

Chapter 509 Forcing Her To Be His Girlfriend

For a moment, Wayne was lost for words. As he drank, he thought of different excuses. Then, after a long while, he said, "There are so many people in the world that it's inevitable that you would find similar-looking people. It's to be expected. There are also many stars who resemble each other in the entertainment circle."

"That's different!" Brea stared at him. "Most of those people have had plastic surgery. I was looking closely at Cece's husband today. Not only does he have the same figure as Mr. Reyes, but he also has the same facial contours."

Wayne choked when he heard this and coughed hard.

Brea frowned. "Be careful. You are an adult. You shouldn't be so careless!"

She patted him on the back and continued, "Another thing I've found strange recently is that Mr. Reyes pays special attention to Cece. He often asks me to help her. He has given her double pay before. Today, he even gave her a day off out of the blue. Do you think he fancies Cece? I've told him that Cece is married, but he doesn't seem to care. I wonder if he will force her to be his girlfriend? Or maybe... could Mr. Reyes be Tyson?"

Wayne certainly knew the truth. He tried his best to steer Brea away from this train of thought though and said, "How could that be possible? Some CEOs are just strange. So is my father."

He silently apologized to his father in his heart as he said this.

He couldn't believe he would slander his own father for Tyson.

He had to find the time to speak to Tyson. Tyson had to make it up to him.

Brea couldn't believe this. "Are you being serious?"

Wayne nodded gravely. "Yes. No one can imagine what a CEO thinks about. Maybe your boss gave Cece a pay rise and a day off just because he was in a good mood? Maybe he thought she was worth it?"

Wayne was right, Brea thought to herself. She certainly couldn't guess what Nolan was thinking. Maybe Wayne knew what he was talking about. After all, Wayne's father was the second richest man in Hosworth.

"Well, I guess he has so much money he can do whatever he wants. Maybe I will understand Mr. Reyes when I'm rich," she joked.

"You will be rich soon." He cut Brea's steak for her and then fed it to her. He smiled and said, "As long as you marry me, you will be a billionaire soon."

"Stop daydreaming!"

Wayne gave her a helpless smile.

While he was talking, he'd secretly sent a message to Tyson. He warned Tyson that Brea suspected him and that he'd had to smear his own father's name just to protect his secret.

Soon after, he received a reply from Tyson.

"Good job. You will be rewarded."

The motivation behind Wayne saying these things to Tyson was Brea.

He couldn't help Brea himself so he asked Tyson for help instead.

Brea was an artist of the Semshy Group so no matter how many opportunities Tyson gave her, she would never suspect him.

She would believe it was because she had become so popular.

Wayne sent another message to Tyson.

"I don't need a reward. Just give Brea more opportunities. And be careful! If I were you, I'd confess to Cece as soon as possible."
