

Chapter 701 Seducing Mack Again

Cerissa knew her mother was right. She could only hold on to Mack. Other rich men could no longer help her.

However, since Doreen had caught her seducing Mack, he had not dared to contact her. She was at a loss.

Cerissa sighed and asked Mabel, "Mom, where is my dad? Maybe he could ask Celia for money. She must be rich, considering her relationship with so many men! Let's gang up on her if she doesn't give us the money. She can't let our family starve to death while she is enjoying herself!"

Mabel fumed at the mention of Adrien. She gritted her teeth and scowled, "Don't mention your father. He said he could make a comeback with some projects he started recently. Even I haven't seen him for days since. He goes out early and comes back late every day. It's like he's never here."

Mabel became more enraged as she continued, "I suspect that he is being fooled, but he never listens to me."

She gripped Cerissa's hand tightly and warned, "Sweetie, we can't rely on your father anymore. You are my only hope now. You must hold on to Mack, or it will be game over for us. It would be best if you could get Mack to marry you. If not, just settle as his mistress. I'm fed up with living such a poor life. I can't stand it another day. We need to be rich again!"

Cerissa agreed and replied firmly, "Mom, don't worry. For the sake of our happiness, I will definitely marry Mack!"

She whipped out her phone and called Mack again.

This time, she had to let Mack know her worth so he could not leave her side.

On the other end of the line, Mack yelled angrily, "Cerissa! I told you not to call me again. Haven't you caused enough trouble? I listened to you, and look what happened! You are useless. My wife even got angry with me because of you!"

Cerissa seemed to have anticipated his anger and answered calmly, "Take it easy, Mr. Shaw, don't be angry. I know a good way for you to get rid of Tyson. But I will only tell you if you come and meet me at the hotel."

Mack hung up the phone and soon received a message from Cerissa with the room number. After some consideration, he decided to meet her.

As soon as he entered the hotel room, he saw Cerissa wearing sexy lingerie.

Cerissa pounced on him before he could turn away.

Mack was not dumb. He knew Cerissa's intentions.

In the past, he would never refuse a woman who took the initiative to throw herself at him. However, he didn't want to risk his marriage with Doreen, standing precariously on the line, so he pushed Cerissa away.

"Are you trying to push yourself on me? If that's the case, I'm leaving," Mack said emotionlessly.

Cerissa immediately held him and cried, "No, don't go!"

She took the red wine she had doped and offered it to Mack. "Mr. Shaw, I really have a way to help you. But before I tell you, there's something else you need to know," she

Chapter 701 Seducing Mack Again  +120 Points at most said hurriedly.

Mack hesitated a moment before looking at her and asking, "What?"

"I've admired you for a long time. I'll stay by your side willingly without asking for anything in return. I can even hide our relationship from others. I want to be with you," Cerissa pleaded.

Mack was drawn to her honey-coated words.

Cerissa was beautiful, and since she dressed up in a sexy way, there was something different about her today.

Mack could usually restrain his urges, but somehow, he was lustful and desired to have sex with her.

These days, he had been holding back his anger and pretending to be a good boy in front of Hobson. Furthermore, Doreen didn't allow him to sleep with her because of what happened the last time.

He had craved sex for a long time!

Cerissa could tell that Mack was lustful. She tore apart her lingerie and called out to Mack seductively, "Mr. Shaw, hurry. I can't wait any longer."

Mack couldn't hold back anymore. He threw Cerissa onto the bed and was about to kiss her when the door was kicked open.

 Limited-time offer: 30 minutes of free reading>>

Claim Now

Chapter 702 Caught In The Act

Doreen and two of her bodyguards were standing at the door.

Colors drained from Mack's face when he saw his wife glaring at him.

Before he could explain himself, Doreen gestured to her bodyguards.

They rushed toward Cerissa and Mack and beat them up fiercely before Mack regained his self-control from the drug.

Mack exclaimed hurriedly, "Babe, trust me. I didn't do anything. It was Cerissa who made me come. She said she could help me get rid of Tyson. I didn't believe it at first, but she was very insistent so I came. I didn't expect she would seduce me. I don't have any feelings for her. I only had the urge to do her after I drank the wine she offered me. Babe, trust me. I didn't betray you."

Doreen signaled the two guards to stop.

Mack thought there was hope for Doreen to forgive him. He rushed up to her and clutched her legs while pleading, "Honey, trust me. I didn't do anything that will hurt you..."

Doreen glared coldly at Mack and scolded emotionlessly, "You have the balls to take off your coat but not the balls to admit your mistake? Why do you bother finding excuses for yourself? You came flying here when Cerissa called. You said the wine was drugged. But if you didn't listen to her, would you be here? Would you have drunk the wine?"

Tears welled up instantly in her eyes. Looking furious and disappointed, she continued, "Mack, you are such a heartless man. I have trusted and forgiven you time and time again. I even got my parents to help you when you were kicked out of the Shaw Group. But what did I get in return? Your betrayal!"

Mack felt his heart ache when he saw Doreen crying. He begged, "Babe, I'm sorry. Don't cry. I feel awful when you cry. It's all my fault. I am so sorry. There will never be a next time. I'll stop seeing all women in the future. You're the only one I need beside me. Please give me one more chance."

Doreen felt hurt and conflicted as she closed her eyes to think. In the end, she didn't respond to his pleas. Instead, she strode up to Cerissa, grabbed her hair, and slapped her hard on the cheek.

"Shame on you! Everyone from the Kane family is a shameless bitch!"

Cerissa was held down firmly by the two bodyguards and didn't have the strength to fight back. She could only endure Doreen's ruthless beating.

Doreen finally stopped after a while and wiped her tears. She turned to the two guards and said coldly, "Since she enjoys being fucked by a man so much, you two can satisfy her. We wouldn't want her to be fooling around with other married men and destroying other families."

Cerissa's rage was growing as Doreen hit her relentlessly. However, she completely collapsed upon hearing Doreen's words.

She had always been open to sex. She even had a threesome once. However, this was completely different.

It was obvious that these two men had never touched a beautiful woman. They would ruin her.

Worst of all, Doreen was the one who ordered them to do so.

They would probably torment her to please Doreen. How could she bear the torture?

Cerissa turned to Mack and kept begging, "Mr. Shaw, please help me. I beg you. My life would be worse than death if they were to screw me!" I'll do anything you ask. Please, just save me!"

Mack couldn't even save himself, so how could he possibly help her?

His priority was to please Doreen. He held her hand while lowering his head and said regretfully, "Babe, please give me one more chance. I know my mistake. My promises to you are all true. Please trust me again. Just one more time. If I let you down again, I'll kill myself. You wouldn't need to dirty your hands!"

Despite Mack's pleas, Doreen was hurt too deeply. She had believed his words again and again but got betrayed in return. She felt she was really stupid.

She was afraid that her heart would soften when she looked at him, so she chose to turn away and shook off his hand. "Mack Shaw, I want a divorce," she said dryly.

This time, she was serious.

Doreen left the hotel miserably, and Mack hurriedly tried to catch up with her.

He didn't want a divorce. He couldn't live without Doreen!

However, there was no sight of Doreen anywhere.

Suddenly, Mack felt as if he had fallen into despair. He had a hunch that after five years of marriage, their relationship might really come to an end.

Celia and Tyson received a call from Hobson as soon as they returned home.

"If it's convenient for you, I need you at the Shaw family's house now."

The both of them could feel the urgency from his tone, so they headed for the house immediately.

As soon as they entered the house, they saw Mack kneeling on the floor and slapping himself in the face. Judging from his swollen face, he seemed to have slapped himself for a long time.

"I won't do it ever again. Grandpa, please help me seek Doreen's forgiveness. I can't live without her!"

Celia sensed that Mack was no longer arrogant as before.

Instead, he looked pitiful and was sincerely afraid of losing Doreen.

Celia greeted Hobson respectfully before asking, "What happened? Why did you call Tyson and me back so urgently?"

Hobson pointed at Mack and replied helplessly, "Mack was caught in adultery. Now Doreen wants a divorce."