

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 935

“The solution is simple. Expel the gas in the catheter bag and withdraw part of the catheter, leaving it in the trachea. The catheter bag will be filled with air, and the lung consultation will confirm the catheter’s location. During the intubation, SPO2 will decrease from 100% to 90%. The exposure sound door...”

Jiang Xianrou’s face was filled with disbelief. She had never thought that Qiao Nian would know the details on these operating tables. She had even answered correctly.

When the judge below the stage suggested the surgery question, he had thought of the catheter problem, but he did not have the time to think about it so carefully.

He only realized the difference when he heard the girl’s confident voice.

Qiao Nian didn’t get first place in the first round by luck!

However...

Jiang Xianrou’s heart was in a mess. She clenched her fists, her thoughts completely affected by the dazzling person on the stage. She couldn’t calm down at all.

...

1st place: Qiao Nian, Qing University’s Chinese Medicine Faculty, 68 points.

1st place: Qiao Nian, Qing University’s Chinese Medicine Faculty, 73 points.

In the venue, even Ye Maoshan gradually put down his teacup. He didn’t even realize that he had lost his composure, let alone Master Carlos, who was sitting in the first row with them. He had been calm from the beginning as if he had reserved the first place. Now, his expression was getting darker and darker, and it was getting uglier and uglier...

The second round was filled with Qiao Nian vying for answers.

The others did not have a chance to answer.

As they watched the score rankings on the LED screen increase with each refresh, Qi Lanyin couldn’t hold back anymore.

1st place: Qiao Nian, Qing University’s Chinese Medicine Faculty, 86 points.

Her name was second.

2nd place: Qi Lanyin, international participant, 59 points.

There was a gap between 86 and 59 points that could not be crossed!

She had always been the one who humiliated others. When had she ever suffered such humiliation?

Seeing that the judge had read out the last question, Qi Lanyin was constantly observing the girl behind her. Seeing that the girl's shoulder moved as if she wanted to answer, she pressed the answer button first in a fit of anger.

"Okay, please answer."

The first place for this year was already out. There was no longer any suspense. The experts from the National Medical Association on the judging panel were all filled with joy. Even if Qi Lanyin managed to answer the last question, they were not in a hurry.

This question was quite difficult. It was the hardest of all the questions. Other than medical knowledge, it also involved the latest knowledge points in the laboratory.

Before they came up with this question, they had never thought that a student would be able to answer it. Seeing that Qi Lanyin was eager to answer, they had great expectations for her.

Master Carlos frowned and looked at the stage without saying anything. He knew very well that Qi Lanyin did not know the answer to the last question.

"Please answer."

"..."

Qi Lanyin succeeded in fighting for a chance to answer, but she didn't speak for a long time. The teacher at the judging panel urged again, "Qi Lanyin, it's your turn to answer."

Qi Lanyin's expression was ugly. She placed her hands on the stage and spoke in a hoarse voice. She didn't even hear the question clearly.

Hundreds of eyes below the stage looked at her. She turned back to look at the girl behind her. She gritted her teeth and lowered her eyes with a gloomy expression. "I forfeit."

The venue was in an uproar again.

Qin Si was stunned by her actions. He turned his head and said, "What's this Qi Lanyin doing? She successfully fought to answer the question and then forfeited."

Gu San had already calmed down. He didn't even raise his eyes as he said calmly, "She might have been agitated by Miss Qiao. She was afraid that Miss Qiao would rush to answer, so she anxiously pressed the answer button. In the end, she didn't think of an answer."
