

Chapter 505 Dream Of Becoming A Singer

Alita could tell that Celia coughed deliberately, and that she felt a little embarrassed. She asked her pointedly, "Cece, what's wrong? Are you shy?"

Celia denied it resolutely. "No, I am not!" she said, shaking her head vigorously.

"You don't need to be shy in front of us," Alita said jokingly. "You and Tyson are married and will have a baby sooner or later. You can't be this shy when you try to conceive. It will affect your chances."

Celia's face turned a brighter shade of red. She wished Alita would just shut up.

"We are in no hurry to have a baby. We're taking it slow."

Saying this, she glanced up at Tyson. Their eyes met. There was a romantic air at the moment.

Alita furrowed her brows and laughed. "Tut, tut, tut, you are too loving. I cannot stand it anymore as a single woman. I'm glad I don't have dinner with you every day."

She took a few sips of her drink. "Have a baby as soon as possible. I really want to be a godmother," she urged.

This constant talk about baby-making made Celia embarrassed. She nodded timidly and said, "I know, I know, we will try our best."

She didn't understand everyone's obsession with her having a baby.

Hobson wanted to have a great grandchild, and Alita wanted to be a godmother.

She couldn't imagine what reason they would come up with next for her to have a baby.

Finishing her glass of wine, and raising another, Alita proposed another toast. "Cece, I wish you a promotion and a pay rise as soon as possible. And I really hope that you can realize your dream of becoming a famous designer."

Celia sipped her wine, before asking Alita, "By the way, what are your future plans?" You can't just be a celebrity's assistant all your life, right? Have you considered making your own dreams come true?"

The two had been friends for many years, so Celia knew that Alita dreamed of becoming a singer.

After she graduated, Alita had entered the entertainment industry under pressure from her family and become a celebrity's assistant. She hoped one day she would find an opportunity to be a singer and perform on stage.

Upon mention of this, Alita, who was rarely shy, felt herself blush.

"Are you talking about my dream to be a singer in the entertainment world?"

Celia nodded, "When will I be able to watch you singing on TV?"

Alita sighed, "I don't want to think about it right now. It's a harsh reality. There are so many talented singers but not many of them will become popular in the industry. I am not as talented or as experienced as most of them."

Seeing that Alita had become a little dispirited, Celia tried to comfort her, "Don't be discouraged. You will definitely get your moment to shine."

To give her friend a sense of hope, she said, "I will work hard in the Semshy Group and maybe I'll get promoted or transferred. That way, down the line, I can help you get in and become one of their signed artists."

Alita's eyes lit up when she heard this. It seemed Celia's words had piqued her interest.

However, maybe because she had experienced so many failures before, she just smiled bitterly, and said "Would that really be okay? But I don't think I'm even that good at singing."

"How do you know if you won't at least try?" Celia smiled warmly, "I've heard plenty of singers singing, and I really do think you are great. If I get a chance to talk to the CEO, I will definitely recommend you to him. If you get signed and become famous, promise you won't forget me!"
