

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1528

"He's fine." The doctor glanced at him and asked, "I heard he fell from a great height?"

The manager nodded with a complicated expression. "Yes, the cable suddenly snapped when he was shooting a commercial and no one reacted in time."

"No wonder. I was wondering why the ligament in his left hand was torn but his right hand was fine." The doctor looked at him deeply and said meaningfully, "All I can say is that he was lucky this time. The advantage is that he's young and he was quick to react. Otherwise, the consequences would have been unimaginable."

The manager knew that Jiang Li was lucky this time.

He couldn't say more to an outsider. He forced a smile and thanked the doctor.

The doctor was quite busy. After speaking to him for a while, he was immediately called away by a nurse to prepare for the next surgery.

At 3 PM.

Only then did the Jiang family rush to the hospital.

Jiang Zongnan, Jiang Yao, and the Yuan family all came.

Jiang Zongjin also rushed to the hospital when he heard the news, but because of what had happened before, he only quietly asked Jiang Li's manager about the situation.

He then went straight to the ward to see Jiang Li.

He did not communicate with the people from the first branch of the family.

Yuan Qing wanted to curry favor with the second branch's family, so she was the most enthusiastic among the relatives. As soon as she heard the news, she immediately rushed to the hospital with her son.

"Zongnan, is Jiang Li alright?" Yuan Qing was here, but she did not seem to really care much about the patient's condition. She talked to Jiang Zongnan instead of going in.

However, it made sense. Everyone in the Jiang family knew that Jiang Li was the most useless and the least favored.

Compared to Jiang Yao, who had entered Tian Chen at a young age, and Jiang Xianrou, who was now a pride of the family, Jiang Li was simply useless in her eyes!

He was so useless.

Jiang Zongnan was on the phone. Hearing her question, he greeted her tiredly. "Aunt, you're here too."

Yuan Qing immediately looked at him reproachfully. "With such a big thing happening at home, I definitely have to come and take a look."

"Okay." Jiang Zongnan wasn't in the mood to see if she was pretending.

Yuan Qing pretended to be concerned. "Is Jiang Li alright? I heard that he had an accident and fell from five meters."

Jiang Zongnan had just contacted a few doctors he was familiar with and was now responding to concerns. In addition, the other relatives were also looking over.

He rubbed his temples and said in a low voice, "He's fine. He just broke a few ribs. The doctor said his life isn't in danger. He just needs to stay in bed and recuperate for two months and won't be able to get out of bed anytime soon."

Serious injuries took a long period of recovery.

Jiang Zongnan knew this even if he didn't know medicine.

It was already a blessing in disguise that Jiang Li did not injure other parts of his body. Jiang Zongnan did not ask for much. He was relieved to hear that Jiang Li had to stay in bed to recuperate.

"That's good," Yuan Qing said.

Jiang Zongnan quickly responded, "Alright, he has woken up. You can enter the ward if you want to see him."

"Yeah."

The relatives all nodded.

Inside the ward.

The white walls and white sheets seemed to form a pure white world.

Jiang Li had just woken up and the anesthetic was about to wear off. He couldn't use the painkiller for the time being and he felt as if all his bones had been reassembled.

A drip hung from a nearby rack.

He acted strong. Ever since he woke up, he did not make a sound or cry out in pain. He looked at the manager who poured him water and asked, "How is it outside?"
