

Chapter 487 Blackmail

But soon, Celia's smile froze.

What if Mabel did really take the opportunity to blackmail Alita for this? It was quite possible Mabel would resort to that.

Celia quickly pulled her friend aside and whispered, "Alita, you'd better apologize to Mabel. I don't want her to follow through on her threat of blackmail."

Although Alita was a petite lady, what she lacked in size, she made up for in boldness. She never shied away from owning up to her actions.

She comforted Celia, "What are you afraid of? It was me who beat her and I have no money at all. Mabel can't do anything to me. Also, she scolded me first. She deserved it anyhow. She's a bully. I'm not worried."

Celia felt consoled by her friend's confidence and grateful for her.

Celia had lost her mother when she was a teenager. She'd then been kicked out of the house by her father and stepmother. She was grateful that she had Tyson, Alita, Flavia and Brea in her life. They were all good to her and her life was no longer miserable.

Celia was immersed in these thoughts when she was interrupted by Adrien, shouting, "What are you waiting for? Call an ambulance!"

Celia rolled her eyes at him and said, "Can't you call an ambulance? It's useless anyhow. She needs to visit a plastic surgery to repair her nose. If not, she will be ugly for the rest of her life."

Adrien gritted his teeth and said, "We can't afford to call an ambulance. It's too expensive. Your friend slapped her so you must give me the money to make the call. You must also pay for the repair surgery and for any mental trauma you've caused."

Celia had anticipated this. She sneered and imitated Adrien's tone. "Let me make this clear. I won't be giving you any money. Kill us if you wish but don't expect a penny from us."

Alita couldn't stand much more of this. She said to Celia, "Forget it, Cece! Don't entertain this. Just tell them to leave. If they don't leave, call the police and tell them we have intruders. We'll see what side the police are on!"

She glanced again at the luxury car sent by Hobson and smirked. "Also don't forget that the Shaws will support us. We don't need to be afraid of these guys."

Alita picked up a broom and began to drive them out with it. "Get out! All of you, get out!"

"Go away!" said Celia.

The trio did not want to leave. They held firm to each other and didn't budge.

"We will not be leaving unless you compensate us!" Mabel shouted angrily, "For one minute, don't think that we are afraid of you just because you have the support of the Shaw family. We are not afraid of anything anymore. The harder you try to beat us, the more serious your sentence will be!"

Celia and Alita did not know what to do.

Amidst this stalemate, the door suddenly creaked open.

In stepped Tyson.

He was shocked when he walked into this scene.

Likewise, when everyone saw Tyson, they were also stunned.
