

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 758

Bo Jingxing was sitting on one side of the circular conference table. He was wearing gold-rimmed glasses and looked refined and handsome.

However, only those who had seen him before knew if he was really gentle and handsome under that gentle facade.

He had just taken off his glasses and placed them on the table when he saw a person jogging in. She slipped to his seat and whispered to him.

Two minutes later, that person went out quietly again.

Bo Jingxing put away his relaxed laziness and leaned against the leather chair with a splitting headache. He turned around and whispered to the man who was drinking tea, "Something happened."

Ye Wangchuan was wearing a formal suit, which was a rare thing. He was wearing a white shirt and a silver-gray suit. The buttons on his jacket were buttoned up to the top of his collar meticulously. He looked expensive and abstinent. However, the man's face, which was filled with trouble, did not seem abstinent at all. His eyes were so beautiful that they jumped up, making him look sexy and charming.

Hearing this, he didn't even raise his eyebrows. He was lazy and calm as he leaned back in the chair, not even taking his eyes off the cup of tea. "Huh? What is it?"

Bo Jingxing was stunned for a second.

He slowly came back to his senses and smacked his lips.

There was a saying in Beijing that the color of the sky and the water were not as beautiful as Young Master Ye's!

With Ye Wangchuan's dignified appearance, it was no wonder that such words had come out of Beijing.

However, this was not the time to think about it. He recalled the news he had just received and said with a headache, "There's a bug in the USB drive Qiao Nian gave Luo Qing. It can't be used anymore. Liao Xu can't fix it, either. The technical department said that if Luo Qing doesn't come up later, they'll send someone else..."

Zhou Wei couldn't come. If Luo Qing didn't come up, he couldn't think of anyone else who could replace Luo Qing. Was it Liao Xu from Team 1?

A figure appeared in Ye Wangchuan's mind. He narrowed his eyes and asked, "Who's going up?"

The meeting room suddenly fell silent.

Everyone seemed to be looking at the door.

The girl didn't wear a cap today, but she was still wearing her favorite hoodie. The black hoodie didn't have any additional flower prints, and the simple design gave off a wild and mysterious feeling.

"Qiao Nian?" Bo Jingxing was stunned for a second when he saw her. He asked in disbelief, "Why is it her?"

Was Luo Qing talking about Qiao Nian?

It was too ridiculous!

What was the technical department doing?

Ye Wangchuan seemed to have sensed something as he looked in the girl's direction. He happened to meet the girl's gaze. It was only a glance, but he inexplicably felt good. His thin lips curled up and his eyes narrowed. He was quite protective of her. "Why can't it be her?"

Bo Jingxing was speechless.

Why couldn't it be her? Why couldn't it be her? Wasn't the reason obvious?

He admitted that Qiao Nian was very powerful and had extraordinary talent in programming. However, this time, all the people who came were authoritative overseas researchers. Driverless technology was their finale. Luo Qing and Zhou Wei had studied it the entire time. Qiao Nian had only helped with the bug in the programming source code. Wasn't it a joke to let her replace Luo Qing?

Anyone from the technical department should be more suitable than Qiao Nian.

Before Bo Jingxing had the chance to say this, an overseas expert turned around and asked with interest, "Is your doctorate that young?"
