

Chapter 558 The Mysterious CEO

The auction was finally over.

Everyone started leaving the auction hall in an orderly fashion. Everyone, except Celia, who was still sitting dumbfounded in her seat, stunned by the auction result.

She was in disbelief and on a verge of tears. Her mother's ring was sold at an astronomical price of three hundred million dollars!

Three hundred million!

She and Tyson would never be able to make that much money in their whole lives, even if they were to starve themselves. Besides, money didn't seem to be an issue for the buyer as he could follow the other bidders so easily.

The buyer really seemed to like the ring. Celia was afraid that she could not get the buyer to sell her the ring even if she could find enough money in the future.

Tyson was observing Celia by the side. He saw how unhappy she was and didn't dare to reveal that he was the one who bought the ring. Instead, he decided to distract her by blaming himself and acting pitiful. "It's all my fault. I'm too useless to help my wife get her ring back." He deliberately let out a long sigh and continued, "Mack is right. I am a complete loser."

Celia felt bad about Tyson's self-loathing. She quickly hugged his arm and comforted him, "Honey, don't blame yourself. I'm not blaming you either. It's a little unfortunate that the ring got bought by someone at such a high price. Honey, you are not a loser. In fact, I think you are the best person in the world! Please stop blaming yourself, I'll feel very sad if you do."

Seeing tears well up in her eyes, Tyson didn't have the heart to continue his act. He held her in his arms and comforted her, "I'm sorry, honey. I shouldn't have said that. Don't cry. My heart hurts when you cry." He then held her face and kissed her gently. "I'll take you to a good place later after we get off the ship. I'm sure you'll like it."

Although Celia didn't know where Tyson was planning to take her, she nodded and buried herself in his arms for comfort.

Although she couldn't get her ring back, at least she knew where it was. Furthermore, she still had Tyson with her. She believed that she could overcome anything and get her ring back with him beside her.

He told Celia to walk in front so that he could keep a lookout for both of them. Meanwhile, Briar, who was wearing a thick coat as a disguise, was following the couple from behind. He secretly handed the ring to Tyson, and hurriedly blended in with the crowd.

Tyson slid the ring into his pocket. He then held Celia's hand as they made their way to their car.

Just then, a mysterious man was searching for Celia in the crowd.

He had several bodyguards to help him look. Suddenly, one of them cried, "Boss, over there!"

The mysterious man looked in the direction where the bodyguard pointed, only to see the couple alighting the ship.

"Boss, should we go and stop them?" asked a bodyguard in a low voice as he bowed slightly.

"No, it's too late," said the mysterious man as he shook his head in disappointment.

He did a background check on Tyson and found out that he was an illegitimate child of the Shaw family. Despite that, he was loved and doted on by the last master of the Shaw family.

He didn't want to risk offending the Shaw family. Moreover, he had not confirmed Celia's identity and was afraid that he would disturb her if he were to act rashly.

However... The man was certain that he did not use a condom when he and Jenifer had sex that night. He was also uncertain if Jenifer had taken any birth-control pills the next day.

If she didn't take any, got pregnant, and gave birth to the baby, the girl should be about the same age as Celia.

His family had been in the jewelry industry for generations, and he was the one who designed the sapphire ring and gave it to Jenifer.

He saw how focused Celia was on the ring and how Tyson was willing to spend an astronomical amount of money bidding for the ring. It was hard to say that they had nothing to do with Jenifer.

He was determined not to give up on his only lead. Sooner or later, he would get Celia and Tyson to tell him Jenifer's whereabouts.

He would tell her why he left her in the past and make it up
