

Madam's 3541

Chapter 3541 I thought I could save people

M continent.

Nie Junwei was taken away by the police a few hours ago.

The entire Nie family knew what he was hiding.

Grandpa Nie was so angry that his blood pressure soared, and he was almost sent to the hospital on the spot.

The other families took advantage of this opportunity to insult them and make sarcastic remarks in front of the old man.

Nie Tao endured the elder sister's cynicism, while going out to make several phone calls, and finally found the relationship between the congressman, who agreed to help.

About half an hour later, Nie Tao received a call from the police station informing him that he could prepare bail and release the person on bail first.

The Nie family has a big business.

Nie Junwei got into a life-threatening case again, and the bail is not a small sum.

Nie Tao took his lawyer and secretary to the bank to withdraw money, and then hurried to the police station where Nie Junwei was temporarily detained.

When their car arrived outside the police station, they realized that the news that Nie Junwei was locked up had spread when they saw the media swarming up.

"Mr. Nie, I will get out of the car first, and you will get off later."

The lawyer in the car turned his head and whispered to him: "I will block those reporters from interviewing for you. You must not answer the reporters' questions. Can you?"

Sitting in the car, Nie Tao could hear the reporters outside loudly asking questions related to the car accident. He immediately rubbed the space between his brows, nodded slightly, and said with a worried expression, "Yes."

After a short exchange between the lawyer and the secretary, the two got out of the car first, one left and one right blocked the reporters who rushed forward, rigidly blocking the media who wanted to interview.

"Sorry, we don't accept interviews."

"Excuse me, please let me go."

Nie Tao opened the car door at this moment, and under the personal * of the driver, he walked into the police station with a handbag.

Outside, there were reporters asking loudly about his voice.

"Mr. Nie, is it true that your son killed someone while drunk driving?"

"Mr. Nie, I heard that he still drove away, is that true? Are the gangsters outside the hospital who beat up the victim's family members your son's call?"

These questions are extremely acute.

Nie Tao's status is extremely high, and it is rare for someone to be questioned so badly. His face is as dark as the bottom of the pot, and he keeps silent all the way, leaving all the reporters behind.

Because I found a relationship.

The process of releasing Nie Junwei on bail went very smoothly.

Nie Tao paid the bail and signed the relevant guarantee. Not long after, Nie Junwei was released, and he was surprised to see him rushing over.

"dad."

Compared to Nie Junwei's happiness, Nie Tao didn't even want to say a word, he didn't give Nie Junwei any attention at all, and said coldly: "Go home!"

When they went out again, more and more reporters and media came from outside, and the small area outside the police station was already crowded with people.

Rao is the secretary brought by Nie Tao and others tried their best to pull these people away, but they couldn't immediately block a way.

The lawyer reacted quickly, and whispered in Nie Tao's ear, "Mr. Nie, I'll go inside and ask the police for help. Wait here for me."

"good."

Nie Tao nodded.

The lawyer hurried in to find someone to help.

The reporters outside refused to let them go, and they still asked them back and forth around those few questions.

Nie Tao blankly ignored the reporter who asked the question.

The reporter still clung to it and kept asking questions.

But Nie Junwei is used to being arrogant, even if he was just released on bail, he could see that his father's gloomy and excessive expression did not dare to make a mistake this time.

Chapter 3542 Turning around

But seeing the reporters questioning him one by one, he couldn't hold back after all. Before Nie Tao had time to respond, he suddenly glared at one of the reporters who asked the question.

"Is it because of me that they were beaten outside the hospital? Why do you say it was me? Who knows if they owe it to you."

When Nie Tao realized it, he yelled angrily: "Nie Junwei, you still don't shut up!"

After being yelled at, Nie Junwei stopped talking humiliatingly, as if he was the one who was wronged, and said nothing.

But he has already opened his mouth, which undoubtedly broke the situation that Nie Tao and his lawyer had negotiated in private and refused to respond.

Now, Nie Tao had to make a simple response to this turbulent car accident.

He quickly weighed the pros and cons in his mind. Facing the long guns and short cannons raised by the reporters, he said gently: "We don't deny that we should bear most of the responsibility for the car accident. It's just that the drunk driving statement uploaded on the Internet is not accurate. I The son was drinking, but the amount of alcohol did not meet the drink-driving standard."

"He drove away at that time only because he was too young, and he was panicked and overwhelmed by the incident, so he didn't stay and deal with the accident immediately. Later, he also confessed to me that he was wrong. We immediately arranged for the victim after we knew about the incident. I went to the hospital and negotiated with the family members of the victims, but it was a pity that no settlement was reached at that time..."

A reporter asked a sharp question: "Then, Mr. Nie, it is rumored that the family members of the victims of the car accident were gang-beaten outside the hospital because of your son. Do you know about this?"

Nie Tao's temples were agitated, and his face remained unchanged: "First of all, I was also very angry when I heard about this incident. Secondly, I want to say that this incident has nothing to do with my son."

"I am very angry that someone would do such an arrogant and domineering act, but my son has been at home these days and has not gone out. I can assure everyone here that this matter has nothing to do with him!"

"But online..." The reporter still wanted to hold on to this.

Nie Tao interrupted him: "There are all speculations on the Internet. Now that everyone has malicious intentions towards Jun Wei, they will feel that any outrageous speculations are real."

This means that Nie Junwei is still a good person, at least he is a simple young man who is not good at speech.

He looked sincere and sincere, as if everyone had misunderstood Nie Junwei, so that the reporters around didn't know what to say.

Nie Tao wanted this effect. He raised his wrist to check the time, and turned to see the lawyer bringing someone over.

A heart is about to be put back, and I plan to take Nie Junwei back first.

at this time!

A voice came in from outside the reporter.

"I, I come to surrender."

In such a situation where everyone is silent and silent, the phrase "I come to surrender" is undoubtedly throwing a huge stone on the calm lake.

With a swipe, everyone's eyes were focused on the few gangsters with bruised noses and swollen faces outside the crowd.

Nie Junwei also saw those people, and his face changed: "You..."

Nie Tao saw his reaction, and then looked at the few gangsters who stood outside the crowd and didn't dare to look at him.

Sure enough.

He felt Youdao's gaze falling in his direction.

Chapter 3543 Warning from Master Wang

One of the gangsters pointed out by Nie Junwei stood up tremblingly, and admitted in front of all the media and spotlights: "We are the few people who beat Mr. Jin and the old lady in the hospital before."

One sentence made the reporters on the scene explode.

"It's them!"

"Hurry up, the camera is on them."

"Snapshot."

The man seemed to be ready to say something, and he explained everything without the reporter asking questions.

"Young Master Jun instigated it. He said that those two old things kept biting him and made him responsible for killing his son, and they refused to take money for personal gain. So he called us to teach them a lesson, and we also listened to it. Order to do things."

"If you don't believe me, I still have records of Young Master Jun's phone calls." He frantically flipped through his phone: "Wait a minute, I'll show you."

In the next second, he turned the phone over and showed it to the reporters at the scene. There was a record of the call between Nie Junwei and him, which lasted about five minutes.

The time was just an hour before the beating incident in the hospital.

It can be said that the outside of the police station exploded.

No one expected that things would turn around at this time, and the gangsters Nie Junwei found would turn themselves in.

He also directly took out the call record with Nie Junwei.

This is the opposite of what Nie Tao swore just now that 'things outside the hospital have nothing to do with Nie Junwei' and 'Junwei was just misunderstood by everyone, he is a simple good boy'.

The reporters quickly realized that countless spotlights and microphones were aimed at Nie Tao, who had a cold and embarrassing expression, asking for an explanation.

"Mr. Nie, Mr. Nie, do you have anything to say about his words?"

"Mr. Nie, didn't you say that this matter has nothing to do with your son, how do you explain it now? Is it true that the young master asked someone to beat the patient's family outside the hospital?"

One question after another was stabbed like a sharp knife. Nie Tao's face was extremely ugly, but he pressed his lips tightly and did not say a word.

He couldn't answer these questions.

Once it turns out that Nie Junwei hit someone to death while drinking and driving and found someone to beat up the victim's family, that would be a terrible act!

Once this kind of news gets out, it is enough to destroy the Nie family's century-old reputation.

But the 'evidence' just happened to come to the door, or it just happened to give him a loud slap when he denied Nie Junwei's involvement in this matter.

Now he himself can hear the crisp sound of slaps on the face, making his ears buzzing... As if he remembered something, he subconsciously looked out of the crowd, as if wanting to see who did it.

Because he didn't believe there would be such a coincidence.

I also don't believe that these little * dared to turn themselves in if no one instructed them.

Nie Tao quickly noticed a jeep parked at the intersection on the right front. The window of the jeep was rolled down, and he saw a young man's face.

The man in the car was also looking at him, and met his eyes from afar.

Nie Tao saw the other party smiled, took away the cigarette he was biting in his mouth, and made a mouth shape for him, it was impressively - Independent Island.

Arrogant.

Full of arrogance!

This kind of provocative behavior is comparable to Nie Junwei's usual style of behavior.

But they have always been the only ones who have this attitude towards others. When will it be someone else's turn to step on their faces and walk over to provoke.

Nie Tao suddenly lowered his face, his heart trembled, and a figure appeared in his mind.

Independence Continent... He doesn't know what happened in Independence Continent recently, but he vaguely feels that this time their family's bad luck has something to do with one person.

- Qiao Nian!

Chapter 3544 They are fine, they didn't call me a single call after an hour.

Nie Qingru's car ran over fallen leaves and drove into Nie's house.

She had called Nie Tao before she came. Everyone in the living room of Nie's family was there, but the atmosphere in the house was too heavy.

Everyone sat in their seats, either bowed their heads to drink coffee, or looked out the window to let themselves go, almost no one spoke.

Even Mrs. Nie, who is weak and can only stay in the room to recuperate, showed up. He was pushed by the Filipino maid to the living room, and he secretly glanced at the whole family.

"Dad." Nie Tao used to push the wheelchair for him instead of the Filipino maid, and pushed him to the center.

The rest of the Nie family also put down their chores, looked in the direction of Mrs. Nie, and shouted honestly.

Grandfather Nie didn't look at anyone, and his voice sounded tired: "Where is Qingru? She hasn't arrived yet?"

Nie Tao answered truthfully: "She called me and said she was on her way here, so she should be here soon."

Master Nie stopped talking.

In fact, Nie Qingru had already arrived outside Nie's house when they were talking.

Before she had time to go in, she received a call from the congressman who was close to the Nie family. As soon as she put the phone to her ear, there was an anxious voice on the other end.

"Empress, I only agreed to help out of your face. As a result, things turned out like this. The media insisted on me, and the higher authorities have already started to investigate me..."

The other party didn't say blame in his words, but every word was blame.

Nie Qingru took a deep breath, her thin dark eyes revealed a bit of gloom: "Mr. Allen is blaming me."

The person on the other end of the phone was still jealous of her, and tried to smooth things over: "Your Majesty, you know that's not what I mean. It's just that this time the incident is too big and the impact is too bad."

"The gubernatorial election will be held next month, and I still hope to participate in this election. But if this matter is not resolved, let alone running for governor, I don't know how far I can go in my congressional career..."

"Do you understand my difficulty?"

"Don't worry, I will give you an explanation." Nie Qingru is a smart person, of course he understands what the other party means.

The person on the other end of the phone is not at ease, but there is no better way right now, so I have to believe that she can handle this mess.

"Then I will trouble you, Empress."

"Should be."

Nie Qingru hung up the phone, put down the phone, and sat there for a long time without getting out of the car.

Shadow opened the car door for her, saw her furious expression, and asked softly, "Is it the call from the congressman?"

Nie Qingru raised her hand and pressed the center of her eyebrows, as if she wanted to suppress the rising anger: "Heh. So far, the congressmen, the police and the Privy Council have contacted me. Only they haven't called me yet. Explain why you didn't listen to me! They are sure I will wipe their ass, this is my good family!"

The Nie family is such a hypocritical, calculating, and cold-blooded family.

As one of them, no matter how much she hates this group of people, she can't get rid of her origin and change the blood flowing on her body.

Shadow was silent for a moment: "Did Qiao Nian do that at the police station?"

Nie Qingru frowned even more, and her tone was uneasy: "Apart from her, is there anyone else?"

"I always think it's not her style."

Qiao Nian is more direct.

Not so murderous.

Nie Qingru moved her hands away, looked at him with sharp eyes, as if examining his heart, then looked away for a moment: "Even if it's not her, it has something to do with her."

Chapter 3545 Miss Qiao, I happened to be looking for you

Shadow could hear the disgust in her words, as if he didn't want to get to the bottom of whether Qiao Nian did this, but purely put the blame on Qiao Nian.

He also stopped touching Nie Qingru's head, lowered his eyes and said to the people in the car: "The old man and the others have been waiting for you for a long time."

Nie Qingru endured it, took her bag, and strode into the villa without saying a word.

Qiao Nian still doesn't know that Nie Qingru put the blame on her.

She stayed in the upstairs room for a while, sent the sorted data to Xu Yi, and chatted with Xu Yi about the next experiment, then closed the laptop and went downstairs to eat.

As soon as she walked out of the room on her front foot, the mobile phone she was holding on her back foot vibrated.

While walking towards the stairs, Qiao Nian lowered her eyes and glanced at the screen, and she was not surprised to see a WeChat message sent to her by someone.

【Y: Are you awake? 】

She put one hand in her pocket, held the phone in one hand, and bit a piece of fruit candy in her mouth, with a careless expression.

When Qiao Nian saw the news, he crushed the fruit candy in his mouth with a little force. The sweet and sour fruity taste spread to the taste buds, causing the girl to stop, licked her dry lips, and then narrowed her eyes with a very focused look. Edit message back in the past.

Downstairs.

Mo Dong has finished finishing the Mingshui mansion, and brought the dishes delivered from the private restaurant.

He was carrying a big bag and a small bag in his hand, and put all the things on the dining table. He glanced around the villa and saw no familiar figure.

Then he turned his head and chased after the arrogant and lazy man: "Master Wang, Miss Qiao is not at home?"

He just finished speaking.

Bo Jingxing leaned against the wall and said with a leisurely smile, "Why do I feel that Mo Dong and the others care more about Qiao Nian than you?"

Mo Dong hesitated, touching the scar on half of his face uncomfortably, he wanted to explain in embarrassment: "No, no. I'm just asking casually. It's mainly Ms. Qiao..."

When he said this, he was too embarrassed to continue.

What can he say.

The main reason is that he personally admires Ms. Qiao and regards her as an idol?

But Ms. Qiao has just turned 20 and is very young. He, a man in his thirties, said this in public, and he always felt that it was not good for Ms. Qiao.

Although he has stayed in a place like Independent Island where the strong are respected all year round, he doesn't think gender and age mean anything, but he probably knows that it is not like this outside.

People in Beijing are more reserved.

The more Mo Dong thought about it, the more he held back, his rough man's face flushed red, and he stammered: "It's not what you think. I just didn't see Miss Qiao, I just asked."

If Moxi is here today, he probably wants to ask a question.

What a natural thing.

Once Bo Shao said it, it became as if they didn't regard Wang Ye as their master.

Seeing that he was serious, Bo Jingxing quickly waved his hands, coughed, and apologized gently: "I was just joking, don't take it seriously."

Immediately afterwards, he took the initiative and said, "Qiao Nian is still sleeping upstairs."

Mo Dong didn't have time to say anything.

Qin Si, who was lying sideways on the sofa playing games, saw the person coming down the stairs, and called out, "Sister Qiao."

Instantly broke the awkward atmosphere between the two.

Bo Jingxing and Mo Dong looked towards the stairs on the second floor at the same time, and sure enough, they saw a girl in a hoodie coming down the stairs.

Mo Dong directly ignored Bao Jingxing, and quickly walked up to him: "Miss Qiao, I happened to be looking for you."

This ignorance not only ignored Bao Jingxing, but also ignored Ye Fanchuan who came out with the sofa, which made a big stride towards Qiao Nian.

Chapter 3546 If she wants, I can give it to her

Qiao Nian looked at him quite confused, the mist in her eyes hadn't dissipated, it could be seen that she had just woken up and she was not in the mood yet.

"What's up?"

"It's about Mingshui Hall..."

"Oh." Qiao Nian nodded and said to him, "Tell me over there."

Mo Dong followed her very cooperatively and walked towards the corner, as if he was Qiao Nian's subordinate.

Bo Jingxing couldn't help but clicked his tongue when he saw this scene, pushed down his glasses on the bridge of his nose, and looked at someone with a half-smile.

"You've been poached."

Mo Dong, Gu San, Ji Lin...these people around him were all circling around Qiao Nian, and he seemed to have no face as the real master.

His tone was somewhat joking, and he also wanted to see Ye Wangchuan's attitude.

Who knew that Ye Fanchuan only raised his eyes to look in the direction of Mo Dong and Qiao Nian, and walked towards the restaurant with his long legs without any hesitation.

"She doesn't have to poach."

"If she wants it, I can give it to her."

"..." He was a foolish king who was well placed in ancient times.

Bo Jingxing touched the bridge of his nose, he knew what he was doing, and followed suit, instead of leaning against the wall and making sarcastic remarks.

On the other side, Qiao Nian didn't know that they were talking about herself.

She found a relatively quiet corner to listen, and asked Mo Dong to speak directly.

Mo Dong briefly talked about the big and small things that happened in Mingshui Mansion after she left. It focuses on one person.

"President Simon of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance has very close contacts with Sanjiu, and it seems that there is an ulterior transaction in private."

"I remember that number 15 is the person with the door of Sanjiu."

"Did you encounter this person attacking you in Mingshui Mansion?" Mo Dong said with a serious face, "If so, then this incident has nothing to do with the Chamber of Commerce Alliance."

Qiao Nian guessed that Nie Qingru's handwriting was behind it, but he didn't find out who was making the knife in Nie Qingru's hand.

Rubbing the cold body of the lighter with her fingertips, her eyes were cold, and the corners of her mouth curled up: "Simon of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance?"

She really never thought that Simon would be involved so deeply.

She has a little impression of this person, this person is a typical interestist. During the period of conflict between her and Ji Ziyin, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance and the ivy on the wall fell to one side and then to the other.

But Simon is very cautious. Even if he knows that he is a mercenary, he has the ability to not be annoying.

Superficially skilled, he is also a smart person who can see, speak and do things.

She didn't know how Nie Qingru persuaded Simon to get involved this time, and she was willing to take the risk of assassinating her, but she could guess a little bit by inferring with her toes. The benefits Nie Qingru promised must include dividing up Ji's family.

It's true that she was thinking about it before she died.

Qiao Nian felt annoyed for no reason, took out the lighter, and played with "pata" and "pata" for a while, then raised her thin eyelids and said to Mo Dong who was waiting for her order: "Leave him alone, wait for me to deal with it." Let's talk about the matter in hand."

The most important thing now is not to clean up these miscellaneous fish, but to get Ji Lingfeng's antidote.

After Ji Lingfeng's matter is resolved, it will be too late to clean up the chamber of commerce alliance. After this time, with Simon's personality, he should be more cautious and dare not provoke her to come here easily. That's enough.

"good."

Although Mo Dong didn't know what Qiao Nian was referring to by 'things in his hands', he seemed to trust her very much, and agreed without saying a word.

Chapter 3547 If I don't do something, I'm sorry for the text message she sent

Qiao Nian raised his eyes to look at him, and saw that his eyes were shining brightly. He put the lighter back into his pocket, raised his hand and pressed down the brim of his peaked cap, and looked away: "Let's go, go first."

She walks ahead as if nothing happened.

Mo Dong also followed, never mentioning the Chamber of Commerce Alliance and Simon, as if he had never called Qiao Nian aside alone.

For dinner, Mo Dong specially packed meals from a very popular private kitchen in Independent Island.

The price of this private kitchen is not cheap at first glance. The delivery boxes are all lacquered red and gold wooden boxes, which contain exquisite dishes.

The taste is light and sweet in the south.

Because Mo Dong went to buy it, he didn't know Qiao Nian's taste, so several dishes had this sweet taste.

Qiao Nian didn't eat much, but she wasn't a picky eater either. She didn't let go of her chopsticks the whole time, but she ate at a leisurely pace. Those who knew her knew that this was her reaction when the food didn't suit her appetite.

Ye Wangchuan served her a bowl of seafood porridge and pushed it down in front of her. Knowing that the dishes Mo Dong brought back this time were not to her liking, he handed her a spoon with his slender and shiny hands: "Eating lightly at night is good for the stomach. Have some porridge."

Qiao Nian put down the chopsticks, took the spoon from his hand, and replied casually: "Okay."

As she spoke, she lowered her head and scooped up the porridge with a spoon, as if she didn't want to talk.

Mo Dong realized belatedly: "Miss Qiao, is it because the dishes I ordered are not to your liking?"

The girl was quite proud of herself, she shook her head: "I'm not picky about food."

Ye Fanchuan glanced at her with a half-smile, but didn't expose her.

She is not a picky eater, she eats what she is given, and rarely hears her complaints, but she also shares how much she eats, for example, if the dish suits her appetite, she will eat half a bowl of rice more.

This kind of food is not very suitable for her tonight, she will eat it, but not much, just sitting here politely and not leaving the table.

Ye Wangchuan sometimes feels that she is actually softer than most people, at least at this time, she actually doesn't have to take care of Mo Dong's feelings.

But in fact Qiao Nian didn't do this. Although she has a bad temper, she still sat here patiently and explained everything.

Seeing that she did eat some, Mo Dong didn't seem to expressly dislike the delivery he bought, so he felt relieved.

During the period, I chatted with Bo Jingxing about the situation of several energy companies in the Lower Independent State, probably because Bo Jingxing wanted nine companies to cooperate with the energy companies in the Independent State.

The bowl of porridge in front of Qiao Nian soon bottomed out. She was so bored with eating that she was almost full, so she put down the spoon, turned her head suddenly, looked at the man next to her with bright eyes under the light, and said, "I'll listen and watch." Yan talked about the M state. What are you going to do next?"

Ye Wangchuan also put down his chopsticks, pushed the bowl, met her gaze with dark eyes, and asked her, "How much do you want her?"

Qiao Nian put her hand on the table, and her fingertips touched the edge of the porcelain white bowl. The icy touch from her fingertips felt cold to the bottom of her heart.

There is a fire in her heart, which will be ignited at any time.

But Nie Qingru and the members of the Hermit Family are always trying to play with fire.

"She sent me a text message asking if I did it." Qiao Nian rested her chin with a cold hand, and squinted her eyes casually: "She said so, if I don't do something, I will be sorry for her right away Count on my head."

Ye Wangchuan peeled an orange for her and handed it over, casually: "Then let the fire burn even more!"

Qiao Nian raised her eyebrows, and slowly reached out to take the orange from his hand, peeled a piece and threw it into her mouth: "...you still have something to do with her?"

"Eat slowly." Ye Fanchuan carefully took out two pieces of paper and prepared to hand them to her. His eyebrows and eyes moved slightly, and his thin lips raised with a kind of calmness in control of the overall situation: "That's not a handle, it's just a small gift."

Qiao Nian stared at him for a few seconds with black and white eyes, then looked away.

I already know it in my heart.

Ye Wangchuan was not quick, accurate and ruthless when he made a move. The small gift in his mouth was probably enough to make the Nie family and Nie Qingru take off a layer of skin.

But the bad luck of the Nie family and Nie Qingru has something to do with her?

Facts have proved that Qiao Nian's guess was correct.

Here Ye Wangchuan asked her thoughts clearly, and after confirming that she would not let Nie Qingru and the Nie family go, he told Ji Lin that he could release the evidence they still hold.

Ji Lin is extremely efficient.

After receiving Ye Wangchuan's order, he immediately went to the political opponent of the congressman who had a good relationship with Nie's family and Nie Qingru, and handed over a recording to him.

The gubernatorial election is imminent, and under the calm surface, there have been many undercurrents.

The member of parliament who made friends with Nie Qingru is young and good at making money. He is one of the most popular candidates in the governor's election.

Only the son-in-law of the old governor can compete with him, and he has been slightly behind in the previous surveys.

Seeing that the position of governor is about to be settled.

At this time, this popular candidate was involved in the vicious incident of Nie Junwei's drunk driving and hitting someone. How could the opponent not want to seize this opportunity to drag him down from the governor's position that he was about to sit on...

So, after that Mr. Ma Si got the recording file delivered by the courier pretending to be Ji Lin at the door of his house, he quickly discussed with his father-in-law, and immediately decided to release the recording in public in the next campaign speech, to make the other party deeply sad one strike.

So in the next university speech, the second-ranked governor's favorite candidate finished his original speech impassioned, and added a paragraph denouncing the abuse of privilege.

Immediately afterwards, he played a recording of the call between his opponent and the current head of the Nie family, Nie Tao, in front of hundreds of supporters.

In this recording, after the two parties greeted each other, Nie Tao asked Allen to come forward to help him get his son out of the police station.

After Allen readily agreed, he specially asked Nie Tao to greet Her Majesty the Queen on his behalf.

Once the recording of this call was made public, it really caused an uproar in public opinion.

Everyone is discussing whether Nie Junwei's bail procedure is legal and compliant.

On the other hand, someone has already noticed the Empress Allen mentioned at the end of the call.

No wonder everyone turned their attention to Nie Qingru.

It is true that when Allen talked to Nie Tao, his attitude was relatively relaxed and equal, even with a polite manner.

Until mentioning the word Your Majesty, his attitude turned 180°, which was obviously different from when he was casually talking to Nie Tao, and he was very flattering...

Suddenly, Her Majesty the Empress Nie Qingru began to be pulled out with mud and radishes, and exposed to public view.

Nie's family.

Nie Qingru answered the phone.

"Empress, didn't you say that you would give me an explanation? This is what you gave me? Why was my call with your brother recorded. Did he do it or..."

Chapter 3549 Has your phone been monitored?

"Should be a hacker."

"Okay. Even if this recording was made by a hacker, how can I run for office if there is such a big incident during the gubernatorial campaign? Do you know that the reporters are about to blow up my phone, and there are still many media reporters blocking me?" It's outside my house. I can only use my assistant's phone to contact you now. The higher-ups have already started investigating me. If this continues, my career will be over!"

Now he regrets so much that he helped that idiot Nie Junwei in order to get in touch with the hidden family.

Who knew things would turn out like this.

He was also dragged into the quagmire.

He could have won the gubernatorial race, and his career was almost over because of these trivial things.

And that's not the worst.

If Nie Qingru can't come up with a solution, he may even be dragged into it.

Allen regretted it to the extreme!

"It's clear that someone is behind this matter. Empress, I don't care who you offend, even if you want to calm this matter, I hope you can communicate with the other party. It's best to let the other party stop here, otherwise if I go in, I can't handle that much anymore."

His words were tinged with threats.

But he really can't control too much at this point.

If Nie Qingru can't keep him, once he is imprisoned, he will not hesitate to bite out Her Majesty the Queen of State M.

He is not at the end of the road yet, so he can be afraid that the hermit family will choose to take the blame.

When you reach a dead end, the rabbit will bite you.

What's more, he was dragged down so badly?

"Think about what I said carefully." Allen's voice was angry, and he hung up the phone.

Nie Qingru's well-maintained face blended light and dark, and she slowly took the phone away from her ear. Anyone could see the anger in her eyes.

Her pair of dark eyes narrowed dangerously, and her eyes fell on her elder brother. She wanted to calm down a few times, but the bulging veins on her forehead betrayed her heart.

"Your phone has been monitored."

"What?"

Nie Tao hadn't reacted yet, his instinct prompted him to take out his phone, he lowered his head and pressed the light on, but he didn't see anything.

"My phone is fine, it's impossible."

"Hmph." Nie Qingru saw that he didn't know what happened to him, and sneered: "The recordings of your call with Allen have been leaked. Do you think it's possible?"

Nie Tao seemed to be struck by lightning, his eyes went dark, he almost couldn't stop, his face was as white as snow, he looked at her in disbelief, and grabbed the collar of his chest: "Then..."

"It was Allen who called me to explain the phone call just now. He said that if we can't solve this matter well, he will be dragged into it, and he will drag everyone down." Nie Qing stared at him with eyes like a poisonous snake. Watching Nie Tao's reaction.

Not surprisingly, I saw that my elder brother's face was getting worse and worse, from pale to pale, and he was more than one year old.

But she couldn't feel sympathy, and scolded in a low voice: "I warned you a long time ago, and told you to take care of Nie Junwei. But when you turned around, you asked him to find someone to beat the family members of the victims. If you beat him, you beat him He didn't do it cleanly, he beat people up in public and left, and afterwards he made a few gangsters turn themselves in to the police station!"

The more she spoke, the angrier she became, and her tone became colder and colder.

"... You are satisfied that the whole Nie family and I will be dragged in by him? Do you have a solution?"

Nie Tao was scolded by her in public even at his age, but he was wronged and couldn't say a word, so he opened his mouth cautiously: "Qingru, you..."

Chapter 3550 Forced to stand up and apologize

Nie Qingru seemed to know what he was going to say, and immediately interrupted: "Oh, I can't help it."

Things have become like this, there is no good way.

People have pushed them into the designed trap step by step, and now the back road has been cut off, just waiting to see their good show.

And the idiots in this room thought she had a solution and could easily resolve this deadlock.

In fact, everyone in the Nie family really thinks so.

After being scolded bloody, Nie Tao was so anxious that his eyes were bloodshot and wanted to ask her, but the silent old man Nie stared at her and motioned him to shut up first.

Although Nie Tao was extremely anxious, he still suppressed his eagerness when he received his father's eyes, pursed his lips and calmed down.

Old Master Nie said slowly at this moment: "Qingru, I know that your big brother's reckless actions this time have hurt you."

"But now is not the time to vent your anger. No matter how angry you are after this matter is resolved, you can scold him."

Nie Qingru met his cloudy, old eyes that never forgot to calculate, and asked with a half-smile: "You think I'm throwing a tantrum?"

Old Mrs. Nie didn't speak, but the doubts on her face seemed to ask her, 'Isn't it?'.

Nie Qingru turned cold and stopped looking at him: "I haven't been in that mood since I was forced to marry someone I didn't love when I was twenty."

Everyone in the Nie family changed their faces.

Only Nie Qingru still has that cold and indifferent expression, coupled with her prominent bones and well-defined outlines, she was born with a special nobility, and it is easy to give people a feeling of "unhuman".

Once Mrs. Nie heard her say this, she couldn't hold back her airs anymore, and said hesitantly: "Qingru, you can help the family one more time. I promise... similar things won't happen again."

Nie Tao also reacted, and hurriedly said: "I will definitely take care of Jun Wei, and I won't let him go out to cause trouble again."

The shadow has been standing quietly beside Nie Qingru, in black clothes and black pants, as if he is a shadow blending into the darkness.

He looked at the hypocrisy faces of the people in the Nie family, and at the expression that his master had long been accustomed to, he felt extremely uncomfortable.

He really wanted to interject and say that Nie Qingru is not without difficulties in the Hermit Family. In her position, a slight influence can affect the whole body.

But he is just a subordinate, not qualified to intervene.

Shadow swallowed all the words, lowered his eyes, and returned to his usual expressionless expression.

Time seemed to stop, and the whole villa was silent.

Everyone is waiting for Nie Qingru's answer.

It is said that in the past, Mrs. Nie would plead for mercy, but Nie Qingru would usually save face, even if she said a few words, she would still help.

Everyone had a knife hanging in their hearts this time, and always felt that Nie Qingru was really angry.

Fortunately, after a few minutes.

Nie Qingru adjusted the velvet gloves on her hands, lowered her eyelashes, and said coldly and gracefully: "It's all about this, let me show you the way."

Nie Tao excitedly said, "Say it."

Nie Qingru looked at him: "One, send Nie Junwei back to the police station immediately, and tell the outside world that you didn't know beforehand, thinking that the beating in the hospital was a misunderstanding."

Nie Tao's complexion changed.

He cannot accept the first item.

Nie Qingru lightly said to send him back, but he is not stupid, he knows what it means to send Nie Junwei back to the police station.

Nie Qingru didn't care whether he accepted it or not, and continued: "Second, you publicly apologized to the public in the interview, saying that you made a mistake because of your love for your son. But Nie Junwei's release on bail is in line with the procedure. Of course, you are willing to kill relatives righteously and let him accept judicial trial. ."
