

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1096

At this point, he subconsciously looked at the girl in the corner opposite him and said, "Our Chinese Medicine Faculty is also going to have a program this year. If your seniors hadn't graduated or..."

Qiao Nian's previous batch of students had basically transferred to other departments in their second year.

It wasn't appropriate for Shen Yugui to say this directly in front of the new students. So, he paused for a second and continued, "If you want to come up with a program, it will definitely only be produced by your batch. Do you have any ideas? If you do, you can raise them."

Everyone had discussed this topic before he arrived.

They even told the people who came later about how the Clinical Department almost snatched their private room.

After Shen Yugui brought it up, Song Tian was the first to speak. "We just met someone from the Clinical Department. They seem to be performing a dance this year. As for us... we also want to perform a dance."

She was cheerful and straightforward. She didn't hide anything. Her baby face was quite confident. She raised her hand and looked around at the people in the private room, then said, "I learned folk dance for a few years. I can do a solo dance. But there's a problem. I don't have a soundtrack. It might not be very effective if I play the CD. Who knows how to play an instrument? It's best if we can coordinate!"

She had already asked the rest about their specialties when she first arrived. Basically, no one wanted to go up.

She had learned folk dance for a few years and was very experienced in it. It was fine for her to go up and take the lead. She would also go up to represent the class when they were required to perform in her high school in the past. She wasn't afraid of such occasions.

However, everyone had heard that the Clinical Department had come aggressively this year and had long announced that they would torture them during the opening ceremony.

It was one thing for her not to have stage fright. It was another thing not to embarrass the faculty.

She would smear the faculty's reputation if she went up and didn't do a good job.

Song Tian looked around, but no one raised their hand. She was quite disappointed. She bit her lip and was at a loss.

The energy in her stomach deflated like a balloon.

Just as she was wondering if she was being too rash, the girl in the corner who had not been chatting with them much asked in a hoarse voice, "What instrument do you need?"

Song Tian's eyes lit up. She looked over and saw Qiao Nian's beautiful face under the brim of her cap. She didn't look like someone to be trifled with.

But it gave one a reliable sense of security.

"Anything!" She almost lost her courage again. After that, she thought about it and explained, "I just think that if we play the CD live, the stage effect might not be that good. And the Clinical Department..."

The Clinical Department wanted to embarrass them. If they were to mess up during the opening ceremony, wouldn't it be the Clinical Department's wish?!

"Is the electronic keyboard okay?" The girl's voice was hoarse.

"Sure, sure."

Qiao Nian didn't want to poke her nose into other people's business, but seeing how Song Tian was willing to go all out for the sake of their faculty, and yet no one responded, she subconsciously volunteered herself as well. However, she was never afraid of trouble, nor had she caused trouble. If Song Tian didn't dance, she would probably go up in the end. It was just that she had changed her way of participating.

"Then, I can accompany you." Qiao Nian knew why Shen Yugui had called her out for dinner. Although her head hurt, she gave him face. She raised her head and looked at Song Tian with her pure black and white eyes. "What song do you want?"

Such things had to be communicated in advance.

She might not have that much free time to rehearse with Song Tian. The opening ceremony was only a few days away. She needed time to familiarize herself with the song so that she wouldn't play it wrongly and make a fool of herself.
