

Chapter 532 Helping Celia Realize Her Dream

Alita was surprised and asked Celia, "Are you sure? The world is so small. What a coincidence!"

Alita tutted in disbelief. "It's just like what's written in the novels."

Celia sighed helplessly, and a little unease flashed across her beautiful eyes. "I didn't expect this to happen. I'm a little worried. What should I do if Nolan Reyes is really the guy whom I had a one-night stand with? After all, I even ran away the next day before anyone could take any responsibilities."

Alita comforted her, "Don't panic. That was your first time sleeping with a man! Nolan Reyes should call himself lucky to have taken your virginity. He's not going to bother you."

"But..."

Celia was still a little worried. She would rather have slept with an ordinary man on the streets than with Nolan Reyes.

It would be troublesome if the matter with Nolan were to blow up in public.

Alita continued to console her, "Relax, we'll just have to play it by the ear until everything is sorted out."

"I guess that's the best option for now." Celia tried to calm herself down and be more open-minded. Feeling better, she said more enthusiastically, "Alita, you are right. Let's take it one step at a time. Anyway, there is still a chance that I made a mistake."

"Right! Don't think too much about it. Just continue enjoying your life and live in the moment. Besides, your husband loves you so much, and he said he doesn't care about your past."

Alita grinned widely and continued, "When I start my first day at the Semsy Group, I will bring you my new creation. It's a sweet potato cake and I know you are going to love it!"

Her cheerfulness was so infectious that Celia felt a surge of warmth inside her heart.

In fact, she felt very fortunate to have an amazing friend like Alita and a loving husband like Tyson. She really shouldn't let this kind of negativity affect her mood and life.

"Alita, you really are the best. Just a few words with you and I'm already feeling better," laughed Celia.

Suddenly, she recalled something that bugged her, "There's one more thing that I'm a little confused about."

"What is it? Maybe I can give you some advice," answered Alita.

Celia crossed her arms and said in a serious tone, "I think that Mr. Reyes might have recognized me. He not only doubled my salary but also bought the Kane Group some time ago. Why do you think he did these?"

Celia was deep in thought. She believed that everything happened for a reason.

"Well..." Alita pondered for a long time. Suddenly she announced, "If you ask me, I believe Nolan may have fallen in love with you!"

Celia almost choked. She coughed. "Are you saying that Nolan has a crush on me? Don't joke about things like that! With a status like his, why would he choose an ordinary person like me instead of other more eligible women?"

"Wouldn't it be weirder if he didn't like you? With your beautiful face, you are already a cut above many other women. I bet you make the hearts of most men race when they see you. Of course, it's another story if they are blind."

Alita continued analyzing the situation in a soft murmur. "He obviously doubled your salary because he likes you. And obviously, he bought the Kane Group to avenge you. Otherwise, why would a powerful man like him care about such a small company, right?"

Celia fell silent while still holding onto her phone.

Her mind was a mess and she was at a loss for words.

Alita, who was about to make a long speech, noticed the change in Celia's mood. She stopped herself and asked cautiously, "Baby, are you upset?"

"No, I'm just thinking." Celia knew that Alita had good intentions and was just trying to comfort her and put her mind at ease. So she smiled and tried to sound cheerful. "Forget it. Let's not talk about it anymore. Anyway, I'll continue to work in the Semshy Group for now. Maybe I'm just overthinking and there's really nothing wrong."

Alita breathed a sigh of relief. "That's right! Maybe it is just a coincidence? Don't think too much. Be happy."

"Okay. Thank you, Alita." Celia thanked Alita sincerely. If it weren't for her consolation, Celia would still be struggling with her overwhelming thoughts.

"Don't worry about it. We are besties. Anything for you."

Alita changed the subject, and the two chatted for a long time before hanging up.

When Celia returned to the room, Tyson had already prepared her night essentials for her.

He handed her her pajamas and said gently, "Go take a bath and come to bed early. If not, you won't be able to get up in time tomorrow."

Celia felt a warmth in her heart. She tiptoed and kissed Tyson on the lips. Before he could react, she blushed and grabbed her pajamas, before running into the bathroom.

She quickly finished washing up and lay down in Tyson's arms. Soon after, she fell asleep.

As soon as Celia fell asleep, Tyson opened his eyes. He picked up his phone on the nightstand and sent a message to Briar.

"Prepare two tickets to the auction for me."

He planned to help Celia get her mother's ring back. He didn't want her to have any regrets in the future.

Briar quickly responded, "Got it. Sir, the Shaw family will also be participating in the bidding for the land in Star Bay."

Sure enough, the Shaw family also took a fancy to the land.

A cold smile stretched across Tyson's face as he read the message on his phone.

He had been waiting for this day for a long time!
