

Madam's 4321

Chapter 4321 Right, what do you buy on the island

at dusk.

Based on the room number he found, Borui came to the hotel in a low-key manner, and knocked on the door of Qiao Nian's room.

"Knock knock."

He wore a hat and pulled up his collar to cover his face as much as possible, so as not to be photographed by the surveillance cameras that could be seen everywhere.

Borui frowned before he opened the door, raised his hand again, and knocked twice.

"Knock knock."

This time, the door was opened from the inside, and what came into view was a young man with an extremely outstanding appearance. The man was wearing home clothes, and the black silk pajamas on him were extravagant. He really didn't look like someone who would come to Baishi Island.

Borui quickly glanced aside, then lowered his voice: "I'll go in first."

He dodged into the room and immediately turned around and closed the door with his backhand. His movements were extremely smooth, as if he had experienced it countless times.

After he came in, he relaxed his tense back a little, had time to look at the layout of the suite, and then looked at Ye Wangchuan.

Looked up and down a few times, and asked a question.

"How did your plane pass through that foggy area without a signal?"

"?"

Ye Fanchuan followed him, saw him stop abruptly, looked at himself and asked this, knowing that Borui was David's friend, his attitude was still friendly.

"Live casually, try your luck."

"Take a chance?"

Borui didn't know whether to believe him or not, and there was a bit of sarcasm in his tone.

"Then you are very lucky, otherwise you should be feeding sharks in the sea now, instead of standing here unscathed and talking to me."

"Well, sort of."

Ye Wangchuan was noncommittal.

Borui intuitively dislikes the ignorant demeanor of the young masters around him, but he also doesn't want to conflict with Ye Wangchuan.

He made fun of himself and walked into the living room.

Just happened to meet the girl who heard the movement outside and opened the door to come out.

Qiao Nian didn't wear a peaked cap in the room she lived in. She was dressed quite casually, just the same type of home clothes as Ye Wangchuan.

The ink-colored silk fabric can easily appear to have dull skin, but it can't support her naturally outstanding cool white skin, and her facial features are outstanding.

It means that the orientals are smaller than the western faces.

Qiao Nian is too young again.

Although Borui told David that it was his "sister" who came to Baishi Island, this sister is too young.

"David...don't worry about you coming here alone?"

He heard that David was also big-hearted.

But Borui still knows that it is a family matter, and he, an outsider, can't control it. So he just muttered something, straightened his expression immediately, walked over to the sofa, and sat down.

"I don't have much time, so I'll make a long story short."

He first looked at Qiao Nian, and then at Ye Wangchuan.

Always frowning.

"I am entrusted by David to come here this time, come to see you, and tell you about the situation of Baishi Island by the way."

He subconsciously went to look at Ye Wangchuan: "David said, are you here to buy something this time? What are you going to buy?"

Who knew you young man didn't speak.

The * the side spoke casually: "Tungsten gold."

"?!"

Borui thought he had heard wrongly at first.

"What are you going to buy?"

Qiao Nian raised his eyebrows, and glanced up and down at him with his dark eyes, those eyes were lazy and playful, and his whole body showed rebelliousness and unscrupulousness.

"Tungsten Gold."

This time, Borui heard clearly, took a breath, and looked at them with eyes similar to those of madmen, without the eyes of a rookie who just entered the door.

Chapter 4322 Maybe I'm lucky

He probably digested for a few minutes.

"Why do you buy tungsten gold?"

Borui is full of scrutiny: "As far as I know, this metal is not specially used to produce light bulbs. Don't tell me that you came to Baishi Island to buy tungsten gold and go back to mass-produce light bulbs."

Those words coax a three-year-old child, but the three-year-old child does not believe it.

"You have said that, what can I say. Do you think I can buy it back to open a light bulb factory, or do other things. Baishi Island only sells things, and doesn't care what customers buy back?"

Under the scrutiny of his eyes, Qiao Nian shrugged her shoulders indifferently, and looked directly at his oppressive eyes, still with the same lazy look.

What he said was not vague at all.

It's a bit tit-for-tat.

Borui was silenced for a few seconds by her rhetorical question, but he was not angry. Instead, he looked at her appreciatively and calmed down the pressure on his body: "You are right. Baishi Island doesn't care why customers buy things, and it doesn't care what customers buy. What are things going to do?"

He paused for a moment, and immediately said in a serious tone: "But! The things you want to buy are too special, and I'm afraid it will be difficult for you to get what you want."

"How to say?" Qiao Nian looked at him.

Seeing her young features, Borui calmed down a little, and said to her, "You are David's sister, and you can be considered my half sister. I almost died in no man's land when I was out on a mission. Give me a hand and help me avoid being chased and killed. I remember this favor in my heart, so he found me and asked me to take care of you one or two, and I will definitely not harm you. "

"I don't know how much you know about Baishi Island, so you dare to come here to buy tungsten gold. It is true that there is tungsten gold here, but guess why there are so many forces outside and few people buy tungsten gold from here?"

Borui didn't wait for their answer, and said bluntly: "Because the tungsten gold here can only be seen, not bought!"

Next, Borui explained to them why Baishi Island has tungsten gold, but they can only see it but not buy it.

It turns out that there is a saying that black eats black in the tungsten gold business here.

Tungsten is a metal and definitely cannot be shipped by air.

Airplanes cannot carry heavy tungsten gold.

Thus, people who generally buy tungsten gold can only transport by ship, but once the buyer leaves the sea area of Baishi Island.

Accidents are bound to happen!

Generally, people and boats disappear.

It is said that the buyer encountered pirates or extreme weather, but as time goes by, everyone knows it well.

Baishi Island has tungsten gold, which can be bought and sold, but it cannot be shipped out of this sea area.

Is tungsten gold that cannot be shipped out considered tungsten gold?

Obviously, in the eyes of many buyers, it is not considered tungsten gold, so although Baishidao has this thing, except for those who are not familiar with it, few customers will use their brains on tungsten gold.

He didn't know where Qiao Nian learned that there was tungsten gold here, but he suggested that Qiao Nian and the others had better change their target instead of looking for death.

After hearing what he said, Qiao Nian had a very good attitude, but what he said was a bit annoying: "So the tungsten gold here can be bought and loaded, right?"

Borui frowned deeply, and said impatiently: "I told you, you can't take it out!"

Who knew that after listening to the girl, she casually put her hand in her pocket, stood up in a dawdly manner, and said to him, "Maybe I'm lucky."

"..."

Borui somehow remembered that when he entered the door, Ye Wangchuan said the same thing to him—good luck!

He reflexively glanced in Ye Wangchuan's direction.

Chapter 4323 Sister Nian: Someone is watching us in the dark

Ye Wangchuan held a glass of water in his hand, and stood not far from Qiao Nian, his black eyes narrowed slightly, giving people an unfathomable feeling.

Borui froze for a moment.

Respond immediately.

He looked at Ye Wangchuan seriously again, and saw that the young man had regained the casual and playful aura he had when he first met, as if the glance just now was just his illusion.

—Damned.

Borui vaguely felt that these two people were not as simple as they seemed on the surface, but he couldn't figure out what the two young people were thinking.

He got up, and finally warned the two of them.

"If you want to survive, you'd better not think of tungsten gold here!"

said.

He probably thought it was pointless to dwell on this issue, and finally took a deep look at the two of them with a serious face.

"I welcome you all to visit Baishi Island. Tomorrow is the auction. You can go to the auction site to take a good look and see if there are any souvenirs you want to buy. You can go back when you buy souvenirs. This is not your adventure island. Don't come here. You are joking with your life here!"

"I can't stay here for long, please be careful." After he finished speaking, he pulled up his collar to cover his chin, and was about to leave.

Qiao Nian looked at his fully armed attire, and kindly reminded him: "Actually... I can help you hack the surveillance outside."

Borui had already walked to the door, and heard what the girl behind him said.

His eyelids twitched, he held the doorknob with one hand, and turned his head: "The monitoring here is different from the one outside, you will encounter the central alarm when you move, if you alarm the alarm system, you don't even have to participate in tomorrow's auction, will be sent out of Baishi Island immediately."

After sternly warning Qiao Nian, he opened the door, rushed into the corridor without looking back, buried his head as much as possible to avoid the monitoring and left this floor.

He is an insider of Baishi Island. According to the rules, he cannot have private contact with guests to prevent the secrets of the island from being revealed.

So he has to come and go.

Ye Wangchuan went to close the door, and when he turned around, he saw the girl leaning against the wall irritably, with her head lowered, playing with a silver lighter in her hand, opening and extinguishing the blue flame again and again.

Unruly and decadent.

The unbridled energy emanating from his bones is extremely charming.

Ye Wangchuan walked over, not afraid of the dark blue flame of the lighter, stretched out his hand to take it from her hand, and held it in his own.

He lowered his neck and lowered his eyes slightly.

"Nian Nian, so annoying?"

The things in Qiao Nian's hand were suddenly snatched away, but he didn't get angry. He adjusted his posture and lowered his thick black eyelashes to hide the emotions in his eyes.

"I have a strange sixth sense that someone is watching us in the dark."

Ye Wangchuan was slightly surprised: "You mean now?"

They have only landed on the island for less than half a day, who will keep an eye on them?

But Qiao Nian was very determined, and looked up at him: "Yes, now."

She looked away again, unable to hide her coldness: "I don't know why I feel this way, but my sixth sense rarely makes mistakes."

"...Maybe from the moment we landed on the island, we have been targeted!"

Ye Wangchuan suppressed the frivolous look on his face, fell into deep thought, did not speak for a while, as if he was thinking about countermeasures.

Qiao Nian was also thinking about whether to make a plan earlier. Then I heard the man's steady voice say: "Tomorrow we will leave early to go to the auction venue."

She thought about it, the auction venue was crowded with people, and it was indeed not a convenient place to start.

"Okay, let's arrange this first."

Chapter 4324 Sure enough, someone wants to attack Sister Nian and the others the other side.

Borui left the hotel in a hurry, walked to the corner, opened the door of his car parked by the side of the road, and sat in the driver's seat.

He just inserted the car key and didn't start the car when his cell phone rang.

"It's so late, who is it?" Borui was in a bad mood, read a few words, took out his phone and looked at the caller number.

Finding that it was a phone call from my usual companion, I picked it up.

He hasn't had time to speak yet.

The other person comes first and asks: "Brother Rui, where have you been?"

Borui paused, but didn't answer directly, and asked him instead: "What's the matter?"

"Well, what do you tell me? It's hard to say on the phone. So what, someone from above asked us to gather, and we have something to do."

Baishi Island is known as an isolated island that no one cares about, but how can there be no powerful people behind this kind of development.

Of course Baishi Island has an owner.

It's just that the master is very mysterious. Even the agents who have been employed all the year round don't know the specific identity of the other party, so they are collectively referred to as the above people.

The higher-ups seldom care about them. They usually form a small group by themselves, and they can also share 5% of the income on the island.

Such huge benefits are enough to attract them to work for Baishi Island.

Borui always felt uneasy today, especially when he heard from his partner that he had not shown up for a long time and had tasks to arrange.

He felt even more inexplicable sense of unease.

Wait for him to drive to the gathering point.

Others have come.

In addition to their small group of agents, there are two groups on the island that have a similar relationship with them. Everyone is king and does not interfere with each other.

Of course, because of conflicts of interest, everyone is hindered by the superiors, barely maintaining a superficial harmony, and they have long disliked each other in private.

Sure enough, as soon as the Borui people arrived.

Adam, who had always been at odds with him, brought it up on purpose: "I heard that some people failed to connect to the signal equipment with the guests this morning, and that group of guests was lucky to not get lost in the dense fog area. They made such a big mistake in the morning, the last one to arrive at night... Heck, as expected of Borui."

"You TM% ¥ #@..."

Someone from Borui's side was about to go up and start an argument, but he grabbed him, ignored the other party's provocation, and went forward to ask other people.

"What task was assigned by the above?"

Immediately, someone said to him: "Brother Rui, it's the group of strange guests in the morning. The above said that they should be dealt with and that they would not be allowed to leave Baishi Island."

They do jobs that lick blood on the knife edge, and they have long been familiar with these tasks. The man spoke in a flat tone, as casual as if he was saying, 'the higher up arranged for us to eat steak tomorrow'.

But Borui was taken aback: "Why?"

The people under him were immediately stunned by the question: "What and why? Brother Rui, what are you talking about?"

Borui calmed down quickly, trying to control his twitching facial muscles so that he didn't look so shocked.

"Nothing, I just asked casually."

"Hey, who knows what the arrangement is. Maybe they offended someone?" The subordinates, five big, three thick and one strong, answered casually without thinking too much.

Borui's heart ached, he couldn't imagine how Qiao Nian and Ye Wangchuan looked so young, how could they offend the people above them.

Thinking that they are my friend's younger brother and sister, and impatient, some rushed down the throat, wanting to find a chance to remind them.

As soon as he had this idea, he was dismissed by his subordinates casually: "I heard that people from the third team have already gone to the hotel to guard."

Chapter 4325 Sister Nian has already found out

"These * run fast every time, so they know how to take advantage. They always * the easiest work first, leaving us some dirty and tiring work."

The latter part is full of complaints.

Borui was terrified when he heard it. He didn't expect that he was lucky, and just hid from the third team squatting in the hotel.

Otherwise, if the people from the third team squatted down until he came out of the hotel, he might not be able to explain clearly with a hundred mouths now.

I will be arrested first.

He tried his best to calm down, and then asked his subordinates how the higher-ups arranged when he didn't come.

"The above didn't explain too clearly, it just said that before the auction starts tomorrow, wait for the two to get rid of them on the way to the auction."

"Oh, it's better to make it an accident scene... You know, there are no ordinary people who come here, and they have to do some superficial work to make a job."

Just like those buyers who buy tungsten gold.

They will ship the tungsten gold according to the trading rules, but there will always be some "accidents" outside the waters of Baishi Island.

Once the outside world wants to investigate, they will only find out an 'accident'. As for whether it was really an accident, who knows, isn't it just dumb people who eat coptis and swallow it themselves?

They just need to complete the above tasks.

"I see." Borui was very anxious, but he couldn't think of any good way to remind Qiao Nian and the others through the multiple surveillance + hotel surveillance.

He did have David's number, but he didn't dare to call.

The main fear is that Qiao Nian's mobile phone will also be monitored by the island. As soon as David contacts Qiao Nian and the others, he will tell them about the island's arrangements.

Then it's not just Qiao Nian, even he has to be buried in it.

So Borui could only suppress his agitation, kept his face calm, and thought about all kinds of possible ways to save the life of his friend and sister.

Blink of an eye to the next day.

Baishi Island is located in the subtropical zone, with a pleasant climate and abundant sunshine.

Qiao Nian and the others stayed in the hotel until after three o'clock in the afternoon.

It was only four hours away from the accident arranged for them by the 'above'. Everything outside their room was under close surveillance by dozens of pairs of eyes.

From the calm appearance, it is absolutely impossible to tell that they have been targeted long ago, and it is even more difficult to guess what the other party wants to do.

Everyone felt that Qiao Nian and the others must be like sheep waiting to be slaughtered, and they were still preparing to go to the evening auction to watch the excitement.

In a hotel suite.

The girl crossed her legs and sat on the high stool. There was a glass of lemonade in front of her, and she was shaking the glass rhythmically in her hand.

She propped her elbows on the bar counter and said casually: "We went out to eat at noon today, and the surveillance cameras were watching us all the way."

"Including when ordering food later, I saw that the bodyguards in the southeast corner were replaced by a group of mercenaries."

"Those people are still wearing the clothes of the bodyguards last night, but they are too * to be bodyguards..."

She even looked at Ye Wangchuan with some interest: "We are being targeted."

Ye Wangchuan handed her the peaked cap very calmly, and then put on another peaked cap of the same style as if by magic, and pressed it down to cover that very recognizable handsome face.

Only then did Qiao Nian notice that he was wearing extraordinarily casual clothes today, like a refreshing senior in school, so he couldn't help but take a second look.

"Are you...?"

Ye Wangchuan was so frank that he let her look at it casually, and then said: "Put it on, we are ready to go."

Chapter 4326 also left them a little gift

Qiao Nian turned the peaked cap in his hand, glanced at him, lowered his head to put it on, imitated his movements and pressed down the brim of the cap, revealing only the line of his jaw.

Ye Wangchuan straightened her hat, then withdrew his hand, and said softly and firmly, "Let's go."

Qiao Nian looked at the time.

Thirty past three.

The group of people outside are really in a hurry.

She took her mobile phone, took out a tablet from her shoulder bag, and assembled it into a laptop within a few seconds.

Talked to Ye Wangchuan.

"Wait a moment."

Qiao Nian kept her eyes fixed, and tapped quickly with both hands on the keyboard projected by the laser, a series of codes poured out from her fingertips.

It didn't take ten minutes.

She used the assembled laptop in her hand to hack into the hotel's monitoring system, perfectly replacing the monitoring of the corridors and elevators.

Qiao Nian finished all this, and left a small 'gift' for the other party. He turned off the computer in a hurry, stuffed the tablet into the shoulder bag, and zipped it up.

Lifting her eyes again, she looked at the man who was waiting beside her, and made an OK gesture.

Brows and eyes are quite arrogant.

"Done!"

at the same time.

In the monitoring room of the hotel.

Several security guards stared intently at the dozens of display screens in front of them, for fear of missing details.

But people are always tired.

Just when one of them couldn't hold on anymore and told his companion to get a glass of water, someone discovered something and exclaimed.

"Look, did the screen flicker just now?"

"What?"

The exhausted nerves of the others were startled by his exclamation, and they all looked at the monitor with breathless concentration.

I saw dozens of monitors, as usual, completely monitoring every corner of the hotel, and there was nothing wrong with it.

The security guard who went to pick up the water couldn't help but look at the colleague who called out first: "Have you been dazzled by looking at it for too long? I think it's normal, why did it flash?"

Although the others did not speak, their relaxed expressions betrayed their hearts. Like the water security guards, they saw nothing.

"But it really flashed just now, and it just flashed."

"You are dazzled."

"No, it's true!"

The speaker was sweating profusely, pointing at the monitoring screen, desperately trying to get everyone to believe him.

Seeing that he was about to cry, one of them kindly walked over and patted him on the back, signaling him to relax a bit: "Don't worry, it's normal to have hallucinations if you stare at a point for a long time. So, go and rest for a while." , I'll take your place."

When that person saw everyone saying that, the determined expression on his face suddenly became shaken.

He no longer insisted that the monitor flashed abnormally, but got up silently and walked aside, assuming that he might be dazzled.

This episode did not attract everyone's attention.

Naturally, no one informed the mercenaries who were watching outside.

...

Outside.

Those in the third team watched for a day and a night, and many of them had already relaxed.

Especially closer to action time.

The more relaxed they are.

After all, they only need to wait until the target goes out around 7 o'clock in the evening, which is not too early or too late at three or four in the afternoon.

It happens to be the stage when their bodies are the most exhausted and their spirits are the most relaxed.

Everyone stared at the entrance and exit of the hotel boredly, chatting a few words from time to time, absent-minded, and didn't worry about the people entering and leaving the hotel.

The main hotel security side did not tell them that they saw someone coming out of the room in the surveillance.

Chapter 4327 Wang Ye: The most dangerous place is the safest

Everyone feels more at ease.

After all, the two big living people had to pass the surveillance and turned into butterflies and flew away.

So Qiao Nian got into the car right under their noses, and went to the auction house.

after an hour.

Qiao Nian got off that taxi, and Ye Wangchuan followed closely behind to pay and get off.

The yellow taxi drove away.

Qiao Nian looked at the building in front of him, raised his eyebrows, and looked at the man next to him in disbelief: "Auction house?"

Ye Wangchuan helped her pull down the peaked cap, still calm and calm as always: "Did God Qiao hear that sentence?"

"What?"

Qiao Nian could feel his approaching breath, lightly sprinkled on her ears, her eyes kept on his face, and she was distracted for a moment.

I heard the man's calm and smiling voice: "The most dangerous place is often the safest place."

The most dangerous place is always the safest place... Qiao Nian's eyes flashed, and he was still thinking about this sentence before being led away.

"Let's go, let's go in first."

It's just a little over five o'clock in the afternoon.

The auction started at 8:00 p.m., which is a bit too early.

However, 90% of Baishi Island's guests came for the auction on Baishi Island, so even though there are still more than two hours before the auction that starts at 8 o'clock, some guests still come to know that the auction will be held in the evening which items.

Ye Wangchuan led Qiao Nian, swaggered through his identity information, passed the verification at the entrance of the auction house, and entered the venue.

Until this time, the second team, which was arranged to guard outside the auction venue, received a reminder that the target entered the venue.

Aridang looked at the backs of a man and a woman on the monitor, his eyes almost popped out, unable to accept the reality for a long time.

"Go in?"

"Yes, boss."

When Yali turned his head and saw the subordinate who answered him honestly, he suddenly lost his temper and slapped the subordinate on the back of the head.

"A bunch of trash! Why did you let people get in under our noses?!"

"..."

There was a moment of silence below.

No one dared to speak.

Mainly, everyone knows it's embarrassing.

There were dozens of them guarding the outside, and they just didn't see the target enter from under their eyelids.

The computer at the door to verify information reminded them that they had entered.

It was only later that they realized that people had already come here and entered it.

Someone was a little more courageous, and bravely said: "Boss, I think the third team is still to be blamed. They didn't tell us that the target had left the hotel, so we weren't prepared at all, and the other party took advantage of it." ."

Yali's face was dark, he glared at the speaker, and ordered his subordinates angrily: "You find someone to notify the people in the first team, and say that the target has entered."

When he said this, his tone was full of reluctance.

But no matter how unwilling he is, he needs to take the overall situation into consideration. After all, according to the arrangement above, the third team will guard the entrance and exit of the hotel, and their second team will guard outside the auction.

A team of Borui and the others guard the innermost part.

Now people have entered.

Aridang had no choice but to go to the side with a dark face and call the third team to settle accounts, and ask what those idiots were doing.

Why did they let people leave the hotel from under their noses, without noticing it at all, and didn't send any news to their second team.

Over there at the hotel.

The people in the third team only heard the news that the target had run away after they had received a call from Adam.

Chapter 4328 The lights in the hotel corridors went out instantly

At first they vehemently denied it.

said that Qiao Nian and the others must still be in the hotel, and they would never appear in the auction venue.

Aridang gritted his teeth and said in a very affirmative tone that at the sign-in area at the entrance of the auction venue, there were already two sign-in information.

The third team hurriedly sent people to the 32nd floor, and Qiao Nian knocked on the door of the suite they lived in to make sure.

"Knock knock."

"Is anyone there? We are hotel service staff, here to do cleaning service for the two of you."

The hotel waiter blocked the cat's eye, knocked on the door again under the command of the hidden mercenaries on both sides, and rang the call bell inside.

"Hi, Room Service. Is anyone there?"

It was still quiet inside without any response.

The captain of the third team was a man with a scarred face. He couldn't hold back any longer, and said to the hotel waiter, "Swipe your card, open the door and go in."

"...good."

The hotel waiters on Baishi Island are not people who have never seen the world. They quickly calmed down and took out the room cards they carried with them that can open any room.

Put the card on the sensor and swipe the card.

Just hear a 'ding—'.

Everyone is on standby, ready to follow the waiter to open the door and rush in directly to see if there is anyone inside.

At this critical juncture.

Suddenly, the lights in the hotel corridor clicked and everything went dark.

at the same time.

The alarm system sounded in the hotel.

The sharp sound of 'buzzing buzz—' instantly resounded through the hotel.

The guests below also heard the alarm sounding from outside, and the room where they lived suddenly lost power and internet. Everyone ran out of the room and went to the hotel staff to ask what happened.

And outside the room on the 32nd floor.

More than a dozen * mercenaries witnessed the hotel waiter swiping his card, which led to this series of changes.

The scarred face who took the lead put the gun on the opponent's temple almost reflexively.

"Are you playing with me?"

The hotel waiter was so frightened that his back was covered with cold sweat, and he immediately raised his hand, almost crying: "Fuck, it has nothing to do with me. I didn't do anything. You asked me to open the door with my card. I don't know what's going on now." Condition."

Scarface motioned for his subordinates to grab the room card from him.

The subordinate took the room card and checked it again and again, and then reported to him: "Boss, he has an ordinary room card in his hand, there is nothing wrong with it."

Scarface frowned, thought for a while, and then ordered: "You try to brush it again."

The subordinate pushed the waiter away, took the room card and walked to the sensor, and tried again with the room card.

This time, everyone's hearts were raised in their throats, for fear that strange things would happen again.

But unexpectedly, the surrounding area was extremely quiet.

Except for the sirens that rang through the hotel outside, there was no abnormality.

The subordinates didn't need Scarface to order, and took two steps forward to try to open the door.

As a result, I pulled it hard a few times, and soon found that it could not be opened.

He immediately turned around and reported to Scarface: "Boss, it can't be opened."

Scarface just shifted his gaze to the hotel waiter, who immediately begged for mercy and shook his head in a panic: "I don't know. I swear I brought a sensor card from the hotel that can open all the rooms. We usually use it for cleaning. This card from..."

Scarface pushed him to his subordinates to hold him down, and said with a fierce look on his face: "Go down and see what the * is going on!"

A group of people led the hotel waiter down in a mighty way.

Chapter 4329 Hotel surveillance was also overwritten in advance

The hotel is trying its best to appease the guests and evacuate the crowd who ran out. It is very busy.

The person in charge saw them coming down.

He only brought his own waiter with him, and he was taken aback for not seeing anyone else.

Scarface preemptively pushed the waiter out.

"Your room card can't open the door."

The person in charge of the hotel was also confused: "What? Our room card can't open the door? Suite 3208? Impossible."

Scarface didn't talk nonsense with him, he scanned the chaos in the hotel lobby, and asked him directly: "What's your situation now?"

The person in charge of the hotel knew who the master behind these people was, and answered honestly: "I don't know what happened just now, the wire circuit was cut off. The fire alarm was also set off and made a noise. All the guests ran out, and I For the time being, the technicians are still here to take a look."

The two are talking.

One of the hotel technicians comes over.

He didn't know Scarface, so he went straight to the person in charge and said with a serious expression, "There is a Trojan horse in our host computer."

"From the power outage in the hotel just now to the subsequent triggering of the fire alarm, it was all caused by a virus. If the virus cannot be resolved, there is no way to stop the alarm."

The person in charge was also impatient, and immediately said: "Then what are you waiting for, solve it quickly!"

The technical staff's complexion became even worse.

Looking at him, he said with a heavy tone: "We just checked, and the virus implanted is Lizard's Tail, one of the top ten unsolvable viruses in the world. There is definitely no way to solve it in a short time. Give us ten Eight days...maybe there is a chance."

He didn't dare to say that it would be resolved in ten or eight days, only that there was a chance to solve it.

The person in charge of the hotel heard the dizziness coming here and there, and looked at the technician with an incredible expression: "Ten days and a half months? Do you think I can wait for ten days and eight months?!"

The technical staff had no choice but to lower their heads and answer in a low voice, "Unless the person who created this virus is here, otherwise...the only way we can do it."

"Who is the person who created this virus?" The person in charge of the hotel also wanted to simply spend money to invite the person over, at least not having to wait for ten days and a half months.

The technician raised his head, looked at him with weird eyes, and immediately said a name under the frown of the person in charge.

"Hongmeng, sun."

Baishi Island is just a mystery, not to be known to the outside world.

It is not that the people on the island are isolated from the world and do not understand the outside world.

As one of the most powerful forces in the illegal area, the Hongmeng is similar to Baishidao, so how could they not know about sun.

The boss of the Hongmeng.

The second in command of the illegal area.

The background is mysterious, the person is mysterious, and the age and gender are all mysterious.

Hurry up and catch up with the mystery of their Baishi Island.

The key family is definitely a boss-level figure.

They are not yet able to invite such a bully character to repair their computers and solve small things like viruses in the host computer.

The person in charge of the hotel was directly silenced by the technician's words.

But the technician remembered something, and said to him: "Director, in addition to finding a Trojan horse in the host, we also found that someone tampered with the monitoring and overwrote part of the monitoring in advance."

"Early coverage monitoring?"

The technician explained the principle to him, probably the other party took a screenshot of a surveillance video in advance, and then covered it in the background by means.

Chapter 4330 Everyone gathered to catch Sister Nian

In this way, from the monitoring room, it can only be seen that the intercepted monitoring video is being played repeatedly in the background, but not the picture captured by the real monitoring camera.

Scarface heard this, and interjected: "Where are the surveillance cameras you mentioned being covered?"

The technician glanced at him and saw that the person in charge had no objection, so he thought about it and said: "The 32nd floor has a lobby and the 3rd elevator on the left."

32nd floor, elevator and lobby.

The scar face connects the routes, and there is nothing to understand.

He instantly understood why he didn't see Qiao Nian and the others going out, and why the security guards didn't see Qiao Nian and the others appearing in the surveillance.

Because they changed the monitor long ago, put them together!

His face suddenly turned blue and then red. Under extreme frustration and anger, his whole face turned into a liver color, he clenched his back molars, and clenched his hands tightly.

Suddenly said to the technician: "After we swiped the sensor card to open the door, we saw that all the lights in the hotel were turned off, and then the alarm sounded. Is it related to the virus you mentioned?"

Who knew that the technician was stunned for a moment, his eyes widened instantly, and he looked at him in disbelief: "You mean...?!"

Then the technician bit his finger and said excitedly and excitedly: "It does matter, that Ken may be the command code that triggers the Trojan horse."

"Anyone who can achieve this level of command signals must be an expert in the industry, a hacker? Or someone from information engineering?"

His eyes were shining brightly, as if he wished to see himself immediately, and he didn't care about the imminent embarrassment of the hotel.

Scar's face was distorted, he had confirmed his conjecture, the veins on his forehead swelled up, he jumped violently, and immediately turned around to call the people under him.

"Go, go to the venue and arrest people!"

TMD, play Lao Tzu!

He was already fantasizing about how they would take revenge after catching Qiao Nian.

After all, on the territory of Baishi Island, he has never been so miserably tricked by people. How is this different from playing with a monkey?

Those two played him for a monkey from a juggling team!

He is thinking about the person he wants to catch, and he is currently walking around the auction venue.

I roughly looked at the layout, terrain, etc. inside.

Whether it was Qiao Nian or Ye Wangchuan, the two of them were too calm and calm, walking around in a leisurely manner, without any signs of panic.

It doesn't look like the kind of target person being targeted by Baishidao at all.

Coupled with the fact that the two were dressed very low-key, and wore peaked caps to cover part of their appearance, they really didn't attract a few people's attention.

Qiao Nian fiddled with his auction brochure, glanced at it casually, and turned another page, while casually saying to the people around him, "How do you plan to buy tungsten gold?"

She glanced at the noise at the door, saw a group of people rushing in, and began to look for their tracks.

Qiao Nian didn't show the slightest panic or fear on his face, but looked at Ye Wangchuan beside him with interest.

"From what I see, they don't intend to let us participate in the auction." If we can't participate in the auction, naturally we can't talk about buying tungsten gold.

This is also what Qiao Nian is worried about.

She also prepared a bottom-up plan, if you can't buy it, then—grab it!

But the sixth sense told her that Ye Wangchuan might have a different method, and he didn't need to go to great lengths to grab tungsten gold.

Ye Wangchuan saw those people starting to walk around the auction house as low-key as possible, and was still in the mood to answer Qiao Nian's question.

"See luck."
