

Madam's 4731

Chapter 4731 She knows exactly where her advantages lie

Xie Tingyun looked at her again with surprised eyes. Nian Nian usually liked to talk like this, but Nian Nian was more open and wanton.

Compared with Nian Nian, although the girl in front of her has a similar conversation and temperament to Nian Nian, she seems to be covered with a veil, hazy and unreal.

Xie Tingyun herself has experienced a lot, and her experience is higher than that of her peers, not to mention that she is two rounds older than Elena.

She lost interest when she saw that Elena was too 'modest', and that 'modestness' came from a hidden arrogance.

"That's it."

Elena was keenly aware that Xie Tingyun's tone had weakened, and she added obediently: "Because experiments sometimes require the use of computers, I majored in computer and software engineering in college."

Xie Tingyun became a little interested when he heard this: "Are you a double major?"

Elena nodded slightly: "I studied a little in college and got a degree certificate, which is considered a double degree."

She smiled again and looked into Xie Tingyun's eyes: "But I'm not good at studying. I don't think this is a double degree..."

She is very popular among the younger generation on the island because she is involved in all aspects and can be regarded as a decathlete.

She is telling Xie Tingyun that she is not good at studying and does not count as a double major. It is purely a modest statement made to win Xie Tingyun's favor.

However, after hearing this, Xie Tingyun just looked at her thoughtfully and did not show his appreciation for her. He just said: "I have a...niece, she is also good at computers like you."

Elena's heart skipped a beat after hearing this. She didn't know why a familiar figure appeared in her mind... But she quickly gave up the idea and felt that she had thought too much.

Xie Tingyun may be talking about the daughter of an old friend who majored in computer science, or there is such a girl among the younger generation of the Xie family who majors in computer science.

"But she has a different personality from you." Xie Tingyun seemed to like that 'niece' very much. He stretched out his face and said with a smile: "If she were sitting here, she would definitely not explain so much to me like you. She would only say the first sentence you just said, and be a little more knowledgeable."

"Really?" Elena was not sure how to answer the question for a moment.

Fortunately, Xie Tingyun was just talking, and he had politeness engraved in his bones. He immediately realized that it was inappropriate to talk to her about Qiao Nian, and immediately changed the subject: "I have read your... research."

Elena was indeed attracted to her attention and waited quietly for her comments.

Xie Tingyun looked at her deeply as she expected, and slowly said: "You can reach your current level at your age. No wonder Professor Steven accepted you as a closed disciple and called me repeatedly to ask me to help you. have a look..."

"The teacher is very nice." Elena is neither arrogant nor arrogant, and is very well-educated.

Xie Tingyun pondered for a moment: "I have known Professor Steven for many years. He gave me a lot of guidance when I was a student. What he means is that he wants me to teach you with him..."

Elena didn't expect that her teacher would actually tell Xie Tingyun directly. She was startled for a moment, her eyebrows were racing, and she looked at Xie Tingyun.

Trying to read Xie Tingyun's inner thoughts from her face.

Ten Lao warned her privately that she could not continue to maintain an ambiguous relationship with Moody and must find other ways to improve her status on the island...

She is not the only daughter in the Irene family.

The reason why she is different on the island, and even the family patriarch wants to look at her face to do things, is simply because she has rare things to live in and has investment value.

Chapter 4732 Send the things to Sister Nian to see

She knows very well where her advantages lie, so if she wants to maintain her current extraordinary status, she must work harder than others.

She is indeed a genius.

But she is not the kind of genius who just rests on her talent and waits for food. Invisible to others, she works harder than anyone else, trying to get out of the island, trying to cultivate her own power, and trying to establish herself in the shadow of Shadow Ten and others. A unique position in my heart...

She is ambitious enough to become the one who will influence the island in the future and replace the ten elders.

But now...

Elena knows very well that she must get help from Xie Tingyun so that the road ahead will be easier, otherwise she will fall into passivity...

"I have also heard the teacher mention your deeds, including some of your research manuscripts when you were young, and the teacher showed me some of them."

"I was able to start this project this time because I was inspired by reading your manuscript. I spent a year and a half researching on it to make the current model and those data reports."

Elena looked over frankly: "I admire sir very much... It would be an honor for me to study with him!"

Xie Tingyun is not only alone, but also has the independent Xie family behind her. The most important thing is that her husband Nan Tianyi is famous for doting on his wife.

If Xie Tingyun likes her, then the connections behind Xie Tingyun will be her help in the future...

Just like Professor Steven would introduce Xie Tingyun to her, and even help her connect with her to become a disciple.

Xie Tingyun can also help her take a step closer in the future.

However, she finished saying this.

Xie Tingyun frowned slightly. His face, which had been a little brighter for a while, did not have a happy expression, but was very complicated.

Elena's heart sank, and she felt a faint feeling of uneasiness.

She forcefully put this feeling behind her, and was sure that the project she came up with was enough for Xie Tingyun to recognize her talent.

"I..."

at this time.

Xie Tingyun's cell phone placed on the table suddenly rang. Xie Tingyun glanced at the caller ID, raised his eyes and said to her, "Sorry, I'll answer the phone."

She stood up again, left Elena behind, and walked to the side.

Elena curled her fingers slightly and looked at her leaving back, always feeling that things were about to escape her calculations and go in an unknown direction.

ifies.

Xie Tingyun on the other end didn't know that Elena was still staring at her back. The moment she answered the phone, she relaxed.

"Aunt Xie, do you have anything to do with me?"

A girl's slightly hoarse voice came from the other end of the phone, filled with water vapor. She must have just finished taking a shower, and she heard the sound of a chair being pulled over there.

Xie Tingyun kept the story short and briefly explained his side of the matter.

“I came here this time, and a friend I knew before found out about it, and said that one of his students was here too, and asked me to help take a look at her research project, and give me some pointers by the way.”

“I read her data report, and there is a critical loophole in it. I want you to help me take a look.”

Qiao Nian must have just taken a sip of water. After slurping, the girl's clear and jade-like voice came out: "...Well, send it to me."

Xie Tingyun walked back and took pictures of a few pages of research reports in front of Elena, and then took pictures of the 3D model on the computer.

Send it to the girls who are still on the call.

Qiao Nian remained silent, probably reading what Xie Tingyun sent her.

Chapter 4733 Sister Nian and Aunt Xie rejected her at the same time

When Elena saw this scene, she felt a little ridiculous and felt it was a bit exaggerated.

She is very confident in her own level. Apart from being unable to compare with her own teacher, there is no one else in the academy who can match her level.

When Xie Tingyun looked at her data, she spent more than ten minutes carefully reading the model and experimental data on the computer before drawing a conclusion.

She had just seen it clearly.

Xie Tingyun did not take a picture of the entire content, but selectively took a few important data and sent it like this.

Based on these data alone, can the other party determine what "weapon" she wants to use, and then make useful suggestions?

Privately, Elena thought that no one had such great ability, but in front of Xie Tingyun, she could not directly express her inner dissatisfaction.

Xie Tingyun really didn't mean to explain it to her. After taking the information and sending it to Qiao Nian, she returned to where she answered the phone.

I waited for about five minutes.

I heard the cold and arrogant voice of a * the other end of the phone: "I've finished reading. There is indeed a loophole in her experiment. As long as it is corrected, it can continue to advance."

"You also think it's the last problem with lighting the fire?" Xie Tingyun seemed to have a clear connection with her and asked immediately.

"Yeah." Qiao Nian responded casually: "It's an ignition problem, easy to solve. But..."

Qiao Nian's voice changed and she said bluntly: "I don't plan to help with this."

She has always been responsive to her elders' requests, especially those with whom she has a good relationship such as Nie Mi, Yuan Yongqin, Ye Lao, etc...

Xie Tingyun is also one of them.

This time Qiao Nian refused very thoroughly, and there was no room for change in her tone: "The person who designed this experiment has some aura, but her aura is not used in the right place. If making weapons is just for the pursuit of lethality, she has found the wrong person. "

Xie Tingyun was not angry after hearing this, but was very happy and said to her: "I have the same idea, but I still want you to see this thing."

She didn't waste Qiao Nian's time, and told her gently: "I will reject her, you go to bed early."

"Hmm." The * the other end responded, as if she could fall asleep just by lying on the bed.

Xie Tingyun said a few more words to her, then hung up the phone, walked back to the window seat, and sat back opposite Elena.

This time she said very briskly: "Sorry, I thought about it and I may not be able to help you."

"?" Elena obviously didn't expect Xie Tingyun to say this: "Didn't you just..."

Just now, Xie Tingyun clearly pointed out the loopholes in her experiment.

Xie Tingyun interrupted her: "I thought about it later. There are many reasons for the excessive deviation of the experimental results. It may be the raw materials, the time difference, or the influence of the laboratory environment... There are too many factors, and I don't know. It cannot be concluded through simple inference that there must be a problem in some aspect."

"You can go back and discuss it more with Professor Steven. He is also a master in this field. I believe he can help you."

This means to decline politely.

Elena didn't expect things to change so quickly. Although she was unwilling to bow her head, she still endured it and mentioned it: "The teacher mentioned it to you sir..."

Xie Tingyun's seemingly weak and gentle appearance actually has a big heart that cannot be shaken. After hearing this, she was not given a chance to continue.

"I have different pursuits from you."

Then he shook his head and told her very clearly: "I can't teach you!"

Chapter 4734 I have a favorite candidate, not you

Elena was stunned for another moment and quickly reacted.

"It's because of this project..."

Xie Tingyun nodded first, then shook his head: "It doesn't matter if it has something to do with this."

Elena curled her fingers and looked up at her, her eyes filled with incomprehension: "I don't understand what you mean."

Xie Tingyun sighed and looked directly into her eyes: "To be honest, I planned to refuse after reading the project you wanted to consult me on. It's just because of human feelings that I can't say it too directly. But since you If you have to ask me, I'll just put it bluntly..."

With a serious face and sharp eyes, she looked at Elena and said, "I don't deny your talent in weapon manufacturing, otherwise Professor Steven, as a master of physics, would not accept you as a closed disciple."

Elena is waiting for her but...

Sure enough.

Xie Tingyun changed her voice: "But our pursuits are different, so I can't help you. I will make this clear to Professor Steven."

Elena's face changed suddenly when she heard that. She pinched her palms and tried to maintain her apparent calmness. She looked at Xie Tingyun and stubbornly asked for an answer: "Why?"

Xie Tingyun frowned, feeling that what he said was very clear, but considering that Elena was still young, he just thought that she was too young and had not suffered any setbacks, so she had to get a result here.

"Your research is too murderous. Making weapons should not only pursue this, but there are more directions that you can specialize in."

For example, Qiao Nian also makes weapons.

Except the Tsar.

The weapons made by Qiao Nian never focus on the scale of damage, but instead try to reduce the damage to the human body as much as possible.

Many clever gadgets can also be used in modern battlefields, rather than just pursuing killing.

The project Elena showed her was good. But some of her designs are too cruel.

For example, this model is equipped with shotguns and the dum bombs used by Elena.

The special warhead design of the DUM bullet allows it to expand the warhead inside the human body after hitting the human body, showing a "flowering" shape, thus increasing the area of the wound, making it more lethal and more painful than ordinary bullets.

Many countries do not allow the use of this type of bullet due to humanitarian principles, but this type of bullet was used in the experimental report given by Elena.

Ever since she saw this kind of bullet, Xie Tingyun has never thought about teaching the girl in front of her, let alone accepting Elena as a disciple according to Professor Steven's wishes.

"As for accepting disciples..." Xie Tingyun said more directly: "I have a favorite candidate, not you."

Elena was like a thunderbolt, her mind went blank, her curled fingertips were trembling slightly, and she looked steadily at Xie Tingyun.

Xie Tingyun has a favorite candidate?

who?

Xie Tingyun is very calm: "She is the most talented person I have ever met. The most important thing is that she agrees with me in terms of ideas."

"I came out this time because you have good talent and I am an old friend of your teacher. He repeatedly asked me to come out to help you, so I came out... As for apprenticeship, I still say the same thing, I Not for you."

After saying that, she stood up and said to Elena: "Thank you for the warm water."

Then he picked up his mobile phone and left.

Elena looked at her leaving figure and sat stiffly on the chair for a long time, holding the coffee cup in front of her, unable to make a sound.

She saw that Xie Tingyun didn't leave any room for maneuver, and if he didn't accept it, he wouldn't accept it.

Just the person she said she liked?

Elena took a deep breath, knowing the importance of this apprenticeship with Xie Tingyun. She took out her mobile phone and called the teacher who was far abroad.

"Hello, teacher."

"I want to ask you something."

Chapter 4735 I met Qin Si when I went out

Outside.

Xie Tingyun just walked out of the coffee shop.

She saw a Maybach parked next to her on the side of the road, rolled down the window, and revealed Qin Si's handsome and surprised face.

"Aunt Xie, is it really you?"

"Who are you..."

Xie Tingyun was stunned for two seconds before he recognized it.

“Qin Si?”

Qin Si quickly asked the driver to open the door, got out of the car, and stood on the side of the road, face to face with Xie Tingyun, with a smile on his face: "It's me."

“Aunt Xie, why don't you say hello when you come to Beijing so that I can receive you.” He just passed by and accidentally saw Xie Tingyun walking out of the coffee shop, and he felt like it.

I didn't expect Xie Tingyun to come to Beijing.

Qin Si was surprised and pleasantly surprised, and subconsciously glanced into the coffee shop: "Aunt Xie is here to meet friends?"

Elena specially booked the venue in advance in order to drink water with Xie Tingyun better.

At a glance, he could see the only customer remaining in the coffee shop.

It's a girl.

Qin Si looked over from a distance and could probably tell that the other person was quite young and fashionably dressed, but he had a strange face and didn't know who he was.

Xie Tingyun remembered that he and Qiao Nian had visited his home several times in Independence Continent and that he was Qiao Nian's friend. He shook his head and said with a gentle expression: "A friend's student. My friend asked me to help read a research paper."

"Ah, that's it." Qin Si withdrew his gaze, no longer paying attention to Elena in the coffee shop, and focused on Xie Tingyun: "Aunt Xie, where are you going?"

"I'm going back to where I live." Xie Tingyun said warmly.

Qin Si immediately stepped aside and opened the car door. He was very gentlemanly and polite: "I'll see you off."

Xie Tingyun frowned slightly, hesitated for half a second, and then looked at him generously: "Then I'll trouble you, thank you." Qin Si smiled: "Aunt Xie, you are too polite. I was in Independent Continent before. , I often go to your house to have dinner. When you come to Beijing, I should show my kindness as a landlord..."

Xie Tingyun bent over and got into the car.

Qin Si knew etiquette very well. Instead of sitting in the back seat with him, he went around to the front and got into the passenger seat, and then told the driver: "Drive."

He turned around again, stretched his neck and asked: "Auntie Xie, which hotel are you staying in?"

"It's not a hotel. Niannian arranged a place for me to stay." Xie Tingyun reported the address.

Qin Si heard about Nanluogu Lane and then about the Siheyuan, and felt a little embarrassed in his heart, but he was also used to Qiao Nian's generosity.

Turning around, he ordered the driver to drive to the address reported by Xie Tingyun.

Nanluogu Lane is one of the landmark buildings in Beijing. It is surrounded by many courtyards, but except for a few of them, most of the courtyards are commercial.

Otherwise, it is a mixed-use compound.

Each household in mixed-living courtyards has only one room, which is very inconvenient to live in.

Of course, what Qiao Nian arranged for Xie Tingyun was not a mixed-use courtyard, but a single-family courtyard that could be lived in. Qin Si was a native of Beijing.

It is very clear that the value of a single-family courtyard house here that can be lived in is at least hundreds of millions.

The house number Xie Tingyung just reported is the most central location among the few single-family courtyard houses in that circle that can be lived in.

The price is upwards of 500 million.

Although it is not as expensive as the Ye family's old house, this price is still considered high in their circle.

Beijing circle is big.

The circle is divided into three, six or nine levels.

People in the top circles such as Ye Wangchuan, Qin Si, and Bo Jingxing are not intimidated by a courtyard house with a price of about 500 million, so they are a little surprised.

Chapter 4736 Sister Nian's birthday is of course a big deal

But there are many people like Tang Ning and Li De in the circle.

It is quite difficult for families like them to spend 500 million to buy a courtyard house.

It's not that I don't have the money.

Without this money, you can't enter the capital's circles.

It's just about cash flow.

The wealth people in the circle refer to is mostly real estate that is difficult to liquidate, such as shares and gold. In fact, there is not much cash that can be moved.

Unlike Qiao Nian, not only are there too many properties to count, but there is also too much cash. Really. Boss.

This was not the first day Qin Si met Qiao Nian, so he was briefly distracted. He quickly realized what he thought of and asked again.

“Aunt Xie, you came to Beijing this time just for your friend's students?”

He and Ye Wangchuan went to Independence Continent.

Much better than many people who don't even know where the independent continent is, Xie Tingyun's status is very clear.

Xie Tingyun married Nan Tianyi after she was also from a famous family in Independent Continent. While she was strong, she also had a husband who loved his wife as much as she loved her.

It can be said that he is also a figure that many forces want to win over in the independent continent.

She is not in good health, so it is unlikely that she will leave the Independent Continent...

I don't know where the friend's student that Aunt Xie mentioned came from, but he was able to persuade Aunt Xie to come to Beijing specifically...

Thinking of this, Qin Si couldn't help but recall the memory of looking at the coffee shop below. There was a very young girl whose face she didn't recognize.

"I'm not here for her." Xie Tingyun was very gentle and patient, and smiled lightly: "She was just there by the way."

"That's...?" Qin Si was confused. Xie Tingyun was not impatient and said: "Nian Nian's birthday is coming soon. I'll come over to celebrate her birthday."

"I was in poor health for the past two years, and I wanted to celebrate her birthday, but my health failed me... I recovered this year and my health is much better. I thought her birthday was coming soon, so I came to see her."

"Uh..." Celebrating Sister Nian's birthday?

Qin Si never expected that Xie Tingyun came here from Independent Continent just for this small reason!

But he soon relaxed.

When it comes to Qiao Nian, seemingly unreasonable things will become reasonable.

He remembered that Xie Tingyun and Nian Jie's mother were old friends. Nian Jie's mother had passed away many years ago, so it was not difficult to understand that Aunt Xie would come over specifically to celebrate Nian Jie's birthday.

Xie Tingyun himself didn't know that Qin Si was thinking about his old friend. After thinking about it, he asked him seriously: "Her birthday is coming soon. Nian Nian is still abroad. The birthday party..."

What she meant was that Qiao Nian was still outside and she didn't know if the birthday party had been booked. She wanted to help Qiao Nian prepare the birthday party.

Who would have thought that after Qin Si understood what she meant, he immediately waved his hand and said, "Aunt Xie, you don't have to worry. Mr. Ye came to see Mr. Jiang a long time ago and everything is ready."

This time for Qiao Nian's 20th birthday party, Mr. Ye and Mr. Jiang thought of going together, and they both planned to make a grand event.

Since then, Qiao Nian has rarely appeared in Beijing circles. Except for the previous banquet for college entrance, she has almost never held a banquet in the capital in her own name.

Secondly, this is a full birthday, which has a different meaning from the usual junior birthdays.

So the Ye family went to the in-laws early to discuss what to do for Qiao Nian's birthday this year and what the specifications would be.

Mr. Jiang is a low-key person who stays in a nursing home all year round. He seems to be isolated from the world, but in the end he is a man who has been involved in the circles of the capital for decades.

Even though I have retired a long time ago, I still know that there are many people in the circle who do not understand the situation. They always say bad things about the relationship between Qiao Nian and Ye Wangchuan in private.

Chapter 4737 Their family did not receive an invitation letter at all

He himself has been indifferent to fame and wealth his whole life, and does not care about gossip. He always comes to protect his shortcomings and cannot listen to others saying anything bad about his granddaughter.

So the two old men hit it off immediately and decided to hold a top-notch birthday party for the ladies of Beijing.

Xie Tingyun nodded slightly and asked again: "Do you want my help?"

Qin Si smiled and comforted her: "Don't worry, Aunt Xie! Sister Qiao's birthday party will be a beautiful one."

The Ye family's girlfriend's birthday party has become the biggest event in Beijing recently.

Ever since the Ye family and Jiang family started sending out invitations, various families and individuals in Beijing have been trying hard to squeeze in the birthday party.

There is no other reason than that this time Ye Maoshan personally came forward to invite a bunch of his old friends who were still alive.

This means that at this birthday party, you can see many big names that are difficult to see even in this circle.

Hence, many people go to great lengths just to get an invitation letter.

Qin Si, Zhang Yang and others must have invitation letters.

There are also people who are close to Qiao Nian, including Chen Yuan, Shen Qingqing, Liang Bowen, Wen Ziyu, etc., who all received invitation letters from Ye Maoshan.

For those who are relatively far away, for example, Shen Qingqing, who is studying in another city, also received a round-trip air ticket and a hotel room card thoughtfully prepared by the Ye family.

In order to make Qiao Nian feel like celebrating his birthday surrounded by friends, Ye Maoshan went to Qin Si and gave him a dozen invitations.

Let him fill in his own name and invite a few more friends who have good relations with Qiao Nian and have fun with him.

Ye Maoshan only has a dozen places for a birthday banquet of this size, which shows that Qiao Nian's status in his heart is much higher than the so-called birthday banquet itself.

Qin Si got the invitation letter and knew what the old man meant. In addition to giving Tangning an invitation letter, there were nine remaining places.

He specifically asked about it in the group.

The people in the group were naturally eager to have the opportunity to go. Everyone in the group was even more lively than during the Chinese New Year, and they all expressed that they wanted to go. Qin Si took Zhang Yang to screen the people.

the other side.

The Ye family and the Jiang family are sending out birthday invitations in full swing.

The Hai family, which had been very close to the Ye family in the past, had not received the invitation letter this time. The father and mother of the sea were so anxious that they waited for several days like ants on a hot pot.

It seems that the Ye family has not yet sent someone to send the invitation letter.

They finally couldn't sit still and found their old mother at home.

Hai's father looked at his old mother who was sitting on the sofa with a forlorn expression, and there was a bit of embarrassment on his elegant face: "Mom, that..."

Grandma Haitong seemed to know what they wanted to ask her: "You want to ask me why I haven't received the invitation letter yet?"

Haifu and Haimu had a stern look on their faces, not daring to look her in the eyes, but Haifu forced out an apologetic smile: "Mom, in previous years when the Ye family would hold a banquet, they would give us an invitation letter, but this time..."

Grandma Haitong looked at his face, snorted coldly, picked up the tea cup on the table, and said coldly: "It shows that you are a good teacher of your daughter!"

Haifu and Haimu's face was stunned for a while, and their ears felt hot. They both heard the irony in the old lady's words, but they didn't dare to talk back.

The sea mother wanted to find a crack in the ground and crawl into it, shutting up and not daring to speak.

After a brief silence, Hai's father still withstood the pressure for the sake of his career and the future of his family, and sneered again: "Mom, you and Ye Lao are old friends, do you think you can think of another way?"

Grandma Haitong laughed angrily, looking straight at him with a pair of sharp eyes, annoyed: "Old friend? You can say it out loud!"

Chapter 4738 I found someone and took her in.

"The only old friend in our family is your dad. Your dad has been dead for decades! Why don't you go to the cemetery, dig him up and apologize to them?"

When Hai's father heard this, he broke out in a cold sweat and didn't dare to speak at all.

Grandma Haitong calmed down her heaving chest, lowered her head and took a sip of water. She took a breath and said expressionlessly: "When someone remembers our previous friendship and is willing to give us a hand, we will enjoy it secretly. Now you are treating her I'm offended, and they don't want to talk about the friendship we had decades ago, so what can I do?"

Hai's father had a bitter look on his face: "Yes, we failed to educate our daughter well and develop her current personality. I also regret it..."

At the time of family planning, he only had one daughter.

Haitong has been cute and clever since she was born. She is also a little girl and is very popular with Mr. Ye.

Hai's father also thought that with the connections of the Ye family, Haitong would at least be able to get a good marriage no matter what the future holds.

The Hai family can only be considered a low-income family in Beijing. They can barely reach the social circle. They do some business at home and are considered rich outside.

In this circle, you are an upstart with no foundation.

Normally speaking, it would be difficult for Haitong to find someone in this circle. Even if he could find someone in this circle, he would be someone of similar level to them.

But Mr. Ye likes Haitong, and Haitong thinks that in the future, his daughter's marriage can at least be found in his own higher class...

So he pampered his daughter and raised her up... until the child developed a coquettish, willful and self-righteous character.

Haifu can see it now.

Haitong thought that their family had a high status in Beijing circles, similar to the Ye family, or only slightly worse than the Ye family.

I don't know the real situation of my family at all, and I don't know the real location of my family in Beijing.

"But she has grown up. Even if I want to teach her, I can only do it slowly..." Hai's father looked at his old mother bitterly.

"What's important now is that we didn't get an invitation from the Ye family and couldn't attend the birthday party. What do the contract parties...and those who have been helping us think about us?"

When Grandma Haitong heard this, her expression finally relaxed. She looked at her son who was complaining to her and sighed slightly.

"The Ye family is really angry this time, and besides, this is not Mr. Ye's birthday, but that person's birthday."

"Haitong has been unhappy with finding someone else several times before. Whether it's the person's own intention or the Ye family's other considerations, it's unlikely that we'll be invited this time."

Hai's father was really anxious now: "But our two families have been together for decades, and we have dad's relationship..."

Grandma Haitong interrupted him loudly: "Relationships cannot last a lifetime!"

Haifu's whole body was stiff and his face was extremely ugly.

He took on the burden of the family in a complicated manner, knowing very well how important the Ye family's attitude was to their business.

The reason why their family has been able to do a prosperous business in Beijing in recent years is mostly due to Mr. Ye's attitude.

Once they lost the Ye family as their backer...Hai's father's already ugly face suddenly turned pale and anxious.

Grandma Haitong waved her hands and said to them while calming down her mood: "I found your Aunt Li and asked her to take Haitong with me."

Hai's father originally thought that he was at the end of his rope, but he didn't expect that there would be a surprise waiting for him. Suddenly his eyes lit up and he was about to say: "Mom..."

Chapter 4739 What is your family background?

"Don't be too busy being happy." Grandma Haitong said seriously, "This time I beg daddy to sue grandma to let her attend that birthday party. She'd better not cause any trouble for me again, otherwise No one can wipe your butt."

Haifu and Haimu nodded sharply: "This is for sure."

Grandma Haitong then said: "In addition, I asked her to go, not only to let her attend the birthday party, but also to bring our sincerity."

She asked Haifu directly: "I remember you have a calligraphy and painting by Qi Baishi?"

Father Hai's face stiffened and his eyes flickered: "Mom, why are you bringing up that painting?"

He himself is a calligraphy and painting enthusiast. He spent a lot of effort to buy an authentic calligraphy from a collector, and he usually hides it like a treasure.

Grandma Haitong glanced at him: "What do you think?"

Then without giving him a chance to hesitate, he made the final decision: "Frame the painting and let Haitong take it as a birthday gift."

Without waiting for Father Hai to object, she glanced at the two of them like a knife, and said: "I don't care what methods you use, you must let her find the opportunity to apologize to others and win their forgiveness! Especially let Mr. Ye see it." Her sincerity."

Whether Qiao Nian forgives or not is another matter.

Grandma Haitong understands very clearly that what most people in this circle want is an attitude.

Since they still want to get help from the Ye family, they must be very open about admitting their mistakes.

Haitong must apologize to Qiao Nian.

When Hai's father heard this, he felt his headache and brain fever getting worse. He pressed his head and felt a little uncomfortable: "I will tell her properly."

"Well." Grandma Haitong seemed to no longer want to talk to them: "Go and tell her clearly, don't let me down again. I fought for this opportunity by going all out. If you can't seize it, you won't be able to do it in the future." Don't beg me, there's nothing I can do."

Hai's father was trembling all over. He looked at his old mother and squirmed, but in the end he couldn't say anything. He quickly agreed and went upstairs to find the person who was in solitary confinement.

"You want me to go to her birthday party?" Haitong heard Hai's father's request, sat on the bed, and refused very unhappily: "I won't go!"

Hai's father didn't expect that the whole family had finally won the opportunity. She didn't take it seriously and immediately twisted her lips in anger: "You have to go, and you have to apologize to me!"

Haitong raised her head and looked at him. Seeing her father's furious look, not only did he have no intention of compromising, but he became even more determined.

"I can't possibly apologize to her."

As she spoke, she avoided Hai's father's pursuit, stood up, walked to the makeup mirror and sat down, took out a bottle of perfume from the drawer and sprayed her wrist.

"She just fell in love with my brother, otherwise based on her family background...she is nothing."

Hai's father felt the veins on his forehead jump when he heard this. He suppressed his anger and walked to her side again, looking down at his daughter who didn't take his words seriously.

"What did you learn abroad?"

Haitong put the perfume in front of the makeup mirror unhappily and raised her head unconvinced: "I have my own independent personality and I will never bow to her!"

Hai's father endured it for a long time. After hearing these words, he couldn't hold it in any longer. He raised his hand and slapped him across the face.

Just listen—

"Snapped!"

Haitong was slapped so hard that she covered her face and turned her head, unable to recover for a long time.

However, the regret she expected did not happen. Haifu's angry scolding could be heard in her ears: "What kind of family background do you have? What kind of family background do you have? You don't really think that our family is close to the Ye family, which means we are close to the Ye family." Are they on the same level?!"

Chapter 4740 Even if we talk about family background, it's Sister Nian who is the best

"..." Haitong was stunned.

Hai's father said angrily: "Even if your grandfather is still alive, we are not from the same world as him! Besides, Miss Qiao... Mr. Jiang is still alive, and his family is better than ours in Beijing! You talk about your family background all day long. Bian, don't you really think that our family's conditions are better than others'?"

Their family relies on the Ye family for everything.

If the Ye family stops helping them, they will be nothing.

The Jiang family is not.

The Jiang family is a typical scholarly family. Mr. Jiang has many talents all over the world. He also has a certain status and a group of people around him have old connections.

I know both Master Nie Mi and Master Cheng.

Compared with their family, it seems that the two families are similar, but fundamentally speaking, the two families are very different.

People in the Beijing and city circles never look at how much money you have. They look at your accumulation over generations...

If calculated according to this, there is no comparison between Haitong and Qiao Nian!

Not to mention that they had already arranged a marriage with the Ye family, and the two families were related by marriage.

Haitong looked down on everyone one by one. He didn't even know what he relied on to have the confidence to say these things.

Hai's father looked at his daughter who had been slapped by him and couldn't recover for a long time. Although he felt sorry for her, he wanted to take this opportunity to wake her up.

"In short, you have to go even if you want to go, and you have to go even if you don't go. Not only do you have to go, but you also have to bring gifts, and follow your grandma's request to apologize to Qiao Nian properly in front of Grandpa Ye, and strive for his forgiveness! "

Haitong opened her mouth and felt a burning pain on her face. The pain on her face was nothing compared to the shock, anger and unwillingness in her heart.

However, Hai's father did not give her a chance to speak: "If you can't do it, I will stop all your bank cards. You should stay at home!"

Haitong suddenly raised his head and looked over, his eyes full of disbelief.

Her father actually stopped her bank card in order to force her to bow her head.

Hai's father ignored her and walked away: "Think it over for yourself!" Haitong heard a slamming sound at the door and suddenly came back to her senses. She saw her face in the mirror looking embarrassed, with the left side of her face slightly tilted. It looks swollen.

I was so angry that I swept all the cosmetics on the table to the floor, clattering all over the floor!

Then she sat on a stool and felt sulky for a while. She couldn't think about it anymore, and then she found the mobile phone under the pillow.

She thought about it and sent a message to Qin Si.

Then just sit there and wait for the other person to reply to you.

...

On the other side, Qin Si sent Xie Tingyun to his residence. After politely greeting Nan Tianyi, he said goodbye to the two of them and got back in the car.

The driver turned around and asked him respectfully: "Master Qin, where are we going next?"

Qin Si sat in the back row with his long legs bent. He seemed to be carefree, but in fact, he had an aristocratic temperament that could not be concealed around him. He even crossed his legs and played with his mobile phone: "Go to the company first."

The driver looked at his eyes and nose, and immediately started the car: "Yes."

Qin Si opened WeChat and was about to see who was on the list Zhang Yang sent him.

Looking down, I saw a name that had been on my WeChat list for a long time, and sent myself a new message.

He was a little surprised that he hadn't deleted this person yet.

Out of curiosity, he clicked on the other party's message. After reading it, Qin Si pursed his lips and was speechless for a while...and then blocked the person.

His cell phone screen lit up, and there was a message from Haitong that he didn't know the heights of.

—[Haitong: Do you know what Qiao Nian means? She sued me behind my back, told my parents that I was not allowed to play outside, and said bad things about my classmates. Now she wants me to attend her birthday party... What on earth does she want to do? 】
