, and they're not like me. They can't live a simple life and bear hardships. Mabel might divorce you if you don't give them a luxurious life."

Her words touched a raw nerve. Furious and fuming with anger, Adrien roared, "Celia! What the hell are you talking about? You ungrateful bitch! The Kane Group is gone now and it is because of you. Not only are you not trying to make up for it, but you're also saying such sarcastic stuff. I am sure you've gone crazy!"

"You think I'm crazy, huh? Who is really crazy here? Anyway, I don't care what you say. According to me, I don't have a disgusting father like you anymore, so whether you and your family live or die has nothing to do with me. Don't contact me again, and don't ever see me again!" she retorted with a hysterical laugh.

Gritting his teeth in anger, Adrien was not planning to let her go so easily.

"Just wait and watch. I have nothing to lose, so I will fight against you. Besides, I am not afraid of you exposing your true identity to the Shaw family now. The Kane Group is out of my hands now, and nothing is worse than that. If you're going to rub salt in my wounds, then suit yourself. I am not afraid, and I don't care whether you sue me or tell the truth to the Shaw family."

Celia was very calm, and was not surprised by his words at all, because she knew what he would say.

"I'm not that bored, and I don't plan on telling the Shaw family anything because I don't regret marrying Tyson. In fact, I want to thank you for not letting Mabel's daughter marry him and forcing me to marry him in her place. It's because of you that I am now living such a happy life!

And as for the ring, I will find a way to buy it back myself. This is me letting you know that I am severing ties with the Kane family, so goodbye!"

Celia was resolute.

When Adrien heard what she said, his tone changed all of a sudden. "Cece, are you saying that you and Tyson love each other a lot?"

Celia remained silent.

"Then you should be able to plead with the Shaw family to save the Kane Group, right?"

Guessing his intention, Celia said in a cold voice, "Don't even think about it! You already lost the Kane Group. Mr. Reyes is the CEO of the Kane Group now. Maybe, he will make the company flourish. Why would I get it back for a loser like you? I'm not stupid!"

Before Adrien could say another word, Celia added, "I hope you start praying for yourself, because that's all you can do now. If you call me again, I won't answer it."

She then disconnected the call coldly.

Glancing at the black screen, she heaved a sigh of relief before leaning against the wall.

Just like what she said to Adrien, she was really planning on resolutely cutting off all her ties with the Kane family.

However, her memories of the once happy family of three kept flashing through her mind.

"Adrien! Adrien!

You used to be so good to me. Why did you change?" Celia mumbled with tears in her eyes.

She did not know if she was crying for herself, or for her dead mother, or for Adrien, who had once been a good father to her.

But now, the man who had cared for her was dead.

She was not a stone-hearted person, but she was completely disillusioned because Adrien had hurt her over and over again.

So Celia told herself that no matter what happened, she would really sever her ties with him.

After all, the only way for her to live a better life would be to forget all about her incompetent father.

Sniffing, she wiped her tears away and was ready to head back to the office.

But the moment she turned around, she saw Derek walking over.
