

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 691

Qiao Nian scrolled to the end and saw that Jiang Li sent her six messages in total. This was spam.

The corner of her lips curled up and her dark eyes were half-squinted. She tapped the phone with her slender white fingers and replied.

[QN: You flatter me.]

In a studio in Beijing, Jiang Li was holding two full glasses of water. He was staring at his cell phone without blinking, lest he miss any news.

Buzz.

He had just drunk the second glass of cold water, and finally managed to suppress his palpitating heart. His cell phone, which had not received any news for several minutes, vibrated.

“Hold it for me.” He hurriedly shoved the glasses into the assistant’s hands and quickly unlocked his cell phone.

It was a new WeChat message.

Jiang Li’s heart pounded quickly as he swallowed his saliva. He opened the new message with a tight throat.

The girl’s profile picture was very cool.

It was just a pure black square, simple and pure, without any decorations of any sort. It was even simpler than a man’s profile picture.

He opened the chat.

He saw Qiao Nian’s reply right away.

[QN: You flatter me.]

He looked at the content of his last message again: So you’re Zhui Guang? Oh dear, my sister is my idol?

He then looked at her three-word reply.

You flatter me!

Jiang Li could imagine seeing the girl pull her cap down. Her delicate and beautiful side profile, and those eyelashes facing downwards as she replied to his message... she must look so cool.

So, Nian Nian was really Big Boss Zhui Guang?!

The corner of his mouth twitched hard.

The agent and assistant were also waiting for Qiao Nian's reply. Seeing that he was holding his cell phone with dazed eyes, they couldn't bear it any longer. They had to ask, "Brother Li, what's it about, why aren't you talking? What did Miss Qiao say? Is that person in the video her?"

Jiang Li slowly came back to his senses. Without answering immediately, he said to his assistant, "Bring me another glass of water." He needed to calm down.

"Okay."

The assistant moved quickly and brought him another glass of water.

Jiang Li gulped it down, finally calmed down a bit, and met the duo's curious eyes. With an indescribably complicated expression, he said, "It's my sister."

"Uh..." The manager didn't react immediately. But as he slowly understood it, he almost jumped up in shock. "Miss Qiao is Zhui..."

He didn't control his volume.

Many people around them looked over.

He noticed that he almost let it slip and abruptly held back the last word. His face flushed into the color of pig liver, and he lowered his voice a little. However, his tone was still shocked. "So Miss Qiao is really Zhui Guang?"

Damn!

This was too sensational!

The manager circled around the place twice, remembering the outstanding face of the girl he had seen in the candid photos before, and an idea popped up. He couldn't hide his excitement as he ran to Jiang Li and asked, "Young Master Jiang, does Miss Qiao have any intention to enter the entertainment circle? I still lack artistes to manage. With her popularity and looks, I have the confidence to make her a top-tier celebrity that would beat even you. Would you ask her for me?"

With her popularity and looks, I have the confidence to make her a top-tier celebrity that would beat even you... Jiang Li felt a stab to his heart as his cheek muscles twitched. He glared at him unpleasantly.

The manager did not feel his death glare yet. He was completely immersed in the blueprint for the future as he tried his best to persuade him.. "I'll be honest, with Big Boss Zhui Guang's talent and ability, I believe that she will be able to stand at the top of this circle in just three to five years."
