

Chapter 438 A Former Rival In Love

Furious, Celia grabbed Lesly's hand so hard that her face turned red for a moment before it paled. Lesly reacted by using her signature trick. "Come here, everyone! Celia, an employee of the Semshy Group, is hurting me! Not only has she stolen my man, but she has also hit me! She wants to kill me!"

Lesly's scream attracted those who were close by.

Soon, some people walked over to check on the situation. Most of them were the hotel staff.

Celia did not want to cause a scene. After all, she only came there to have dinner with her colleagues. Seeing more people gathering around them, she let go of Lesly.

Crossing her arms over her chest, Celia watched Lesly's pathetic act with a cold look in her eyes. "You're really good at distorting the facts, Lesly. You're the one that tried to tear off my necklace, and that's why I had to fight back."

Lesly pressed her hand against the wall and stood firmly, with an evil smile. "Don't you know why I did that?"

She continued to pretend as though she was wronged and spat on Celia. "You bitch! Alick, my boyfriend, gave you that necklace! And I was just trying to take back what's mine. What's wrong in that? That necklace should belong to me!"

The more she spoke, the angrier she became. At the thought of how Alick had resolutely abandoned her because of Celia, she wanted to kill her.

Lesly roared hysterically, trying to defend herself, "Alick loved me so much. If it was not for you, we would have gotten married by now and I would be living a nice life like before. If it was not for you, why would I have become a cleaner at a hotel? You're the one who has ruined my life!"

Surprised, Celia looked at her carefully and found that she was indeed wearing the cleaner's uniform.

When she was in the bathroom, she had seen a cleaner wearing that exact uniform.

Lesly and Celia had graduated from the same university. Although Lesly was not as bright a student as Celia, she had still graduated from one of the top universities. Even if she could not get a job at a big company, she should have been able to find a decent job at a reputed company. How did she end up as a cleaner at a hotel?

At that moment, Alick also heard the commotion and walked over. Though he was a bit shocked to see Lesly there, he felt a little pleased when he saw her pestering Celia.

Wasn't it the perfect opportunity for him to play hero?

Smoothing his suit, Alick walked over and said in a condescending tone, "What is going on here? It's so noisy!"

The hotel staff immediately bowed to him respectfully. "Hello, Mr. Juarez."

Alick nodded to them before he looked at Lesly coldly. "Why is this woman here? The sight of her makes me sick!"

The leader of the cleaning staff, who was watching everything from afar, immediately rushed over and explained, "I am so sorry, Mr. Juarez. Lesly is our new toilet cleaner. I did not hire her. In fact, I don't even know how she became a cleaner of the hotel!"

Even when facing Alick's harsh words, Lesly seemed to be excited to see him.

At first, she was with him for his money, but after a while, she had actually started to like him.

All the grievances in her heart flowed out.

With red eyes, Lesly ran to Alick and desperately grabbed his arm.
