

Madam's 4771

Chapter 4771 It was like a slap on her face

That Aina... The shadow of the young girl appeared in Xie Tingyun's mind again, but he felt that now that he recalled it, there was no similarity between her and Qiao Nian.

At least Qiao Nian, no matter what she wants to do or become a disciple, won't engage in these convoluted tricks, and she won't find other people to talk to her.

Aina looks generous, but when she acts, she is still not frank enough.

And this frankness is one of the most important things in communication between people.

Moody returned to the hotel where the banquet was held without success.

He left the guests behind, went to Elena's suite on the 33rd floor, and raised his hand to knock on the door.

“叩叩。”

The person inside opened the door for him. Seeing his ugly face, he paused for a second while turning his head and asked, "What's wrong?"

Moody walked in first. As he walked, he pulled the tie around his neck and threw it on the sofa. Unable to suppress his anger, he yelled in a low voice: "They don't know how to behave!"

Elena closed the door and followed him in. When she heard this, she felt a faint foreboding feeling in her heart.

Moody turned around abruptly, his destructive brown eyes full of anger, and said through gritted teeth: "She is just an abandoned child that the First Research Institute does not want. It is her blessing that you have taken a fancy to her. She actually said so brazenly, You're not the most talented person she's ever met..."

...You are not the most talented person she has ever met!

Elena's mind was hit hard with a wooden stick, and her whole body was shaken.

He heard Moody's angry voice again: "Oh, you are a recognized genius on our island. Who doesn't know your ability? She is just making excuses not to teach you."

Elena took a deep breath. She had never been so embarrassed before. She curled up her fingers hanging by her side and raised her beautiful starry eyes to look at him: "You went to find Xie Tingyun?"

Moody belatedly noticed that she seemed unhappy, and he walked over to hold her hand a little uneasily: "Lina, I want to help you."

Elena shook her hand away suddenly: "You didn't discuss it with me!"

The fierce and heart-wrenching anger in Mo Di's body was suppressed by her. He reached out to pull her again, and even apologized: "I'm sorry, I wanted to help you, so I didn't tell you... don't be angry. ."

"She keeps saying that she looks down on your talent. There's no need for us to beg her again." He lowered his eyes and looked at the pale girl with distress and pity: "Don't you want to find a teacher? I'll help you find it. I promise it won't be any worse. Thank you Tingyun Chai!"

Elena felt her head buzzing, and the words Moody conveyed to Xie Tingyun were like a loud slap in the face.

The reason why she was furious was not so much because she was angry that Mo Di didn't tell her and ran to Xie Tingyun, but because Xie Tingyun's words crushed the self-esteem she had always been proud of.

Seeing that she hadn't spoken yet, Moody felt even more distressed: "Lina, you will always be the best in my eyes! Not just me, everyone on our island knows your strength. She doesn't like you, it's hers The loss is not your fault..."

He does not believe that there is anyone better than Elena in the world.

He is good enough on his own, including Shadow Ten, and there are so many people on the island. They, the second generation of the third world, have enjoyed educational resources since they were young that cannot be imagined from outside... And they are trained by enjoying the top education, so of course they are better than others in terms of cognition and abilities in all aspects. .

Chapter 4772 As long as you are happy, I will be happy

They all agree that Elena is the best.

Moody doesn't think there is anyone better than Elena.

So Xie Tingyun's so-called "sitting in a well and looking at the sky" theory is nothing more than an excuse for himself.

"She said she has someone she likes, but I want to see if she can find someone better than you!" Moody couldn't help but get angry again at the end.

Instead, Elena clenched her fists and dug her nails deeply into her flesh. The pain made her wake up slightly from the burning shame.

"Don't do that next time. Discuss with me what you want to do in advance. At least I'll have an idea."

"Sorry, Lina." Moody lowered his eyelids again, his face full of guilt.

Elena looked at him, her breathing became much smoother, she put her hand on Moody's shoulder and patted it gently. The action was not too intimate, but the details showed that their relationship was closer.

"Moody, I know you are doing it for my own good."

Moody felt the strength of the hand on his shoulder, and swept away the gloom in his heart. He did not feel that Elena's behavior was suspicious of taking advantage of him, and he only saw her shadow in his eyes.

He said softly: "Others think that you are from a famous family and that you are a rare genius on the island. You are excellent in all aspects and are beyond reproach... Only I know how hard you have worked hard to get everyone's recognition since you were a child. You are better than all of us." You are serious and work harder than us. You are the best in my heart!"

"Aina, you don't have to worry about the teacher. I will find a replacement for Xie Tingyun for you."

Elena's long eyelashes drooped slightly to cover the emotions in her eyes, and she seemed a little embarrassed: "But, your father..."

Mu Di immediately said: "Don't worry, I won't let him know. I have been outside for so many years without my own people."

Elena's eyelashes trembled, she raised her head and said sincerely: "Thank you, Moody. You are the best person to face me among all the people. I am really grateful to you."

Moody was satisfied, as if he had received a huge compliment. His handsome eyebrows stretched out, and his voice was low and serious: "As long as you are happy, I will be happy."

Elena responded in a low voice, as if she understood, but also seemed not to understand: "Thank you."

Moody patted her shoulder and planned to go out: "No matter what, since the family dinner has been held, I'd better go out to socialize. You just stay up there. I'll call you when the time is almost up."

"Okay." Elena nodded.

Moody looked at her deeply again, with deep affection and forbearance, then turned around and went out to greet the guests.

"Click—" There was a closing sound at the door.

Elena was sure that the person was gone.

The expression on her face quickly dropped, she clenched her palms again, walked to the floor-to-ceiling window, and looked coldly at the scenery of the capital city.

There are high-rise buildings everywhere in Beijing, and vehicles are constantly flowing on the endless viaducts. From the angle where she stands, it seems that everyone can be trampled under their feet.

But when she actually wanted to do it, Elena discovered that it was not as simple as it seemed on the surface.

Moody moved out of her identity on the island, but Xie Tingyun still refused to accept her... This was beyond Elena's understanding!

She repeatedly approached Xie Tingyun and wanted him to be her teacher.

In addition to Xie Tingyun's unparalleled achievements in physics and weapons manufacturing, the most important thing is the resources that Xie Tingyun himself can bring.

Chapter 4773: I don't even want to say hello to her

Moody said to help her find a teacher similar to Xie Tingyun... Elena's eyes were dark and showed a little disdain.

She believes that there are masters out there who can rival Xie Tingyun's achievements, so what? Can those people have the background and resources that Xie Tingyun brings?

Other than studying, the main purpose of finding teachers is to use their backgrounds and identities to increase her influence on the island.

Otherwise, she could just have Steven as a teacher.

Moody... is still too young!

Elena put her hands in front of the glass window, took a deep breath to adjust her mood, and silently planned in her mind what she should do next.

at the same time.

Haitong arrived at Li's house accompanied by the driver, waited at the door for Li De's family to come out, and then went to the banquet with them.

The Hai family spent a lot of money to find her a G family limited edition evening dress this time. The pink skirt overlapped like clouds in the sky, and the exposed shoulders maximized the only sweetness in her appearance. Haitong She was dressed up very sweetly and charmingly.

Of course there is a premise, and you need to ignore the unwillingness and impatience between her eyebrows.

Before helping his grandma out, Li De was still complaining dissatisfiedly: "Grandma, do you really want to take that woman with you? She is just a troublemaker. It would be better if she doesn't cause trouble for our family..."

Father Li was frightened when he heard this. He frowned and asked him to stop talking: "Okay, you can't say something nice. If you can't speak, don't say it!"

Li De was very unconvinced when he was scolded: "I'm telling the truth. You don't know how wrong that woman's brain is. You will definitely regret it when you find out."

While talking, several people had already gone out.

As soon as the four members of the Li family went out, they saw Haitong waiting outside.

Grandma Li De subconsciously stopped and observed the dressed-up girl standing next to the car, with scrutiny in her eyes...

Li De made a sound and turned away, not even wanting to say hello.

It was Haitong who heard this sound and turned around to see them coming out. She tried her best to smile and say hello to the people who came out: "Hello, Grandma Li."

Then she glanced at several people: "Uncles and aunts."

Her eyes fell on Li De, and Haitong's face froze. She originally wanted to ignore him, but she remembered her parents' warning before going out.

With a sullen face, she called out unwillingly: "Li De, long time no see."

"Haha." Li De didn't want to give her a pretentious greeting, so he sneered twice and pulled his grandma to the car: "Grandma, let me help you get in the car."

"Li De!" Father Li shouted, but Li De walked faster and faster and ignored him.

Father Li turned around a little embarrassed and said to the girl who was frozen there: "I'm sorry, that's just how he is. He has been spoiled by me since he was a child."

"It's okay, uncle." Haitong said this, but he was already so angry that he wanted to turn around and leave.

Father Li saw that she was very polite despite her young age, and he felt a little better about her, so he said to her gently: "We are ready to set off. You can come with us."

Speaking, he opened the door of the luxury car parked next to him and got in first.

Li's mother nodded symbolically to Haitong and followed her husband into the car.

After coming and going, in a blink of an eye, Haitong was the only one left at the door of Li's house who had not yet gotten in the car.

She saw that the other family did not pay attention to her perfunctory, so she gritted her teeth, turned around, opened the car door, and bent down to get in the car.

"Just follow them."

"Okay, miss."

Chapter 4774 You are that student at Cambridge

Haitong suppressed her anger, thinking about her previous treatment in Beijing, and then thinking about the idleness she had just suffered. The more she thought about it, the more uncomfortable she became, and the more she thought about it, the more she couldn't figure it out...

But no one was talking to her now, so she had no choice but to endure her arrogance and sit in the car until her destination.

They waited for their car to slowly arrive at the place where they would have lunch this afternoon, then drove to the door of the hotel and stopped.

The two cars in front got out first.

Li De helped his grandma get out of the car. His father and mother, who were one step behind, followed him, and the family of four stood together.

Haitong, who got off the car last behind them, looked like an outsider.

Haitong had never experienced such humiliation before. He immediately curled up his fingers and clenched them into fists, biting his lower lip, feeling extremely uncomfortable.

at this time.

At the same place, another car stopped behind them.

That was a car with a Beijing license plate number starting with 0, which attracted the attention of many people, including Li De's family who also saw the car parked behind them.

A middle-aged man in a suit and tie quickly got out of the black Mercedes-Benz. The man was not very tall. From his burly figure, it could be seen that he worked out a lot on weekdays.

The key is that this person does not look like an Asian, but a foreigner.

Foreigner?

Grandma Li De and Father Li are still surprised.

Beijing's economy is developing well and there are many foreigners. It's not like they have never seen foreigners before, but they know the license plate number.

The Beijing license plate that this person was riding on started with 0, which is not something that ordinary people can use. Even if the other person is not the owner of the license plate number, he still has a close relationship with the owner of the license plate number.

While they were still trying to guess the identity of the foreigner, they heard Haitong unexpectedly exclaim: "Mr. Fred?"

The Li De family looked over in surprise.

When he saw Haitong taking three steps at a time, he was so surprised that he blocked the man's path and greeted him enthusiastically: "Mr. Fred, I didn't expect to meet you here. I'm so happy."

"Who are you?" Fred also didn't expect that he would be stopped at the door, and the other person was so enthusiastic. He looked at Haitong intently for a few times, and with his strong memory, he just remembered: "Ah, you are in Cambridge. That student from the college..."

"It's me!" Haitong was very happy.

She spotted the Li De family out of the corner of her eye, paused, raised the corners of her mouth, and said to Fred with a proud light in her eyes: "Can I call a few friends over?"

"..." Fred was actually anxious to go in to find Ye Lan, but as an elder and a gentleman, he still nodded: "Of course."

"Grandma, uncles and aunts." Haitong called the four of them over.

Grandma Li De and her parents looked at each other and saw surprise in each other's eyes. They did not expect that Haitong would suddenly call them over.

Li De took one look at the proud girl and felt extremely disgusted. Before his parents could speak, he let go of his hand and said clearly: "You have to go alone, I won't go."

"You..." Li's father was very angry at his rebellious attitude, but fortunately his mother gave him a look to stop him from educating his children.

Grandma Li De felt sorry for her grandson and said softly: "This is the entrance to the banquet, please be careful!"

"Yes, Mom." Father Li did not dare to disobey his mother's words, so he had to bow his head and accept the lesson.

Mother Li said at this time: "Mom, can't we get through?"

Grandma Li De looked at Haitong again, thought about it, and said to them: "Let's go over and have a look."

Chapter 4775 She knows the boss of IPA

Their family is not considered outstanding in Beijing circles.

Of course she also wants to be like the son of the Zhang family, who can gradually move her family into the top circle by building good relationships with people above her.

Because Li De refused to go over even if he died, and insisted on waiting for them to come back.

Finally, Grandma Li De and her parents walked over.

Haitong and Fred had already exchanged pleasantries. When they saw the three people coming over, even though they did not see Li De, they enthusiastically took Grandma Li De and others to introduce them to the burly foreigners.

“Mr. Fred, this is my grandma’s good friend, Grandma Li.”

She then introduced Father Li and Mother Li: "This is uncle and aunt."

Then, under the gaze of the three members of the Li family, she raised her chin slightly, picked up the broken hair hanging from her ears, and said softly: "This is the person in charge of IPA, Mr. Flender."

Father Li and Grandma Li De were shocked and looked at the inconspicuous foreign man. They did not expect that he had such a big background.

They quickly shook hands with each other: "Hello, hello, nice to meet you."

Fred shook hands with them one by one out of politeness: "Well, I'm glad to meet you too."

While shaking hands with both parties, Haitong said lightly: "I met Mr. Fred when I went to Cambridge to check the data given by my tutor. Mr. Fred helped me a lot at that time. I have always been grateful. Unexpectedly What a coincidence to meet Mr. again here."

She revealed in her words that she had a good relationship with the boss of IPA.

Grandma Li De couldn't help but look at her with special eyes and said with a smile: "I didn't expect you to know so many people."

Haitong pursed her lips and smiled, and said in a tone that seemed humble but actually proud: "I just...make a few friends."

The head of IPA is her friend.

It will be more honorable to speak out.

Haitong thoroughly enjoyed the attention paid to her by the Li family, and felt so happy that the depression she had felt since the morning was gone.

She even had the mood to talk to Fred: "Mr. Fred, if you don't stay overseas all year round, how come you have time to come to Beijing this time?"

It sounds like Beijing is some kind of backward place.

Fred didn't hear the convoluted nature of her words, but he simply kept a little patience with her because she was the niece whom Ye Lan once asked him to help.

"Come here and catch a wanted criminal."

Fred thought: "Attend another birthday party."

Haitong simply ignored the second half of the sentence, just thinking that he was stopping by for a birthday party, and caught the first half of the sentence: "Do you need help?"

Seeing Fred looking over with a surprised look, she tugged the non-existent broken hair around her ears, pursed her lips and said sheepishly: "I know some people in Beijing who may be able to help you... My family I also know a lot of people."

Grandma Li De didn't expect that she said it so naturally, so she turned her head and looked at her several times, her eyes were a bit incredible.

It seems that Haitong got the confidence to promise to help the boss of IPA.

Haijia is indeed extraordinary compared to ordinary people.

After all, no matter how bad the Hai family is, they are still the ones who have entered this circle.

But the Hai family has only half-stepped into this circle. Without Mr. Ye's care over the years, the Hai family would be nothing.

Their family is one level higher than the Hai family, and they don't dare to say anything in front of the person in charge of IPA that they can help.

Does she know who they want to arrest? What level of relationships do we need to use?

Chapter 4776 I can't wait for everyone to see it

They were the people called by Haitong. Although Grandma Li De wanted to make acquaintance with the IPA person in charge through this relationship, she still became nervous when she heard Haitong talking irresponsibly. They were also taken into the ditch.

Fortunately, Fred had no intention of agreeing: "No, I found someone to help."

Haitong was still there and said: "You really don't need help? I'm relatively familiar with the city. If you need it, don't be polite."

Grandma Li De's brain was buzzing when she heard this, and she quickly interrupted her: "Haitong, since Mr. Fred said that he doesn't need help anymore, don't cause trouble."

Haitong was a little unhappy and was about to say something.

Fred looked away from them at this time and saw the people at the door. He was no longer in the mood to waste time with them at the door.

Just said to a few people: "I still have something to do, why don't you go first?"

Hunting to wait for Haitong to speak.

He staggered past the four people and walked quickly towards the entrance.

As soon as Fred left, Haitong frowned and said a little unhappily: "Grandma Li, what are you doing? I also want to introduce you to leave your contact information so that we can have dinner together."

She spoke as if she knew Fred very well, almost to the extent that they had known each other for years.

Grandma Li De couldn't figure out how familiar she was with her, so she laughed and said, "IPA often handles confidential cases. I think they don't want to talk about it, so I'm reminding you."

Haitong thought about it and said, "That's right."

Grandma Li De saw that she was no longer holding on, paused, and looked at her with surprised eyes: "Do you know the person in charge of IPA? We still have a good relationship with him?"

Haitong knew they would ask this question, raised a slight smile, and imitated Elena's calm attitude: "Ah, we know each other. Our relationship is not bad. Didn't I say that? He helped me complete the tutoring assignment before He also took me to visit the IPA headquarters... he was quite friendly to me."

Grandma Li De was dubious, but seeing that she didn't look like she was lying, she didn't ask any further.

It was at this time that Father Li said, "It's almost time, shall we go in first?"

Grandma Li De came back to her senses and looked at Li De who was waiting for them not far away playing with her mobile phone. She no longer struggled with the relationship between Haitong and Fred, and greeted Haitong: "Let's go together."

Her attitude has obviously changed compared to that in the morning.

Haitong knew very well why the other party changed his attitude. She enjoyed Grandma Li De's care with peace of mind and prepared to go in with light steps.

She didn't expect Fred to come too.

This is very convenient for her.

Didn't those people in Beijing reject her?

She just wanted Qin Si, Zhang Yang, and Li De to take a good look at her. Her years of studying abroad were not in vain.

She knows as many people as Qiao Nian.

His status is higher than Qiao Nian knew!

Haitong couldn't wait to go in and let everyone see it.

[Richard: Stop talking. That woman just met a foreigner at the door. She pulled my grandma and the others over to say hello with a proud look on her face... With that look, someone who didn't know would have thought she was the one having the birthday party today. The protagonist. The best actor~] machines | ]

[Richard: No more, they are back. ]

Li De complained in the group where he usually brags. Just as he was about to put away his phone, he received a private message from Zhang Yang.

Chapter 4777: He also became a low-end circle

He opened it.

[I just saw you talking in the group, Haitong is here? ]

Li De looked at how many people had to take a few steps to reach him. It was too late to type, but he could make a voice call.

He held down the microphone of his mobile phone and sent a voice message: "Ah, you came from my family. I have told my grandma several times, but she just refused to believe that this woman has a lot of brains and she had to bring her here."

"My parents listen to my grandma, and there's nothing I can do about it. Mr. Zhang, if she causes trouble later, you have to help me explain to Mr. Qin and Master Wan."

"I strongly disagree with her coming, but I can't get over my grandma's promise to my old sister, and I can't erase the decades of friendship."

Li De sent a few voice messages and looked up to see Haitong walking in front of him.

Facing Haitong's dissatisfied look, he slowly put away his cell phone and put it into his pocket. Without looking at Haitong, he said to his grandma: "Grandma, please think clearly." Want to take her with you?"

He pointed in Haitong's direction rudely and curled his lips, but did not say "dislike" written on his face: "What if she gets into trouble..."

Father Li scolded: "Li De."

The old lady held down his hand and prevented him from getting angry outside: "Okay, what do you care about with a child?"

Father Li was so angry that he blew his beard and glared, but there was nothing he could do about it. He said angrily: "He still has a child... There is no one around his age in Beijing who doesn't go into the company early to help the family. He is the only one who works all day long." Messing with cats and dogs outside is not a proper thing."

"Okay!" The old lady had an aura of calmness and dignity. She suppressed Father Li's anger and turned her head to look at her grandson.

"I have been friends with Haitong's grandma for many years. I have promised her that you should stop making trouble, otherwise I will be angry too."

"Grandma..."

"If you want to make our whole family a laughing stock, just continue to get angry with me outside." The old lady remained unmoved and had a firm attitude.

Li De glanced at the girl next to her unconvinced. Finally, with a dark face, she stopped saying anything and acquiesced to join Haitong.

The old lady dealt with him, then turned back to Haitong beside her and said, "He just has this temper, don't worry about it."

"I know." Haitong won a comprehensive victory. Of course, he didn't bother to argue with his defeated generals. He said very generously: "He has been staying in the country and has a paranoid personality led by his friends. I can understand it."

"Haha." Li De looked at her with a half-hearted smile and hehehe twice.

The group of people he usually hangs out with include Tang Ning, Zhang Yang, Young Master Qin, and Young Master Wei...his own circle has somehow become a low-end circle.

She also described her friends as short-sighted and immeasurable.

But he promised the old lady not to make a fuss. Even though Li De was furious, he still resisted the desire to have a big quarrel with her, turned around and walked in front, leaving the others behind.

The old lady didn't like the way Haitong spoke either. She frowned and thought about the previous IPA person in charge. She didn't say anything.

"Let's go, let's go together."

The door.

Ye Lan is in charge of greeting the guests.

As it approaches 11 o'clock, more and more people are coming.

She had just asked the secretary next to her to bring Fred in, when she saw four people walking towards her.

The old lady headed by her is Mrs. Li whom she is familiar with.

She just said hello: "Mrs. Li, Mr. Li..."

Chapter 4778: Aunt Ye is colder than she thought

In a blink of an eye, the corner of my eye glanced at Haitong who was following him.

Haitong noticed her looking at him, immediately twirled his hands, trembled his eyelashes uneasily, and called out to someone first: "Aunt Ye."

"Yeah." Ye Lan's expression turned calm. After responding, he saw the anxious girl and then thought of her old man who died early.

In the end, he didn't say anything: "Go in."

There are a few blind people who can hang out in this circle. Grandma Li De and Father Li's heart skipped a beat when they saw Ye Lan's fast and cold attitude. They already realized that they might have been deceived.

According to the Hai family, Ye Lan has deep feelings for Haitong and is just angry with her for not living up to her expectations. Ye Lan shouldn't have this attitude.

Ye Lan's cold attitude showed that what Li De said was true.

The Ye family was very dissatisfied with Haitong's trouble with Qiao Nian at the Grand Theater...

They have already brought the people.

Even if Grandma Li De felt a little regret at this moment, she could only force herself to let her son hand over the gift.

"This is a little trick from our family. They are all girls' favorite gadgets. I don't know if Miss Qiao will like them."

People in this circle are not short of money.

Ye Maoshan is famous for not accepting gifts.

They don't give gifts that are so expensive that they have no eyesight.

So the "little things" that Grandma Li De talks about are indeed not expensive jewelry or bank cards.

They were looking for some small jewelry that girls would like, and the price was around 80,000 to 100,000.

It's not too bad.

It's not too expensive either.

It is the kind that is delivered within the range that the other party can just accept.

Ye Lan is also a member of the circle. Seeing that the old lady hinted that it was not an expensive gift, she was not polite and asked the returning secretary to accept it.

Her eyebrows were soft and her eyes were warm: "I would like to thank you for Niannian." Grandma Li De waved her hands hurriedly: "You are too polite. It's Miss Qiao's birthday. This is the proper courtesy."

"I'll have someone take you in." Ye Lan's attitude towards her was okay.

The secretary put down his things and prepared to lead the group in.

Haitong felt very uncomfortable when she saw that Ye Lan ignored her except for giving her a cold response at first.

Grandma Li De and the others have already gone in.

She walked up to Ye Lan and said, "Aunt Ye. This is my... gift."

Ye Lan lowered his eyes and saw the brocade box handed to him. He did not reach out to take it. Instead, he raised his eyes and looked at her sharply.

"Today is Nian Nian's birthday. If you remain the same as before, not only me but also your Grandpa Ye will never forgive you."

Her cold warning sounded in Haitong's ears, and her heart felt like a knife. The fingers holding the gift turned white: "I didn't target her specifically."

Ye Lan looked past her and saw another guest coming. He didn't have the patience to listen to what she had to say, so he told her: "I won't accept your gift. If you want to give it, it depends on whether the person involved accepts it or not."

Haitong felt like a slap in the face, his face was blue and white, but he didn't dare to talk back, so he had to quietly take back the gift box.

"I, I went in first."

"..." Ye Lan was extremely disappointed with her because of what happened last time. He just nodded without making a sound and motioned for her to go in.

Haitong couldn't stand her neglect and ran into the venue as if he was running away.

Just now a new guest has arrived.

Ye Lan had no time to care about Haitong, so she picked up her mood and continued to greet the new arrivals.

Haitong entered the infield and realized how grand Qiao Nian’s birthday party was today.

Chapter 4779: I still look down on Sister Nian’s friends

The gorgeous banquet hall is extremely luxuriously decorated, with crystal chandeliers hanging from the high ceiling, emitting warm and soft light.

The guests were dressed in gorgeous evening gowns and blended into the atmosphere of the banquet.

They were chatting and laughing, and the laughter was endless.

Music comes from the corner, soft and moving, adding vitality and romantic atmosphere.

There were also professional waiters at the banquet. They wore neat uniforms and had focused and sharp eyes. They shuttled between the guests from time to time, poured wine and served food to everyone lightly and elegantly, and cared for every guest who came.

After Haitong came in, no one came to answer her.

Only the waiter handed her a glass of champagne, and then quickly walked away to do other things.

She stood inside like an outsider who had barged in, and was incompatible with the atmosphere here.

She was a little reserved at first, but she was soon attracted by several young men and women who were about the same age as her—

Several young people who looked like they had just entered college gathered together, and in the middle sat an old man in a wheelchair. He had gray hair but a kind and charitable face.

What everyone was talking about made the old man laugh.

Beside the old man, he was accompanied by a very outstanding-looking man, wearing a suit and leather shoes, and he seemed to have a sense of profligacy.

Haitong recognized him at a glance as Jiang Li, the most popular male star in the country. Jiang Li was a top star with countless fans. As long as he was from Z country, very few people knew about Jiang Li.

Even though Haitong came back not long ago, he had heard of Jiang Li's name.

People outside only know that Jiang Li is a big star, a popular person with a good family background. But few people know that Jiang Li's family conditions are good enough to enter the Beijing circle.

Of course these are not her focus.

What she noticed was that the young men and women were wearing very ordinary clothes.

In this high-level banquet, the few people wearing ordinary clothes did not look like they were attending a banquet, but more like visiting relatives, which was extremely shabby.

Ye Wangchuan's friends are either rich or noble, and it is absolutely impossible to invite such people. Then these people... can only be related to Qiao Nian and be Qiao Nian's friends!

She had long heard that before the Jiang family recognized the woman, the woman had been staying in a small place around the city, and her academic performance was generally not liked by the family.

In that kind of environment, what kind of classy friends can Qiao Nian make?

When Haitong saw this, she couldn't help but cast a disdainful glance at Chen Yuan and others. From the clothes Chen Yuan and Shen Qingqing were wearing to the bags they were carrying, she wanted to use a magnifying glass to look at the brands. It was certain that none of Chen Yuan and the others were wearing famous brands, and they became more and more disdainful.

She didn't bother to go over to say hello, but looked for Fred in the crowd.

She hasn't seen Zhang Yang and the others yet.

But many people from the group have already come.

Moreover, that annoying Li De had already run to say hello to those people, and he was about to form a group around them. Haitong didn't need to guess to know that Li De would definitely say bad things about her...

If she wants to feel proud, she has to prove her connections in front of these people.

It proves that they are blind.

Treat the country bumpkins who come around the city as treasures!

Her friends are at the level of the head of IPA, but what about Qiao Nian? The friends I found are all rubbish.

Can't even afford clothes for the banquet, it's so shabby and embarrassing!

"What is she doing?"

“Look at her looking around, who is she looking for?”

"Don't come to us, right? We can't serve the eldest lady, and we can't stand the princess's temper."

Chapter 4780: Who is she looking for?

Li De found his friends who usually play together. After everyone said hello to each other, Li De talked about how his grandma brought Haitong.

Most of the people in the group knew that he had talked about the tickets before, and they were very grateful to this confused "eldest lady" of the Hai family.

Coupled with the fact that Qin Si and Zhang Yang made it clear that they didn't like Haitong, everyone was afraid of causing trouble.

Li De took a sip of the wine and answered angrily: "You said it as if I can **** stand her, she's so annoying."

One of the green ones said, "I don't know when Master Wan and the others will come."

"Tsk." Li De sneered and looked up at him: "Do you think this guy is afraid? Her skin is thicker than the city wall, so she won't worry about this. And in her opinion, she is better than Miss Qiao, right? Master Wan's biological sister! Mr. Ye's biological granddaughter!"

Everyone looked at each other and couldn't believe their ears.

What the hell?

Mr. Wang's biological sister? Mr. Ye's grandson's daughter?

How come they haven't heard that Mr. Ye has such an old grandson? It's too outrageous.

Li De seemed to see the shock in their eyes, took another sip of wine, and continued angrily: "I told you, I kindly gave her tickets, but she called me and scolded me for not giving her a good seat. This is not What do you think of yourself as a member of the Ye family?"

Their family's status is more than a little higher than that of the Hai family. Why does Haitong think that he can treat him as his grandson? Don't you think of yourself as the eldest lady of the Ye family?

"She was still saying at the door that my friends are of low class. Just watch, this woman won't stop. Sooner or later she will overturn."

People even think it's magical.

It's so outrageous. He opened the door for outrageous things. It's outrageous.

They are of low class...

How did Haitong have the courage to say this?

Without Mr. Ye, the Hai family and she would not even be qualified to enter today's banquet. At least they were invited here because of their family...

Why does Haitong dislike them? Is it based on courage?

Haitong didn't know that Li De had exposed her.

She felt someone was watching her.

But she was in a hurry to find someone, and didn't pay too much attention to those who paid attention to her. She just assumed that those people were attracted by her appearance or family.

There were many people in the banquet hall, but Fred had obvious foreign features, so it was easier to find him.

At this moment, he was standing with Bo Jingxing, and the two of them were talking about the international situation and the wanted criminals he wanted to arrest this time.

"...This wanted financial criminal has been on the run for a long time. We at IPA have been looking for him. We recently received news that he is hiding in country Z. We have asked the police to cooperate, but if we rely on big data, we will have to wait. This person is extremely cunning. I'm afraid he'll run away."

"He owes tens of billions. We have to take him back to clean up the mess, interrogate him and make him account for the accomplices behind him and spit out the stolen money."

Fred has been working on this matter for a while. He traveled to four or five countries for half a month before confirming that the person was hiding here.

He was determined to catch the person as soon as possible, but just relying on the clues in his hand to find a person would undoubtedly be like finding a needle in a haystack. Even if he cooperated with the police, it would take time.

But what IPA lacks most is time.

If that person were not caught, thousands of investors who had been defrauded and lost all their money would have jumped off the building, and a family would have been saved a day earlier.

This is why Fred is anxious.

He wanted to help the victims get caught as soon as possible.
