

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 688

In one video, the face area had been edited and blurred out, so it was difficult to tell who it was.

The face in the other video was covered by his hand, so they couldn't see it as well.

Both his assistant and the manager were speechless.

They weren't just alike, they were practically identical!

Jiang Li's manager couldn't calm down anymore. His eyes were bigger than Jiang Li's, and his jaw dropped. "So... Miss Qiao is Big Boss Zhui Guang?!"

This!!

This was incredible!!

Master Nie's private disciple was actually Big Boss Zhui Guang.

And that was Brother Li's sister!

It would definitely make the headlines if word got out.

The elusive Big Boss Zhui Guang was actually a high school student...

This was even more sensational than the topic of whether Zhui Guang was a woman.

Jiang Li was expressionless and speechless. He was holding his mobile phone and comparing the two people in the videos. They were in the same black sweater, with the same unruly aura... Besides being the same person, he couldn't find another reason that they could be this similar.

The key was the style of playing the konghou in the video.

Casual and brash!

One could copy another's dressing style, and perhaps even the mannerism and demeanor. But what about music style, could that be replicated!

He couldn't hold back anymore and asked the assistant to send him the video. He then scrolled until he found that girl's profile picture on WeChat and sent both videos to her.

Biting his lip, he asked carefully nervously.

[Nian Nian, are you the person in both the videos?]

After the message showed that it was delivered, he was so nervous that his throat became dry. He raised his eyes and said to the assistant, "Bring me a glass of water."

Then, he held his cell phone and sat there with a concentrated face waiting for a reply.

...

After Qiao Nian said that she was not free, the ward was quiet for a while.

Needless to say, Zhou Wei originally opposed her strongly, and now she felt like she had just delivered a punch into cotton.

Luo Qing and Bo Jingxing had inexplicable, complicated feelings. On the one hand, they didn't believe that Qiao Nian, a high school student, could be better than Liang Lu. On the other hand, when they heard Qiao Nian's refusal without hesitation, they felt a sense of loss, as if they were missing out on something.

Qiao Nian ignored the quiet atmosphere. The screen of her mobile phone on the table lit up. She picked it up in a leisurely manner and looked down at the screen.

It was a message from Jiang Li.

[Video]

[Video]

Two consecutive videos were sent over.

A cautious question was followed.

[Jiang Li: Nian Nian, are you the person in both the videos?]

Qiao Nian squinted her eyes, turned off the phone volume, and clicked on the two videos.

One was the video she recorded for Wen Ruxia, and the other was a video of her being secretly filmed at Nie Mi's birthday party.

She had watched both videos before.

Liang Bowen and the rest had also told her that she was on the top searches list.

It seemed that Jiang Li had seen it, too.

Qiao Nian tapped her finger on the screen, wondering how to respond.

After thinking about it briefly, she typed away to reply to Jiang Li.

She had just sent the message when the man's deep voice broke the silence.

"You're really not free?"

The voice was lined with a chuckle, and he was not at all angry at her refusal.

Qiao Nian was still replying to the message when she heard his low chuckle. She couldn't help but raise her head and glance at him. Her eyes were rather expressionless as she said, "Ah. If not, I'm joking about it?"

She had been busy recently.

In addition to Uncle Chen's matter, she also promised Nie Mi that she would go to the music exchange convention. Then, there was the College Entrance Examination...

In short, her schedule was packed.

Of course, it wasn't that she couldn't spare any time at all, but she was not interested in sticking her nose where it didn't belong.