

Chapter 446 Get In The Car

Confused, Celia looked back at Kiley in astonishment.

Today, Kiley was acting so strangely. Celia always suspected that Kiley was up to no good, but she had no proof. Therefore, Celia always had to use extreme caution.

"What do you want?"

When Celia turned to look at Kiley, she saw two bright blushes on her cheeks, which gave some attractiveness to her otherwise unremarkable face.

Kiley also noticed that her body was becoming increasingly hot. She was dizzy and felt like she had a fever.

But Kiley didn't forget her objective. She planned to take Celia to the Hilton Hotel and hand her over to Alick in exchange for money.

Therefore, she couldn't let Celia leave with Tyson.

When Kiley did not respond, Celia asked again, "Are you drunk, Kiley? What did you want to talk to me about?"

Kiley was utterly taken aback for a second, but she soon recovered. She had no choice but to make up an excuse while glancing at Tyson nervously. "I... I want to tell you something personal. Can we talk in private? The taxi I booked will be here soon. Can you accompany me? After we are done with our conversation, I'll send you home."

Celia was so surprised that she couldn't speak.

She and Kiley weren't close, and the two of them had fought in the past. Despite their reconciliation, one wouldn't say that their relationship was intimate enough for them to discuss personal matters.

On top of that, Celia and Kiley had nothing in common. Celia knew that she would feel embarrassed if she tried to push a conversation with Kiley.

Celia looked at Tyson for a solution.

Tyson lowered his head when he got her message and whispered, "Cece, do you want to go with your coworker? I will respect your decision."

Tyson grinned and said in a low voice when Celia shook her head, "Don't worry. I'll handle it."

Tyson raised his head and regarded Kiley with cold eyes. "My wife is exhausted and needs to rest early. If you wish to speak with her, you may do so tomorrow."

After he finished saying that, Tyson opened the car door and said, "Get in the car, Cece."

When Kiley saw Celia getting into the car, she quickly stopped her because she didn't want to lose the money Alick had promised her. "Please leave with me, Cece.. I have something to say..."

Before Kiley could finish, Tyson gave her a stern look that made her feel frightened.

Even though he did not say a word, Kiley involuntarily stopped.

"I..." Kiley wished she could say more, but she couldn't.

She lacked the courage to stop Tyson's car. In any case, she could not afford to pay for its repair if it was damaged.

As a result, Kiley could only turn to Celia, who sat in the passenger seat, for help.

However, Celia seemed oblivious to the pleading look in her eyes. She smiled and said, "I'm sorry, Kiley. Since it's late, my husband and I will leave first. You should also return home early too. Take care on your way home."

Celia completely ignored Kiley's pleading.

There was nothing left for Kiley to do to prevent them from leaving.

She could only stand there and watch Tyson get into the car and drive away.

One by one, her coworkers likewise left, leaving Kiley in a daze.

Since consuming that glass of fruit wine tonight, she had no idea why she felt parched and uncomfortable. Now, that feeling was worsening.

Kiley picked up her phone because she needed to reach out to Alick in order to explain the situation.
