

Chapter 435 That Glass Of Wine Was Drunk By Kiley

Kiley's tone was so warm and sincere.

Since it was hard for Celia to refuse her toast, she had to raise her glass and was about to drink the fruit wine, but then when she looked down, she saw Kiley staring at her glass again.

Recalling Kiley's unusual behaviors throughout the night, she decided to be vigilant.

When clicking her glass with Kiley's, she deliberately said, "Looks like Alick is heading over here."

Just as Celia expected, Kiley subconsciously asked, "Where is he?"

She then put down her glass and stood up to look around.

While she was not noticing, Celia swapped their glasses.

The glasses were identical, and were both filled to the brim, so it was impossible to tell them apart.

As soon as Celia was done swapping the glasses, Kiley turned around, scratching her head. "I didn't see him coming, Cece. Did you mistake someone else for him?"

"Maybe. I am a little drunk, so I guess I made a mistake."

"Oh, it's fine. Let's continue to drink."

Saying that with a smile, Kiley picked up the glass again. She did not notice anything unusual, so she continued to propose a toast. "Thank you for telling me so much about Mr. Juarez. If I succeed in pursuing him, then it would be all thanks to you, and I will treat you to dinner."

When Celia saw that Kiley had made up her mind to be with Alick, she smiled kindly and reminded, "Honestly, he's not that good. Besides, he is always surrounded by beautiful women, so it would be difficult for him to stay faithful. If you want him to be your life partner, then I am afraid he's not the one."

Despite their fight before, Celia did not want Kiley to be with a scumbag like Alick.

After all, she still regretted being with him, and she did not want other women to go through what she had.

However, Kiley was oblivious to Celia's good intentions, so she thought that Celia was just mocking her for not being good enough for Alick, causing her to hate Celia even more.

Kiley thought that she was just another pretty bitch, being arrogant.

Kiley cursed her hundreds of times in her heart, and when she saw Celia drinking the fruit wine, she sneered.

She finally drank the wine! She would teach Celia a lesson that night!

Thinking that she would never have to endure the disgust of pleasing Celia again, she was very happy and sipped her wine.

But then she felt that the wine tasted a little strange, unlike any fruit wine she had had before.

Anyway, she did not think too much of it as she had never tried wines that were too expensive, not to mention the wine she was having that night was worth more than her monthly salary, which meant that it was high-end. Perhaps, the difference in taste was because it was so luxurious.

She then took a few more sips of the wine, just to get used to the strange taste.

She promised to buy herself such expensive wines someday, and would become an elite member of the society after using Celia to bring her a fortune.

Kiley would get a hundred thousand dollars after that night's success.

She was on cloud nine and began to chat happily with Celia.

"Cece, this wine is delicious. Let's have more! I searched for its price online, and apparently, it costs over thirty thousand dollars, which is more than my salary. Normally, we won't be able to afford it, but since someone else is paying, let us treat ourselves!"

Before the passing of Jenifer, and the decline of the Kane Group, Celia had tried many expensive wines, so she was not too interested in the wine, but she smiled and said, "Sure."

She continued to talk to Kiley and did not get up until Kiley finished her glass.

"Kiley, I have to go to the bathroom."
