

Chapter 775 Unfortunate News

Upon arriving at his office the following morning, Tyson was immediately approached by the project manager, who informed him of some unfortunate news. "Mr. Shaw, something terrible has happened!"

Tyson frowned. "What is it?"

The man spoke, inhaling deeply. "There was a collapse at the construction site of the cultural center, resulting in one fatality and two injuries. This incident has been broadcasted on the news already. I anticipate that the relevant authorities will arrive soon to investigate."

He proceeded to offer Tyson his mobile phone displaying the news report. "These journalists have disseminated baseless rumors without conducting proper investigations. As a result, the public has become unhappy with the Semshy Group."

When he looked at the mobile phone screen, Tyson heard the news anchor express discontent towards the Semshy Group, claiming the building collapse was a result of the poorly constructed building by his company.

During an interview with someone from Shaw Group, it appeared he was speaking on behalf of the Semshy Group. However, he actually put all the blame to the Semshy Group.

Previously, the Shaw Group had an unblemished track record with all their projects and was held in high esteem and trust by the general public. Due to the interview, the public perception was the Semshy Group was responsible for the incident.

Furthermore, the Shaw Group demonstrated their benevolence to the public by personally visiting the family members of the injured and providing them with significant compensation.

The public criticized the Semshy Group for failing to take any action in response to the situation.

The project manager was feeling quite apprehensive. "Mr. Shaw, do you believe it would be beneficial for us to hold a press conference to address this matter and perhaps visit the injured as well?"

In a composed manner, Tyson pushed his phone away. "It's not necessary."

The project manager was highly distressed and expressed concern. "If we don't address this issue, I fear the Semshy Group's reputation will be irreparably damaged. As a new player in the market, we've faced many obstacles and have yet to achieve much. This project is our first major undertaking, but the severity of this incident could easily escalate public criticism. This could significantly impact the company's future growth and development."

Tyson gave the project manager a brief look. "You should focus on your work for now. Think about what I told you. You don't have to take any action. I have other plans in mind."

Since the decision was made by the top leader, the project manager didn't dare to defy it despite his anxiety. He left the office feeling uneasy.

The news on the Internet quickly spread. Upon seeing the news, Celia also became anxious and promptly contacted

Tyson. "Tyson, what's going on with the news that's circulating online? Have you devised any plans to make amends for such a severe incident?"

Understanding Celia's concerns, Tyson reassured her. "Don't worry. I have already come up with a solution to address the situation. There is no need for you to be concerned. Just focus on your own tasks."

While Celia couldn't fully put her worries to rest, she was willing to place her trust in Tyson without reservation. "Alright, I'll follow your lead. I have faith that the company will pull through this."

After providing some reassurance to Celia, Tyson ended the call.

As Celia attempted to compose herself and resume her work, Etta abruptly burst into the office in a state of urgency. "Cece, I have some bad news. Something has happened!"

"What is it?" Celia stood up anxiously. "What's happened?"

Etta conveyed the unsettling news, "There are a group of individuals gathered outside the company gates, and they seem quite aggressive. According to what I heard from some colleagues, they are the family members of those who were injured in the building collapse. They are demanding our CEO pay for this with his life!"

Chapter 776 Making Trouble

Celia rushed to the lobby as soon as she heard the news.

When she arrived at the lobby, she saw a mob outside shouting, "Semshy Group, you heartless enterprise, we demand justice!"

Many people were in tears, and it was evident they were indeed the injured's families. They were all waving banners criticizing the company in an attempt to seek justice.

Although the security guards were all deployed to control the crowd, they could only hold them temporarily at the gate.

The security guards kept urging the crowd to calm down, but no one was listening.

As soon as the reporters in the crowd spotted Celia, they rushed up immediately, surrounding and pushing the microphones toward her.

"You're the Semshy Group's CEO, Tyson Shaw's wife, right? Why hasn't Mr. Shaw come out to deal with this devastation?"

"Did your husband send you to deal with these families and us?"

"Why isn't the Semshy Group taking any action even after so long? Are you saying that life is not important?"

The aggressive questioning from the crowd reminded Celia of the day she got married to Tyson.

She was also the one who handled the accusations from the crowd.

When the family members in the crowd heard that Celia was the CEO's wife, they swarmed toward her, and even the security guards couldn't stop them.

Celia felt cornered and replied reluctantly, "Everyone, please calm down. The Semshy Group will give you an appropriate explanation when we finish our investigations."

However, the family members were too furious to listen to her. Their aggression even grew as they rushed towards her.

The security guards rushed forward to protect Celia when they saw what was happening.

Although most of the fists and spit landed on the security guards, the crowd was too rowdy for them to handle all the violence. The security guards were unable to protect Celia completely.

They kept asking her to leave, but she was surrounded by too many people. Someone even rushed up to her with a bottle of paint, shouting, "All of you unscrupulous capitalists, go to hell!"

Celia couldn't dodge the paint. When she was about to be splashed, Tyson rushed in and pulled her aside, dodging the paint.

Tyson asked Celia in concern, "Are you okay?"

She nodded her head and replied, "I'm fine. What about you?"

"Don't worry. I'm fine, too," he answered.

Tyson's appearance made the crowd more emotional.

They wanted to get an explanation from him but were intimidated by him and didn't dare to act recklessly.

Tyson glared at the troublemakers and said firmly, "The Semshy Group never evades our responsibility. The matter is still under investigation. As soon as we are finished with our investigations, I will give everyone an appropriate response."

One reporter stood out on behalf of the families to ask Tyson, "What else is there to investigate? The Semshy Group was the one providing the construction materials. There were no problems before you took over the project. Isn't it clear that your company is the problem? No doubt, the Semshy Group had cut corners!"

Even with someone sounding out, the family members could only make a scene from afar and dare not rush forward.

On the other hand, the other reporters followed and rushed towards Tyson. One of them questioned, "Mr. Shaw, you said that you would give everyone an appropriate response, but why didn't the Semshy Group do anything as soon as the accident happened? Why did the Shaw Group, which had nothing to do with this matter, come out to comfort the injured and their families instead? Is it because you feel guilty?"

Tyson stared directly at the reporter and replied coldly, "If I felt guilty, I wouldn't have shown myself. When such a thing happened, the Semshy Group puts more importance on this than anyone else. We always attach great importance to our reputation and will never do anything to ruin it. So please, wait for the investigation results!"