

Chapter 471 Deal

At these words, Kiley's eyes lit up.

She had thought that Alick would not keep his promise, because she had failed to help him get Celia and yet he was still willing to give her one hundred thousand! Did he have the same regard for her as he did for Celia?

Kiley felt secretly smug.

She must be charming and able to compete with top beauties like Celia.

Perhaps Celia wasn't as good as her in bed.

Kiley had remained silent for a few seconds. Alick thought she was offended at the suggested compensation. He frowned and said, "What's the matter? Don't you think one hundred thousand is enough? Even if I slept with the top whore in the clubhouse, it wouldn't cost me one hundred thousand. You're not even beautiful. You should consider that amount a flattery!"

Kiley's expression dropped. She knew that he didn't like her but she had never thought that he would treat her like this. She was a little upset.

But the money gave her no choice but to please him. She was just a pauper without power.

If it hadn't been for this, she would have slapped him in the face and scolded him severely.

She flaunted her plump chest in front of him and said with a sweet smile, "Okay, deal. Mr. Juarez, you are so generous. If you need anything, you know where to find me. I could be one of your sex partners. I don't mind and the price is always negotiable."

Kiley thought that although this man was a little difficult to serve, money came easy if she slept with him. His size and skills in bed were both great and it felt good to have sex with him!

And most importantly, he was handsome. She knew clearly that she gained a lot in this deal.

Seeing Kiley's expression, Alick snorted. He made no secret of his disdain.

Why was he unlucky enough to meet this woman?

If his fellow rich bachelors knew that he'd lowered his standards enough to sleep with such a woman, they would most likely laugh at his plight.

He had enjoyed Kiley's performance in bed though.

In the past, he had to work hard around other women and coach them on bed. He was often disappointed at this and it affected his sexual interest. He couldn't fully enjoy himself.

Kiley was awesome in this respect. If she had the beauty of Celia coupled with her skills in bed, probably no man could resist her charm.

He aroused himself thinking of this.

He pulled her in front of him. "Kiley, do you really want to sleep with me that much?"

Kiley flattered him with a smile, "Of course, I do. Mr. Juarez, you are such a handsome man. Your manhood is also bigger than ordinary. You know your way with women. Every woman would want to sleep with you." "But you have to pay a price to sleep with me." Alick mimicked her with a grin.

Kiley subconsciously asked, "What is it?"

Alick put out his burning cigarette butt on Kiley's chest. It burned her delicate skin and made her more tempting.

"I like this. Can you take it?"
