

Madam's 4311

Chapter 4311 No, it's too dangerous there

Yuan Yongqin acted swiftly and resolutely, so he didn't care what he was thinking, and simply told him clearly: "I have someone record what you said just now. If you dare to post photos on the Internet, I will let you in and live there." Come out in ten or eight years!"

After she finished speaking, she hung up the phone.

Then he said to Tao Leyi: "Tell me his email number later, and I will find someone for you to help you hack the photos on his computer and mobile phone."

Tao Leyi opened his eyes and looked over in disbelief: "Is it really possible?"

She has seen in TV series and movies that top hackers can hack the data in the other party's computer thousands of miles away.

But I haven't seen it much in real life. At most, I see company programmers helping their colleagues in the design department install software and repair computers.

When Yuan Yongqin mentioned this, a little smile appeared on his usual cold and hard face, and he answered her with certainty: "It's definitely okay if she says it. And she will definitely be willing to help with things like yours, and she won't let the scumbag succeed. Don't worry! "

Qiao Nian didn't see the ins and outs that Yuan Yongqin sent her until the next day.

Based on Tao Leyi's phone number and computer mailbox, she hacked into the scumbag database without any effort.

Sure enough.

Qiao Nian looked at the photo, it wasn't too explicit, but for a girl, once it was exposed, coupled with the disgusting rumors fabricated by the man, it would inevitably hurt her.

She directly deleted the photos, implanted a Trojan horse virus into the mobile phone and computer of the scumbag, and hacked into the surveillance camera of the scumbag's house.

It's easy to find photos and videos with great content from each other.

She saved the photos + videos, packaged them up and sent them to the scumbag's mobile phone, as long as the other party turned on any home appliance, the TV, mobile phone, computer, etc. would automatically play the wonderful video that Qiao Nian dug out from the surveillance.

There was also a message written in red font on it—[I don't care if you have a backup of that photo, as long as you have the ability to send it, I will make you regret coming to this world!]

After her set of procedures, Tao Leyi's senior was terrified when he came home and saw that he was scared out of his wits. He didn't know where Qiao Nian found the video and photos, and how he hacked into his home network, so he frantically found someone to fix it. .

But the Trojan horse that Qiao Nian implanted could not be deciphered by ordinary people. He recruited seven or eight people, but none of them could solve it.

The last one said to him directly before leaving: Did you offend some hacker boss? There is no solution to this virus, unless they are willing to let you go, otherwise be careful.

He had a pale face, belatedly called Chengfeng Group, and started to apologize to Yuan Yongqin and Tao Leyi...

But Yuan Yongqin from Chengfeng Group has long refused to answer his calls, and secretly used his contacts to block him in the industry.

She rarely contacted David and asked him about Baishi Island.

"Are you going to Baishi Island?" David heard that she was going to the island, so he was so anxious that he refused repeatedly: "It's too dangerous there, no, sun, you can't go."

Chapter 4312 Sister Nian arranges the backup

"You... Hey! Forget it." Knowing that he couldn't persuade her, David sighed heavily and said, "That island is self-contained, and I can't put anyone in there."

"Forget it." Qiao Nian was just about to hang up the phone, and went to ask someone else.

David is no longer a joke: "The Baishi Island is very mysterious, and it is difficult for the outside world to arrange people to sneak in. However, when I was doing business outside the past two years, I met a small group of them and got to know the leader inside. Son. The relationship has been good for the past two years, if you want to go, I can let him take you. "

"Is it reliable?" Qiao Nian was more concerned about this.

David pondered for a while, and said: "I have been in contact with him for a while because of that meeting, and from that point alone, he is not bad and can get along with him."

"But if you want to say how reliable you are, I can't guarantee it. I can only say that you are going to the island anyway. Instead of finding someone completely unfamiliar to lead the way, it is better to find him. At least we are considered a relationship introduced by a friend. He can take care of you." You should take care of one or two."

"En." Qiao Nian understood the meaning of this, and said arrogantly, "You can help me arrange it."

"OK."

David had developed a tacit understanding with her long ago, and before hanging up the phone, he asked again: "Sun, Guan Yan is with you, do you want to take her?"

Qiao Nian thought for a while, and said bluntly: "You also said that it was too dangerous over there, let's forget it this time, and talk about it next time."

David sighed: "She has been traveling around the world all year round, she has a lot of means, and she knows how to deal with outlaws outside. In fact, I think you can take the Guanyan with you, and don't go to this danger by yourself every time. place."

"Okay, I'm done."

Qiao Nian didn't listen to it, and didn't plan to take Guan Yan there.

David also knew that she didn't bring Guan Yan because she didn't trust them, but because Sun knew the danger of Baishi Island very well.

For their safety, they didn't take them with them.

But obviously among them, Sun is the youngest one, but she usually takes care of everyone when they encounter problems.

David couldn't express his heartache, but he knew that Qiao Nian had a stubborn personality, and once he made a decision, it was difficult to be swayed by a few words from others.

He didn't say those useless nonsense, just said: "You should pay attention to your own safety. If you need to contact me by satellite phone, I will arrange Chunlei and Houzi to drive a ship to float in the nearby waters to support you at any time."

He happened to have a batch of rough stones in his hand that needed to be transported by himself, so when Qiao Nian went to Baishi Island, he didn't have time to sit in charge.

Otherwise, he would definitely go to follow him himself, just in case.

She originally wanted to ask David to arrange some support.

Qiao Nian asked David some more about Baishi Island, and David told her what he had heard, but he didn't know the rest.

After all, Baishi Island is notoriously mysterious.

In a blink of an eye, it was the day of departure.

There is no route to reach Baishi Island. This time Qiao Nian and the others took a private plane to go there.

At that time, both Fu and Feng Yu came.

"When you get there, don't be impulsive. Remember to discuss with Ye Shao before doing anything, and don't just take it for granted."

Chapter 4313 Sister Nian and the others set off

Feng Yu babbled beside the girl, like an old woman. Fortunately, there are no people from the First Research Institute nearby, otherwise, seeing their dean like this, I don't know how disillusioned they are.

Feng Yu can't control himself too much, he can't wait to grab the girl's clothes and make her stop, stand here and listen to himself.

"Also, when you get there, try to keep in touch with the outside world. Have you arranged for someone to meet you?"

Feng Yu frowned, and before Qiao Nian could answer, she was in a hurry.

"How about I bring a group of people to wait for you outside?"

Shi Fu has always been taciturn, but this time he recognized Feng Yu's arrangement for the first time, raised his eyes, and said with a serious expression: "The dean is right. Do you have any arrangements for support?"

Qiao Nian was suffering from Feng Yu's eardrums all the way, and now Shi Fu was added, and the two of them sandwiched her between one left and one right, and someone was talking to her in both ears.

Qiao Nian only heard 'buzz buzz' and 'buzz buzz'.

She pulled down her peaked cap and raised her hand to pick out her ears. She couldn't take it anymore, so she stopped and looked at the two with a look of lovelessness.

"...Do you always want to come with me?"

Feng Yu's eyes lit up, and he was about to say, 'It's not impossible'.

Qiao Nian saw that he really planned to go to Baishi Island with him, and suddenly had a headache, and looked at him with dark eyes: "Don't think about it, I won't take you there."

The light in Feng Yu's eyes went out again, she had an expression of abusing the elderly, and as soon as she touched her mouth, she babbled: "I knew you were joking. If you are willing to take me there, I am Amitabha, and the Bodhisattva blesses you... But you are A hard rock, every time I go by myself, which time will I take us old guys."

The more he talked, the more wronged he became.

Looking at the girl's eyes full of accusations.

Qiao Nian couldn't help but twitched the corners of her mouth. After a long while, she raised her hand and took off her peaked cap. Looking ahead, she said to them, "It's almost time, I'm leaving."

Feng Yu instantly suppressed the smile on her face, her face was serious, and her voice was solemn, telling her: "It's still the same sentence, discuss with Ye Shao more when you get there, don't do whatever you want alone, two people take care of each other together."

"...Okay." Qiao Nian was used to being reminded by the elders, so he didn't care what they said, as long as they agreed together.

Sure enough, the tense look on Feng Yu's face eased a lot, and he nodded to send her off: "Okay, we won't delay you, you can get on the plane!"

Qiao Nian looked at the two of them again now, raised his eyebrows and eyes, his face softened, stood there for two seconds, and said to the two old men, "Then I'll go first."

"go Go."

Shi Fu was more introverted, and didn't say those who pay attention to safety. If he wanted to contact them on the island, he only said carefully before the girl left: "While tungsten gold is important, your safety is also very important. If you can't bring back tungsten gold safely, just ensure your own safety, and we can discuss the rest. Tungsten gold is just an option, not necessarily tungsten gold!"

Qiao Nian heard it, turned around gracefully, raised his hand with his back to them and waved, and walked without looking back to get on the plane.

On the plane.

Ye Wangchuan saw her coming up, and beckoned her to come and sit down: "Fenglao and Shilao have left?"

"It's still down there. I guess they won't leave until we leave." Qiao Nian walked over and chose a seat on the left by the window.

Chapter 4314 They set off for Baishi Island

The flight attendant came over at this moment, bent slightly and asked softly, "What would this lady like to drink?"

"No need." Qiao Nian dug out the eye mask, earplugs, etc. necessary for flying from the shoulder bag she carried with her, put her legs on the cushion and prepared to sleep.

This is the Ye family's private jet.

The interior of the aircraft has exquisitely detailed decorations such as soft leather seats, silk curtains, high-end wooden floors and quartz countertops, which can provide a highly customized comfortable environment.

Qiao Nian himself is not very particular about material things.

She looked at the time, and said to the man beside her, "I'll sleep, and call me when I get there."

"Yeah." Ye Wangchuan took out a silver-white notebook slowly and put it on his lap, tilted his head, and said to the people beside him in a warm voice: "Sleep in peace."

"OK."

Qiao Nian put on the blindfold and pulled it down to cover her eyes to sleep.

Ye Wangchuan waited for the silence around him, picked up the remote control to adjust the temperature in the plane, and then asked the flight attendant to bring a blanket.

He put the blanket on the girl's lap with light hands and feet, his movements were gentle and slow, as if he was afraid of waking the sleeping person, it was extremely gentle.

After putting a blanket on Qiao Nian, he dimmed the lights above his head, leaned on the leather seat and opened his notebook to start his busy daily work.

M state, Nie Tao's initial verdict has come out.

The entire Nie family was gloomy.

Old Mrs. Nie's face was wrinkled and gloomy. He was pushed in a wheelchair by the servants at home, looking around at the silent relatives of the Nie family.

Grandpa Nie, who had been silent all this time, suddenly called out to her: "Your brother has been sentenced to life imprisonment, so you have nothing to say to me?"

Nie Qingru gracefully put on her big slanted top hat. The wide brim of the hat covered the right side of her face, and only a sneer could be seen on her lips.

"When Ji Qing died back then, didn't you comfort me with my condolences? I will return this sentence to you today, Dad, mourning."

Her phrase "Dad, mourning" seemed extremely mocking.

Old Master Nie's blood surged up immediately, and he rushed straight to the top of the sky, his eyes fixed on her, as if he wanted to tear her apart.

Nie Qingru has long been accustomed to the patriarchal atmosphere in the family, and has long since lost much affection for the so-called family members.

She let old Mrs. Nie's man-eating eyes fall on her, Shi Shiran said to others: "It's late, I'll go back first, everyone go to bed early."

None of the other Nie family members, including Nie Xia, dared to yell at her.

After all, they really saw the cruelty of this hermit family queen this time.

She can even sacrifice her own brother, who is the same father and mother, so what are they next-of-kin!

Nie Qingru bent down and got into the car.

Shadow was also in the co-pilot. After she got into the car and sat down firmly, the car slowly drove towards her private house.

The light and shadow on the car passed by Nie Qingru's side face, but no one spoke.

Until Shadow looked at her face through the rearview mirror, and said softly: "Queen, they are leaving for Baishi Island."

Chapter 4315 The third group of guests has not contacted them yet

The bottomless eyes make it impossible to guess her thoughts.

But Shadow was patient enough to wait.

The Theron family was one of the group of people who participated in the hunting season, which was different from the hermit family and some small families on the independent continent.

At that time, there were actually two groups of people who were eyeing Ji Qing at the same time, and one group of people was the seven or eight families headed by the hermit family.

There is another group of people who are actually a little more mysterious than the Hidden Family, and their strength should not be underestimated. Even Nie Qingru can't understand the other party's ability.

Which includes the Theron family.

Two years ago, she hadn't considered involving those families, after all, she didn't even know their details.

Hastily involving these families, the follow-up matters are likely to be out of her control.

She likes to take everything into her own hands.

But now it's different.

Qiao Nian pushed her too hard.

Nie Qingru had no choice but to make this move which she least wanted to make.

With a flash in her eyes, she knew very well how to drive these family members to focus on Qiao Nian, and suppressed in a dark voice: "Tell them, my granddaughter started to study the project her mother had studied, and also got my daughter Hidden U disk."

Shadow said distressedly: "Empress, have you thought it through?"

He felt sorry for the Queen, who had to dig out his old wounds when he was old, and brought up the things about the past seasons.

"I can't control my granddaughter, so I can only let outsiders manage it for me." Nie Qingru looked indifferent, as if 'daughter and granddaughter' were just terms to her and didn't mean anything.

Baishi Island is located on the east coast of the open sea, and there is a foggy area at latitude and longitude 32°18', longitude 64°-65 west.

That area is the place where you must pass through when you land on the island.

It is also the most accident-prone place in the surrounding sea area.

Because of the unique latitude and longitude here, it is easy to cause the compass of nearby aircraft and ships to fail, resulting in accidents.

From 1993 to the present, at least a dozen ships and aircraft have had accidents nearby, causing heavy losses.

Every time there is an accident around here, it gets worldwide attention, and everyone knows that there is a dangerous area on the east coast.

But few people know that the planes and ships that crashed into this area did not take the wrong route.

Rather, they want to land on Baishi Island.

Baishi Island Monitoring Station.

Several personnel in charge of the sea area and the air area are drinking coffee slowly, crossing their legs, chatting and looking at the data on the computer console absent-mindedly.

"Didn't you say that three more people are coming today? Why have I only received two requests to land on the island so far? When will the third one arrive?"

They are mainly responsible for the guidance system of the planes and ships landing on Baishi Island, preventing the world-class rich and important people who have agreed with them from getting lost in the dense fog area.

The principle is very simple.

That is, they will connect with the other party to get a signal before the other party enters the dense fog area, and then provide the other party with the correct direction guidance from the island.

So generally, guests who want to land on the island will communicate with them in advance to prevent accidents from being buried in the fog.

But today was a surprise.

There are three groups of guests today, but the person in charge of connecting the signals only received two groups of applications for connecting, and the remaining group of guests from Beijing has not contacted them until now.

Chapter 4316 Don't wake up your girlfriend to sleep

A burly man in a special agent uniform sneered casually, grinned his big yellow teeth, and said contemptuously, "What do you care about them?"

"Anyway, every once in a while, there will always be a few smart people who feel that they are an accident, and they can rely on the advanced planes and luxury ships they bought outside... In the end, they are buried in the sea without exception. Can you control them to die?"

"Hahaha, that's right, Borui. It's going to rain, and my mother is going to get married. They don't connect to our signal, and it's not that we don't connect to them. What the hell!?"

The others followed suit and laughed.

The man named Borui didn't say a word, his eyes were fixed on the screen of the monitoring equipment without blinking, and his heart was raised.

If it was normal, he would definitely not bother to care about it.

But today is an exception.

Because he received an entrustment from a friend in Continent F as early as three days ago, asking him to help take care of his younger siblings, and the younger siblings the friend mentioned happened to be the third group of guests who hadn't contacted them yet.

Most of the people in the monitoring room were still talking about the big mountains, jokingly counting down the rich and important people who refused to connect to the signal in the past few years and finally died.

Sudden.

Borui noticed a red dot appeared on the screen.

He stood up suddenly, looked at the extra flashing red dot in surprise, and blurted out: "This, how could it be?!"

"What's the matter?" He suddenly made such a big noise, it was hard for others not to pay attention, and someone walked over immediately, put a hand on his shoulder, and looked at the surveillance equipment out of the corner of his eye.

When the man saw the flashing red dot on the monitor clearly, he had the same reaction as Borui. He was also shocked immediately, and his eyeballs almost fell out.

"Nest grass?!"

"What are you doing, with your mouths open so wide, you're not full?"

Everyone else was confused by the two of them.

Three or five people walked over at the same time.

When everyone gathered around the monitor and saw the red dot symbolizing the plane, they all closed their mouths, and looked at each other as if they were being acupuncture.

Depend on?

Damn it.

Just when everyone was surprised, the plane had sent them a landing signal and was about to land at the airport.

In this way, entering and exiting Baishi Island must pass many checkpoints, and no matter entering or exiting, it will be strictly controlled.

In the past, the airport would receive a notice very early, telling the time when the plane would land at the airport, but today was an accident.

The plane had already begun to land, and the airport received the news.

The tower was almost in a hurry to connect to the opponent's signal, but their signal was only connected to the cockpit.

The captain asked them to keep their voices down, and they would land by themselves.

The reason is that the boss's girlfriend is sleeping, and the sleep is shallow, and too much movement can easily wake the boss's girlfriend from sleeping.

Baishi Island is known as a black market on the sea, and has received countless big shots.

Many big names who only appear on TV are just ordinary guests here, and there are more big people who are too lazy to show up on TV to come to them to buy and sell things.

They were people who had seen the world, but they were shocked by the arrogance of this plane.

This is Baishi Island, aren't they afraid?

Ten minutes later.

Baishi Island's airport is closed to the public.

Chapter 4317 He also knows you

Everyone who comes here is a private jet.

So usually the plane stops in the middle, waits for the reception car to come, and then checks into the hotel here, and can participate in the auction here at night.

Qiao Nian and the others are the same.

It's just different from the past, the driver is quite curious who can go through the fog and land directly on Baishi Island without signal guidance.

AIRPORT.

She took off the blindfold, leaned on the back of the chair and closed her eyes, waiting for the dizziness caused by the high altitude and weightlessness to pass, her complexion looked a little pale.

It made her eyelashes darker and denser, and her facial features were so exquisite that they were extremely eye-catching.

About seven or eight minutes passed.

The pallor on her face gradually faded, and she returned to her usual coldness. She slowly opened her eyes. There were still a few traces of red blood in her eyes. She seemed to be sleeping normally, and it was hard to hide the irritability of not sleeping well. .

Qiao Nian picked up a peaked cap and put it on the top of his head, pressed it down, slightly covered his eyes, and turned his head to look at the man beside him who was collecting the computer.

"Why didn't you call me?"

She remembered that she told him specifically before going to bed, and called her in advance when she got there.

Ye Wangchuan closed the laptop and put it in the computer bag, and zipped it up: "I see that you basically didn't sleep in the first half, and it was almost later that you finally fell asleep without waking you up."

He put away his things and turned his head to meet the girl's eyes. His deep eyes, crisp suit, knuckle fingers, narrow and long phoenix eyes, and the light light shrouded his wide browbones, all of which were not arrogant. Perfect.

"And I also want you to sleep a little longer."

Qiao Nian took the lead to look away and admit defeat in embarrassment.

Anyway, she now feels that Ye Wangchuan has a little grasp of her temper, and every time she can't stand it, she will let it go in the end.

Ye Fanchuan saw her eyes wandering away, chuckled lightly, stretched out his hand to touch her forehead, the skin under his slightly cool fingertips was scorching hot.

He withdrew his hand and said seriously: "Let's go, we are going down."

Qiao Nian was distracted for a moment, but soon got into the mood like him. He took the shoulder bag he had left aside and threw it on his back, and got up silently to get off the plane.

According to the rules of Baishi Island, after the guests get off the plane, the plane is not allowed to stay on the island and must leave within an hour.

The captain opened the hatch to see them off.

Waiting for them to go down the stairs, the captain couldn't help but said: "Young Master Ye, you have to be careful in the next few days."

The captain of this private jet has gray hair on his temples, and he can tell his age, but he still stands there with a dignified posture. He is not like an ordinary captain because of his well-trained training.

"I know, Uncle Cai." When Ye Fanchuan spoke to him, his brows and eyes were lowered, his expression softened, and he showed more respect.

Then he said to the old captain: "Don't tell grandpa."

The old captain nodded, then looked at Qiao Nian beside him, and said very understandingly: "I know."

The two got off the plane back and forth.

The car received by Baishi Island has opened the rear door.

Qiao Nian sat in first.

Ye Wangchuan followed closely behind.

Wait for the car to drive to the hotel where the guest is staying.

Qiao Nian heard the person next to her explain casually: "Uncle Cai was an old subordinate who followed Grandpa, but he retired after his leg was injured. He doesn't want to be idle, and sometimes he will help me fly the plane. I was afraid that he would tell the old man, so I mentioned it."

"He knows you too."

This sentence is the key point.

Chapter 4318 Sister Nian: It's interesting

Qiao Nian gave him a surprised look, as if surprised that the old pilot that Ye Wangchuan said knew her.

Ye Wangchuan saw through the confusion in her eyes, lowered his head and chuckled, very lazy and casual: "Everyone in the Ye family knows you."

"Uncle Cai has been with the old man for so many years, and he is similar to his family members. Of course, he also knows you."

Qiao Nian raised her hand speechlessly, pulled down her peaked cap to cover her dark eyes, and said casually, "Why do you know me?"

She doesn't go to Ye's house very often. It seems that she doesn't know much about their relatives and friends except Aunt Lan.

Ye Wangchuan straightened her hat and said gently, "Shouldn't they get to know the future mistress of the Ye family?"

"..." Qiao Nian raised her eyes to catch a glimpse of the slight smile on his lips, as well as that gentle and handsome appearance that was taken for granted.

She silently retracted her gaze, leaned on the back of the chair, too lazy to talk to him, and turned her head to look at the scenery of Baishi Island speeding outside the car window.

Baishi Island is not like a deserted island in the traditional sense. Through the car window, Qiao Nian saw row upon row of tall buildings speeding backwards on both sides, and the glass was shining brightly under the sunlight.

It is completely impossible to tell that this is an isolated island floating on the high seas.

It can be seen how rich and powerful Baishi Island has been over the years, otherwise it would never be completely invisible in front of the public.

The brim of Qiao Nian's hat barely covered her eyelashes, and there was snow in her eyes. One of the collar buttons was unbuttoned, and the headphone cable passed through the middle. There is a power that can be ready to explode at any time.

The driver peeked at her through the rearview mirror, and was afraid of being discovered, so he quickly looked ahead. I was somewhat puzzled, how could there be such a young girl among the guests who came today?

No wonder he was confused.

When Qiao Nian and the others went to check in at the hotel, the hotel receptionist was also very surprised that today's guests were such a young man and woman.

She repeatedly checked the identity information provided by Qiao Nian and Ye Wangchuan, and after confirming that it was correct, she operated the computer to log in and swipe the card, and handed the room card to the two.

"Hello VIP, here is your room card."

"Thanks."

Ye Wangchuan took it and said very politely.

The front desk was a little flattered, but still dutifully said to the two of them: "The second floor of the hotel is a restaurant, and there is a buffet breakfast from 6:00 am to 10:00 am. You can come down to eat at any time. Lunch and dinner are also on the 2nd floor Haicui Pavilion, inside There are a variety of meals such as Western style, Chinese style and Spanish barbecue, which are chosen by the guests, and there is no time limit."

"...But the hotel will not allow the use of the three elevators on the right from 8pm onwards, nor will it allow you to go to floors 1-3 at will."

Qiao Nian took a room card from Ye Wangchuan, played with it in his hand, sat on the high stool with one foot, leaned slightly on the bar, and asked her casually, "Because of the auction?"

"Uh..." The front desk probably didn't expect the guest to ask herself so directly, she was stunned, and quickly realized, looking at the overly young and eye-catching pretty face, she replied sincerely: "No, the auction is held every Friday night at 7 Point. This is our boss's own rule, and I don't know why, it's the hotel's rule."

Qiao Nian raised his eyebrows, his eyes were obviously interested, he put away the room card, and went to the hotel room with Ye Wangchuan first.

Chapter 4319 is gone, take you downstairs for dinner

This hotel should divide the guests into three, six, and nine classes.

They are probably in the middle class.

The hotel arranged a large suite for them, which has two bedrooms, a study room, a living room, etc. Overall, the room is a little bigger than a normal suite, and slightly simpler than the presidential suite.

But Qiao Nian noticed a celadon ornament placed in the entrance from the moment she entered the room. She circled around the ornament, tapped it with her fingers, and leaned in to listen.

Quickly walked to the living room, put down the bag, swaggered and sat on the sofa, and said to Ye Wangchuan who had gone to the room to change clothes.

She sneered: "Any room in any hotel is full of authentic products. As expected of Baishi Island, it really is a big deal."

Ye Wangchuan just narrowed his eyes when he heard this, raised his hand to take a bottle of water from the table, unscrewed it and handed it to her: "Take a break first."

Qiao Nian took the water from him, but held the bottle for a long time without moving. Instead, her brows and eyes were excited, she narrowed her eyes slightly, and suddenly raised her head to look at him: "What do you want to do on the 1st-3rd floors of this hotel at 8 o'clock in the evening?"

Ye Wangchuan saw that she wanted to do something like that, so he sat down opposite her, quite luxurious and lazy: "You want to know? I'll just ask Moxi to get a quota."

"But didn't you say that David has a friend who will come to see you later, and you have time to see it?"

Qiao Nian pulled down the hem of the hoodie, and then remembered the friend David said he would introduce to her before leaving, and leaned back on the sofa unruly.

"Let's talk about it tomorrow."

Ye Wangchuan understood what she meant in seconds.

This means that she will not go to see it tonight, and will see what the hotel is doing tomorrow.

Ye Wangchuan let go of his hand, picked up the hotel intercom, and prepared to order food: "What do you want to eat? I'll have someone bring it over."

Qiao Nian thought about it: "Beef noodles?"

She didn't know what to eat on Baishi Island, but Qiao Nian definitely didn't want to eat western food, and she didn't like breaded fried chicken.

Ye Wangchuan saw her frowning, so he simply didn't make this call, and got up to invite her directly, "Let's go, let's go to the restaurant on the second floor."

Wait until Joe reaches the second floor.

I went to the Haicui Pavilion mentioned by the front desk, and when I entered, I saw a restaurant with a huge area, and there were many people sitting scattered in it eating.

They sat down in a window seat under the leadership of the waiter. The waiter brought them the menu and poured two glasses of lemonade thoughtfully.

Then stood aside quietly waiting for Qiao Nian to order food.

The thick menu is the same as the front desk said, including all the popular cuisines around the world, which can satisfy the tastes of guests in almost any region.

But Qiao Nian didn't choose Sichuan cuisine this time, but chose a few refreshing side dishes, a roast duck, and a vegetable porridge.

Ye Wangchuan saw that she picked all the light flavors that she usually ate less, so he added a health-preserving soup.

Then he handed the menu back to the waiter: "That's all for now."

"Okay, I'll place an order for you right away."

The waiter tucked the menu under his arm, took away the plate, and went to the front to place an order.

Wait for him to go away.

Qiao Nian put one hand on the back of the chair, looked around the restaurant, and soon noticed that there were so many cameras with almost no blind spots.

There are also black-clothed bodyguards looming in the corners of the restaurant. You don't need to guess and you know that you can't walk around here, and the guards are strict.

Chapter 4320 Sister Nian is waiting for them to come

She didn't want to attract other people's attention, so she only glanced lightly, then quickly retracted her gaze, approached Ye Wangchuan slightly, as if a close lover was having a hot chat, raised the corners of her mouth, and said in a low voice: "There are 36 cameras in total, southeast direction At most, there are at least 20 cameras facing the southeast direction. When we get off the elevator, I also look at the corridor in the same way, and the southeast direction has the most cameras."

So what the * is southeast?

Ye Wangchuan pushed the water glass in front of her, Shi Shiran seemed like a rich man who just came to see the world, and he was not very interested in everything around him.

He personally helped Qiao Nian rinse the tableware in front of him with hot water, disinfected and sterilized, and then he calmed down and said, "The purpose of our visit this time is tungsten gold, as long as we can buy tungsten gold, the rest is not up to us." within the scope of consideration."

Qiao Nian pursed her lower lip, her eyes flickered slightly, of course she knew the purpose of her visit this time, but the layout here reminded her of a place.

"I have been to the insurance room of Smith Bank in State M before. The design there is very similar to this one. It also leaves the 1-3 floors vacant and puts things in the southeast corner."

"I'm just curious why the same design appears in two unrelated places, is it a coincidence or... maybe there is someone we know here."

The forces behind Baishi Island have always been very mysterious.

Qiao Nian had never been in contact with Baishi Island before. Later, she planned to come here to buy tungsten gold. During that time, she checked the information of this island on the Internet.

Ordinary people don't even know that this island exists in the world, let alone find relevant information on the Internet.

But Qiao Nian is different.

She hacked into the information databases of the major royal families, looking for information about Baishi Island in the confidential information of the royal families.

Really let her find a little bit.

It was a top-secret file that recorded the geographic location of the island, and it was clearly marked that the owner of the island belonged to a certain nobleman.

But when she further wanted to see which company it belonged to, the page of the file was broken, that is to say, the most critical part was torn off.

The archives of the major royal families are comparable to jewelry warehouses. These people always regard history as more important than their lives. After all, only history can prove their noble lineage.

It was the first time that Qiao Nian saw broken pages in the archives kept by the royal family, but it reminded her of Ji Qing.

The same is true for the information she wanted to check the season.

From the First Research Institute to the major information databases, all the files about Ji Qing are broken and hidden intentionally.

That's why Qiao Nian is even more curious about who is the master behind Baishi Island, is it a friend or an enemy?

But judging from the current layout.

It seems that the other party is more likely to be an enemy.

"If the master behind it is an enemy, then we may not be as easy as we imagined if we want to get tungsten gold and leave Baishi Island smoothly."

"Tomorrow is the auction, let's have a look first."

Ye Wangchuan's deep eyes are always calm, it seems that he has predicted the danger factor of this trip since he went to the island.

Qiao Nian was a little eager to find out the details of the other party through these surveillance first, but he seemed to be calm.

The impetuous emotions in my heart gradually smoothed and calmed down.

Take a look at the situation tomorrow.

See if Baishidao sells tungsten gold.

And if Baishi Island is really in danger, and there are people behind the scenes who want to do something, she will wait for these people to come to her door.
