

Chapter 608 Gossip About Nolan Reyes

Celia was looking at the map of Star Bay on the iPad when she heard Brea's call out of the blue. This gave her a jolt. "Is anything the matter?"

"Someone confessed her love to Mr. Reyes! I didn't see that coming. She must be incredibly brave to put up with him," Brea replied. The corner of her mouth lifted into a smile. From the look of her face, she couldn't get enough of the gossip. "Despite knowing him for so many years, I still feel uncomfortable when I am with him."

"Who is being so brave?" Celia's curiosity became aroused the moment she heard Nolan's name. "Let me take a look at her."

"She is Nora, from the Aston family." Brea gave her the phone and explained further, "The founder of the Aston Group seems to come from the capital. His background is not very straightforward. In fact, there is hardly any detail about him."

Seeing how interested Celia was, she took a sip of water and continued to talk. "I saw Nora during the last fashion show. She has been a model for many years and enjoys a good reputation. Actually, she looks more stunning in real life than in photos. Some time ago, a magazine listed the most charming ladies from the rich and powerful families in Hosworth and she won first place."

"She didn't strike me as someone who would declare her love for a man publicly though." Brea still couldn't believe her eyes. "Who would have thought that she and Mr. Reyes had anything to do with each other? He is a very low-key person. So I can't help but wonder how they met."

"Well, the answer is not far-fetched. More often than not, rich people maintain a small circle. Therefore, it is natural that both of them would have met at some point," Celia said casually.

"I couldn't agree with you more." Brea propped her chin with both hands and thought for a long time. Then she turned to Celia with a complicated expression on her face. "Most ladies would see Mr. Reyes as an ideal man. I am not surprised that Nora likes him."

While she was listening, Celia's eyes were fixed on Nora's photo. A few seconds later, she heaved a sigh of relief.

Even from a woman's point of view, there was no denying that she was drop-dead gorgeous. Nolan would have no reason not to like her.

The earlier Nolan found his true love, the better it would be for Celia. She was of the opinion that her life would go back to normal if that happened. And the awkward chapter pertaining to their one-night stand would be finally closed for good!

With that in mind, she said to Brea, "Miss Aston seems to have a beautiful figure. She is also from a rich family. Clearly, she and Mr. Reyes are a perfect match. He seems available now. It would do our boss a world of good if he settled down as soon as possible."

Immediately Brea heard what she said, the look in her eyes changed.

"I see things differently. Nora doesn't stand a chance. Mr. Reyes is a low-key person. She isn't his type. I am pretty sure he doesn't like her. Also, as far as I know, he has never been in love. There is a high chance that he would end up with someone else later in the future."

"I wonder who will be the lucky girl." Celia smiled.

She went back to looking at Star Bay carefully on the map.

After going through many related materials, she found a clue that every other person had ignored.

Immediately her instinct told her that the discovery might help Tyson.

So, after she searched a lot of documents and was sure that such a thing really existed, she quickly sent him a message.

"Baby, I just found out that there are lots of ferns in Star Bay. They are very rare plants. I carried out a thorough research and learned that most of ferns are extinct. Those that managed to survive to this day are of extraordinary value. Now that the environmental protection is becoming more popular by the day, you should ask Wayne to mention this matter in the plan. Tell him to attach a plan to protect rare plants after winning Star Bay. I think if he raises the point, it would win some favor and support."

Just after Celia sent the message, the iPad was taken away from her.

"Didn't you say that you would only use the device for an hour?" Brea asked her before she could say a word. "Well, I allowed you to keep it for two more minutes. But you've got to rest now. It's really important that you get some shut-eye."

For a split second, it crossed Celia's mind to try and get back the iPad. But she gave up the idea, knowing full well that Brea wouldn't budge. Instead of doing that, she closed her eyes obediently and lay back on the bed.

"That's right." A smile stretched Brea's lips lightly. "Now that you are a patient, it's best to make the most of the time on your hands by doing everything necessary to regain your health. That way, you will resume work in no time."

Clearly, Brea acted in such a manner because she cared. So Celia decided to do as she was told without making a fuss.

She tried to fall asleep. But it was to no avail. Then she chatted with Brea with her eyes closed.

Alita soon came to her mind. So she asked, "Do you know the actor Ronald?"

"Yes, I do." Brea wasn't expecting the question. "But I don't know much about him. He recently signed a contract with Semshy Group. So it is very likely that he and I will work as a team in the future. Why do you ask?"

"I have a friend who likes him. So I can't help but ask if he's truly involved in a lot of scandals or not." Celia didn't mince words. "Tell me, is he a disciplined man or one to throw caution to the wind?"

"Ronald is not just famous, but he is influential and powerful. As a result, many people don't mind using his popularity to get some hype or gain some relevance," Brea finally said after thinking briefly. "It doesn't surprise me that he is often accused of behaving outrageously. As for his private life, I know next to nothing about it. But one thing is sure, there are lots of groundless rumors in the entertainment circle."

"You are right," Celia replied. She didn't find anything interesting. So she changed the subject of discussion.
"What about you? How is your relationship with Wayne?
Have you made a decision with regards to whether or not you want to be with him?"

"Things are not exactly simple, I must say." Brea became a little tense. She inhaled and exhaled deeply.

"Is anything the matter?" Celia's tone showed she was worried.

Brea heaved a sigh. Then she told her about meeting Wayne's mother and how she was told to leave him.

"Now that it has come to this, what are you going to do?"
Celia furrowed her brow. "What is Wayne's take on it?"

"He will talk some sense into his mother." Brea wasted no time to reply. It was as if she anticipated the question. "I have decided to be with him."

From her response, Celia could tell that everything would work out between them.

"I know you are not a coward." She opened her eyes in surprise. "I wish you and Wayne a happy marriage in advance."

Meanwhile in the CEO's office at Semsby Group, Tyson had just finished dealing with his work.

When he switched on his phone at one o'clock, he saw the message his wife sent to him.

After paying careful attention to the information, he was very pleased. This was because Celia provided him with a direction that he had never thought of.

In a wink of an eye, he sent her a reply. Then he started revising his plan.

Tyson became so busy that he lost track of time. It was until nightfall that he hurriedly changed his clothes and ran to the hospital.

By the time he arrived at the ward, Brea had left. A nurse was attending to Celia. His appearance surprised her a little. "How's the project going?"

"I've sent your ideas and information to Wayne." Tyson looked at Celia. He didn't want her to bother herself with work while she was at the hospital. "He's already revised the plan."

"That's good to know." She was genuinely happy for him. "I really hope I could be of help to you."

"Of course you have helped me a great deal." Tyson nodded. He reached out his hand and touched her head gently.

Then he smiled and turned to the nurse. "Put it here if you don't mind. I want to change the dressing myself."

The nurse decided to let him do as he said. So after telling him some dos and don'ts, she exited the ward.

Tyson closed the door and carefully helped Celia take off her clothes. After that, he changed the dressing. His movements were gentler than the nurse's.

"Honey, is it just me or have you done this to other girls before?"

He sensed that she was slightly jealous. "You are both the first and the last girl!" Tyson shook his head.
