

Chapter 535 Convincing The Colleagues

After talking with Shirley, Celia returned to her desk and resumed her work.

She couldn't let such a small thing affect her. She was going to give her all. She wanted to sincerely win over her colleagues at today's meeting at four o'clock.

She was full of energy all day because she was looking forward to the meeting so much.

Finally, four o'clock came and all the people in the design department stopped what they were doing and headed towards the meeting room.

They all thought that Celia and Shirley were not on good terms. They discussed the design draft on the way to the meeting.

Everyone anticipated that they would watch a show. The colleagues who were on good terms with Celia had chosen not to go with her so as not to get involved.

Celia didn't care about this. She waited at the garment making department, asking them to finish making the sample sooner.

Right before the meeting was due to commence, she got a sample for the dress. She called Brea to be a model.

"Brea, please put on the dress. Come out when I call you."

"Okay."

Celia put away her phone while she watched Shirley preside over the meeting on the stage.

Once everyone had arrived, Shirley displayed Celia's design draft on the projector in preparation for her to go on stage and present her design concept.

Suddenly, the room was interrupted by Briar entering with a computer. He caused a lot of commotion as he made his way through the crowd.

"Mr. Reyes wanted to attend this meeting but he can't make it. He can watch it via video conference."

At these words, Briar placed his computer on the conference table and switched on the camera and pointed it at the stage.

Celia become nervous when she saw this.

Shirley remained quite relaxed. She gave her simple opening speech and then called Celia onto the stage.

Celia had just introduced her design when several colleagues began to talk about it in order to flatter Shirley.

"This design draft is not particularly unique. An ordinary student from a design school could also produce a design like this."

"The style and color are not bad but there are no highlights."

"Celia is so bold. How dare she question the director's opinion? You can see she is new to design."

"That's right. We always await the director's opinion to guide us with making changes to our designs. She really doesn't know how lucky she is."

Celia couldn't handle all the complaints. Among all the people present, it was only Derek that spoke up for her. "I think it's too early to make a conclusion. It's hard to tell just by looking at the design draft whether it's good. We still need more reference."

Celia gave him a grateful look and said, "I agree with Mr. Watson. I have invited Brea to model the sample dress. Please have a look first and reserve your judgment until afterwards. In addition to this, I kindly remind you that Brea will be wearing this dress on an important occasion so please keep what you will see to yourselves."

After this announcement, Celia sent a message to Brea telling her to come out.

Brea appeared wearing the dress.

Brea's beautiful face and perfect figure were even more highlighted and eye-catching in this dress. Everyone's eyes were fixed on her. The people who had doubted Celia before exclaimed.

The color was dynamic and elegant. It matched her skin perfectly. The design complemented Brea's collarbone. Her delicate skin made her look noble. The cut was sleek and the hem had a natural form. Every aspect of the dress was just right. It looked simple, but clung perfectly to Brea's figure, granting her a unique beauty.

Happy that all the people were staring fixedly at Brea, Celia smiled and said, "As far as I know, there are a lot of female stars who have just entered the entertainment circle that will be attending. Because I have never seen them before, I have no references for their looks. I specially created such a dress for Brea. It looks simple, but when she wears it, other stars won't be able to outshine her."
