

Chapter 469 Going Crazy

Seeing that Celia was thrilled to bits, Tyson took her hand and comforted her. "Honey, do you feel secure now?"

Celia nodded, "I'm so relieved but you're still vulnerable and need to take good care of yourself. Listen to your loving wife, okay?"

Tyson was both amused and moved. "Okay, okay, I will do as you say."

Celia, still apprehensive, urged, "You've got to take the supplements I bought you. They can't hurt anyway."

Tyson disagreed. "But honey, haven't you ever heard of too much of a good thing?"

Celia stopped to think. She replied, "You're right. Slowly introduce them to your body then. You must look after that body for me. I want to be with you until our one hundredth birthdays!"

Tyson did not know what to say so he said, "As long as my Cece is happy!"

Celia giggled. Then, she stretched out her hand to rub his head as if he were a puppy.

"You'll do what I said, won't you?"

Tyson took hold of her hand. Then, flirtatiously he said, "I may not be in good health but I can certainly satisfy you in bed. When I fully recover, you'll want to make love with me all the time. You won't want to work. You'll ask for leave every day."

Celia blushed. Coquettishly, she said, "You're being wicked again. Ask for leave every day? I'm pretty sure I'd be fired."

"Why would they dare fire you? They would try to fawn over you every day."

Celia frowned. "Why would they?"

Tyson explained slowly, "People at the company must be scared of Brea and you're her exclusive designer. They just wouldn't mess with you."

Celia couldn't help laughing. "Brea doesn't have that bad a temper. You'll see when you get to know her better."

"You are right, I shouldn't be judging a book from its cover."

Tyson agreed with Celia in principle but he actually did know what Brea was like after having spent a lot of time with her.

They continued caressing and teasing each other. The atmosphere was sweet and warm.

Meanwhile, at the Hilton Hotel, Alick and Kiley didn't wake up until it was the afternoon.

The medicine they'd taken last night had stimulated them and they'd had sex several times during the night. Kiley's whole body was covered in bruises. Alick's semen had gushed all over her and it had dried out, leaving a foul smell.

Alick was the first to wake up. He saw Kiley sleeping in his arms and thought about what had happened last night. His face changed slightly as he remembered.

He didn't push her away though.

He still felt regret that he couldn't make love to Celia. It had felt good with Kiley though and this had surprised him.

He had never seen a woman be so active and lewd as Kiley had last night. No sexual position was out of bounds for her. She was willing to satisfy all of his sexual needs.

Alick looked at Kiley's pale face again and he felt a little disgusted but when he looked down at her naked body, an unexpected urge was aroused in him again.

He felt a little startled. He had thought that his feelings towards Kiley last night had only come about because of the viagra. He didn't think he would feel the same sexual impulses now without the drug.

He must be going crazy!

