

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 745

Today, Gu San led her and introduced her all the way.

Qiao Nian had a rough understanding of the Ninth Branch.

Out of the nine Chinese branches, the Ninth Branch was usually mentioned outside. They were actually research institutes for the country's top technology. Other than that, they also had the authority to obtain some intelligence and some rare materials.

This was also why Ye Wangchuan had the rare metals she had always wanted to find for Uncle Chen.

Because of the Ninth Branch's special status in the country, Gu San didn't tell her much about its internal affairs. He only briefly introduced the place.

Qiao Nian didn't have a strong desire to know what the Ninth Branch did. She roughly listened to him and followed him to the laboratory she visited yesterday.

"Master Cheng." When he arrived at the laboratory, Gu San changed his spirit on the way. He narrowed his eyes and restrained his movements a lot as he greeted the people inside respectfully. "Master Wang, Young Master Bo."

Qiao Nian looked up and realized that other than Ye Wangchuan and Bo Jingxing, Chen Zhu was also in the laboratory.

Beside Master Cheng were a few people who were also wearing white coats. They were generally younger and should be members of Master Cheng's team.

In front of them was a series of experimental equipment. One of the U-shaped glass containers was filled with a green liquid. The white-haired Master Cheng was pouring a white liquid from a bottle into a catheter. As soon as the white liquid was poured into it, it immediately burst out with a dazzling light.

She avoided the fire and looked at the experiment table with her dark eyes. She could tell at a glance that the reactor was probably doing an experiment on a new weapon.

Although bioengineering sounded like a borderline major in research on animals and plants, many new weapons were actually related to bioengineering.

For example, many new submarines use a lot of biological engineering theories.

A master at Master Cheng's level couldn't only study some trivial things. However, Qiao Nian didn't expect the Ninth Branch to have such research.

She glanced at the man standing there without a trace. His black eyes were narrowed beautifully, and he looked quite devilish.

She put her hands into her pocket and casually pulled up the hat on her hoodie.

As soon as she was done, Master Cheng noticed her coming in. He put down the experiment he was doing and waved at her. "Little girl, you're here? Come, come quickly."

Master Cheng's team did not see Qiao Nian yesterday. Today, they saw Gu San running to the laboratory with a girl. When they saw that the girl was wearing a black hoodie and did not have a jacket, they knew at a glance that she was not from the Ninth Branch. All of them frowned and looked disapproving. However, no one dared to gossip because of Master Cheng.

As they watched the girl walk over slowly and reach the experiment table, the members of Master Cheng's laboratory became even more serious.

The reactor experiment they were doing was important.

It wasn't something that an ordinary person could approach.

However, when they saw the girl's overly young face, they felt that they were overthinking. Perhaps if they showed her, she might not know what kind of experimental reactor this was.

Master Cheng seemed to not care about this at all and did things as he pleased. When he saw Qiao Nian coming over, a smile appeared on his thin face. He said gently to her, "Young lady, I feel much better after you performed acupuncture on me yesterday. It's rare for me to have a good night's sleep. Your medical skills are good. Who did you learn them from?"

"I read and felt around myself." Qiao Nian's eyes were calm, and she did not seem to be lying.

However, she gave off an extremely wild feeling.

It was very eye-catching..
