

Chapter 444 Tyson Arrived

After briefly speaking with Tyson, Celia hung up the phone and bid goodbye to Kiley with a smile. "I have to go, Kiley. My husband is here."

Celia was so excited at the thought of being in Tyson's arms. Therefore, she left the room without waiting for Kiley to respond.

Fearing that Celia would run away, Kiley chased after her as soon as she came to her senses.

What she had done would be for naught if she let Celia leave. Kiley couldn't let such a thing happen because not only would Alick be angry, but she would also lose the reward money that he had promised her.

A sleek sports car appeared before Kiley's eyes when she arrived at the hotel's entrance. As luck would have it, Kiley had seen that car in a magazine before. It was a limited edition Koenigsegg!

Many colleagues waiting for their cars or taxis at the hotel's entrance looked at the sports car with envy.

Having never seen such an expensive, high-end car at close range, Kiley was so focused on it that she forgot about chasing Celia.

"This appears to be the limited edition Koenigsegg. I have only seen one at a car exhibition show. It is extremely valuable, and there is only a handful of them in existence. I have no idea who in Hosworth could afford this car. I am eager to become friends with them." Someone spoke in a low voice.

"I'm guessing that this is a car that only the people from the Shaw and Evans families can afford." Everyone was engaged in passionate discussion.

When Celia left the room, she first went to the ladies' room before heading to the hotel's entrance. She smiled at her colleagues waiting for their cars and said to them, "I'm heading home. Be careful on the way."

Kiley came to her senses as soon as Celia finished speaking, chased after her to prevent her from leaving, and asked, "Cece, is your husband here? You can ride in a cab with me if he hasn't arrived yet. I've called a cab, and it should arrive shortly."

Despite Kiley's kind demeanor, Celia shook her head and stated, "No, thank you. I will return in my husband's car."

After making this statement, she searched for Tyson's car but could not locate it despite her best efforts.

Didn't Tyson say that he had arrived? Did something happen to him on the way?

Concerned, Celia took out her phone to call him.

Before she could make the call, however, she heard a commotion among the crowd.

Unconsciously, Celia turned her head and saw a man in a mask and suit get out of the limited edition Koenigsegg.

Celia didn't realize until then that Tyson had come here in the sports car that his grandfather had gifted him.

She couldn't help but be slightly taken aback. How come Tyson didn't drive the Volkswagen? Did he not find this car to be excessively flashy?

Tyson walked up to her and hugged her in public.

"Honey, I came to pick you up."

Celia felt a rush of heat and shyness as his magnetic voice was blown into her ears by the wind.

"Stop it! My colleagues are still here." With a pout on her face, Celia gently pushed him away.

Tyson hugged her even more tightly and said, "Whatever. I've been missing my wife so much. I need to hug you right now."

Although Celia's cheeks were flushing, she didn't try to push Tyson away again. Instead, she gave in to his embrace, letting her body loosen up and enjoying the comfort.

They hugged each other for a long time. Everyone around them, including Kiley, was taken aback.

Everyone began to whisper in hushed tones again.

"This expensive car appears to be owned by Celia's husband. Did she marry a wealthy man?"

"But... I heard that she had hooked up with both Alick and Derek in the office just to get promoted. If she is so wealthy, why does she have to hook up with other men?"

"You don't understand? Someone intentionally spread the rumor to destroy her reputation!"

Kiley suddenly felt several pairs of eyes staring at her.

She turned around and returned their stare.

"What are you looking at? I have never maliciously spread rumors about Celia!"

Kiley was flustered, though she didn't want to admit it.

She was jealous seeing how affectionate Tyson and Celia's relationship seemed.

Why did Celia marry such a wealthy man?

But it didn't matter. Celia would be disgraced after tonight! Would her husband still want her, a slut raped by Alick, after tonight?
