

Chapter 715 Mack Has It Coming For Him

Briar brought out all the evidence and explained to Hobson, "On the day when Mr. Tyson Shaw and his wife got shot, I found a large sum of money being transferred out of Mack's account. On the same day, he also made a mysterious call to an unknown number."

Although the evidence was clear, Mack still refused to admit his misdeed. Instead, he cried fiercely, "You forged these! Tyson, you are so heartless. You have ruined my life. How could you..."

"Shut up!" Hobson snapped before Mack could finish. He walked up to Mack furiously and slapped him hard across the face as he scolded, "Do you still intend on arguing? Look at the evidence. They all look realistic. I know you dislike Tyson very much, but I never expected you to resort to murder! You really are a disappointment."

Mack didn't expect Hobson to slap him.

He felt cornered and was furious. He desperately retorted, "Tyson deserves to die! He and his mother deserve to die! Grandpa, it's your fault that things turned out like this. I'm your grandson, but you treat Tyson better than you treat me. Have you ever considered my feelings? Have you ever thought of how the people outside think of me?"

"If you could have at least half of Tyson's good qualities, do you think I would be biased towards him?"

Hobson was so furious that he almost fainted. He gripped his crutch tightly while pointing at Mack and said coldly,

"Punish him according to our family's rules! Lock him up in the dungeon!"

This was the first time Mack had heard that the Shaw family had rules for punishments. He could feel that Hobson was serious about punishing him.

He was scared to death. Kneeling on the floor, Mack pleaded, "Grandpa, don't punish me. I know I was wrong. Grandpa, please spare me!"

Danilo also grew worried for his son. He hurriedly joined Mack on the floor and pleaded with Hobson, "Dad, Mack was not thinking straight. He didn't really want Tyson dead. Besides.."

He glanced at Tyson and said coldly, "Tyson is fine. Please spare Mack. After all, he's your grandson. You can't be biased against him."

Hobson didn't say anything. He just looked at Tyson and let him make the decision.

Tyson's expression was cold as he announced his decision authoritatively. "I will never forgive him. Grandpa, if you can't bear to punish him, then I will gladly take your place."

"Tyson!" Danilo cried as he clenched his fists. He looked at Tyson pointedly and continued, "Mack is your elder brother. How can you be so ruthless?"

Tyson sneered, "He doesn't see me as his younger brother, does he? I would have died if it wasn't for my luck. Mack has it coming for him! It's his own fault."

Sensing there was no room for compromise, Hobson finally made up his mind and said to his helper, "Take Mack away."

Danilo was incredibly furious, but he didn't dare to disobey

Hobson. He could only smash the nearest cup he could find at Tyson.

A loud crash sounded, and Tyson's forehead began bleeding.

Celia felt her heart ache when she saw his wound. She stepped in front of Tyson and confronted Danilo. "You don't have the right to treat Tyson this way. You haven't been by Tyson's side for so many years. What makes you think you can abuse him physically and verbally at will?"

It was the first time someone dared to point at and chastise him. Danilo blew his top and yelled, "Tyson, look at your wife. How dare she talk to her father-in-law like this?
She is so rude!"

Tyson stood behind Celia. He glared at Danilo and scolded, "What Cece said is true, right? You've never done your duty as a father. You can hit me, and I wouldn't fight back for Grandpa's sake. But if you continue scolding my wife, don't blame me for being rude."

Startled by Tyson's angry outburst, Danilo stared in disbelief.

No matter how unfairly he had been mistreated in the past few years, he had always been tolerant. But now, for Celia's sake, Tyson dared to be defiant.

Regret suddenly welled up in Danilo; he shouldn't have made Tyson marry Celia in the first place - it had only led to this outcome.

He lifted a stone to hit his own foot this time.

When the two of them were at an impasse, Hobson became exasperated and scolded Danilo, "This is your fault for not being a good father. You haven't taught Mack right from wrong, and you've never been there for Tyson. Now that Mack has made an unlawful decision, no one can do anything to help him. Go and contemplate your own actions!"

Despite Danilo's dissatisfaction with Hobson's favoritism towards Tyson, he still held his father in high esteem. With a glare in Tyson's direction, Danilo then departed.

After he left, Hobson asked Celia, "Hey Cece, come over here. How are you doing? Have you recuperated from the injury?"

Celia nodded her head to reassure him and said, "It's all right. I'm okay."

Hobson nodded with relief. He sighed and apologized to her, "Cece, it's all on me. I didn't educate Mack well and he ended up making a mess of things. But don't you worry. I won't let him get another chance to hurt you and Tyson. Otherwise, I don't think I could face you again."

Celia was deeply touched. She shook her head and comforted Hobson, "Please don't say that. You didn't have any idea what Mack would do, and you've been really kind to me and Tyson. We both understand that."

The more Hobson gazed at Celia, the more content he became. With a grin on his face, he told Tyson, "Cece is a real gem. You gotta treat her right."

Tyson made no secret of his love for Celia. He nodded and declared, "I'll treat her right."

He and Celia smiled at one another.

Seeing that they were so in love, Hobson was happy. "Since you're here, why don't you stay for dinner before you go? I'm feeling lonely."

The two of them simultaneously nodded. After dinner, they conversed with Hobson for a while before departing.

Mack was punished in accordance with the family rules, his existing wounds still yet to heal, and was whipped fifty times. When he was released from the dungeon, his body was all covered by wounds.

He was barely breathing, yet he still kept cursing Tyson.

"Tyson, that bastard. Someday I'll make him suffer terribly. I'll have people gang-rape his wife in front of him and make sure he dies filled with remorse!"

Danilo's heart broke when he saw his son's body covered in

"Why did you hit him so hard?" he glanced at the butler, complaining.

The butler said nothing. But when Mack saw Danilo, he was thrilled and yelled, "Dad, you've got to take revenge for me! I'll make sure Tyson and Celia both die - I'll do whatever it takes to kill them!"

Seeing his son's wild expression, Danilo couldn't help but heave a sigh. He tenderly caressed his face and said, "Get some rest. You can't take on Tyson now."

Unwilling to give up, Mack said hatefully, "That's all because Grandpa is partial to Tyson. What's more, Grandpa even aided him in dealing with me. Otherwise, how could I have ended up like this? Darn it! Why won't Grandpa go to the afterlife?"

Danilo was taken aback as his son, Mack, cursed his own grandfather. His fury rising, Danilo scolded, "Mack, what has gotten into you? How can you be so disrespectful to your own grandfather? Do you believe he intended to punish you? All he did was protect you. If he hadn't punished you, would Tyson have let it go? Can't you see his good intentions?"

He withdrew his hand from Mack and said sternly, "You must remember that he is both your grandfather and my father. I absolutely won't tolerate any harm being done to him!"

"I understand, Dad. I wasn't myself just now."

Despite Mack apologizing, deep down he still harbored hatred towards Hobson.

Once Danilo had departed, he instructed everyone to leave and then placed a call to the mysterious man.

As soon as the phone was connected, he demanded sharply, "What in the world have you done? Weren't you going to assist me in getting rid of Tyson? Why didn't Tyson die? Why am I exposed? If I had known you were so inept, I wouldn't have transferred such a large amount of money to you - I would have done it myself!"

The mysterious man said, "Mr. Shaw, don't be so fretful. Tyson has been suspicious of you for a long time. No matter who was behind it, he would suspect you and look into you first. Let's take a step back and relax. We should focus on Hobson first. If you can take control of the Shaw Group, Tyson will be easy to deal with."

Mack, though suspicious of his words, was still tempted, for the Shaw Group was what he had always wanted.

He was willing to pay any price if it meant he could oust Tyson and take control of the Shaw Group.
