

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1094

The girl sat boldly, leaning back against the mahogany chair. Her posture was a little casual as she lowered her eyes to look at her cell phone. When she got closer, her eyebrows became even more exquisite and eye-catching. She was as beautiful as a celebrity on television.

It was just that she didn't dress up much and was dressed in a more comfortable style. The blue and white cotton striped shirt looked cold and lonely on the girl.

Song Tian came back to her senses, but she was still so nervous that her back was tense, and her palms were covered in a thin layer of sweat.

Their department's newbie this year was too good-looking!

She was completely different from the image of the college entrance examination top scholar she had imagined. She didn't give the impression of a bookworm at all. She was rebellious like... the kind of girl who was very beautiful but did not study well in school.

Qiao Nian was different from those girls.

Those girls usually had the domineering look of "I'm the top in the world" in their eyes. Qiao Nian looked quite restrained.

She had been polite enough to let them all in first. She had been the last one to enter the room. In any case, she seemed quite the polite sort.

Song Tian was a cheerful person. After coming back to her senses, she didn't notice that the others in the room were so embarrassed that they didn't know how to speak.

As the friendly one, she broke the dull atmosphere first. She was the first to raise her hand and was obviously full of energy. "Ahem! This is our first time meeting. I have a suggestion. Let's introduce ourselves and get to know each other! I'll go first! I'm Song Tian. I came from Liangjiang Experimental High School. We'll be classmates in the same department from now on. Please look out for me~"

She took the lead and introduced herself first. The remaining people looked at each other. They looked young and awkward. One by one, they introduced themselves.

"I'm Li Yan from the Foreign Languages School in Lin City. Nice to meet you all."

Qiao Nian looked up and saw the boy who had just spoken to her touching the back of his head in embarrassment.

A boy was standing beside him. He was very low-key.

"Zhou Moyan, a local."

Immediately after, the other people also introduced themselves. The girl beside Song Tian hesitated for a moment before saying calmly, "My name is Yin Wenzhi."

She didn't say which school she was from or where she came from.

After a round of introductions, Qiao Nian was the only one who had yet to introduce herself. Everyone in the room was basically focused on her.

Qiao Nian's head hurt from being stared at by a few pairs of eyes. She moved her arm and changed her posture, then propped up her face. She didn't understand the concept of children greeting each other. However, she said kindly, "I'm Qiao Nian from Rao City's First High School."

Qiao Nian, Rao City, First High School!

Everyone in Year Three had heard of this string of words before. It was the name and school of the College Entrance Examination's top scorer.

The people in the private room grew uncomfortable.

They had heard the manager of the Emerald Pavilion call her Miss Qiao and vaguely guessed the girl's identity, but they were unsure.

After all, the top scorer of the College Entrance Examination should be a simple and introverted person with heavy glasses.

But Qiao Nian...

The few of them looked at the extremely beautiful girl in the corner. They couldn't associate her with the top scorer of the College Entrance Examination.

Only Song Tian was quite excited. After confirming that she had guessed correctly, her eyes lit up and she almost cried out in excitement.

After everyone introduced themselves, they became familiar with each other. Someone followed up on this topic and started talking about high school.
