

Madam's 3671

Chapter 3671 Show affection in front of everyone

On the contrary, because Qin Si and Guan Yan were like opposite families, they quarreled along the way, which made her brain ache, as if there were five hundred more ducks in the house.

Fortunately, after arriving home, the two restrained themselves and reached a temporary agreement.

It is that Guan Yan will move here to live during this period of time, but he will live in a guest room, and the return to Beijing with Qin Si will be postponed infinitely, and we will talk about it later.

Qiao Nian went to the First Research Institute in the afternoon, and asked Feng Yu to investigate the information about the person surnamed Zhai in Independence Continent 40 years ago.

But nothing.

The archives of the First Research Institute mostly preserve things related to the research direction, and there are also some members' information and news reports on some key events.

After all, the First Research Institute is not an intelligence agency. Even if it exists for a long time, it is difficult for people to tamper with and take away the contents of the archives.

But if you want to find information about someone who has nothing to do with research in the archives of the First Research Institute, it is undoubtedly a needle in a haystack.

Qiao Nian had expected that he might not find any useful information, so he was not disappointed.

After she left the First Research Institute, she went to the hospital to see Zhong Liuliu, and asked about the recovery status of Ji Lingfeng by the way.

Ji Lingfeng has regained consciousness, and he can't get off the ventilator for the time being. He doesn't have much time to speak and is relatively weak.

In the end, Qiao Nian didn't go to see anyone in the ward, nor disturbed Ji Nan and Xie Yun, and left the hospital quietly.

Independence Island lights up.

Qiao Nian finally returned home after running outside for a day.

She just untied the scarf, before she had time to relax, she saw Gu San rushing over to greet her.

"Miss Qiao, something happened in Beijing."

Qiao Nian's thinking slowed down by half a beat, and the movement of undoing the scarf in her hands also slowed down. She tilted her head and half-closed her black eyes, as if digesting his words.

Gu San was also anxious and ran over in three steps at a time. Seeing this, he didn't have time to explain to her too much: "Mr. Ye sent a video call and Mr. Wang is communicating with him. Would you like to go and listen too?"

"Okay." Qiao Nian regained his composure, took off the scarf and put it on the cabinet in the entrance with a blank expression, and strode in.

She heard Gu San's words and already guessed what happened.

So when she saw that Ye Maoshan, Jiang Weishang, the Wei family, and the Wen family were all there in the video, there was no surprised expression on her face.

Qiao Nian walked over with a calm demeanor, and walked directly to Ye Wangchuan's side: "Did Nie Qingru make a move?"

Ye Wangchuan turned around and saw the girl standing half a step away from him, her eyes were cold and her face was cold and serious. She seemed to have just come back from the outside, and the sweater on her body was still stained with the cold outside.

He pulled the person over and covered his hands with a gentle voice: "Is it cold outside?"

That posture didn't pay attention to the family members at the end of the video at all, and only saw Qiao Nian alone.

Qiao Nian's slightly cold fingers conveyed warmth, and someone carefully rubbed her hands to heat her up. This feeling not only melted the coldness in her hands, but also warmed up the violent irritability in her heart. mood...

Qiao Nian watched Ye Maoshan cough on the video, drinking water tactically, pretending not to see it, earning his way quietly, and said in a low voice, "Let's talk about the business first."

Ye Wangchuan glanced at her with a smile that was not a smile: "You are the business."

"Nothing is as important as you." His leisurely tone seemed to be never in a hurry, and there was a sense of security that he would be on his shoulders when the sky fell.

Chapter 3672 Nie Qingruo really made a move on Beijing

If there were so many people watching, Qiao Nian wanted to respond to him, but the eyes at the end of the video were about to light up, she really didn't have the habit of being watched by people.

She pushed someone away and sat down, looked at the giants in Beijing at the other end of the video with her beautiful eyes, and said seriously, "Old Ye, is there something going on in State M?"

Ye Maoshan turned his face away, concealed a dry cough, and his eyes were a little dodgy: "Cough, there is something wrong. But it's not a big deal."

Although Ye Maoshan tried his best to appease her.

But Qiao Nian is not a fool, it is impossible for so many people to play this video for trivial matters.

She pursed her lower lip, her expression was indifferent, as if she knew something: "Just say it, I'm mentally prepared."

"this..."

Ye Maoshan hesitated, his eyes fell on the young man behind her, as if he was asking for Ye Wangchuan's opinion.

Ye Wangchuan mentioned to him the complicated relationship between Qiao Nian and Nie Qingru before, but now seeing the old man at home looking over, he raised his thin lips slightly and said to him: "Grandpa, tell me."

Ye Maoshan was sure he could tell, so he sighed heavily, looked at the girl and said, "I planned to hide it from you...but everything happened, and I can't keep it from you for long, so I might as well tell you."

"Say it." Qiao Nian sat upright.

Ye Maoshan looked at her again with complicated eyes, and said after a while, "You should have guessed that M state has cut off trade with Beijing."

"This is the news that I just received today. The two sides haven't formally discussed it yet. We also received the news in advance to discuss countermeasures. If there is no accident, after the news officially leaks tomorrow, we will have to talk to M State... "

Ye Maoshan spoke calmly, as if there was still room for improvement.

The people present all knew that even if they found each other to negotiate, the final result might not be optimistic.

After all, for such a big matter, so many people in M state are not vegetarians. Now that the news has spread, it means that they have already discussed it.

It is very difficult for Beijing City to reverse the decision made by the other party.

Ye Mao Shankou's "talk" is more like a scene between the two sides so as not to cause too much trouble.

"I'm looking for Kuchuan to ask if he has any good countermeasures, nothing else..."

Qiao Nian's eyes darkened when he heard this, he pursed his lower lip, and said in thought, "I have several ways in the illegal area."

"You mean Tianchen?" Ye Maoshan had thought of the illegal area long ago, with a solemn expression: "To tell you the truth, I have talked to the person in charge of Tianchen in Beijing. They may not be willing to wade into this muddy water."

Anyone with eyes could tell that this time it was Nie Qingru and the hermit family behind him who put pressure on Beijing, and even decided to slap Jing.

In this case, any forces that don't want to cause trouble are not willing to cooperate with Beijing... Tianchen is located in an illegal area and has close contacts with M state, so naturally it is not willing to get into trouble.

Qiao Nian shook her head: "It's not Tianchen."

She never thought of asking Lu Zhi for help.

"What I'm talking about is that there are several companies in the black market that are located in illegal areas and sell high-tech chips and high-tech components. Got the goods!"

Ye Maoshan didn't expect that Qiao Nian really had a way, so he immediately thought about the feasibility of the matter, and felt that it could be done, his eyes and brows couldn't hide his joy, he got up and took two steps, then said hesitantly: "I heard that there are rules in the illegal area that don't allow outsiders Companies buy components."

Chapter 3673 Mr. Jiang just discovered the vests of Sister Nian and Master Wang

Qiao Nian hummed, very simply: "So I plan to buy in the name of Hongmeng, and then I will have the goods shipped to Beijing by sea."

Ye Maoshan almost didn't say 'this way is good'!

What worries him most is that these high-tech components are difficult to get, and other Beijing cities are not bad.

"Rare earth..." Ye Maoshan started.

Except for chip component materials.

He still has one thing that he can't let go of, which is the rare earth resources necessary for aerospace materials.

Who knew that he had just started, when he saw his brat answering the words in a leisurely manner: "I have a few mines, and they will be transported from Continent F."

He said lightly, "How many mines do I have?" Not to mention Mr. Ye, even the Wen family and the Wei family in the video were dumbfounded.

Among them, Jiang Weishang was probably the one who was most affected.

Jiang Weishang was brought here by Mr. Ye this time. Before Qiao Nian came, he had heard nothing but mist. He only knew that State M was coming in a menacing manner this time, so he was worried at first.

Who would have thought that Qiao Nian and Ye Wangchuan's one-on-one conversation made him completely forget about his worries, and he only remembered what Qiao Nian said, "How many companies do I know in the black market?" and what Ye Wangchuan said, "How many mines do I have?"

Jiang Weishang has always vaguely felt that Qiao Nian is not as simple as it seems on the surface, but he never thinks that a student who just graduated from college will go to places like illegal areas and black markets.

And looking at his old friend's attitude, he seemed to have known that Qiao Nian had this ability.

Jiang Weishang didn't know for a moment whether he should be surprised or angry, or if a more complicated emotion lingered in his mind.

He couldn't even blame Qiao Nian for keeping things from him.

Ye Maoshan discussed the specific method with Qiao Nian and the others, turned around and cut off the video signal with them, only then did he notice his friend who was exceptionally silent today.

He remembered that he insisted on dragging Jiang Weishang to participate in this video conference, so he couldn't help asking, "Weishang, are you okay?"

Jiang Weishang was sitting in a wheelchair, his gray hair combed back meticulously, revealing a serious and upright face.

Hearing the words, he forced a smile, and shook his head at Ye Maoshan: "I'm fine."

Ye Maoshan hesitated to speak: "Are you angry and miss her..."

Jiang Weishang immediately interrupted him: "I'm not angry."

Ye Maoshan stared at him, not knowing how to persuade him.

Jiang Weishang let out a foul breath, looked at him and said bitterly, "I'm really not angry. That child never deliberately concealed those little pills she brought me before... I should have guessed it. It's just I never wanted to think about that."

"Where does she, a child who is only 20, get in touch with those places in the illegal area... I just need to think about it, and I know it is because of our absence for 18 years. When I think of this, my heart hurts. What qualifications do I have with her?" angry.

"I was angry with myself. I failed to protect my granddaughter, and let her suffer too much and suffer too much since childhood!"

Ye Maoshan wanted to pat him on the shoulder from the air, but he couldn't do anything through the video, so he could only comfort him in a low voice: "Don't think so much. The days are still long, as long as we treat Niannian well from now on, one day It can smooth over bad things that she's been through before."

"I know." Jiang Weishang collected his mood, but he couldn't forget the shock, so he reluctantly told Ye Maoshan, "I'll die first."

Chapter 3674 I just didn't expect that she would have someone who cares

"good."

Jiang Weishang really didn't know what to say, he hung up the video with a lot of thoughts, and the nurse came to push him to do rehabilitation treatment, he was absent-minded.

Until the cell phone he placed on the blanket buzzed and vibrated, it lit up and saw Qiao Nian's text message.

Jiang Weishang grabbed his phone and quickly turned it on, only to see the message Qiao Nian had sent him.

【Q: I didn't say those things before, not because I didn't want to tell you old man, but because I didn't know how to bring them up. Feel sorry. 】

Jiang Weishang looked at the text message sent by his granddaughter and turned into a puddle of water if he couldn't figure out anything. He told the nurse to stop, and he solemnly edited the message and sent it back. Tell Qiao Nian to be careful outside, don't worry about him, he will take good care of himself, and Beijing City will do what it can, don't force yourself to solve the problems here and so on.

Wait for him to send his edited message successfully.

Received Qiao's reply of his 'good'.

Jiang Weishang's mood suddenly brightened.

He collected his emotions, thought for a while, and then thought of his elder son who didn't know anything, and the younger son who didn't live up to being an uncle.

The more Mr. Jiang thought about it, the more angry he became, so he simply called.

First, Jiang Zongjin was severely criticized.

Then he called Jiang Zongnan's company, and scolded Jiang Zongnan all over his face. His two sons, Monk Zhang Er, couldn't figure it out. After all, Mr. Jiang was in a better mood, and he went to do rehabilitation with the nurse at ease.

He figured it out.

What the Ye family said is right.

He has to take good care of his body. As long as he is alive, he will be able to help take care of Niannian when he gets married and has children in the future.

Otherwise, how can relying on the helpless little ones at home help?

Master Jiang thought about this, and then remembered the wedding ceremony venue and monk ceremony that Ye Maoshan had talked to him about before.

Jiang Weishang was not in a hurry when he thought about it, Qiao Nian was still young, so he was not happy that Qiao Nian married so early.

Now he has changed his mind.

Nian Nian said that he was in China.

However, the background on the other side of the video does not look like he is going around the city, and Ye Wangchuan is also there... Mr. Jiang thinks that the wedding must be put on the agenda.

Since he wants to mention this, it is impossible for him to let his granddaughter suffer.

It's not about money.

But his granddaughter Jiang Weishang must have the best wedding!

Thinking about this, Mr. Jiang called the Ye family and made an appointment to meet in a few days to discuss the wedding.

Before Qiao Nian knew it, he showed his face in a video conference, and his grandfather had already thought about what to do with the wedding.

After she hung up the video with Beijing City, she relaxed and leaned back on the sofa, rubbed her swollen temples, and said in a hoarse voice, "Is Nie Qingru crazy?"

The suspension of trade projects between Continent M and Beijing City will not only suffer losses for Beijing City, but M Continent will also have to pay a considerable price.

Nie Qingru has never been in a loss-making business, but this time it seems that she is not very rational.

"Her reaction can only prove that our previous guess is correct. What you took from the vault is very important to her, far surpassing all the conflicts you had before, and it is enough to stimulate her to lose her mind..." Ye Wangchuan walked over. The slender fingertips touched her forehead, and gently pressed the acupuncture points, which was much better than Qiao Nian's own pressing.

Qiao Nian just relaxed and let the faint mint scent on his body surround her, her sharp eyebrows relaxed, and her tone was particularly casual: "I just didn't expect that she would care about someone."

Chapter 3675 This is not a game that the hidden family can not end if it ends

This made her feel more uncomfortable than someone Nie Qingru didn't care about.

A person who doesn't even care about his daughter who is connected with his blood, but there are people who care. How ridiculous!

"I never felt that she couldn't forgive her for not loving her daughter. There are many parents who don't love their children in this world. I just can't accept that she can kill her if she doesn't love her..."

"It's pointless to think about it. It doesn't matter what she thinks, you just need to do what you think is right." Ye Wangchuan gently pressed her temples, and from his angle, he could see the girl's drooping eyelashes and pupils. The blood that cannot be suppressed in the depths.

Qiao Nian was very irritable.

At least at this time, he was very irritable and violent.

"The Hidden World family wants to show everyone that their strength is still there, and I'm the one who got involved...the capital city."

Ye Wangchuan let go of his hand at this time, and walked to the front, his brows and eyes were frivolous, and there was a lazy and noble aura in the eyes: "You will think about these things sooner or later."

Qiao Nian watched him sit down.

"Beijing has been doing chip research. Tsinghua University's scientific research team has made great breakthroughs in recent years, and the Nine Institutes have also made a lot of progress in aerospace... These are all areas that the Yinshi family wants to control. Your kind of retaliation, it is better to say that the people in the Privy Council have their own considerations. They follow Nie Qingru's ideas to do so, not only for your personal grievances, but also to take the opportunity to trap the scientific research team of the Ninth Institute and Tsinghua University. The seven inches of..."

"And sooner or later we have to face this. What difference does it make if it's sooner or later?"

Ye Wangchuan picked up the apple and the knife on the table, and peeled the apple at a leisurely pace. The knife unscrewed the apple in his hand very obediently. His hands were extremely beautiful, with well-defined muscles and bones, and slender knuckles. It was a simple peeling process. The movements made by him have a pleasing aesthetic feeling.

Light and shadow division like a movie lens.

Qiao Nian gradually calmed down in his unhurried movements: "I'm still checking the secrets in the USB flash drive she left behind."

"When I solve the last problem, I will know why those people insisted on her death..." Qiao Nian's voice was very soft.

Because she knows that once she grasps the last secret of the U disk left by Ji Qing, those people will flock to her like locusts just as they wanted Ji Qing to die.

She wanted to see who were there at the beginning, and what were those people for...

Ye Wangchuan cut off the last bit of apple peel, and handed her the clean nuts, calmly: "Eat an apple."

Qiao Nian looked at the apple handed in front of him, and the emotions that had been gathered burst like bubbles and disappeared.

She stretched out her hand slowly, took a bite of the apple, and relaxed, returning to her usual unscrupulous look.

"Let's talk about it later."

These words seem to be speaking to Ye Wangchuan, but also to herself.

She is not a person who likes to worry about things that haven't happened yet, and she will really talk about it one day in the future.

The most important thing for her now is to solve the immediate problem.

M Zhou wanted to take this opportunity to tidy up the capital for others to see, and she also wanted to see how long the Hermit Family would last.

This is not a game of one side crushing the other.

As long as they solve the problem of chips and rare earths, the two sides will be back to the same starting line.

Whoever loses wins.

Not necessarily yet!

At least this is not a game where M state can say the end at the beginning.

Chapter 3676 Things are going as expected by Sister Nian

The next day.

Qiao Nian contacted a few people in the illegal area who were hoarding chip components. After negotiating the price and conditions, the two parties reached a deal.

Qiao Nian immediately asked Xi Yaokong to go back to pick up the goods, and he was going to pack the boxes and * them to Beijing by water.

Just in case, Qiao Nian even contacted David to lead someone to clear the way for him to ensure that there would be no trouble on the road.

at the same time.

In another room, Ye Fanchuan was doing the same thing with her.

"Let Moxi personally bring the goods from Continent F."

"good."

"Tell Cage one more time, and ask him to do a favor..." Ye Wangchuan briefly explained what to say.

Mo Dong wrote down one by one: "Master Wang, do we have to be so careful? I don't think the hidden family may know."

Ye Wangchuan was noncommittal: "It's best to be careful."

Nie Qingru was at her craziest when she was looking for pirates on the high seas to try to sink Cage's ship, although everyone knew the reason.

But Nie Qingru's way of not giving face still angered the rampant weapon predator in F continent.

He went to the other party for help at this time, presumably the moody weapon boss had no reason to refuse.

Mo Dong was quiet for a second, and after thinking it through, he let out a foul breath: "Alright then, I will talk to Mr. Cage according to your instructions."

In fact, Ye Wangchuan just asked Mo Dong to go to Cage to help * the rare earth from Continent F to Beijing.

This is just a small favor.

Based on the friendship between the two, Cage would not refuse this request even if Nie Qingru didn't have the hatred of trying to sink the ship on the high seas.

Both Qiao Nian and Ye Wangchuan only arranged for the things they needed to be shipped to Beijing in the safest way.

But the outside world seems to think otherwise.

Just when Cage and David set off to * the ship.

The outside world has turned upside down.

Major forces on several continents have received news of changes in Continent F.

—F Continent's two major weapon predators came out at the same time.

—F continent's two major weapon predators leave the country.

Similar news spread like snowflakes to all major power organizations.

David forget it.

He runs the diamond business all year round, and from time to time he will show his face in front of the public. Even Mr. Ye, who has retired to the second line, knows that he exists.

Most people were not too surprised that he left the country, thinking that he was running a normal business.

Cage is different!

Also as one of the bigwigs in F continent.

Cage's business is much more specific.

Never engage in side jobs.

He only has one business under his banner, weapons and weapons-related.

Such a dangerous person usually stays in Continent F and doesn't go anywhere. There is very little news, but this time he will personally * a ship for transportation.

Not to mention that the major forces can't figure out what he wants to do, even the pirates in the high seas have been trembling with fright these two days, and they are determined not to go out and wander around, for fear that they will be unlucky to bump into either of the two and attract them. Murder.

The news in the waters of Continent F continued one after another.

The atmosphere in Beijing is also tense.

After Ye Maoshan and the others received the news last night, they discussed how to deal with it.

The next morning, as they expected, State M publicly requested to suspend important cooperation projects.

The envoy from Continent M was extremely firm.

Ye Maoshan suppressed his anger and asked a few people to go over and talk with each other, and the result was the same as they predicted last night.

The other party refuses to let go and has an arrogant attitude!

Ye Maoshan has never been one to swallow his anger, and the two sides broke up talking on the spot, which is regarded as an unhappy breakup.

Chapter 3677 How did she go to Independent Island?

Continent M also made harsh remarks, saying that until their attitude does not change, Continent M will not change its decision of not cooperating or helping.

Ye Maoshan got angry despite being arrogant by the other party.

But he had a video chat with Qiao Nian and Ye Wangchuan yesterday, so he didn't have any doubts, so he got up and left without arguing with each other.

"let's go!"

After he took the people away, he immediately went to the Nine Institutes to find Bao Jingxing.

Bo Jingxing just came back from Independence Island, and he spent more than ten hours on the plane. After arriving at the airport, he hurried home to take a shower and changed his clothes.

When Ye Maoshan found him, he had just finished arranging many matters in the Nine Institutes.

His handsome face showed exhaustion visible to the naked eye, but he still greeted Ye Maoshan politely and respectfully: "Old Ye, you are here."

Seeing him, Ye Maoshan responded, "En."

"Sit. I'll let them make tea."

Bo Jingxing called Ye Maoshan to sit down, and asked someone to bring tea in.

Soon, a handyman brought in brewed Maojian tea.

Tea is a new tea this year, but the tea is definitely not as good as Ye Maoshan's. Jiusuoli is just a new tea that is better than ordinary tea.

He took a sip from his teacup, then put it down, and got straight to the point: "We've lost our talks with State M. How long can the components of the Jiu Institute last?"

Bo Jingxing raised his head, his eyes behind the lens were beautiful and clear: "Ten days."

"En." Ye Maoshan frowned, this number is neither too much nor too little within his expected range: "That should be no problem."

Bo Jingxing didn't know that they were talking to Qiao Nian via video, so he opened his mouth and didn't have time to ask.

Ye Maoshan took the initiative to tell him: "Niannian said that she has a way to get the chip components. On the way I came, I received a call from her saying that the things are already on the way. The water transportation will arrive in a few days."

Bo Jingxing gently closed his slightly opened mouth, and looked at him: "It's...Tianchen?"

Ye Maoshan shook his head: "No."

He didn't say where the goods came from, mainly because he himself didn't know which companies Qiao Nian mentioned had these components in the illegal area.

Ye Maoshan said: "In short, you don't have to worry about the chip components. There are also rare earths that Jiu needs, and Wangchuan is also looking for someone to send them."

Bo Jingxing's back, which had been tensed all day, relaxed, he pushed down his glasses, and there was a smile in his eyes: "That's good."

Ye Maoshan glanced at him, not hiding it from him: "From now on, you will take care of the Nine Institutes, and I will communicate with you in advance if there is any news from my side."

"good."

Ye Maoshan took another sip of his teacup, and said in an unhurried and majestic tone: "We can't be controlled by people forever. This 'tough battle', we must fight them to the end! Be mentally prepared."

Bo Jingxing's heart suddenly burned with blood, and his mood became agitated. Nodding his head heavily, his expression was extremely solemn and serious: "Yes, Mr. Ye."

On the route of the boundless sea.

David was on the phone with someone: "Boss, don't worry. It will be delivered the day after tomorrow at most! If there is no storm at sea, it will arrive tomorrow night."

"You can just hand over your things to them at the meeting place, and you don't need to go ashore." The girl's voice on the other end of the phone could be heard as young, no more than 20 years old, it was Qiao Nian.

David touched the bridge of his nose in a good temper: "I know... By the way, I heard that Guan Yan is with you. Why did she go to Independent Island?"

Chapter 3678 Only now do I find out what Sister Nian wants to give

Qiao Nian was getting water in the living room. Hearing this, he turned to look at the people in the living room, and said, "...Come and play."

"Tsk. That's not what the slender waist control said. The slender waist control said that she provoked a good woman and man, and they wanted her to be responsible..." David was happy to watch the fun, gossiping extremely.

Qiao Nian is not a gossip person, so he said bluntly, "I'm dead."

"Hey, don't, boss." David still wanted to pull her to ask Guan Yan's gossip, but the one on the other end was very shameless and hung up.

He listened to the rustling sound coming from the earphone, smiled and turned around to enter the cabin.

Just then a man with a scar on his face came to him.

"David. There is a change in Continent F."

"What?"

"It is said that Cage's people are also going to Beijing, and we may run into them in the waters of Beijing."

"That's the only change you're talking about?" David thought he was going to say something, but he waved his hand and said nonchalantly, "Don't worry about it. He has the same purpose with us! Just say hello when we meet."

Scarface touched his head and looked at the back of him leaving, and it took him a while to recover and follow. I was still thinking about the relationship between when they became familiar with Cage's people and wanted to say hello...

...

Time passed by one minute and one second.

The weather at sea in the past two days was unexpectedly good, with clear skies and no dark clouds.

Because there was no wind and waves.

When David's boat hardly slowed down, it drove towards the direction of Beijing with full power all the way, and it took only one and a half days to reach the edge of the Y Sea.

The other side.

The hermit family in Continent M, thousands of miles away, finally found out why David and Cage went from the sea to Beijing at the same time.

The Privy Council is brightly lit tonight.

Elder Xue rushed to the Privy Council Chamber as soon as he received the news. He was the first person to arrive.

Immediately afterwards, the radical Pailey family also came.

Archbishop Quentin was the last to arrive.

The giants of the three factions all arrived at the council hall, and Nie Qingru would naturally not be absent, and opened the door to enter the council hall about five minutes after Quentin arrived.

The Privy Council is the heart of the Hermit family.

Even Nie Qingru is only a complementary existence to the Privy Council.

The moment she entered the council hall, everyone in the circular stepped conference hall respectfully stood up and gave her their attention.

"Empress."

"Her Majesty the Queen."

Wherever she passed by, everyone she came into contact with would immediately bow their heads and give her a sign.

This was originally Nie Qingru's favorite scene, but now she is not in the mood to enjoy this glory.

She stepped on the expensive Persian carpet all the way to her exclusive seat and sat down, stroked the shawl on her shoulders, and nodded slightly like a proud phoenix: "Everyone sit down."

There are her words.

In the huge council hall, dozens of people sat down majestically.

Nie Qingru sat at the top. In order to show her noble status and unique identity, no seats were arranged on the left and right.

Below her, on the left is Quentin in a bright red robe, and on the right is Mr. Xue in a simply washed old Chinese tunic suit.

Further down are the members of the Leonard family.

Every position here is strictly sorted according to their status, and the rules are strict, making it difficult to break class barriers.

Nie Qingru watched everyone sit down, and then said in a calm manner: "I came here today to discuss the Beijing city with you. You must have received the news from F Continent. I don't know what your plans are? Let's talk Listen."

Chapter 3679 The problem is back to her

When she spoke, her sharp eyes swept over everyone present.

Show majesty.

However, Quentin drank the Keemun black tea in front of him disapprovingly, as if he came here to make up for it.

The Leonard family also avoided her gaze, and did not intend to intervene.

Among the three giants present, only Xue Lao on her right took a deep breath and said worriedly, "What do you want to do, Queen?"

Nie Qingru saw the situation clearly, clenched her fingers tightly on the handrail, and the veins on the back of her hand were raised. But her expression remained calm: "My idea is very simple - find a way to stop the ship before they send the goods to Beijing!"

She just finished speaking.

Just now, he was drinking tea there, Quentin, who didn't care about anything, put down his teacup and said mockingly, "I'm afraid it's not that simple, is it?"

Nie Qingru looked at him displeased: "What does the Archbishop mean?"

Quentin has always been at odds with her, speaking in a neither hasty nor slow manner: "We all know that David and Cage are in charge of the ships transporting chips and rare earths respectively. Neither of them are cats and dogs as you said, so stop them if you say they stop them? It's too simple."

He didn't save face for Nie Qingru, and said very directly: "If the other party starts a conflict with us, should we stop it to the end or retreat immediately? If we stop it to the end, is the empress ready to fall out with Continent F and Beijing at the same time? We need to go through Cage's forces to cooperate with many minerals and weapons in Continent F. If there is a fallout, what plan do you have to deal with it?"

He asked several questions in a row, each of which was precisely on Nie Qingru's seven inches. It is also to remind the other members of the Privy Council what a stupid decision Nie Qingru just proposed to block the boat...

Whispering sounds all around.

Nie Qingru's breathing was getting heavy, and he looked at Quentin with a look that could make people twitch.

She can hold her breath after all.

After a brief setback, he immediately knew how to control the Privy Council: "But the archbishop, don't forget, this time I am not only for personal grievances, but also for the prestige of our hidden family outside. Don't say it has nothing to do with you. Don't care about failure."

The reason why Nie Qingru was able to persuade her to stop several important cooperations with Beijing this time was that she paid a lot herself.

For example, Smith Bank risked huge losses this time and took the lead in banning trade transactions in Beijing and so on.

So she reminded Quentin not salty, but also beating Quentin to accept as soon as he sees it.

Sure enough, Quentin straightened his expression: "I'm just raising my concerns."

"It's a good thing for the archbishop to have concerns, but don't scare yourself and encourage others' prestige." After Nie Qingru finished speaking, she seemed to ignore him, and turned to Xue Lao and said, "I don't understand one thing. They can find Continent F It's no surprise that the rare earths are rare, how did they bypass Tianchen and find chip components in the illegal area?"

She had made arrangements in Tianchen before, waiting for Qiao Nian to ask Lu Zhi for help.

She has a way to force Lu Zhi not to do this favor.

Originally, everything was in her plan, but who would have thought that Qiao Nian would not take an unusual path at all, and would never have thought of getting the chip components through Tianchen, but she actually got the components.

This is not in Nie Qingru's plan.

This accident was enough to catch her off guard.

Because she knew very well in her heart that there were only two things that could restrain Jingshi and force him to bow his head—rare earth and chips.

Qiao Nian backhanded her, and the problem came back to her.

Chapter 3680 You go on your own, we will not participate

Nie Qingru frowned: "We can't just watch them get chip components and rare earths. Stopping ships is our only way now..."

"I don't agree to intercept the ship. If you decide to intercept the ship, our church will not participate in this operation." Quentin still has the same attitude.

Nie Qingru raised his brows angrily, and said gloomily: "What is the attitude of the archbishop? Isn't the church a member of the hermit family?"

Quentin adjusted his teaching robe and looked at her calmly: "Of course the church is a member of the hermit family."

"But empress, don't forget that the reason why the hermit family gathers together is for everyone's common interests."

"Your proposal to stop the ships of the two weapons masters in Continent F did not let me see the worthwhile interests behind it. As the head of the church, I have the obligation to choose to refuse to cooperate."

Nie Qingru faced him step by step pressing him step by step, but did not suppress her anger, she slapped the table with her hands hard, her eyes were slightly cold: "I think you don't want to be an enemy of Qiao Nian!"

Quentin glanced at her calmly: "The queen speaks carefully."

Nie Qingru was in a fit of anger, and spoke aggressively: "I'm not telling the truth? I've heard that you have a good relationship with Qiao Nian in private, and you also know the Archbishop Ye Shao who is beside her? I also heard that you have a homeless The illegitimate son of the Independent Continent..."

"Enough." Quentin listened to her with a demeanor at the beginning, and stood up with a flick of his hand when he heard this, and said to the woman sitting at the top in an extremely rude manner: "If the queen asked me to come to the parliament hall, it is for Discuss my private life, then there is nothing to talk about!"

"Everyone, I'll take a step first." He turned around blankly and left.

This move stunned dozens of people in the council hall. As Quentin stalked away, the neutrals looked at each other, stood up and took their things and prepared to leave.

As a result, there was a lot of trouble inside the Privy Council.

Seeing that the situation was about to get out of control, Mr. Xue hurriedly got up to persuade the person who was going to leave.

"Archbishop, the queen didn't do it on purpose. Her starting point is for the sake of the hermit family. Maybe there are some emotional factors in her speech. You..."

"I don't have any other intentions. I don't feel well and I can't continue to participate in the meeting. You can talk slowly."

Quentin bypassed the hand in front of him, and walked without looking back.

Following a touch of red, push the door and leave the council hall.

The rest of the neutral faction were no longer afraid, and they all found reasons to leave the meeting.

In a blink of an eye, one-third of the seats in the huge council hall were vacant, and only two-thirds were still sitting in their original places. Even the remaining two-thirds of the people were restless and wanted to leave.

Things have developed to this point, no one thought of it!

Nie Qingru's complexion was ashen, her hands firmly grasped the sides of the armrest, and her nails dug into the plush cushion.

She tried her best to make her expression look calmer, but the ferocious face still highlighted the storm in her heart at the moment.

Nie Qingru never expected that the Archbishop would disrespect her in this way because she mentioned an illegitimate child, and left in public.

This has never happened in the decades-long history of the Privy Council.

Now that the matter has already happened, Nie Qingru, as one of the parties involved, can only grit her teeth and endure it coldly: "Let's continue the topic just now."

Xue Lao didn't stop him, so he had to return to the original place angrily.

Nie Qingru was still thinking about blocking the boat: "The church doesn't participate, what about you? Nor do you participate? We must not let those things reach Beijing."
