Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 31

Chapter 31 Howard suddenly laughed mockingly. "I was just trying to trick you. I didn't expect it to be true. Lily, you are amazing!" This was what Skyler had taught him!

Lily's expression changed. "So what if you know? The netizens already know that I slit my wrists. Plus, you do not have any evidence, so do not even think about threatening me with Jocelyn's recording. Don't forget that they did a body search on you when you came in. That was what I was trying to guard against!"

Although she said that, she was obviously not confident enough. Howard stared at her coldly without saying anything. He sneered in his heart. So what if she was careful? She still could not stop Skyler! Lily suddenly grabbed a fruit knife from the side and swiped it across her wrist. Blood immediately spurted out as she pressed the emergency button. Howard was completely stunned by her actions. He looked at Lily with a complicated expression. "You..."

Lily sneered. "This time, I really did slit my wrists. Do you think you still have anything left to threaten me with?"

"You really did that to yourself!" Howard no longer knew what to say to express his shock. Lily scoffed. "What else can I do? Allow you to find evidence and threaten me with it? I'm not that stupid!"

As soon as Lily finished speaking, a doctor rushed in and threw Howard to the side.

In the afternoon, there was another uproar online.

Breaking news! Jocelyn was unwilling to withdraw the lawsuit, so Lily lost control of her emotions. The wound on her wrist was split open again, and she was sent to the operating theater again!

. There was also a photo of Lily bleeding as she was being pushed into the operating theater.

The netizens were crazily following the momentum! “Jocelyn, go to h*11!” “Jocelyn is not fit to be an elder sister! She is vicious and inhumane!”

“We’re being blasted all over the net. Jocelyn, just drop the charges. Is winning that important to you?”

When Jocelyn saw the news, Skyler called and asked her to go upstairs to his office, Jocelyn went upstairs to Skyler’s office.

The moment she entered, she saw Skyler staring at the computer screen. She did not know what he was looking at, but he had a mocking smile on his face.

Jocelyn’s eyes flashed. “President Moore, were you looking for me?”

Upon hearing her words, Skyler was stunned. The corners of his lips curled into a playful smile. “Yes, have a seat!” Jocelyn pursed her lips. “No need, I’ll just stand!” Skyler looked at her with a faint smile. “What do you think of what’s trending online?”

Jocelyn’s eyes flickered as she replied honestly, “No comment!” Skyler sneered. “You’re so calm. I’m impressed!” Jocelyn raised her head and said, “You already have a solution, why should I not be calm?” Surprise flashed across Skyler’s eyes. “Oh, then tell me, what solution do I have?” Jocelyn immediately said, “Howard has been with Lily for two years. He definitely has evidence that Lily is lying. Since you spoke to him this afternoon, you must be confident that you convinced him to work for you!”

Skyler smiled and looked at Jocelyn with a fake smile. “I didn’t know you were so smart!”

Jocelyn retorted, “So-so, it can’t compare to President Moore!” Listening to her prickly words, Skyler felt that Jocelyn was like a cat, clawing at his heart with her claws.

He suddenly stood up, walked around the desk, and walked over to the white brocade. Jocelyn’s body stiffened.

Skyler stood in front of her and looked down at her.

Jocelyn felt that the air around her seemed to have become thinner. She subconsciously took a step back.

Skyler's expression was dark as he reached out and grabbed her chin.

Jocelyn was shocked and subconsciously reached out to hit Skyler's hand away. However, just as she raised her hand, Skyler grabbed it. "What? You want to hit me?"

A look of panic flashed across Jocelyn's face. She frowned and stared at Skyler, stammering, "W-what are you doing?"

Skyler curled his lips and his slender arm suddenly wrapped around Jocelyn's waist, pulling her into his embrace.

Suddenly, his sexy lips moved closer to hers.

Jocelyn could even feel his hot breath on her face.

She panicked and her eyes flickered. She clenched her fists and her breathing became tense.

Was he... Was he going to kiss her?

Jocelyn's cheeks flushed slightly as this thought flashed across her mind.

Before she could react, he let go of her. Skyler smirked. "So... you're not always so calm!" There was a hint of mockery in his tone. He was simply asking for a slap

Jocelyn's expression stiffened. She glared at Skyler angrily. She actually misunderstood the situation! She reached out to push Skyler away. In the end, she was pulled forward and slammed into Skyler's chest. Jocelyn's nose instantly felt sore and painful, and her eyes turned red. Skyler saw that her eyes were red and his heart moved. His Adam's apple moved slightly.

As if possessed, he reached out and stroked Jocelyn's hair. He said faintly, "Don't you think that you're like a cat? You're always scratching people!"

Just this morning, because of this cat, he had been knocked into the back of his head twice. Even his chin was injured. Jocelyn did not understand what Skyler meant. She blushed and felt insulted. Without thinking, she said, "Do you feel like a dog?" Skyler's handsome face darkened. He had finally seen what it was when someone did not know what was good for them.

He turned around and returned to his seat with a cold face. "Get out!" Jocelyn pursed her lips and muttered, "You were the one who insulted me first!" The veins on Skyler's forehead throbbed. "Do you still want me to treat you?" Jocelyn pursed her lips and couldn't help but complain in her heart. She was really unpredictable.

Just as Yale was about to knock on the door, he saw Jocelyn open it. He quickly nodded and greeted her. "Miss White!"

Jocelyn nodded and left. Yale looked at Skyler who was sitting behind his desk. "President, everything is ready!" Skyler flipped through the trending news on the net and thought about how Jocelyn had made people angry just now. He felt extremely stifled. However, he still calmly ordered. "We can begin our counterattack!"

It was three in the afternoon.

The President of Prosperity Jewelry, Howard, personally saw to the task and tore apart his newlywed wife, Lily. 1

He uploaded a video with the title, "Divorce is fine, but I want everyone to see your true colors!"

TY

This video was trending within minutes. The keywords being, "Lily's Acting". Netizens commented. "A shocking reversal. I knew there would be a follow-up!"

"Taking sides too fast, and now getting their faces slapped even faster. I knew it, the suicide attempt in this morning was not that simple!" "Lily is good at misleading society, a ruthless person who does not say much. I was greatly taken aback by her whole act that she put up!" "What a joke. So, the second time she cut her wrist was the real deal! Lily should go to (redacted by moderators) for cheating the pity out of us netizens!"

“I’ll chew on this popcorn. In the video, Lily had cut herself so deeply. I did not expect her to be so ruthless in her actions!” “Tsk tsk tsk, look at Lily’s disgusting face. She is so good at acting, I think she should switch careers and become an actress!”

There were many comments. What was even more interesting was that the netizens even created two stickers out of it. One was when Howard asked Lily what she wanted. Lily simply replied with one word. “ Money! Her expression at that time was screenshotted, and there was a big word ‘money’ pasted on her face!

What was even more ironic was the second sticker. Lily rolled her eyes and said that those idiots online would believe anything I say.

The way she rolled her eyes back then, coupled with flashing words of “That bunch of idiots online”. She had offended everyone who had sympathized with her in the morning! The netizens began to tear at her. They wanted nothing more than to drag out all 18 generations of Lily’s ancestors and whip them. As soon as Lily saw the trending topic, she angrily called Howard. “Howard, you are despicable! How dare you record this!”

She never thought that no matter how careful she was, Howard would actually use such a method to deal with her.

Howard sneered sarcastically. “You’re such a two-faced person. Why can’t I record this? Don’t worry, I have yet to play all of my cards!”

Howard hung up after saying that.

Soon after, Howard released a few screenshots of his WhatsApp chat with Lily.

The screenshot proved that Lily had shamelessly stepped into their relationship as a third party even though she already knew Jocelyn and Howard were dating.

In the past two years, there were all kinds of chat records. You could open any one of them and it was all in this style. Lily: “Howard, come to my room!”

Howard: “Lily, why don’t we forget about it today? Jocelyn is just in the suite next door!”

Lily: “What are you afraid of? Let’s just be careful. I miss you!”

Lily: “Big sis doesn’t want to give it to you, yet she does not allow you to cheat either!”

Howard: “Alright then, I’ll come to your room later.” Lily: “Love you! Muah!”

Howard: “I love you too!”

When the netizens saw this, they all vomited!

Once the chat screenshots were posted, they began trending again.

Trending keywords.

The netizens commented. "The main lady is resting next door, while the mistress is busy cheating next door. It's so nasty!"

"Lily is a real slut and Howard is a real jerk. But, compared to Lily, Howard could at least speak the truth. He is better than Lily, who could be putting up an act at any moment!"

"This kind of woman only cares about money, Whoever meets her would be unlucky!"

"Did anyone notice that in Howard's video, Lily was exposed to not having slit her wrist? In a matter of minutes, she had stabbed herself in the wrist after that. She is indeed a ruthless person!"

"Not only is she ruthless, but she is also terrifying. Did you see the look in her eyes when she smiled at Howard? Oh my god, it was really too scary. I felt a chill down my spine!" "To be able to be so ruthless to herself, she really does not know where her bottom line is!" "Snatching her own sister's boyfriend, plagiarizing, and trampling on her sister, what bottom line does a mistress have!"

Howard had seen to it personally to ruin Lily, thus everyone had a whole new level of respect for him. Almost all the vitriol was directed towards Lily.

However, not long after, Claude Hospital released another piece of evidence.

Ma'am, The World Is Waiting For Your Divorce Chapter 33

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 33

Chapter 33 Zayn Claud, the director of Claude Hospital, said that their hospital was determined to stop this kind of fake behavior. The doctor who wrote the false medical certificate was now fired and had his medical license revoked.

At the same time, he attached two hospital reports. One of them was fake proof that Lily had been hospitalized in the morning, while the other was proof that she had cut her wrist. He emphasized that the second report was the first time the wrist had been cut and not a second wound.

with that, the netizens started cursing even harder. Prosperity Jewelry's official Twitter account reposted Zayn's Weibo post. After suing Lily for plagiarizing, they once again charged her for online defamation against Jocelyn, intending to return peace to the internet.

Not long after Jocelyn returned to the design department, the counterattack began. 13

Jocelyn watched with her mouth agape. She never imagined that Skyler would actually convince Howard to switch sides and tear Lily apart. Each and every one of them had shown that Lily had been humiliated.

The people from the design department looked at Jocelyn with complicated expressions. In just an hour, the situation on the net had completely reversed. The trend on the net changed. Michael's unending calls came.

Jocelyn stood up calmly and picked up the phone. As soon as the call connected, Michael's angry voice came through the phone. "Jocelyn, you've gone against the odds. Now, just because you have Skyler backing you, you don't care about your family anymore?" Jocelyn's expression was indifferent. "Did I not care about my family, or did my family not care about me first? I was plotted against even in my own home. Dad, I really don't know what right you have to call me again and again to chastise me!". When Michael heard this, his voice turned weak. "Alright, even if what happened last night was the whole family's fault, you shouldn't have not given your sister a chance and completely ruined her. Look at how the net is scolding her now!" Last night, when he found out that Jocelyn had actually hooked up with Skyler, he was extremely shocked. If this was in the past, he would definitely be overjoyed. He would show it off to everyone. After all, it was a joyous occasion for his daughter to be married to Skyler. After all, power and wealth would come rolling in automatically. .

Unfortunately, the timing of their meeting last night was too much of a coincidence. It happened to be when he was plotting against Jocelyn. Skyler would probably remember this forever!

Last night, Skyler left with Jocelyn in his arms. The family of three discussed for half the night before coming up with a plan to pretend to commit suicide to gain sympathy. Unexpectedly, in just a short while, the lie was completely exposed.

Michael was on tenterhooks and did not dare to tell anyone that Jocelyn was married to Skyler. Otherwise, the people who only took sides based on the situation would definitely target Lily to try to please Skyler.

Jocelyn said mockingly, “You probably only saw the part where people scolded Lily! When people scolded me, I never saw you call me to comfort me!” Michael was at a loss for words. “I was busy at that time, but you’re already married to Michael. Can’t you let Lily off?” 3

Jocelyn did not expect that her father would still say such things even at this stage. Her eyes darkened. “Don’t you think it’s ridiculous to let her go? If it wasn’t for Prosperity Jewelry’s actions, I would be the one dying this time!

“Father, when I went to university at the age of 14, Lily insisted that you send her to university as well. Unfortunately, it seems, the university’s entrance could be opened with enough money. But, IQ is a fixed weakness. No matter how much money you spend, your IQ cannot be increased. Let’s just treat this incident as a tax you have to pay for her IQ!”

After Jocelyn finished speaking, she hung up the phone indifferently. She was a gem of a genius. Back in the day, Lily insisted on competing with her and asked Michael to spend money to send her to university. From the looks of it, it was rather ironic. He might as well let her study as a normal person would!

When Jocelyn returned to the design department, she saw everyone whispering to each other.

“I didn’t expect the company to value Jocelyn so much and help her fight back in such a short time!”

“Yeah, she’s beautiful and has her designs to rely on. Looks like we have to be more careful in the future in the company!” “Hey, look at how pretty Jocelyn is, and the company is siding with her so much, do you think that she and President Moore...”

Fiona said with a cold expression, “Don’t you want to work anymore? What are you all gossiping about? The company only helped her because she’s from Prosperity Jewelry and her reputation is closely related to the company’s reputation. That’s all! If you all have the time to talk nonsense, why don’t you all use that time to come up with another design draft?!”

Chapter 34

Chapter 34

After Fiona finished speaking, everyone immediately fell silent. Jocelyn took her phone and returned to her seat expressionlessly, Fiona glanced at her, snorted coldly, and stood up to leave. Once Fiona left, the people started discussing again. "When there are no tigers in the mountains, the monkeys call themselves kings!" "Yeah, ever since Big Sis Josie left, some people have really thought of themselves as number one in the design department!"

"I wonder when Director Lang will be back. We need to look at her emotions every time if we want to say something!"

Jocelyn was holding a pen expressionlessly and absent-mindedly drawing on the design draft. She knew that no matter who it was, they would be gossiped about behind their backs. However, the Director Lang they were talking about, Jocelyn wanted to meet this person. It was said that this director of the design department was a very capable person but had gone on a business trip for the past two days! On the top floor, in the CEO's office. Skyler's phone rang. He glanced at the caller ID and saw the name 'Josie'. After a moment of silence, he answered the call. "Skyler, what do you mean by this?" Josie questioned. An impatient look flashed across Skyler's eyes. "What's the matter?" Josie sounded like he was about to cry. "You didn't even help me back then. Do you really like her?"

She received a call from Fiona and learned about the situation in the country. She was about to go crazy. She really did not expect that everything would change after she left for a few days! Skyler frowned. "Back then, the online media wasn't as developed as it is today!"

Josie could not help but raise her voice, "But can she be the same as me? I was your girlfriend for six years. She just got a marriage certificate with you!"

Skyler looked displeased. "That's one more marriage certificate than you have!" Josie sounded like he was about to cry. "Skyler, I love you so much. How could you do this to me?!"

Skyler was expressionless. "You were the one who told me that you wanted to register our marriage. You were also the one who stood me up and wanted to leave. Josie, no one forced you!"

"That's because I feel that you don't love me at all. I just want to prove that you love me, but you don't take me seriously. Don't you feel it?" Josie cried very sadly.

Skyler's tone was slightly cold. "So, are you trying to prove whether I love you by standing me up again and again? Josie, your actions are very childish!"

Josie was a little anxious. She could clearly feel that she was getting further and further away from Skyler. She was anxious to get everything back on track. She did not want to pursue her career anymore. She also did not want to prove whether Skyler loved her or not still.

She only wanted to return to Skyler's side. "Skyler, I'll go back now. Divorce that woman, okay? Your family doesn't even know about your marriage. As long as you divorce her, we'll pretend none of this happened, okay?" Skyler rejected her coldly. "This is just your wishful thinking!"

Indeed, only Josie and the White family knew that he was married to Jocelyn. Every time Josie stood him up, he would arrange for someone to secretly observe his movements at the entrance of the Civil Affairs Bureau. He was well aware of this.

As for his family and the Sonnet family, they thought that Josie had gone abroad. Josie and Skyler did not end up registering their marriage, but they did not know that Skyler had registered his marriage with someone else.

Josie was about to break down. She asked hysterically, "Skyler, have you really fallen for that woman?!!!

Skyler's expression was ugly as he hung up. However, just as he put down his phone, it rang again. Skyler's expression was ugly. Without even looking at the caller ID, he said coldly and impatiently, "Are you done?!" The person on the other end of the line choked. "Tsk, who provoked you? Why are you so irritable?"

Skyler was stunned. He glanced at the caller ID and realized that it was Jim Rand. He was good friends with Jim. When they were in university, they studied abroad together and came back together. Their relationship was extraordinary. He rubbed his forehead and muttered, "I'm quite fine!" Seeing that he did not want to talk about it, Jim did not ask further. "We haven't seen each other for a few days. Let's have a drink at the usual place tonight. How about it?" Skyler thought about it and agreed. "See you tonight!"

After hanging up the phone, Skyler stared at his computer. When he thought of Josie's hysterical question about whether he had fallen for her, his expression darkened.

What did it mean to like someone? Skyler had never let others know his preferences easily.

He loved smoking a few years ago, but in the end, he quit. He felt that there was nothing in this world that he could not bear to part with! Getting married to Jocelyn was just going with the flow, nothing more! Just as Skyler was thinking, Yale knocked on the door and entered. "President Moore, Miss Rand is here. She brought Chad along, and said she is here to offer a humble apology!"

Chapter 35

Chapter 35 Skyler raised his eyes lazily. "Tell them to wait in the guestroom. Go and call Jocelyn!"

Yvonne was a cousin sister from Jim's extended family. Skyler would give Jim face.

Yale nodded and left.

Skyler sat in his seat for a moment, threw a mint into his mouth, and got up to go to the guest room.

The moment Skyler entered, he saw Chad kneeling on the ground,

The night before, Skyler had whipped him with the belt. He was beside himself. He fell to his knees and hissed in pain.

Skyler sat on the sofa expressionlessly.

An infatuated look flashed across Yvonne's eyes. She heard that Josie had gone abroad and this man was single again.

She smiled and looked at Skyler. "Skyler, I heard that Chad made you unhappy last night and specially brought him here today to apologize to you!"

Skyler lazily raised his eyelids. "Offering a humble apology, where's the humbleness?" The smile on Yvonne's face froze. A humble apology was just an excuse. She really did not expect Skyler to be so serious. Mauve City's jewelry industry was flourishing, and Chad was her cousin. The Jones family was also involved in the jewelry business.

However, Chad, that fool, did not know Skyler and offended him last night. This morning, a few of the Jones family's business deals were all canceled.

Only then did they get anxious and quickly came to ask for her help.

She asked Chad, who was hospitalized, to come to Prosperity Jewelry with her and apologize to Skyler.

Yvonne was not an ordinary person after all. She felt awkward for a few seconds before her smile returned to normal. "If Skyler wants to see it, I will ask him to do it now!"

Skyler glanced at Yvonne. "There's no need. It's just that your partner is wrong and apologizing to the wrong person. He didn't offend me!"

Stunned, Yvonne said with a smile, "I know. I heard that she offended the new designer of your company, Jocelyn, who is the talk of the town, right?"

Hearing Yvonne's description, Skyler looked a little unhappy. He snorted lightly and did not speak.

Yvonne tugged at Chad's sleeve. "Although President Moore said so, you still have to apologize to President Moore first. After all, Miss White is President Moore's capable employee!"

It was only then that Chad snapped back to his senses. He hurriedly bent down and kowtowed repeatedly, knocking his head against the marble floor loudly. "President Moore, I've been too snobbish and failed to recognize who I was facing. Please be magnanimous and forgive me this once. I really know my mistakes!"

Upon hearing his words, Skyler narrowed his eyes. "Do you know that it's been a long time since I hit someone with my own hands?!"

Upon hearing his words, Chad was a little dazed as he looked at him with a confused expression.

as S

Jim snorted. "I hit you because I was so angry that I couldn't even wait for the bodyguards to come!" 1

Chad's face turned pale immediately. Ever since he found out who had hit him, he had been shocked.

He knew that he had provoked someone he should not have!

Seeing that Chad had lost his composure, Yvonne's expression changed. She looked at Skyler." Skyler, please forgive him for what happened this time. My cousin doesn't know about the situation either!"

She did not even blink as she noticed the change in Skyler's expression. "I heard that it was the White family's idea at that time. They said that they wanted him to marry Jocelyn in the future, so it didn't matter if they got together in advance. My cousin was confused back then and didn't know that Miss White would be unwilling, so he..."

Skyler looked up at her mockingly. "Is that so! If you don't ask the woman for her opinion on this matter, it's not just a matter of reluctance, but r*pe. Moreover, forget about not being married, even if you become married, it's illegal to be so!"

Yvonne laughed dryly, not knowing what to say. Seeing Skyler sitting there as if nothing had happened, she couldn't help but say, "Skyler, don't tell me you've fallen for that Jocelyn?!"

Upon hearing this, Skyler's expression changed slightly. This was the second time he had heard the same question today. He glanced at Yvonne coldly. "Whether I like her or not, who are you to ask?"

Yvonne froze for a moment, her expression stiff and the smile on her face gone.

At this time, Yale knocked on the door and entered with Jocelyn.

Yvonne heaved a sigh of relief. However, jealousy flashed across her eyes when she saw Jocelyn's beautiful face.

Skyler's tone did not conceal his emotions. "The main character for today is here. Those who want to apologize or take revenge, do whichever!"

Upon hearing this, Chad knelt on the ground and crawled toward Jocelyn. He kowtowed to Jocelyn and said, "Miss White, I was wrong. I'm not human. I'm worse than a beast. Please let me off. I really didn't do it on purpose last night. I only dared to do that because of your father's wishes! Please forgive me, alright?"

Chapter 36

Hearing Chad's words, even though Jocelyn knew the whole story, she still felt a little upset.

She said expressionlessly, "No need, this matter ends here!"

She knew very well that without Chad, there would have been a Tom, or Dick, or even Harry last night.

In any case, it was Michael who had plotted against her last night. He wanted to create something that could threaten her.

Skyler's pupils constricted. He did not expect Jocelyn to forgive Chad so easily. Yvonne smiled at Skyler. "Skyler, Miss White has already forgiven Chad. Please let the Jones family off on my account!"

Skyler was silent for a few seconds before he said slowly, "I am not doing this for your sake. I am doing this for Jocelyn's sake. I hope the Jones family will behave themselves!"

Yvonne immediately understood what Skyler meant. He was giving face to Jim because she was his cousin sister. Chad was her cousin as well, although they were not close.

However, Skyler still gave Jim face. She quickly nodded and tugged at Chad. "Hurry and thank President Moore!" Chad quickly nodded. "Thank you, President Moore, for your magnanimity. Thank you, Miss White, for your forgiveness. I won't do it again!"

Yvonne heaved a sigh of relief. Although Skyler did not look happy, the matter was finally settled.

She glanced at Skyler and said, "Skyler, do you have time? Chad and I will treat you and Miss White to dinner tonight!"

Skyler replied, "No need, you can leave now!"

Yvonne knew that Skyler always kept his word. She looked embarrassed as she nodded and left with Chad Jocelyn also wanted to leave, but Skyler said, "Stay! I have something to say!" Jocelyn looked at him in surprise and stayed behind. When Yvonne heard this, she pursed her lips and glanced at the expressionless Skyler before leaving reluctantly.

Once Yvonne left, Skyler looked at Jocelyn.

He could not help but frown when he thought about how someone had repeatedly asked him if he had fallen for Jocelyn.

He stared at Jocelyn. Did this woman think so too?

Skyler's eyes flashed and he said without batting an eyelid, "Jocelyn, I hope you don't misunderstand for the reason that I saved you last night. If it were a man with guts, he would have done the same thing in that situation!"

Jocelyn was stunned. What did that mean?

Her expression changed slightly as she nodded. "No matter what, thank you for last night, President Moore!"

Skyler raised his eyebrows. Did she not understand what he meant?

His eyes darkened. "I've helped you twice not only because you're a member of the company, but also because of the company's reputation. More importantly, I don't like people touching my things. Do you understand?"

Jocelyn's expression changed slightly as she carefully controlled herself. "I understand. Thank you very much for today's intervention, President Moore!"

Skyler frowned. Why did it feel like he still didn't understand what he meant!

He continued, "I married you because I took advantage of the situation. I don't like others using anything to coerce me. My marriage doesn't need to be bound by useless feelings. Sometimes, I would tease you a little because you were interesting at that moment and didn't mean anything else. Do you understand?"

If Josie was not his girlfriend who kept taking advantage of him, perhaps his current marriage partner would not be Jocelyn.

Jocelyn was stunned. Was he telling her not to have feelings for him?

Was he afraid that she would pester him over a marriage certificate?

Jocelyn's lips twitched and her heart sank.

She was indeed grateful to him, but it was not to the extent of insisting on him and pestering him.

She did not expect him to start haranguing her so quickly. She had to know her limits.

She said seriously, "President Moore, I understand what you mean. You marrying me is just a matter of convenience. I have a favor to ask of you and I am only borrowing your power. There are no emotional entanglements. Don't worry, I will never have any improper thoughts about you, President Moore!"

Jocelyn stood there quietly, as if she had suddenly bared her fangs and brandished her claws. Her kitten – like personality had vanished.

Skyler's eyes flashed and he felt slightly uncomfortable.

However, he continued, "Our marriage is based on mutual benefits, so I want to give it a year. What do you think?"

Jocelyn's expression was reserved as she said politely and distantly, "It's all up to you, President Moore! I have no objections!"

She was just borrowing power, what could she say!

Skyler tested her attitude and was very satisfied.

Then, he changed the topic without batting an eyelid. "Do you have any other thoughts about Howard? He's sided with us this time and helped you. If you still want to deal with him, I can help you!"

Jocelyn was slightly taken aback. Was he trying to smooth things out? It was a pity that they were on different sides, so it was better to keep a distance

Chapter 37

Jocelyn shook her head and analyzed calmly. "There's no need, President Moore. Even if Howard managed to divert the public's attention this time, Skyward Jewelry's reputation is still ruined. His own reputation is even worse. If he wants Skyward Jewelry to rise from the ashes again, the only way for Skyward Jewelry is to change its president. 2 "However, based on his personality, he might not give up all his years of hard work to someone else. Therefore, Skyward Jewelry is destined to be nothing but mediocre in the future. If he can't make a name for himself in this industry, there's no hope. This is already the best punishment for him!" Jocelyn said calmly.

Skyler's eyes flashed. "You understood the situation quite well!" Jocelyn nodded slightly. "Thank you for your praise, President Moore!" Skyler felt that the low and cold atmosphere was a little uncomfortable. He coughed lightly." If there's nothing else, you can go back to the design department first!"

Jocelyn nodded. "Then I'll be leaving first!" When she reached the door, Skyler suddenly said, "Oh right, go home after work tonight. I have something to do!" Jocelyn thought about how she came into Skyler's car this morning and nodded. "Okay!" Jocelyn walked out of the guest room and heaved a sigh of relief.

Thinking about what Skyler had said just now, the corners of her lips twitched in self mockery. These two days, she had indeed crossed the line.

That day, Lexie had just said that Skyler helping her like this might be because he was interested in her, but today, she was beaten up.

No wonder people used to say that Skyler was cold-hearted and not easy to get along with.

At the end of the day, it was all because she did not have a brain these two days and was so naive that she mistook Skyler for an easy person to get along with! She was really hurt by Howard and wanted to seek warmth from him. Such a stupid thing could never happen again. She even said Lily had an IQ tax. It seemed, it was time for her to pay an IQ tax instead!

After work, Jocelyn received a call from Lexie, saying that they were going to eat together.

Lexie normally didn't have anything he was interested in apart from computers. Now that she saw Jocelyn, she couldn't help but ask about today's events. "That husband of yours probably likes you. I think he treats you quite well!" Jocelyn instantly thought of how Skyler had beaten her up before. Her expression stiffened and she shook her head. "You're thinking too much. We each take what we need. He doesn't have any designs on me. Everything he did was because of the company!"

Lexie frowned. "Is that so?"

After eating, Lexie pulled Jocelyn to buy a paintbrush for the design.

Jocelyn understood that the person's birthday was coming soon. During these past few years, every year at this time, Lexie would buy a paintbrush, but every year, she would not be able to send it out, because the person she wanted to send a paintbrush that cannot be found anymore!

Lexie's temperament was cold and apathetic. Ever since Jocelyn met her, she had only been interested in two things. One was a notebook, the other was Chance. Jocelyn accompanied her around the mall and bought a paintbrush. When they walked outside the men's luxury goods store, Lexie suddenly said, "Jocelyn, do you want to buy Skyler a gift as well?" Jocelyn was slightly stunned. "Why would I buy him a gift?" Lexie gave her a look. "Pay him back for saving your life! He helped you for the company, but he still saved you nonetheless!" Jocelyn recalled that when she was eating, she told Lexie what happened last night. Lexie's normally cold and indifferent face was now ashen from anger.

Indeed, what happened yesterday could be considered as saving her life. Otherwise, if she was really defiled by scum like Chad, she would definitely wish she was dead.

Jocelyn thought for a bit. Lexie's words were indeed reasonable. Moreover, Lexie originally cared more about the part of saving her life. Back then, it was precisely because Chance helped her avoid a disaster, getting hospitalized in a car accident that she fell in love with him.

ON

Plus, it was because she wanted to make things clear with Skyler in the future.

Then she had to be clear about gratitude and grudges. She had to repay kindness with kindness. Since someone had saved her, she could not just brush it off.

At this thought, she nodded. "Alright then, let's go in and have a look!"

Jocelyn looked around and finally saw a pair of deep blue sleeves. They were deep and reserved, with a low-key luxuriousness. Jocelyn felt that they were very suitable for Skyler.

They bought some things, and Lexie sent Jocelyn to get a taxi.

In the end, when they left the mall, Lexie seemed to have seen something, suddenly releasing Jocelyn, chasing after them like a madman.

Jocelyn was stunned. After she regained her senses, she hurriedly chased after her.

Lexie chased all the way to a bar called Old Place near the mall. Only then did Jocelyn grab her arm. "Lexie, what's wrong?"

Lexie panted, tightly grabbing Jocelyn's hand, her voice hurried to the point where she lost her composure. "I saw Chance, Jocelyn, I saw him just now!"

Chapter 38

Jocelyn's expression changed. This sort of thing happened several times in the past three years.

She could not help but ask, "Could you have seen it wrongly?" After all, if it was that easy to find someone who had disappeared for three years, they would have found him long ago. Lexie quickly shook her head, her expression serious. "No, I definitely didn't see wrongly this time!"

Seeing how determined she was, Jocelyn said, "Then let's go take a look inside the bar!" At the bar, in the VIP private room. Jim looked at Skyler with a cheeky smile. "You really don't like that Jocelyn? She looks quite attractive!"

Skyler frowned slightly. This was the third time he had been questioned today.

He was slightly displeased. "You've seen her before?"

Jim smiled and said, "On the Internet, of course. Although the picture is not clear, based on my research on women over the past twenty years, she must be a beauty!"

Skyler looked at him coldly, not wanting to answer his meaningless words.

Jim leaned closer. "No, Skyler, are you really not tempted? You put in so much effort to help her fight against the officials of the Skyward Jewelry and Starlight Jewelry, punished her drama queen sister, and even allowed Prosperity Jewelry's legal team to fight for her. You were not like this before!"

Skyler looked at him speechlessly. "She's a good sapling. What I like about her is her talent for designing. The things I do are nothing more than to help her solve her worries and let her focus on designing. I'm not as easily aroused as you!"

Jim was unhappy to hear this. "You can't say that. Skyler, I am not interested in women. I am interested in beauty!"

Skyler sneered and drank a mouthful of wine.

In the main hall of the bar, Jocelyn and Lexie entered the bar, the two of them running around like headless flies.

Jocelyn said, "How about this, Lexie, you go look over here, I'll go to the other side. If there really aren't many unchecked spots left, we'll go to the private rooms to take a look. Whoever finds Chance first will contact the other party!"

Lexie's face was taut, hurriedly nodding.

At the same time, in Skyler's private room.

Davis pushed the door open and saw the two sitting on the sofa. He said, "President Moore!" Skyler raised his eyebrows and looked at him. "Just got off the plane?"

Davis shook his head. "I even made a trip home. I knew that you were looking for me, so I came from home. This is the situation of the investigation I made this time. Take a look!"

Prosperity Conglomerate's position in Mauve City's jewelry market was unshakable. There was not much room for it to rise.

Thus, Skyler sent Davis to investigate the jewelry market overseas.

Skyler flipped through two pages and saw that Davis was still standing. He said, "Take a seat first. Have a few drinks later!"

Davis shook his head. "No need, President Moore. I just got off the plane. I'm a little tired, so I won't drink. I still have work tomorrow!"

Skyler was stunned for a second. "Then go back early. If you're too tired, go ahead and take leave tomorrow!"

Davis nodded. "Thank you, President Moore!" On this side, Davis left the private room and directly left through the back door of the old place.

At the end of the private room, there was a turn. Once they went out, they would reach the back door of Old Place. Many regular customers knew this door.

Jocelyn and Lexie walked around the hall but did not find Chance.

In reality, Jocelyn did not want to give Lexie false hope, she did not have much hope. After all, back then, Chance disappeared completely without a trace, not contacting any of her classmates or friends.

Lexie searched for him for three years, but she still could not find him. The chances of encountering him on the streets were just too low. 1

However, when she saw the always calm Lexie's sad and anxious appearance, Jocelyn also could not help but feel bad. "How about this, we'll go look at the private room. We'll knock on the door, we'll be polite, just say that we entered the wrong private room, don't offend others!"

Lexie's eyes were a bit red, but she still nodded. After Lexie graduated, she had always been a hacker, taking on many private jobs on the Internet. That was why she did not really understand the ways of the world. Jocelyn had already pushed open four or five private rooms, yet Lexie only went through two.

On the other side, Jocelyn had just pushed open a door when she saw a large group of men and women inside. She could not help but frown. She glanced around and did not see the person she was looking for.

She nodded slightly in apology. "Sorry, I entered the wrong room!"

After Jocelyn finished speaking, there was a commotion inside.

"Aiya, since you're here, come in and play!"

"Beauty, you didn't come to the wrong one. You opened the door and you're part of this room!"

Jocelyn's expression changed slightly, and she said in an unnatural manner, "My apologies!"

With that, she was about to close the door and leave.

However, just as she turned around, she bumped into a hard chest.

Jocelyn sniffled and immediately covered her nose, looking up at the person. The man in front of her had wine-red hair, and under the light, there was a hint of ostentatious dark red. The expression on his handsome face was arrogant and uninhibited.

There was a purple ear stud on his left ear that reflected the light. Jocelyn noticed it immediately. She quickly lowered her head and apologized. "I'm really sorry, I entered the wrong room!"

With that, Jocelyn turned around to leave.

In the end, the other party grabbed her arm. "Who let you go!?" Jocelyn's expression changed slightly. Had she encountered an unreasonable tough nut? She tried her best to be humble. "Then what do you want?"

She looked up at the man in front of her.

The other party saw her face clearly. He suddenly reached out and grabbed Jocelyn's chin. "Raise your head!" Jocelyn froze, feeling displeased. "Please let go!" The other party narrowed his eyes and sized up Jocelyn. Suddenly, he laughed playfully. "Since you're here, let's play together!"

As he spoke, he was about to pull the struggling Jocelyn into the private room.

On the other side.

Lexie opened a low-profile luxurious door, immediately seeing the two men in the private room.

Her expression changed slightly, and she hurriedly nodded and apologized. "Sorry, I went the wrong way!"

When she saw the girl at the door, she was as careful as a little bunny. There was a coldness on her that clearly did not belong to this place.

Jim raised his eyebrows and stood up. "Let me see, what kind of eyes do you have? Why did you go to the wrong place?" Lexie was a bit flustered, hurriedly wishing to pull the door shut and leave.

However, Jim caught up with her and grabbed her arm. While Lexie was panicking, he suddenly saw that Jocelyn was also dragged into a private room not far away.

Lexie panicked. Ignoring the fact that she was still being pulled by Jim, she shouted, "Jocelyn!"

The moment she finished shouting, Jocelyn was pulled into the private room. Lexie's expression became extremely ugly. Jocelyn was here to help her find someone. If something happened to her, she would not be able to face Jocelyn anymore.

Lexie struggled, about to rush over. From this angle, Jim saw Abel dragging a woman into the room.

However, he never expected to hear a familiar name from this unfamiliar little beauty's mouth. He forcefully grabbed Lexie's arm, his eyes flickering. "Are you calling out to Jocelyn White?"

Lexie did not expect this man to know Jocelyn. In her desperation, she hurriedly said, "Right, it's Jocelyn. Do you know her? She was pulled into that private room!" Jim raised his head and looked in that direction. His eyes flickered as he said, "Wait here, I will go in for a while!"

Lexie stood in place helplessly, anxious to the point of going crazy, but he still obediently nodded.

Jim smiled and entered the private room. He smiled when he saw Skyler drinking. "Skyler, guess who I saw?"

Skyler lazily lifted his eyelids and glanced at him. "Does it have anything to do with me?"

Jim sat down with a smile. "Of course it has something to do with you. Who were we talking about? Oh yes! Just the person we mentioned just now!"

Skyler frowned. "Do you need to go to the neurologist?" Jim clicked his tongue. "How boring. Didn't we just talk about Jocelyn? She was dragged into the room by Abel. Isn't she the designer of your company? Do you want to go take a look?" Skyler immediately understood what Jim meant. Speak of the devil!

A dark look flashed across his eyes. How could this woman be so troublesome!

He stood up and strode out.

Jim smirked. "I knew it. You say you don't care, but your body is honest!"

On the other side of the room, Jocelyn had just been pulled into the room when she heard the man pulling her say to everyone, "Let me introduce you to everyone. This is the famous designer from Prosperity Jewelry, Jocelyn!"

The men and women in the private room stopped drinking and looked at her with different gazes.

Some were curious, some were disdainful, and some were envious and jealous.

Some even started to pour wine.

Jocelyn was surprised that this man knew her.

However, she was very sure that she did not know this person before!

Very few people could recognize this person in real life after watching the video. Naturally, she did not expect that the man would recognize her immediately after seeing her videos and photos. Jocelyn sensed that nothing good would come of staying here for too long.

She took a deep breath. "Sir, since you know me, I won't beat around the bush. If I've offended you before, I'll apologize to you. I have something urgent to attend to, so I'll take my leave first!"

The man pulled her arm and sneered. "What's the rush? I haven't introduced myself yet. My name is Abel Crain. You have to remember this!"

Jocelyn frowned slightly. "Mr. Crain, I've remembered your name. Can I go now?"

Abel looked at Jocelyn with a playful look, as if he was looking at some rare treasure. He smirked, his good-looking face glistening under the light. "If you want to go, of course you can! Drink this row of wine!"

Jocelyn's eyebrows raised. She looked at the eight beer glasses on the table. They were filled with brandy. Several empty bottles of brandy were still sitting on the sideboard.

Jocelyn's eyes darkened. "Mr. Crain, you're making things difficult for me!"

She did not know how she had offended the man in front of her, but he was obviously up to no good!

Abel laughed. "I'm making things difficult for you huh. How can you hurt my heart like this? I'm clearly sincere in wanting to be friends with you. After drinking these eight glasses of this brandy, we'll be sworn friends! If you don't drink it, you'll be disrespecting me!"

Abel smiled as he spoke, but it sent chills down everyone's spine.

Jocelyn said in a low voice, "I don't dare to disrespect you Mr. Crain, but I really don't know how to drink!"

Abel looked at her with a faint smile. "If you don't know how to drink, you can learn. I'll give you your first lesson today!"

He continued to speak meaningfully, "Don't worry, this is the brandy that you saw just now. There's no problem with it. As long as you finish these eight glasses of brandy, you can leave. Otherwise, you won't even be able to leave this door!"

After saying that, Abel let go of Jocelyn's arm.

No one was pulling her, but Jocelyn felt as if there was a heavy weight on her feet, and she could not walk out.

She was pretty sure that if she did not drink, she would not be able to rush out of the private room under the eyes of so many people.

She took a deep breath and looked at Abel seriously. "Mr. Crain, are you sure I can leave after drinking?"

Abel curled his lips. "I never lie!"

Jocelyn's expression changed. "Alright, I believe you!"

Upon hearing this, Abel's eyes flickered and a strange feeling flashed across his heart.

Jocelyn had a tense expression on her face as she walked to the table. She picked up a glass of brandy and gulped it down!

The men and women in the private room immediately cheered.

"Ohhhhhhhh."

Someone shouted, "Abel, she knows how to drink. she was just bluffing you!"

Abel, on the other hand, stared straight at Jocelyn who was drinking and did not say a word.

Jocelyn finished one glass and then the second,

She had just finished her second glass when the door of the private room was kicked open.

Jocelyn automatically turned around.

Then, she saw Skyler's dark and handsome face. He walked in with a cold expression and the temperature in the room seemed to have dropped as he entered.

Abel was also stunned. He smiled playfully and looked at Skyler." Moore the Second, you got here so quickly. It seems that Ms. White's place in your heart is indeed extraordinary!" Jocelyn's eyebrows twitched. Hearing Abel speak to Skyler in such a confrontational manner, she immediately guessed his identity.

Six years ago, the Crain family's jewelry was still the best in Mauve City.

However, six years ago, Skyler's Prosperity Jewelry appeared out of nowhere In just one year, it had suppressed the Crain family's position in Mauve City's jewelry industry.

From now on, no matter what jewelry competition or activity there was, the Crain family would have to compete with Prosperity Jewelry.

It was a pity that he could only be sidelined every time. Every time, he would be number two, and this went on for a long time! The people of Mauve City even jokingly called him the number two jeweler. The two of them had always been arch-enemies, it was no wonder Abel hated Skyler so much. Abel probably made things difficult for her just now because he knew that she was the designer of Skyler's company. This was a fight between two godly people. Mortals would suffer! Jocelyn's thoughts were fleeting. Just as she thought this, Skyler pulled her behind him. Skyler stood opposite Abel. "Abel, come at me if you have anything to say. What kind of man are you to make things difficult for a designer?!"

Abel looked at Skyler and nudged him with his tongue. "Tsk, you're right. I'm just inviting her over for a few drinks to make friends. If you don't believe me, you can ask her. Am I making things difficult for you?"

When Jocelyn saw Abel looking at her, she pursed her lips and remained silent.

Skyler glanced at the table and his eyes turned cold. "Whose rule is it to make friends while having to drink eight glasses of brandy?"

Not to mention, the glass used was a large one that could fill a big bottle.

Abel looked at Jocelyn with a cynical smile. His gaze shifted to Skyler's face and his smile suddenly disappeared. "Of course it's my rule. What's wrong, Mr. Moore?"

Skyler was too lazy to continue talking nonsense with him. "I'm taking her away. Don't play these tricks behind my back anymore! Otherwise, don't blame me for being impolite!" After Skyler said that, he turned to walk out.

Abel suddenly raised his voice. "Moore the Second, you've gone overboard. I just returned to the country today and heard that you've caused a huge ruckus in Mauve City in the past two days. I only invited Ms. White in for a short while. Do you have to be so unreasonable? Why? Are you trying to challenge me directly?"

Skyler stopped in his tracks. He turned around and looked at Abel expressionlessly. "Is there a need to declare war between us?"

Since they were already enemies, there was no need for such tricks!

With that, Skyler left with his men.

Abel was so angry that he flung the wine on the table onto the floor and shouted loudly in the private room, "Moore the Second, f*ck you!"

Unfortunately, Skyler did not even look at him.
