

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1539

Jiang Zongjin's first concern was his daughter, and his second concern was academics.

Ye Wangchuan could chat with him on both topics. Thus, Jiang Zongjin's impression of him improved.

Less than 40 minutes later.

Jiang Zongjin was still a little unsatisfied when he got out of the car. He said very naturally, "Little Ye, I'm here. You guys can go back. We'll talk another day. By the way, the principle of the spiral activation you just mentioned..."

!!

Ye Wangchuan understood instantly. He smiled and immediately said, "I'll organize a document for you and send it over later."

Jiang Zongjin was overjoyed.

This was because the theory Ye Wangchuan proposed was very novel. At least, it was a direction that the academic world did not think of yet.

He was personally very interested.

"Good, good." Although he was happy, he didn't forget that Qiao Nian was still in the car. He reminded the girl looking down at her phone, "Nian Nian, rest early when you get back. Don't tire yourself out."

Qiao Nian didn't say much along the way. She played with her phone the entire time.

She seemed to be texting someone.

Jiang Zongjin knew that she knew many people and had many friends, so he did not disturb her. He only talked to her when they were about to part.

Qiao Nian put down her phone and looked up. She rolled down the window and saw the concern in his eyes. A warm feeling flowed through her heart. Her voice was slightly hoarse and low. "Yes, I know. Dad, go back. I'll ask you out for a meal when I'm free."

Jiang Zongjin was happy upon receiving her promise and hurriedly replied, "Hey! You guys can go. I'll go in after you leave."

Ye Wangchuan said goodbye and turned the car around. The black flag drove quietly towards Rhine Apartments...

Qiao Nian rolled down the window when the person in the rearview mirror gradually became smaller. She placed her hand by the window and said softly to the man, "I've found out who did it."

Ye Wangchuan drove slowly knowing she was tired and turned on the air conditioner. He grunted and raised an eyebrow when he heard this. "You found out so quickly?"

“... I can’t say that I’ve found anything. I can only say that I’ve caught a small tail.” Qiao Nian’s lips curled up into a smile, but it didn’t reach her eyes. She said coldly, “Let’s not go back yet. I need to go somewhere.”

She gave him the address.

Qiao Nian rested her fair fingers on the window lazily and frivolously, but her eyes were icy. “... I’m looking for someone.”

She had to find someone somewhere.

She couldn’t say some things in her father’s presence. However, this matter was quite interesting according to what she found out.

If the other party wanted to play, she would naturally play along!

Ye Wangchuan didn’t even ask who she was going to find. He just put the address she gave him on the GPS.

...

At the same time, in a high-end KTV in Beijing.

A group of young men and women were gathered together and playing happily.

These people didn’t look old. All of them had dyed hair. They were either yellow or green. It was obvious that most of them were young people in society.

On one side of the brown sofa, a boy about Qiao Nian’s age sat in a corner. His face was tense the entire time as he scrolled through the news on his phone.

Beside him, a man with green bird feathers put down the microphone and carried a cup over. He smiled and clung to his shoulder, sitting beside him. “Young Master Yao, why aren’t you playing with everyone today?”

Yao Yu’s heart was in turmoil. How could he still be in the mood to play with them? He immediately frowned and pushed his hand away. He lowered his voice and said, “You guys play, I...”

The door to the KTV room was suddenly kicked open before he could finish speaking.

“Who the f*ck is that!”

“Holy sh*t!”

The group of young men and women in the private room became noisy.

Only Yao Yu recognized the person who barged in. His face was pale from fear and his body was trembling like a sieve. He opened his mouth and shouted, “Cousin!”
