

Magic Era 1131

Chapter 1131 Plan

Morgan, who was standing next to Lin Yun, hesitated and comforted in a soft voice, "Sir Merlin, don't be impulsive. These Beastmen know more about the Raging Flame Battlefield than we do, they knew about the Dark Night Phoenix from the start and they can't get rid of this big bird. We can't even drive it away, we should just give up. Our harvest could be considered pretty good this time..."

Lin Yun casually looked at the Dark Night Phoenix occupying the array and showing no signs of leaving.

"I just want to give it a try, you just have to help pin it down so I can get close."

Lin Yun's words gave no way out for the Beastmen.

After all, they had already signed the contract. It would be considered violating the contract if they escaped midway.

On the human side, more than half of the people were supporting Lin Yun, especially the four Heaven Mages, they all agreed to let Lin Yun give it a try.

The army scattered and approached the Dark Night Phoenix in a semicircle. Once they were over a thousand meters away, the Dark Night Phoenix slowly turned its head and coldly looked at the reappearing army.

"Sir Merlin, it's too dangerous. No matter what trump card you have, you are facing a 2nd Rank Heaven Dark Night Phoenix, it's not something we can withstand. How about we just give up?"

Morgan approached Lin Yun to try to persuade him one more time.

Lin Yun gently shook his head

"It doesn't matter, I only want to give it a try. If it doesn't work, we will thoroughly give up."

Not far, Jouyi, Harren, and Raphael all had worried expressions.

Jouyi looked at Harren and said in a low voice, "Sir Harren, Sir Merlin is being too adventurous. Although I know that Sir Merlin has a certain degree of assurance, that's a Dark Night Phoenix powerful enough to make people despair. We wouldn't even last half a minute against it.

"The chances of an accident happening are too high. Defensive spells and Magic Tools aren't very effective against this Dark Night Phoenix.

"If something bad happens, we have to use our fastest speed to save Sir Merlin, we absolutely can't let Sir Merlin fall here!"

Harren nodded. Raphael also softly sighed and already made preparations to save Lin Yun at any time.

On the other side, the Heaven Rank Blood Bone Beastman sneered.

"This stupid human actually want to get close to the Dark Night Phoenix? He is really courting death.

“Dark Night Phoenix Fire is burning on the Dark Night Phoenix’s body, the dark blue fire birthed from night absorbs the darkness within one’s heart as nourishment and it also has the infection ability of the Phoenix Fire.

“You’ll die as long as you are infected. Moreover, this Dark Night Phoenix not only has powerful flames, its huge body is even more deadly.

“This stupid human wants to get within a hundred meters of the Dark Night Phoenix, then let him.

“In any case, our mission is just to restrict the Dark Night Phoenix’s attacks. It’s not too dangerous. But it’s different for him. As long as the Dark Night Phoenix casually attacks him, he would be screwed!”

The Heaven Rank Black Iron Beastman next to him laughed with a cold and hateful expression, “It’s a pity that the contract has been signed, otherwise I would have definitely let the Dark Night Phoenix notice him. What a pity...

“But it doesn’t matter, that huge Dark Night Phoenix’s wings span over a kilometer. That stupid guy wants to get within a hundred meters ?

“He is dead. No matter what hidden card he has, he definitely won’t be able to dodge that bird’s attack that close. He is screwed as long as he gets hit!”

The Beastmen powerhouses were sneering and expecting to watch a good show. They had experienced Lin Yun’s burst power before. Especially that half a minute after summoning the shadow of the Equilibrium Law. He had been able to resist the eight of them without suffering.

The most important thing was that Lin Yun was only a 9th Rank Archmage!

That formidable fighting power made all the Beastmen feel a chill. They couldn’t kill him, but he was throwing away his life.

They were looking forward to it. The eight Heaven Rank Beastmen made their plan of attack. Due to the existence of the contract, they had to carefully do their part, but Lin Yun would definitely die.

The fight started once again. The eight Heaven Rank Beastmen, and the five humans with Heaven Rank power led their subordinates to attack the Dark Night Phoenix.

As for Lin Yun, he had disappeared without a trace. No one knew where he had gone.

Impatience could be seen in the eyes of the Dark Night Phoenix as it was once again attacked. The dark blue flames were raging on its wings, and with a flap of its wing, dark blue flames and gales turned into a dark blue Meteor Shower falling over a three kilometers area.

The fireballs filling the entire sky swept with huge impact and the power of every fireball was not inferior to 7th Tier Fire Dragon Impacts. The earth shook, but every force was fully defending. Only the Heaven Rank powerhouses were attacking and could pierce through this large-scale spell to attack the Dark Night Phoenix’s main body.

After a minute, the Dark Night Phoenix slowly got up and extended its wings. A sharp cry echoed and created a powerful soundwave. With the addition of the Dark Night Phoenix’s wings flapping, the boundless dark blue flames whistled alongside gales.

In an instant, sound, flames, and gales fused together and spread like a huge ripple attacking in all directions.

The group resisted as much as they could. Every Heaven Rank powerhouse was suffering unspeakable misery. They couldn't get within a kilometer of the Dark Night Phoenix in front of such a terrifying attack.

The thirteen Heaven Rank powerhouses used all their power to defend, they were simply unable to attack.

After flames, sound, and gales merged together, it was like a storm of destruction. The members of every force gathered together and banded together, just like a caravan passing through a desert's sandstorm.

At this time, an area covered in sand near the array suddenly sunk in and a huge hole appeared. A four-meter-wide entrance was suddenly unveiled.

And Lin Yun flew out of it.

The Dark Night Phoenix, who had just released a large-scale Extraordinary Spell and was sneering as he looked at the distant allied armies, suddenly felt a wisp of mana fluctuations under its claws and was immediately startled.

But there was no time to think. The Dark Night Phoenix opened its mouth and a pure black fireball spurted out of it, flying straight for Lin Yun.

In the distance, Morgan, Jouyi, Harren, and Raphael, as well as Lin Yun's subordinates, were red-eyed. But this was when the combined storm of destruction was at its strongest, even the Heaven Rank powerhouses could only stand there and keep their shields up to painstakingly resist the storm's impact.

They watched as the source fire went out, but they couldn't do anything. No one expected that the Dark Night Phoenix would actually throw its strongest source fire to the suddenly appearing Lin Yun. This was the source of the flames burning throughout the Dark Night Phoenix's body.

Space distorted due to the flames. It looked like flames themselves didn't occupy space. Space was like seawater, and the impacting flames were just displacing it. Spatial spells were ineffective against the source fire, it simply couldn't be blocked.

The group had red-eyes, but they couldn't do anything, they could only stare blankly.

On another side, the eyes of the strenuously resisting Beastmen suddenly shone. The Heaven Rank Blood Bone Beastman even laughed.

'Sure enough, that stupid guy is screwed. He really picked the perfect time, he chose to appear when everyone was being restrained by the Dark Night Phoenix's spells.'

'Doesn't that mean that he has to resist a 2nd Rank Haven Beast's attack in melee range? And the Dark Night Phoenix's source fire! That's the closest thing to the immortal Phoenix Fire.'

'Sure enough, that stupid human will inevitably die.'

On the side of the array, Lin Yun coldly looked at the Dark Night Phoenix's source fire, not a trace of fear visible in his eyes.

If he couldn't approach the Dark Night Phoenix, Lin Yun wouldn't have wanted to give it a try. He just recalled the Quicksand Tower's tunnel leading to the array, and although the path had been buried, the passages hadn't been completely buried. As long as he could pass through and re-opened the entrance, he would be able to appear under the Dark Night Phoenix's claws!

This was definitely close enough!

Lin Yun opened the entrance of the passage once the Dark Night Phoenix's fire, soundwave, flames and gales ruthlessly spread about.

When the raging flames hit Lin Yun, the latter instantly soared and runes spurted out of his mouth. In an instant, a two-meter-tall light gate appeared in front of Lin Yun.

At the same time, the God Fire Ember in the Demi-plane's sky kept moving according to its trajectory, but a two-meter-tall gate suddenly appeared in front of the God Fire Ember.

Following its trajectory, the God Fire Ember rushed into the gate.

And outside, just as that ten-meter-big pitch-black source fire sphere was ten meters away from Lin Yun, its raging heat activated Lin Yun's defensive shield. All the runes on the Law Runic Shield roared crazily, and the heat emitted within ten meters increased the defenses of the Law Runic Shield.

At this time, a fireball no bigger than a fist rushed out of the gate and Lin Yun's Law Runic Shield recovered. It had a layer of irresistible power that frantically increased the heat.

It was replaced by a power that pressured souls.

The fist-sized flames' power couldn't be sensed further away than ten meters.

The sphere of flames drifted and collided with that dozen-meter-big source of power, and by the time the God Fire Ember and that source fire were within five meters of each other, the berserk power was like a fireball being picked up by a giant and being pressured.

The fireball would slowly cave in, and the God Fire Ember would rush into the source fire. The Dark Night Phoenix's source fire didn't have the qualifications to approach.

After the God Fire Ember reached the center of the source fire, and it took less than a second for the Dark Phoenix's source fire to explode, while the God Fire Ember kept slowly swaying and reached the Dark Night Phoenix's chest.

A sharp alarmed cry echoed as the Dark Night Phoenix seemed to have encountered something terrifying. It frantically flapped its wings to fly away.

Chapter 1132 Outcome

A five-meter-big hole appeared on its chest as everything within five meters of the God Fire Ember was turned to ashes.

Piercing the Dark Night Phoenix's body was as simple as piercing the air.

The Dark Night Phoenix flew up in alarm, but the hole on its chest rapidly expanded. Its body, which could resist 8th Tier Spells without a bruise, was now rapidly being eroded.

It rapidly flew up three hundred meters high, but its body exploded into a burst of ashes, and those ashes didn't have time to fall before being completely destroyed.

On the ground, Lin Yun summoned Syudos and made him devour the bursting dark flames, while he himself chased after the flying God Fire Ember.

That thing couldn't be controlled, if he left it to its own devices, it would devour everything it encountered until it reached the edge of the Raging Flame Plane. It would then devour the spatial barrier and thoroughly disappear in the endless void.

But with something like a Spatial Gate, it was possible to direct the God Fire Ember without getting in contact with it.

After flying ahead of the God Fire Ember, Lin Yun calculated its path and rapidly opened the Spatial Gate.

The Spatial Gate in the Demiplane led to the God Fire Ember's original trajectory.

After three seconds, the God Fire Ember returned to the Demiplane and orbited in a circle in the sky.

After getting the God Fire Ember back, Lin Yun sighed in relief. He would have been extremely regretful if he had lost that thing.

Everything in the sky had disappeared, the Dark Night Phoenix had thoroughly disappeared. Even the Level 42 Extraordinary mana crystal had been burnt to ashes by the God Fire Ember and left nothing behind.

'What a pity, this God Fire Ember is too powerful and can't be controlled, it didn't even leave the Level 42 mana crystal behind...

'Even if it's just the ember of an extinguished God Fire, it's not something a Level 42 magic beast can resist.'

Lin Yun softly sighed. It was a pity that the materials and mana crystal of the Dark Night Phoenix, a level 42 magic beast, the strongest magic beast he ever encountered, ended up annihilated. Not to mention that this Dark Night Phoenix had the bloodline of the Immortal Phoenix, its materials were even more valuable. Materials with a wisp of the Immortal Phoenix's power could be crafted into True Spirit Magic Tools with special power.

After all, the Immortal Phoenix was a legend, even during Noscent's peak.

There was only one true Immortal Phoenix. It was said that it existed during the era of Gods and was truly immortal. Each time its life reached its end, it would use God Fire to burn itself to ashes before undergoing rebirth amidst the ashes and regained its youth.

Towards the end of Noscent's Planar Colonization Era, there was a powerhouse known as the Immortal God. He had been killed four times at the Archmage realm.

But after every death, that person would reappear stronger. When he reached the Heaven Rank, he brazenly entered the depths of a Fire Plane and someone personally saw him burning to ashes in there.

But he ended up reappearing after some time.

It wasn't until Noscent started declining that his secret was unveiled.

As an Archmage, he accidentally entered a small plane, which was the world the Immortal Phoenix had chosen to undergo rebirth.

He merged with a wisp of the Immortal Phoenix incinerated ashes and witnessed the Immortal Phoenix being reborn from ashes, obtaining a wisp of the Immortal Phoenix's ability in the process.

As long as he wasn't killed twice in a row within a short period of time, he would be able to be reborn from ashes.

Later, some people captured and researched some magic beasts possessing a wisp of the Immortal Phoenix's bloodline and came to an understanding. They took out the wisp of Immortal Phoenix bloodline within their bodies and used mana crystals to refine a kind of single-use Magic Tool that could allow a mage to be reborn from ashes once after their death.

The Dark Night Phoenix was one of the races that encountered the most misfortune during those times.

Lin Yun shook his head and threw aside his regrets. The God Fire Ember was the greatest harvest. There were plenty of opportunities to find magic beasts possessing the bloodline of the Immortal Phoenix, he even knew several places.

It's just that these magic beasts were too powerful, the weakest were Level 44 or 45. He couldn't handle them at the moment.

Lin Yun stood at the edge of the array and calmly pondered. The others watching from a distance were already terrified.

The Blood Bone Beastman had been grinning, expecting Lin Yun to die from a mouthful of dark flames.

But he ended up seeing the Dark Night Phoenix flying up in alarm and its huge body transforming into ashes in a couple seconds.

'Damn, by my ancestors... What the hell was that? The Dark Night Phoenix was actually burnt to death?

'What a joke, the Dark Night Phoenix has a wisp of the legendary Immortal Phoenix's bloodline, yet it was burnt by a small flame?

'That's a Level 42 magic beast, an Extraordinary Magic Beast on the verge of reaching Level 43, yet it was actually burnt to ashes...

'What was that small flame? Damnit, what could it be...

'It's too frightening...'

Gallsworth's expression also hardened and his eyes flickered with an alarmed expression.

'What is that thing?

'That human actually controls such a terrifying thing? Damn, what the hell is it?'

The eight Heaven Rank Beastmen all paled. Everyone had been suppressed by the Dark Night Phoenix and couldn't get within a kilometer of the array.

But that Dark Night Phoenix had been burnt by a small flame.

That scared everyone.

It was the same for the humans. Morgan and the others had been getting ready to help, but they were now looking foolish. Their shields had yet to scatter, they didn't react at all, thinking, 'How could the unparalleled Dark Night Phoenix suddenly become ashes?'

As for Dedale, he was looking at the scene with unfocused eyes, his mouth open, and shock visible on his face. It was as if he had seen a God.

'What was that flame? Sh*t, what was that flame? It actually burnt that 2nd Rank Heaven Dark Night Phoenix to ashes...

'No, Mafa Merlin can't even control that flame. That's not a power Mafa Merlin can even control. But even if he can't control it, it is unimaginably powerful.

'An unstoppable power, what kind of flame is that?'

The group of people were foolishly looking at the scene. Thirteen Heaven Rank powerhouses and a few hundred Archmages were all stunned.

After a few minutes, everyone looked at the light shining at the peak of the array as a new mana crystal was condensed. When Lin Yun grabbed the mana crystal, they were suddenly roused.

'The array has been snatched back!'

After taking back the array, the group started guarding the place while the array condensed mana crystals everyday.

With the matter of Lin Yun burning the Dark Night Phoenix to death, everyone's attitude towards Lin Yun had greatly improved. Whether it was Beastmen or humans, no Heaven Rank powerhouse dared to inconvenience him.

With the production of mana crystals, they traded for the first drop of Beast God's Blood, and the first bottle of Golden Transformation was given to the human side, the Beastmen had no plan on taking it.

The refined potion was handed over to Dedale since he had yet to advance to the Heaven Rank.

Boundless flames descended during his Extraordinary transformation. A Fire Demiplane was established and very complicated fire law runes fell into Dedale's body, allowing him to rapidly grasp Extraordinary Power.

The 2nd bottle of Golden Transformation Potion was delivered to the Beastmen and a new Heaven Rank Beastman was born.

Without the magic beasts' obstruction, a fixed amount of mana crystal was produced every day, and soon, eight Heaven Rank powerhouses appeared on the human side.

Dedale of the Burning Tower, Raphael of Sky City, Morgan and Arnaud of the Henry Family, Reeves of the Odin Royal Family, Jouyi of the Cloud Tower, Harren of the Black Tower, and the Azurewave Sword Saint of the Andlusa Royal Family.

As for the Beastmen, they had ten Heaven Rank powerhouses and an unused Golden Transformation Potion.

The strength of the group could be said to have reached its peak and they had nothing to do but quarreling every day.

Without the array continuously creating Pseudo Heaven Rank Magic Beasts, none could be found in the Raging Flame Battlefield as they had all been hunted. The group had nothing to do while waiting for the mana crystals to be formed and could only fight.

"Morgan, you fool, don't think that you can be arrogant because you have a Darkness Elemental God and Arnaud helping you, don't think that you are the only one with helpers.

"Come, fight me if you still have balls. If I don't tear your mouth apart today and have you kiss my rear, I would be known as the coward among Steel Beastmen!"

"Kaila, you fool! Weren't you taught a lesson by my Darkness Elemental God yesterday? Come, my Darkness Elemental God needs something to grind its teeth and you are very suitable.

"Your bones would be perfect..."

After a few sentences, a few people ran in the distance and started fighting. Half an hour later, a bloodied Morgan and Arnaud came back while gnashing their teeth, and not far, a purple and a green Beastmen came back limping, their clothes corroded and their bodies covered in some corrosive burns.

"Foolish Morgan, you only know how to provoke these Beastmen all day long, you are really a fool. And your Darkness Elemental God was actually unable to get rid of a Steel Beastman, what an idiot..." Reeves of the Odin Royal Family sneered at the bloodied Morgan.

On the side, Dedale frowned while holding a sphere of flames and comprehending fire law runes.

"Sir Morgan, please be quiet, don't tell me you don't understand what silence means? Do you want me to teach you?"

Morgan sneered, "Reeves, don't think you can straighten your back and talk arrogantly because you advanced to the Heaven Rank. Let me tell you, even if you advanced to the Heaven Rank, you are still a fool.

"If you don't believe it, then let me see your strength. You talk big, but your bones can't even be used by my Darkness Elemental God to grind its teeth.

"And Dedale, I can't bear to see those Beastmen's arrogant attitudes. If you disapprove, then go get rid of these Beastmen. Don't act like that with me. What did Sir Merlin say already... Right, stop talking nonsense."

Chapter 1133 Out of the Raging Flame Battlefield

Dedale looked at Arnaud, who was walking behind Morgan, and then dissipated the flames in his hands with a dark expression before coldly snorting and going into another direction.

The humans didn't like to obey one another. After advancing to the Heaven Rank, Dedale's prestige wasn't the same as when he had just arrived in the Raging Flame Plane. He especially didn't dare to casually provoke the Henry Family's two Heaven Rank powerhouses.

No one could do anything against Arnaud's breakthrough, everyone that could complete their Extraordinary transformation already did. Lin Yun himself didn't need it, while Xiuban and Reina's bloodlines were too powerful and they would be able to breakthrough without the potion.

And the mage army's mages were too far from the Heaven Rank, they simply didn't need the potion.

The only one that could complete the Extraordinary transformation was Arnaud, so this lucky event could only fall onto the Henry Family.

Naturally, this had to do with Morgan spending a huge sum and putting a mountain of valuable materials in Lin Yun's hands.

The other forces have more or less benefited, and this quota could only be given to Arnaud Henry.

The group either quarrelled and fought between themselves, or fought with the Beastmen.

But that matter was unrelated to Lin Yun. Lin Yun would research the God Fire Ember everyday in the Demiplane.

Everyone's mana crystals were used to make Golden Transformation Potions and the remnant power was devoured by the God Fire Ember that had turned into a sun.

Slowly, the God Fire Ember grew in size and shone even more brightly over the Demiplane. The changes over the Demiplane were increasing.

New kinds of plants were growing and some lifeforms with very simple organisms were being born in the seas and lakes.

Those were lifeforms born in the Demiplane, even if those lifeforms weren't too different from plants. But it was also a very good start.

The God Fire Ember slowly expanded and changes soon started to appear.

As time passed, the Raging Flame Battlefield was reaching its closing time. This time, the Raging Flame Battlefield ended in a peaceful way.

In the center of the Raging Flame Battlefield, an ancient door emitting an halo could be seen in front of the temple. In the center of the red copper-like door, a white halo transformed into a vortex and the rich spatial path spread to the surroundings.

The group stepped through the lit gate and disappeared from the Raging Flame Battlefield one after another.

On the other side, in the Raging Flame Plane, the layout of the battles had changed since a large number of powerhouses had gone to the Raging Flame Battlefield.

The Raging Flame Beastmen kept suffering defeat after defeat and were pushed back by the humans into the hinterlands. The humans took over a large amount of land and resources.

With great supplies and resources, the mage armies became stronger and stronger and many powerhouses started emerging, forcing the Raging Flame Beastmen back into their Holy Mountain.

All the Raging Flame Beastmen had retreated to the Holy Mountain, but a huge disaster happened.

The Holy Mountain suddenly became active and the terrifying existence under the Holy Mountain started awakening. All kinds of disaster started happening.

The vegetation on the edge of the Raging Flame Plane started dissipating and was taken over by boundless sand. Living creatures were submerged and the long river of burning flames flooded and started wreaking havoc. The countless ghosts of the Wailing River started rushing on the land.

The azure sky was covered in a layer of dark grey smoke and not a single trace of blue could be seen. From time to time, there were meteors falling down, bringing about endless disaster.

Some huge spatial cracks started appearing in the sky, it was like a huge giant opening its sinister mouth.

Spatial Storms, Void Storms, and Elemental Storms, all kinds of destructive disasters started spurting out of these spatial cracks, and the Raging Flame Plane's elements were filled with death and hot aura.

The earth was covered in cracks and the land kept splitting open, colliding, disintegrating, and colliding again as thick cracks appeared.

There were a few cracks that spanned over several thousand kilometers, and a sinister power kept churning within those deep cracks. Scalding and chaotic lava kept spurting out of these cracks.

The entire Raging Flame Plane had sunk into that apocalyptic scene.

The first thing Lin Yun's group saw after coming out of the Raging Flame Battlefield was that layer of black smoke covering the sky and the cracks spreading over the ground.

The air was full of berserk elemental power, and all mages would have a hard time meditating in there as the elements would act like crazy destroyers after entering their bodies and destroying everything they encountered.

Everyone was shocked after going through the gate and seeing this scene.

Lin Yun was appalled as the scene of the end of Noscent appeared in his mind. It was exactly like what was happening to the Raging Flame Plane.

Crack covering the sky, a Void Storm entering the Raging Flame Plane, everything was too familiar.

Just as he walked out of the gate and feeling the death and burning auras, Lin Yun felt as if he had returned to the end of Noscent.

He carefully looked around and noticed that it was really the Raging Flame Plane, but the Raging Flame Plane was rapidly reaching its end.

The earth was being overturned far faster than Noscent's, and the cracks in the sky spread far faster than Noscent.

Noscent still had the Shelter Tower which kept slowing down the process, but the Raging Flame Plane didn't, the entire plane seemed to be undergoing rapid collapse.

Gallsworth looked at this scene with shock.

"This is impossible?! How could it be like this? Could the Ancient God's legend be true? It's over, we are finished. The Ancient God slumbering under the Holy Mountain has awakened..."

The Gold Beastmen, as the rulers of the Raging Flame Beastmen, were not only the most powerful, they also knew the most secrets regarding the Raging Flame Plane.

Just like when they entered the Raging Flame battlefield, the Gold Beastmen were the one with the most knowledge of the secrets. It was because every time the Gold Beastmen entered, they would come out alive.

Their experience was the most valuable treasure. As for the other Beastman Tribes, there had been many times where the powerhouses they sent out had been unable to come back alive.

In addition to wars and natural disasters, they only knew a little about the Raging Flame Plane's secrets and records, no one had a better understanding than the Gold Beastmen.

Gallsworth was also the first to react to this apocalyptic scene, apparently knowing something.

The other seven Heaven Rank Beastmen all surrounded Gallsworth.

"Gallsworth, we want to know the truth. What's going on with this damned world. Why is it like this? Has the Greater Demon Overlord already freed itself from the seal of time? Wasn't it supposed to be a hundred years?"

"How could it be like that? What's going on with the Holy Mountain? What's happening to the Raging Flame Plane? What's happening!?"

Despair and pain could be seen in Gallsworth's eyes.

"Ancient God, it's definitely that Ancient God, he is coming back to life!"

"I always thought that the Ancient God was a legend, because the legend of the Greater Demon Overlord was real. I really didn't expect this."

"When the war expands and the plane's source is activated, the slumbering Ancient God below the Holy Mountain would start awakening and it would start devouring the Raging Flame Plane's mana to revive."

"The Raging Flame Plane's life and mana, as well as the source of the plane would be devoured by this awakening Ancient God, and nothing would be left behind."

“I’ve read some sparse notes among old books. Back then, I thought our ancestors fearfully wrote that because of the Raging Flame Demon Overlord, so I always thought he was the Ancient God...”

“I’ve never taken those sentences seriously, but I really hadn’t expected it to be like this...”

The Raging Flame Plane was reaching its end, and everyone worried about the people that remained in the Raging Flame Plane, so they all rushed back to their own territories.

Lin Yun rushed back to the Four Seasons Plain, and after a detailed explanation of what happened in the past few months, his heart started throbbing.

‘Ancient God...’

A silent memory hidden in the depths of his mind suddenly resurfaced and Lin Yun became appalled.

It was because that thing wasn’t recorded as a fact at the end of Noscent, but as a legend, he just hadn’t expected it to be true.

In the records, an Ancient God had been slumbering in the Raging Flame Plane, and due to the conquest war activating the planar source, that Ancient God awakened.

He frantically devoured the Raging Flame Plane’s mana and made the world slowly die.

By the time the Raging Flame Plane thoroughly transformed into a dead world, the Ancient God also revived and became the only Ancient God alive.

And in the records, the outcome was that the Raging Flame Plane had thoroughly become a dead plane, all life and mana dissipated, it became a dead world without a single trace of mana or vitality.

The biggest reason why the record was uncertain and treated as a legend was because the revived God wasn’t one of the 72 Gods.

All Gods had names and titles, but this Ancient God appeared out of nowhere.

But it couldn’t be mistaken, Gods’ power was completely different from other lifeforms’, if he wasn’t an Ancient God, he wouldn’t grasp this power.

And this wasn’t one of the 72 Ancient Gods, it was called the 73rd God by those future powerful mages.

Many of the mages that studied the 73rd God were powerhouses that surpassed the Heaven Rank, with the strongest even being comparable to Gods.

But even with countless mages researching, they didn’t have a clue. In the end, whether there was actually a 73rd God was a huge question.

Chapter 1134 Towards the Holy Mountain

The mages were divided, many insisted that there was no 73rd God, and just as many supported the theory. In the end, they only knew that there was a God, they didn’t know anything else.

This was a huge riddle by the time Noscent was destroyed.

And the main reason behind this outcome was that the 73rd God completely disappeared after devouring the life and mana of the Raging Flame Plane. Not a single trace of him was left after he resurrected his body.

There was still no appearance of that 73rd God by the time Noscent had developed to its peak and slowly stepped into the end of times.

Apart from Gods no other lifeforms could do something like devouring the entire Raging Flame Plane for its resurrection. Whether the 73rd God existed or not, that was a fact that couldn't be disputed.

Lin Yun frowned as he recalled some things about the 73rd God.

This kind of matter was treated as a bard's epic at the time and wasn't taken seriously.

Because everything written down in the decaying library had to have 100% accuracy and be authentic.

The world of magic was strict, anything that wasn't rigorous couldn't be included in the decaying library. Only something huge like the riddle of the 73rd God could be included in the decaying library despite the regulations.

And many of these things were fake and were used as recreational material by Lin Yun.

He hadn't expected this huge riddle to be true.

A terrifying aura was entrenched in the Holy Mountain's direction. It was clearly a kind of upper rank lifeform emitting pressure and covering the entire Raging Flame Plane. All lifeforms could clearly sense that there was a very terrifying lifeform slowly resurrecting.

The Raging Flame Plane was like an anthill with everyone being ants and with the Dragon slumbering under the Holy Mountain slowly awakening.

That was a gap in spirit, life, and mana, it was a pressure formed by the gap in all essences!

What else could cause that apart from an Ancient God?

Lin Yun frowned, no matter if it was the 73rd God, he had to stop him from devouring the Raging Flame Plane's mana.

At the current pace, Lin Yun's control of the Raging Flame Plane had already reached the final stage. He originally only needed to conquer the Raging Flame Beastmen, he had already made preparations to control the rest of the Raging Flame Plane.

But now, the Ancient God started resurrecting and all his efforts had gone to waste. Everything in the Raging Flame Plane would eventually be reduced to ashes and the entire world would die.

How could he tolerate that.

"Damn it, bullsh*t Ancient God. Even a living Ancient God would have to think twice about taking away the fruits of victory.

"That damned guy, he not only wants to snatch the fruits of victory, he is even trying to chop the tree and devour it!"

Lin Yun gritted his teeth and angrily led his subordinates towards the Holy Mountain.

Xiuban, Reina, the patched puppet, the mage army, the puppet army...

Everyone gathered together and formed an army charging towards the Holy Mountain.

All kinds of Abyssal lifeforms appeared on their path, and ultimately, they encountered an abyssal army a few hundred kilometers away from the Holy Mountain.

Thick black smoke covered everything within several kilometers and the boundless Abyssal mana converged into black clouds in the sky. Terrifying ghastly silhouettes kept emerging from the black smoke.

Bats with sharp teeth, tattered wings and spiralling pairs of horns appeared extremely sinister. These terrifying monsters were the falcon domesticated by Demon Overlords.

There would only be so many of them in battle when they were led by Demon Overlords. Over a hundred monsters fluttered within the black smoke in the sky.

They looked like the biggest falcons and could find any hidden enemy within dozens of kilometers.

Those dreadful monsters could even warn the Demon Overlord when there was an enemy within a hundred kilometers.

And on the ground, six 100-meter-tall long monsters emitting black smoke were dragging a huge bone throne.

The throne was made out of huge Beast Bones. It was unknown how many lives had been reaped to craft this several-dozen-meter-tall throne.

On the throne, a Bone Demon with two ten-meter-big curving horns was calmly sitting there.

A black smoke flame was burning between the two demonic horns, continuously transforming into sinister demonic faces.

Raging flames were burning in the Bone Demon Overlord's eyes and it coldly sneered as he faced the distant army.

The Bone Demon raised his hand and abyssal runes flowed out of his bone hand. As the abyssal runes dissipated, dense black smoke instantly spread in the Bone Demon Overlord's surroundings and vortexes made of black smoke kept appearing.

On the ground, amidst that army of several thousand Demons, boundless abyssal lifeforms appeared.

Dark blue Evil Water Elementals squirmed as they left the Abyssal Gate one after another. The human-like Undead Skeletons and the Bone Demon without a single bit of flesh roared as they rushed out of the Abyssal Gate.

The latter ones didn't have hands, they had sharp bone blades instead. And Lin Yun attentively watched their goat horns. These were the favorite fodder of Bone Demon Overlords.

When the huge number of Bone Demons started attacking, it was like they were in a pure meat grinder. Even if they were facing a Dragon, they would be able to shatter it into fragments.

Moreover, there were critter-like crawlers crawling on the Demons' heads, it looked just like a beetle and their defenses were powerful. They were experts at ambushes.

There were tall man-eating two-headed monsters with four limbs. Their bodies were covered in a layer of black rocks, which was the best to resist spells.

That terrifying power was used to shatter their preys' heads. This was their most efficient attack. Apart from Demon Overlords, even Lesser Demon Overlords could end up eaten.

Evil Lesser Demons, Bloodthirsty Bats, Dark Werewolves...

All kinds of Abyssal lifeforms were summoned by the Bone Demon Overlord. The big demonic army spread over a few kilometers.

Apart from those six Magic Beasts bitterly dragging the throne, there were only four Level level 39 Lesser Demon Overlords.

There were over sixty Bone Demons, several thousand various demonic living lifeforms, as well as the Low level beasts planned to be used as cannon fodder.

There were at least ten thousand Abyssal lifeforms covering the earth.

And those that were nothing more than cannon fodder in the Overlord's eyes were lower than Level 25. Level 30 lifeforms were just cannon fodder that was a bit stronger in his eyes.

The black flood of Abyssal lifeforms roared as they charged into Lin Yun's group.

Lin Yun coldly looked at this scene. His puppet army had been growing in numbers over these few months, there was already more than ten thousand puppets. They were like a flood of metal as they faced that abyssal flood of abyssal lifeforms.

Several thousand Sword Puppets transformed into a wave of metal. Sword lights flickered and illuminated the battlefield, spraying blood reeking of sulfur in the sky and countless limbs shattered and exploded in the battlefield.

The casting puppets in the rear raised their arms and kept releasing their enchanted spells.

The Bone Demons rushing at the forefront were torn apart one after another under that barrage of spells.

As for Xiuban, he brandished Carnage and rushed into the battlefield with a nasty laugh. Every time he swung Carnage, not a single Abyssal lifeform could get within ten meters.

Each time Carnage was swung, the air exploded from that terrifying power. Air blasts spread in all directions. An explosion landed on the back of a crawler, and that thick carapace shattered into pieces. The crawler hiding inside didn't even have the chance to escape and was instantly torn to pieces by that terrifying power.

Xiuban's magic patterns kept shining. Wind power was wrapped around him, the earth increased his power, fire and ice were enchanted onto Carnage as he kept attacking all enemies in his surroundings.

Xiuban was like an arrow that was shot in the center of the abyssal army. No Demon or Abyssal lifeform could so much as slow him down.

Soon, Xiuban reached the center of the army and shattered at least a dozen lifeforms within a second.

It didn't take long for a thirty-meter-tall Level 39 Bone Demon Overlord to rush over. Its huge bone sword was like a ten-meter-long club that violently fell towards Xiuban.

Suddenly, Xiuban's massacring speed was greatly slowed. The surrounding Demons stepped aside and handed Xiuban to the Lesser Demon Overlord.

And on another side, Reina had transformed into her graceful Dragon Shape and kept chanting in Draconic. Every time Reina flapped her wings, a large number of snowflakes would slowly fall to the ground.

Those snowflakes immediately froze the Evil Water Elementals, it took less than two seconds for their surface to be completely covered. After three seconds, the mana of that group of sinister Evil Water Elemental had completely disappeared.

The earth within several hundred meters was completely covered in ice, and hundreds of Evil Water Elemental statues could be seen.

A few Lesser Demons walked into the icy area and instantly flew backward in alarm, but their legs were already frozen and the ice was rapidly spreading to their bodies. Their expressions were also frozen as they turned into ice statues.

Chapter 1135 Dealing With An Idio

According to humans' ranking system, Reina was already at the limit of the 9th Rank of the Archmage realm, as long as she comprehended the power of Laws, established her foundation, and completely fused with the Ancient Poison Dragon's mana crystal, completing the Extraordinary transformation would be a simple matter.

Her Life Essence has already been evolving, it was continuously being transformed by the mana crystal of the Ancient Poison Dragon. Unless she fell, she would definitely surpass the very first Frost Dragon.

Reina slowly flew over. Those ghosts flying in the air used mind magic to try to drive Reina away, but they turned into ice statues and shattered just as they were getting within fifty meters of Reina..

Reina flew over a kilometer and froze over a thousand abyssal lifeform, up until a Level 39 Lesser Demon Overlord started fighting her, temporarily stopping this massacre.

As for the mage army, they transformed into a fire cloud. After that period of battle and strengthening, the commander of the mage army, Kurumu, had already advanced to the 4th Rank of the Archmage realm, and the other mages all gained a rank. Even the weakest one was already a 2nd Rank Archmage.

The elemental flames summoned by the mage army also underwent some change. Those were orange flames burning with higher temperature. The mage army could barely summon them by using the Joint Arrays.

As the fire cloud spread, circles of flames kept spreading in the surroundings, like an uninterrupted ring of fire. All attacks charging at the mage army were swept by the circle of flames and shattered.

The flames flowed forward and kept wrapping the large number of abyssal lifeforms within. By the time several hundred abyssal lifeforms were wrapped in, only ashes were left behind.

The crawlers let out miserable screams as they burnt. The moisture within their bodies evaporated and only their burnt black carapaces remained.

The Evil Water Elementals released poisonous water, but it was evaporated by the flames, just like their water-based bodies. They only left dark blue Water Elemental Essence behind, it was the only thing that resisted the heat.

Soon, one of the four Level 39 Lesser Demon Overlords took care of the mage army.

On the chaotic battlefield, everyone had joined the fight apart from Lin Yun and the Bone Demon Overlord.

The Bone Demon Overlord was sitting on his throne, supporting his chin with his hand while playing with a black smoke rune with his other hand. Once the number of abyssal lifeforms reduced, the Bone Demon Overlord crushed the abyssal rune and summoned a large number of abyssal lifeforms once again.

The Bone Demon Overlord sneered, a rich Extraordinary Aura being emitted from his body.

“Stupid lifeforms, this kind of cannon fodder has no limit in the Abyss. Offering their lives for their esteemed Demon Overlord is the greatest honor.

“As for idiots like you, you are the same as these cannon fodders, your fate is for your soul to sink into the endless Abyss. Slaughter, slaughter even more ruthlessly.

“Come and entertain me, stupid mortal!”

The Bone Demon Overlord laughed heartily. Waves upon waves of abyssal lifeforms were surging forth and kept putting pressure on Lin Yun’s group.

The puppets suffered a large amount of damage, and more abyssal lifeforms died, but a steady flow of abyssal lifeforms were summoned.

Enderfa and Syudos were on Lin Yun’s sides and followed him as he floated towards that Bone Demon Overlord.

Ultimately, the last Level 39 Lesser Demon Overlord took out his huge bone sword and took a step towards Lin Yun as he roared, “Stupid mortal, you have already offended the great Overlord Dorablo. The Great Dorablo is only a step away from becoming a Black Iron Overlord, you are courting death!

“Let the servant of the great Dorablo tear your soul!”

The Level 39 Lesser Demon Overlord rushed over and Enderfa's three faces sneered.

"Idiot, you are nothing more than a Lesser Demon Overlord yet you dare mention tearing Merlin's soul. Is your head filled with lava? Are you stupid to that degree!?"

The army of Demons charged into Lin Yun, and the Lesser Demon Overlord facing him was also swinging his bone sword.

Lin Yun sighed. He opened his closed eyes and his terrifying aura transformed into smoke that burst out of his body. Ripples could clearly be seen spreading around him.

The big four-colored wheel shadow appeared behind him, and as it revolved, it spread wisps of the aura of Laws.

Four-colored ripples spread out like a flood caused by the water of a dam being suddenly released, it instantly flowed towards the waves of abyssal lifeforms.

The abyssal lifeforms swept by the red-colored ripples had their insides being burnt by flames and raging flames surged from their mouths, ears and eyes. They instantly transformed into ashes and dissipated.

Those swept by the blue ripples instantly transformed into ice statues and fell down. On the earth, ice statues kept being shattered and numerous fragments covered the ground.

As for those swept by the cyan ripples, it looked as if they had been cut into countless fragments by countless Wind Blades.

Finally, those swept by the yellow light had their faces instantly congealed and their bodies exploding into fragments that turned into sand.

Enderfa sneered as he looked at these Level 25 to 30 cannon fodders.

"A bunch of brainless idiots. Merlin's power is already as strong as peak Archmages, he established four base Laws, earth, fire, water, and wind form a perfect equilibrium.

"Furthermore, he controls a Natural Demiplane where the Laws of the four elements had already stabilized. The aura of laws alone isn't something cannon fodder can resist.

"Whoever comes die. The number of weaklings had lost all meaning to Merlin. You still dare to come and throw away your lives?"

"Moreover, that Lesser Bone Demon Overlord is only a step away. If he could complete the Extraordinary Transformation, he would become an Overlord. But he's throwing away his life for the sake of a Peak 1st Rank Heaven powerhouse.

"Really, Demons really have brain issues..."

Enderfa's three faces were simultaneously scolding and he angered that Lesser Demon Overlord. His berserk roar echoed as his body exploded with countless bony outgrowths. Those bony outgrowths appeared alive and rapidly formed a bone armor wrapping around him.

Sehanling's aura instantly increased and he stepped across a hundred meters in an instant. His huge bone sword ruthlessly attacked Lin Yun's head.

Enderfa's three faces exposed pitying smiles. Lin Yun didn't even spare a second glance at this level 39 Lesser Demon Overlord. Rather, he was looking at the Demon Overlord sitting on the throne of bones.

On Lin Yun's left, Syudos, who was motionlessly floating as a fireball, opened his mouth and sent a fist-sized ashen gray flame at the Lesser Demon Overlord.

The flame frantically expanded, and by the time it reached the Lesser Overlord, the flame had already transformed into a fifty-meter-big fireball.

The bone greatsword slashed the fireball in two, but the ashen grey flames covering the sky wrapped around the Lesser Bone Demon Overlord.

The flames, that had transformed into a thin layer of flames, suddenly raged and thoroughly ignited the Lesser Bone Demon Overlord's body, going as far as rushing out several hundred meters in the sky.

Mournful screams echoed as the Lesser Bone Demon Overlord struggled frantically. He kept emitting black smoke and the bones within his body kept growing, but it only resulted in him burning even more. After a few seconds, the Lesser Bone Demon Overlord fell to the ground and could only let out a scream as he wanted for his death.

"I told you that you were a fool, you just didn't believe me. Syudos' Bone-corroding Black Flames had the power of the Heaven Rank, they came from the Book of Mantras. A fool like you without Extraordinary Power actually dares to leave your bones exposed? Aren't you courting death..."

The Lesser Overlord was instantly killed by Syudos, making the Demon Overlord that had been enjoying the show suddenly stop moving.

The abyssal rune in its hand dissipated and an angry roar echoed. In an instant, the Bone Demon Overlord's entire body was covered in bloody bony outgrowths.

Smaller bony outgrowths were growing on the surface of these bony outgrowths. The blood colored smaller bloody outgrowths looked like barbs growing on the surface of the bigger ones.

The six Demons dragging the bone throne let out screams at the same time. Their heads were simultaneously pierced by a bony outgrowth.

As the six bony outgrowth were removed, the six huge Demons let out vigorous screams and instantly disappeared.

It looked as if their skeletons had suddenly been taken out as the six several-dozen-meter-tall wretched skeletons could be seen. Only a pile of flesh and skin remained on the ground.

The Bone Demon overlord floated to the ground and the six skeletons seemed to be broken by invisible pairs of hands, before merging once again. After a couple seconds, the six skeletons transformed into four bone swords and two bone shields.

A berserk power suddenly spread out and all Demons and abyssal lifeforms within a kilometer hid in horror.

Chapter 1136 Upgraded Four Element Bomb

Dim white flames extended out of the Bone Demon Overlord bony outgrowths, as well as his eyes. This made the Bone Demon Overlord look like a Grim Reaper from Hell.

Two Level 39 Crypt Fiends were a little bit slow and the Bone Demon Overlord stepped onto one of them. The Crypt Fiend's thick carapace crumpled as if it was made of paper.

The other was casually slashed by the Bone Demon Overlord's bone sword and its thirty-meter-tall body was like a ball being kicked in the sky. Its body exploded into fragments and left a rain of blood in its wake.

The fierce aura transformed into ripples that covered the entire battlefield, whether it was abyssal lifeforms or Demons, they all turned crazy when they felt that aura and they frantically attacked Lin Yun's army. Every abyssal lifeform acted as if they wanted to take them down alongside themselves. Even if their heads were cut, they would tear a puppet apart.

Lin Yun coldly looked at this scene and slowly raised his Draconic Staff. The Purple Dragon Incarnation slowly appeared behind Lin Yun and the Book of Death slowly opened up in his left hand, emitting a glaring aura.

The shadow of a huge scales appeared under his feet, and there were even more runes than last time on the supporting pillar.

Those faint runes strengthened the aura of the scales' shadow.

Syudos moved the Book of Mantras on the left side tray, while Enderfa moved the Spell Wheel on the right side tray.

Following the burst of mana coming from Lin Yun, the runes on the central pillar became even more solid.

The scales was slowly leaning towards one side, sinking on Syudos' side. This was caused by the difference in power.

Suddenly, boundless power descended from the void as the scales forcibly borrowed power from the void to supplement the Spell Wheel and coat it in a terrifying Extraordinary Aura.

At that time, the scales regained its equilibrium, and even the power that Syudos could control from the Book of Mantras had reached its peak. The power received by the Spell Wheel reached a comparable level.

Once the scales regained its balance, Lin Yun opened his eyes and coldly looked at the Bone Demon Overlord.

"The Abyss is your space, but since you aren't willing to stay there, then there is no need for you to ever return."

A muffled rumble could be heard as spatial ripples spread out, with Lin Yun at their center. The Ten Thousand Spell Wheel had started crazily rotating. Behind it, a huge wheel embedded with various gems could be seen.

Endless spells of the four elements were spurting out of the shadow of the Spell Wheel. Moreover, just as these spells took shape, they were forcibly collapsed by a terrifying power before being combined into a pure elemental storm that charged towards the Bone Demon Overlord.

And on the left, Syudos controlled the Book of Mantras and had a book-like door appear behind him. Raging flames were burning on the door, and as the door opened wide, all kinds of flames gathered into a multi-colored flaming wave pressuring their ways towards the Bone Demon Overlord.

The most violent elemental storm and pure flaming storm pressured everything within several hundred meters. The Bone Demon Overlord raised four bone greatswords and burst with abyssal power.

It was just like a flood meeting a huge rock, a loud rumbling kept echoing. Several hundred meters away, a Crypt Fiend crawled out of the ground and instantly wanted to hide, but his body was swept by the shockwave and instantly turned into pieces.

The rocks and corpses covering the ground were swept by the shockwave and were torn to pieces one after another.

The Bone Demon Overlord flew into a rage and roared, but it couldn't take a single step forward. The bone swords in his hands seemed to experience countless years of decay and rapidly underwent some changes. The bones slowly dissipated into dust.

And these fragments of bone became the best fuel to strengthen the flaming storm.

The flames in the Bone Demon Overlord's eyes sharply increased. He roared a short abyssal incantation and dense black smoke fell from the sky, continuously pouring into his body.

Bones formed sinister demonic skulls that charged towards Lin Yun with demonic smiles.

The demonic skulls exploded and the ripples kept washing over Lin Yun's Law Runic Shield. But none of those bone demonic skulls could explode a single rune of Lin Yun's his Law Runic Shield.

After entering the 9th Rank of the Archmage realm, the foundations of the Laws had been thoroughly established and the runes had completely been transformed into Law Runes. His Runic Shield had automatically evolved into a Law Runic Shield.

And now, Lin Yun could already integrate his Mana Shield into his Law Runic Shield and consume mana instead of Law Runes, granting his shield higher endurance.

Faced with this attack, Lin Yun simply wasn't worried about his shield being broken.

Enderfa and Syudos pressured the Bone Demon Overlord while Lin Yun raised his Draconic Staff to keep casting brief incantations.

Law Runes kept surging and in an instant, two-meter-long Four Element Bombs kept condensing in the air. The surfaces of the Four Element Bombs had a flickering metallic luster that looked like a first-grade layer of mithril.

Their size didn't mean that they were weaker, but rather, their power had been compressed once again by Lin Yun and their bursting power inevitably increased.

Over thirty Four Element Bombs condensed within a few seconds.

Lin Yun chanted the last word of his chant, and the three dozen Four Element Bombs instantly turned into a storm. They dragged long white trails behind as they crossed several hundred meters in an instant and landed on the shield of the Bone Demon Overlord.

“Bang, bang, bang...”

Oppressive explosions kept echoing as spheres of light kept exploding one after another, sending bone fragments flying everywhere.

Enraged screams could be heard coming from those spheres of light. As the spheres of light dissipated, the Bone Demon Overlord could be seen six hundred meters away. His four bone greatswords and two bone shields had completely disappeared. The bones covering his entire body had been smashed all over the place. There were even many spots ignited by Bone-corroding Black Flames.

Lin Yun had a cold expression as he rapidly flew towards the Bone Demon Overlord, Four Element Bombs continuously condensing and flying towards the Bone Demon Overlord.

On both sides, Enderfa and Syudos burst with their strongest power which could definitely compare to the overbearing spells of a Peak 1st Rank Heaven Mage.

Explosions, flames, and gales converged together and crazily pressured the Bone Demon Overlord into the ground. He could only resist due to his powerful body.

For half a minute, thunderous angry roars and miserable yells kept echoing within the elemental storms and flaming storm.

Three to four-meter-big bone fragments were sent flying and ended up torn apart by the elemental storms after travelling several dozen meters, before being refined into ashes by the flames.

The Bone Demon Overlord was already stunned. The burst power could compare to a Heaven Rank powerhouse holding two Extraordinary Magic Tools.

He was a Peak 1st Rank Heaven powerhouse, so what if he hadn't broken through to the next rank? The gap in strength was like the difference between heaven and earth, they weren't standing on the same realm.

Moreover, as a member of a Silver Demon Race, his strength far exceeded humans of the same rank. Yet, he couldn't muster any force to counter attack now.

The two Extraordinary Magic Tools were releasing storms, an elemental storm and a storm of flames, and he couldn't struggle free from their pressure.

Lin Yun raised his Draconic Staff and chanted a long incantation. As he chanted, mana started surging like a flood.

Several hundred Law Runes condensed in front of Lin Yun and slowly gathered into the outline of a Four Element Bomb. Then, the Law Runes kept combining and completed the shape of the Four Element Bomb.

But it looked like a Four Element Bomb made out of Law Runes.

The surroundings' four elements crazily converged, but the elements could no longer support the devouring power. A formidable power broke through the void and was forcibly injected into the Four Element Bomb made out of Law Runes.

In an instant, an aura exceeding the 8th Tier suddenly appeared. Aside from the fact that it had no Extraordinary Power, it could absolutely compare to a 9th Tier Spell!

The radiant Four Element Bomb fell towards the ground. As if they met their nemesis, the chaotic elemental storm and flaming storm got out of the way and opened a passage for the Four Element Bomb.

“Roar...”

A despairing and frightened roar echoed and the black smoke in the sky formed a black cloud that rushed downward, but it had no effect.

A dark Annihilation Space expanded from the ground and rapidly spread over several hundred meters. That space then collapsed and shrunk towards its center.

All sounds seemed to disappear, it was deathly silent up until the dark space collapsed in its center. Then, a destructive shockwave burst out and a loud thunderous sound burst in everyone's ears.

“Rumble...”

A pitch-black mushroom cloud soared, reaching up to several hundred meters and the earth violently shook.

The shockwave swept several kilometers in a second. Everything within three kilometers was swept by the shockwave and turned into ashes.

Abyssal lifeforms, Demons, even Lin Yun's puppets were turned into ashes...

Lin Yun, who had dodged towards the sky had been sent flying by a fierce gust of wind, he had been unable to resist..

After being sent flying a few kilometers away, Lin Yun barely managed to control his body. He was extremely pale. In that split second, he had almost failed to release the spell.

He used the law runes to form the spell matrix, and then used law runes to forcibly devour the surroundings' element and mana in order to shape the spell.

Chapter 1137 Abyssal Devil King

How could he have expected that this plane's rich elements wouldn't be able to endure the spell matrix's devouring and started devouring his own mana.

It took all the mana within his body to forcibly release the spell, and the power far exceeded his expectations.

“Merlin, damnit, are you trying to kill us all? Can you not experiment with spells so casually!

“Sh*t, that’s a 9th Tier Spell, right, that’s definitely a 9th Tier Spell. 9th Tier, eh, f*ck, you are only a 9th Rank Archmage yet you dare to create a 9th Tier Spell!

“Do you want to meet your ancestors!?”

Enderfa’s three faces were appalled and screeched in horror.

On the side, Syodos already returned to the Book of Mantras and wouldn’t come out. Just now, if it hadn’t been for Enderfa, he would have already been torn apart as a Magic Tool Incarnation.

That spell, named Rune Bomb, was a new spell he had been researching and could compare to a 9th Tier Spell to a certain extent. But he hadn’t expected it to be so powerful.

The smoke slowly dissipated and the hundred-meter-tall Bone Demon Overlord was nowhere to be seen. Only a fifty-meter-deep hole was left in the ground, and the surroundings of that hole were covered in thick cracks that spread over several kilometers.

Moreover, the rumbling had yet to stop, the ground was still shaking, as if terrified by that spell.

“Sir Merlin! Are you trying to get rid of us?!”

As Lin Yun landed on the ground, a certain Draconic Beastman covered in dirt loudly complained. Reina’s complexion wasn’t great either, and every mage of the mage army was pale. Clearly, resisting the aftermath of the spell hadn’t been easy.

Lin Yun awkwardly smiled.

“This was an accident, an accident. Experiments are inevitable when seeking the truth, and accidents can’t be avoided. There was no better experiment target than that big guy, right?”

“Merlin, countless great mages killed themselves while seeking the true meaning of magic. Sh*t, I don’t want to see you kill yourself one day...”

Enderfa’s three faces were gnashing their teeth. He had been terrified just now.

Lin Yun didn’t continue explaining. This was because he had neglected the environment’s influence on the spell. With the power of the Equilibrium Law, he could borrow huge power from the void and could only maintain it for a minute, and it had a huge impact on the spell.

That Rune Bomb, strictly speaking, was an elemental spell. It could be buffed by the Book of Death, the Purple Dragon, and the Equilibrium Law.

And there was an elemental storm and a flaming storm there. Who could have expected that the structure of the spell would actually devour that chaotic power. It ended up taking ten seconds to cast, this was absolutely an experimental spell and the burst power could compare to a powerful 9th Tier Spell.

‘Almost killed myself and my subordinates, this was really an unexpected mistake. I even destroyed a few dozen puppets, this would be considered a laughing matter on the path to magic.’

Lin Yun had a dark expression as he floated up, ignoring his subordinates. Sure enough, Lin Yun just flew up a bit and Enderfa’s three faces started laughing heartily.

Xiuban laughed straightforwardly while Reina and the mage army smiled.

A cautious person never makes mistakes, they would always make sure to be far away from everyone. Casting a spell in the clouds was always better.

Lin Yun flew up and rolled his eyes at the subordinates making fun of him, when suddenly, the Magic Array caught some wisps of faint mana fluctuations.

The fluctuations' undulations were huge, it clearly came from a very far location, and it was able to remain so powerful even after travelling a great distance. Only Extraordinary Power's fluctuations could do so.

And those fluctuations were caused by someone using Extraordinary Power in battle!

After frowning, Lin Yun turned his head and shouted, "Did you laugh enough, you scoundrels! Let's set off, there is someone fighting on the east side, one of the leading Demons must have appeared there. We are rushing over immediately!"

The army rapidly flew in the direction Lin Yun indicated. The Beastmen and humans hadn't been fighting ever since the disaster occurred in the Raging Flame Plane.

Those Demons and abyssal lifeforms suddenly appeared out of nowhere and started spreading out in all directions from the Holy Mountain. Moreover, there would be some terrifying creatures entering the Raging Flame Plane from the cracks in the sky, alongside the void storms.

Even if the humans and Beastmen wanted to continue the war, they didn't have the strength for it since the human and Beastman armies participating in the first clash ended up annihilated by a group of Demons. Humans and Beastmen might not look eye to eye, but no one would be foolish enough to keep fighting.

No one understood how terrible the end of a plane is more than Lin Yun, and no one understood when the Raging Flame Plane would be destroyed and when the world would die more than Lin Yun.

Regarding this matter, everyone started researching when Noscent reached its end. The process of the world's destruction, when and what happened, everything was clear.

Even then, some powerful mages, in order to prevent Noscent's destruction, destroyed a few smaller planes and observed their fall, recording the process and data.

The scar-filled sky meant that the destruction of the Raging Flame Plane was close, it definitely wasn't as far away as a hundred years.

At this rate, everything would be irredeemable within a few months.

At this time, they had to provide assistance regardless of who was fighting.

A huge bloated Demon was standing straight thirty kilometers away. He was over a hundred meters in height, possessed six legs, two arms, and his head didn't have the iconic demon horns. His skull looked like it had been peeled bare and exposed the lava flowing inside.

That huge head looked like a huge lava pond and he was emitting a dense sulfuric smell over a few kilometers.

This was one of the profound and long-lasting Gold Demon Races, the Devil King Bloodline. From the legends, they were the descendants of an extremely evil and disgusting lifeform from Hell and an Abyssal Demon

The Abyssal Devil King Bloodline later became one of the ten major Gold Demon Races and became the Devils of the Abyss. They had innate fire resistance, and their blood was molten lava. They could innately control fire spells and abyssal spells.

They were naturally shunned by the other Abyssal Demon Races, and were also rejected by the Devils of Hell. Being able to survive and become one of the ten Gold Demon Races showed how powerful they were.

A 1st Rank Heaven Abyssal Devil King was just a youth that had barely reached adulthood; But at this time, this young Abyssal Devil King was holding onto two halberds and standing straight. Lava was flowing under his feet, slowly submerging corpses of Beastmen.

Facing him were over a thousand Gold Beastmen gritting their teeth as they glared at the Abyssal Devil King. Most of the Gold Beastmen had already been injured, and the strongest, Gallsworth, was half-kneeling, leaning on a two-meter-long golden sword. His back was mutilated and half of his body showed signs of burns.

“Stupid mortal, those that insult the Abyssal Devil King have to pay with their life as a price. I’ll carefully take your soul, this is the most delicious delicacy outside the Abyss.”

The Abyssal Devil King moved his six feet and his obese body rapidly approached the Beastmen. Translucent Beastman souls were screaming in pain and fear around him.

Their souls couldn’t return to the embrace of the earth after death, they were bound by tentacles extending from the head of the Abyssal Devil King. and couldn’t free themselves.

Those tentacles radiating faint light would occasionally drag a Beastman’s soul into his mouth. Mournful screams of despair would echo as souls kept being devoured by the Abyssal Devil King.

The souls trapped in the belly of the Abyssal Devil King would take hundreds of years before completely dissipating. Only after enduring hundreds of years of torture could they earn the right to die.

“Damned Demon, you are profaning the souls of our Beastmen, you’ll be punished by the Beast God!

“Drop dead! You filthy Demon!”

Flames burned in Gallsworth’s eyes. A layer of Aura flames were burning on the surface of his body. Watching the souls of his tribesmen being devoured, and thinking of the pain and suffering they would be enduring inside his belly, the anger within Gallsworth’s body burst into Aura.

His large amount of Aura transformed into a sword that ruthlessly slashed at the Abyssal Devil King’s head. But the Abyssal Devil King let out a mocking laugh and swung his two halberds. These two halberds weighed at least several dozen thousands kilograms. They were made of pure Abyssal Grinding Iron, the hardest and heaviest metal.

The two halberds fiercely smashed onto Gallsworth's Aura Slash and a loud explosion echoed, resulting in the crystal-like Aura Slash being smashed into fragments.

Black smoke and flames appeared on the two halberds. A green flame engulfed in boundless smoke swept as the Abyssal Devil King swung his two halberds and instantly arrived in front of Gallsworth.

"Rumble..."

The thunderous sound echoed as Gallsworth's body burst with a terrifying radiant Aura. Extraordinary Power surged and forcibly cleaved that sphere of abyssal flames.

But the explosion of abyssal power and flames covered over a kilometer and enveloped the Gold Beastmen's elite troops.

One Gold Beastman after another was covered in these green flames and abyssal mana, and soon, something terrifying happened.

The Gold Beastmen knelt on the ground and struggled in pain. Their bodies started expanding and their appearances violently changed.

It was like countless pairs of invisible hands were kneading and stretching their bones, making their bodies undergo a huge transformation.

Chapter 1138 Abyssal Devil King

Amidst the painful and despairing howls, pairs of demonic horns grew from these Beastmen's foreheads and demonic tails grew from their rears.

Their back muscles were shattered and wings of blood and flesh appeared.

In a handful of seconds, over a hundred seven to eight-meter-tall crazy Demons appeared.

This caused the Gold Beastmen to suffer disastrous losses. Many Gold Beastmen had been getting ready to help their companions, but they hadn't expected that their unsuspecting companions would suddenly transform into Demons, their heads twisted and bodies torn.

In less than ten seconds, a hundred Gold Beastmen powerhouses died tragically, replaced by a hundred demonic lifeforms.

The chaotic battle started. Gallsworth's eyes were red as he let out a deep roar and his body expanded by 50%. His Aura also burst crazily.

Using Berserk Transformation, Gallsworth took to the sky, his body leaving afterimages behind. He instantly appeared above the Abyssal Devil King and light golden Aura Slashes fell down like rain.

The Abyssal Devil King sneered as he swung his two halberds, resisting all of his attacks.

Suddenly, Gallsworth disappeared and appeared behind the Abyssal Devil King, the greatsword in his hands ruthlessly slashing at the back of the Abyssal Devil King.

An eight-meter-long cut appeared on his back, from which hot lava spurted out like a fountain. Gallsworth's greatsword was covered in black smoke and slowly distorted. After a few seconds, a portion of the greatsword melted, and the remaining part turned into a pile of scrap iron.

The Abyssal Devil King flew into a rage and roared. His dark green eyes glared at Gallsworth and two rays of light instantly hit his body.

Gallsworth wasn't injured, his Battle Aura Armor wasn't damaged in the slightest. But he suddenly paled, and the radiance in his eyes slowly dissipated.

Gallsworth floated up and let out painful roars. The light in his eyes kept converging and dissipating and his pupils kept shrinking.

A half transparent silhouette slowly appeared behind Gallsworth, and a dark green translucent tentacle extended out of the Abyssal Devil King's head.

"Ah! The soul of an Extraordinary lifeform! What a pure Soul Aura, it doesn't have a wisp of the disagreeable sulfuric taste and is filled with the fragrance of life.

"I've already fallen in love with this world. I'll bring destruction to this world and harvest this world's souls..."

The Abyssal Devil King closed his eyes as he laughed, saliva rapidly dripping from his mouth. The tentacle extending out of his head was even more straight, as he wanted to forcibly pull Gallsworth's soul out of his body.

Under his soul parting curse, the souls of all living lifeforms would also be forcibly torn apart.

This was something the Abyssal Devil King specialized in.

Seeing as his soul was already half-way out of his body, Gallsworth roared and struggled, but it wasn't too effective.

With half of his soul already out of his body, Gallsworth's strength had been reduced by more than half. He couldn't even use Extraordinary Power and could only struggle vainly.

Gallsworth could see the souls struggling in the Abyssal Devil King's belly and despair and unwillingness appeared on his face. But he couldn't do anything right now.

His subordinates were stuck in a melee with those crazy demonic lifeforms. No one could help him, no one even had the ability to help him.

"Hey, mixed breed b*stard, look over here!"

Just as the Abyssal Devil King was about to enjoy the meal he had been preparing, a voice echoed next to his ears.

In an instant, the Abyssal Devil King stopped moving and the pond of lava on his head started boiling.

'B*stard', this was the thing the Abyssal Devil King hated to hear. Those that dared to say that the Abyssal Devil King was a b*stard would end up torn apart by the Abyssal Devil King and their souls would be devoured, suffering torture for thousands of years.

“No matter who you are, despair will be the price to pay for your words. Boundless fear and suffering that won’t stop when your life ends.”

The Abyssal Devil King let out an enraged roar before even turning. The lava pond-like head flared up as if it was about to explode.

Gallsworth, whose soul had already been halfway dragged out of his body, barely managed to turn and look in the distance. He then saw Lin Yun floating in the distance with a curious expression.

But after watching for a while, Gallsworth didn’t see anyone else and the flicker of hope in his eyes instantly disappeared, there was only more despair.

‘Finished, we are finished. Mafa Merlin is unexpectedly alone...

‘He might be very powerful, but he doesn’t have a wisp of Extraordinary Power. Moreover, his stronger fighting abilities have no meaning in front of the Abyssal Devil King.

‘Ordinary spells can’t resist the Abyssal Devil King’s Soul Lash, only Extraordinary Spells can. His soul would definitely be forcibly dragged out of his body, he would even die before me.

‘Damn it, that guy is still smiling there, does he not know that this is a member of the ten Golden Demon Races? His strength can’t be compared to ordinary Heaven Rank Demons...’

Gallsworth rapidly got angry, his body and the half of his soul that had been dragging out frantically struggled.

“Sir Merlin, leave immediately! That’s an Abyssal Devil King, one of the ten Golden Demon Bloodlines. Hurry up and leave, find another Heaven Rank powerhouse...”

Gallsworth was crazily shouting, but he didn’t have time to finish as the tentacle inserted in his body shook. Gallsworth started screaming and his soul was dragged out a bit more.

Flames raged in the eyes of the Abyssal Devil King, bubbles kept popping in the lava pond as three illusory tentacles instantly crossed a few hundred meters to attack Lin Yun from three different directions.

Seeing this scene, Gallsworth closed his eyes in despair.

‘It’s over, it’s thoroughly over, we will all die here. No, it’ll be even worse than death, our souls won’t be able to return to the embrace of the earth and could only endure torture in the belly of that b*stard for thousands of years.

“Bang, bang, bang...”

Three muffled sounds echoed one after another, followed by the Abyssal Devil King’s angry roar.

Gallsworth opened his eyes and saw Lin Yun calmly floating in the air, the shadow of an ordinary ancient scales below his feet and a magic tool floating on each of the trays. And behind him, a huge Purple Dragon’s shadow was calmly holding a wheel shadow.

A spherical translucent shield covered in countless law runes was protecting Lin Yun.

The three transparent tentacles that the Abyssal Devil King shot seemed to have sunken into a quagmire a dozen meters from Lin Yun, their speed had suddenly become slow.

After three or four seconds, the tentacles came in contact with Lin Yun's Law Runic Shield, but the shield surprisingly wasn't pierced. As those transparent tentacles came in contact with the Law Runic Shield, numerous law runes frantically revolved.

The countless law runes formed a steel wall that firmly stopped the tentacles outside.

Gallsworth was suddenly stunned. He couldn't understand why the tentacles couldn't break through Lin Yun's shield.

But he understood the next moment.

The two Magic Tools on the two trays of that ancient scales' shadow simultaneously burst with the aura of Extraordinary Power. Flames and gales fused together and the dense Extraordinary Power transformed into a several-dozen-meter-thick pillar that fell down from the air onto the Abyssal Devil King.

"Rumble..."

It was just like a lightning bolt, it was as if there was a huge torrent pouring down from the sky. Enderfa's storm and Syudos flood flames formed a storm of destruction.

The huge storm firmly pressured the back of the Abyssal Devil King, making the Abyssal Devil King's huge and obese body stagger. The tentacles spreading from his head snapped one after another.

The tentacles restricting the Beastmen collapsed, and the translucent souls fell to the ground, disappearing one after another.

As for Gallsworth, he struggled free of the Abyssal Devil King's binding.

His soul returned to his body and he fell to the ground, heaving and coughing. White light was drizzling from his body. This was caused by his soul being shaken and having yet to recover.

He would be unable to use Extraordinary Power for a short time. Gallsworth struggled to stand up and foolishly looked at the battle in the distance, his eyes unfocused and his face hardly concealing his shock.

Lin Yun had summoned the scales' shadow and forcibly raised the power of the Spell Wheel to the Extraordinary realm. With the Extraordinary Magic Tools under Enderfa and Syudos' control, he could compare to a true Heaven Rank powerhouse.

In addition, with the scales' defensive buff and Extraordinary Power defenses, Lin Yun simply didn't have to worry about the Abyssal Devil King soul parting curse. He also wasn't worried about the transparent tentacles dragging his soul out.

The violent storm ruthlessly pressured that abyssal lifeform to the ground. The earth around the Abyssal Devil King kept sinking, and countless fragments and shockwaves were continuously spreading in the surroundings.

The Abyssal Devil King roared, enraged. He wanted to swing his halberds but he was pressured by the flames and gales. Every time he gathered a bit of the smoke-like abyssal power, it would be torn apart by the storm before being burnt into nothingness.

Chapter 1139 Abyssal Devil King 2

The Abyssal Devil King's body became riddled with scars in a few seconds, his lava-like blood kept spurting out, and the rich sulfuric smell and hot aura frantically rose up, making that space distort.

Enderfa and Syudos released their strongest attacks as soon as they got close and pressured the Abyssal Devil King while Lin Yun raised his Draconic Staff and rapidly chanted an incantation.

Four Element Bombs condensed one after another and fell on the Abyssal Devil King like rain.

Explosions kept echoing as burning spheres of light kept exploding, covering the Abyssal Devil King. The destructive power kept damaging the Abyssal Devil King's body.

After releasing a wave of Four Element Bombs, Lin Yun chanted another incantation and law runes floated out. The huge number of law runes seemed like ordinary runes and formed a meter-big huge runic framework according to the runic structure.

There was only a structure, they weren't combined successfully nor transformed. It was only a framework, and the wisp of power it brought exceeded the power of the law runes Lin Yun could control at the moment.

A pitch-black spatial crack suddenly appeared. These law runes successfully transformed into a pitch-black huge Wind Blade. The space had already been torn by that formidable power before the spell was even condensed.

Underneath, the Abyssal Devil King was being suppressed by the elemental storm and the flame storm. And with the addition of the explosion barrage of Four Element Bombs, his huge body could no longer be seen. Only loud roars of anger and pain kept echoing from the explosions.

"Stupid mortal! You'll pay the price! You think you can destroy an Abyssal Devil King with those puny spells? You are too naive. I'll carefully play with your soul..."

Gallsworth was watching in shock as the Abyssal Devil King's furious words echoed.

He wasn't dumbfounded because of the Abyssal Devil King's vitality, rather, it was because of Lin Yun's burst power and the pitch-black Wind Blade made of law runes. It gave his soul a feeling of crisis. His body wanted to hide almost instinctively.

'Damn it, this is Mafa Merlin's true strength?'

'What is that Wind Blade? The spell hasn't fully condensed yet it can already tear through space.'

'Mafa Merlin isn't a Heaven Rank powerhouse, how could he release an Extraordinary Spell... How could that spell be so powerful without the support of Extraordinary Power, that spell is definitely a first-class spell among 9th Tier Spells.'

Gallsworth still had that feeling of crisis, his soul was giving him a warning and wanted him to flee. If he didn't, he wouldn't be able to leave that place alive, even if the spell's target was the Abyssal Devil King.

Gallsworth forcibly circulated a bit of aura and then frantically rushed out with cold sweat trickling down his back. He looked back, and that seemingly not too big pitch-black Wind Blade already fell down.

The Wind Blade wasn't especially fast, but a long and narrow spatial crack was continuously forming on its path. The chaotic power seemed to move aside and form a path for the Wind Blade.

It took two seconds for the Wind Blade to fall on the head of the Abyssal Devil King. The feeling of danger made the Abyssal Devil King burst out with all his power. His two halberds were blocking in front of him, but a sharp friction noise echoed as the Abyssal Grinding Iron, known as the hardest material in the Abyss, suddenly collapsed.

The pitch-black Wind Blade cleanly cut the Abyssal Devil King's neck and the boiling green blood sprayed out like fiery lava. Everything in the surroundings burnt from corrosion.

The Abyssal Devil King's thick skin couldn't prevent the Wind Blade from cutting his neck.

Cries of pain and despair echoed as the huge head fell from the Abyssal Devil King's neck, leaving a hundred-meter-tall fountain of green blood behind.

Even if he was beheaded, the Abyssal Devil King's eyes still carried that angry radiance and angry and painful roars were still echoing.

Lin Yun calmly floated down. He wasn't surprised that the Abyssal Devil King was still alive after his head had been cut off.

He took out a pile of materials and rapidly compounded a blood-colored potion which he directly threw on the Abyssal Devil King's lava pond.

Immediately, that green pond of boiling lava slowly turned red and slowly cooled down before freezing into a gray stone.

At this time, the Abyssal Devil King was shocked to his core.

"Stupid Human, you'll regret it. Abyssal Devil Kings never die. You'll pay a heavy price for your actions. Just wait, I'll soon return to retaliate, I'll make you suffer!"

Lin Yun sneered.

"Idiot, you are a hybrid b*stard rejected by both the Abyss and Hell. Weren't you able to become one of the ten Golden Demon Races due to your formidable vitality? You can't die, and even if you do, you'll keep reviving.

"If not because of this, the other Demon Races wouldn't feel like bothering trashes like you. How could you become one of the ten Golden Bloodlines then?"

"What a joke, I'll dig your 2nd heart after freezing your brain. Immortal Abyssal Devil King? What a huge joke..."

Lin Yun sneered and cast two Mana Hands and took out a solid gray stone out of the Abyssal Demon King's frozen head. At this time, the Abyssal Devil King panicked, but his brain had already been moved out of his body. The flames burning in his eyes stopped burning, seemingly dead.

Suddenly, Lin Yun let out a Bursting Flames ten meters away, and a hole appeared where the flames hit. Inside, a grey heart was forced out by the explosion.

The heart was fist-sized and rich abyssal mana surrounded it. As it throbbed, the abyssal power would keep entering and exiting the heart.

After capturing this struggling heart, Lin Yun smiled.

Abyssal Devil King was synonym for trouble and terror for a very long time, these guys' love for souls was completely inherited from the Devils of Hell.

Their terrifying vitality made them able to survive decapitation and forced the Demons of the Abyss to compromise.

Because every time they attacked these guys with tenacious vitality, even if they occasionally got rid of an Abyssal Devil King, even if their bodies were torn apart, they would inexplicably revive after some time and carry out a crazy retaliation.

They would get rid of many opponents each time they died. And after a few times, they would drag at least one or two Demons of the same rank as sacrifices.

Slowly, the rumors of the immortal Abyssal Devil Kings spread through the Abyss, as well as the fact that the Abyssal Devil Kings liked to devour their opponents' souls after making them suffer hundreds of years of torture.

Terror and trouble became synonymous with Abyssal Devil King. Even the Golden Demon Races were forced to recognize the Abyssal Devil King's status.

Up until a few millennia later, when powerful mages from Noscent finally stretched their evil hands towards the Abyss. Unkillable monsters like the Abyssal Devil Kings were naturally the first lifeforms to be studied.

Even mages that surpassed the Heaven Rank ignited God Fire and personally captured Heaven Rank Abyssal Devil Kings to experiment, until they finally figured out the source of the Abyssal Devil Kings' immortality.

Abyssal Devil Kings didn't have the iconic demonic horns of Demons, and their lava-like head wasn't their weak point. Their head being chopped was no different from their hand being broken.

Just like Hell's Devils, their weak point was their heart. But their regular heart wasn't their weak point. Rather, it was that fist-sized 2nd heart roaming within the body of the Abyssal Devil Kings. It was their fatal weak point and the source of their mana.

After being killed, their 2nd heart would quietly escape, and once they absorbed enough mana, the Abyssal Devil King would revive once more.

After getting a hold of the Abyssal Devil King's second heart, Lin Yun immediately thought of a dozen ways of using it. That heart was a powerful mana source and could continuously produce mana. It could even extract mana from the Abyss and Hell.

As for the Abyssal Devil King's frozen lava head, it was the best material for a Volcano Potion. After refining the potion, it would have formidable effects on a Heaven Rank powerhouse. Within five to ten minutes, it could make Heaven Rank powerhouses' mana burst and increase their strength by a rank.

The Abyssal Devil King Blood was the best material to write Lava Scrolls, it was perfect for Heaven Rank Lava Scrolls.

The fat extracted from his oversized body could compare to the fat extracted from the Manatee of the Endless Sea. If used to lengthen the life of a flame, a drop would make it last over ten thousand years.

Not only could it be used as a stable fire source. It could even be used as strong fuel once it was processed with some potions. The short burst power wouldn't compare to Syudos' low flames, but if there was enough fuel, it could compare to Syudos' power for a very short time.

Lin Yun began frantically gathering the Abyssal Devil King's materials. Not far from here, Lin Yun's subordinates already killed the army. Before the puppets even arrived, Xiuban, Reina, and the mage army had already arrived and got rid of those Beastmen that had transformed into Demons.

Gallsworth foolishly stood there, a dull expression on his face. He definitely hadn't expected that a formidable Abyssal Devil King, a member of the ten Golden Bloodlines of the Abyss, would unexpectedly be killed that easily.

Even his corpse was dissected and harvested like a magic beast.

After Lin Yun was done gathering the usable materials, Syudos threw the remains into the Book of Mantras to be used as fuel for his flames.

After tidying up the battlefield, Lin Yun turned towards Gallsworth who had yet to recover his strength.

"Sir Gallsworth, since things are like that now, won't the secrets you keep guarding be revealed sooner or later? If this continues, the Raging Flame Plane will be thoroughly destroyed."

Gallsworth had a complicated expression as he looked at Lin Yun.

He then sighed and said, "Sir Merlin, thank you for saving me. If not for you, my soul would have been unable to return to the earth after my death.

"You are right, I already understood after returning that the Raging Flame Plane was completely different. If we want to save the Raging Flame Plane from its fate, we have to cooperate."

Lin Yun didn't speak and calmly listened. He only knew a rough draft of the Raging Flame Plane's fate, but he wasn't completely clear about the process.

And the Gold Beastmen were the ones with the best understanding of the Raging Flame Plane's secrets. They definitely had the most information.

“That Ancient God sleeping under the Holy Mountain has already awakened... No, it would be better to say that he is half-awakened. His God Soul was the first to awaken, but his powerful body is still slumbering.

“His God Soul is attached to the Holy Mountain, and the Holy Mountain worshipped by all Beastmen is already under the control of the God Soul.

“And he started controlling the entire Raging Flame Plane from the Holy Mountain. The magic beasts already lost control and fell under the control of the God Soul. All magic beasts turned into Demons and filthy Abyssal lifeforms.

“A large number of Abyssal Gates were opened by the God Soul. We simply don’t know how many Demons and other lifeforms entered the Raging Flame Plane.

“From looking at the black smoke covering the sky, we can only know that there are too many to count.

“The entire Raging Flame Plane has become a battlefield. No one knows where the Abyssal Demons would appear, no one knows when a tamed magic beast would suddenly transform into a crazy Demon.

“We are all rushing to the Holy Mountain to prepare a counterattack and take back the Holy Mountain. But just as the Abyssal Overlords appeared, we already discovered close to twenty of them. And this was the first of the ten Golden Bloodlines.

“If not for Sir Merlin, I would have already died, and my soul would have been unable to rest...”

Lin Yun frowned, his mind filled with doubts.

‘What the hell is that 73rd God, how could a God birthed by Noscent have such a deep connection to the Abyss...

‘Not to mention all the Demons summoned, he even has the ability to transform magic beasts in Demons. That’s something only Greater Abyssal Overlords could accomplish.

‘The Holy Mountain could be said to be the core source of the Raging Flame Plane, it’s the pillar supporting the Raging Flame Plane.

‘Unexpectedly, the God Soul awakened first and is directly attached to the Holy Mountain. This might be even more troublesome than an Ancient God directly awakening.’

Chapter 1140 Codex

After all, the 73rd God who had just awakened was very weak. Based on the opinion of those future mages, this was the only opportunity to get rid of a God.

But now, the God’s soul started controlling the entire Raging Flame Plane and led it to a path of destruction. This was the most troublesome part. If this continued, even if he could finally take back and control the Raging Flame Plane, Lin Yun would only get a worthless husk of a plane.

He joined Gallsworth and they started walking towards the Holy Mountain.

And in the other directions, no matter if they were humans or Raging Flame Beastmen, everyone was converging their forces towards the Holy Mountain.

Everyone knew that the root of everything lied in the Holy Mountain. To solve the issue, they could only go towards the Holy Mountain.

In a place three hundred kilometers away from the Holy Mountain, the powerhouses of various forces rushed over simultaneously.

No matter if it was the Raging Flame Beastmen or the humans, no one was thinking of fighting.

If the Raging Flame Plane was destroyed, the Raging Flame Beastmen would face extinction, their race would lose all hope.

As for the humans, they spent such a long time, invested countless resources, and sacrificed countless lives in order to conquer the Raging Flame Plane, it wasn't just to watch the Raging Flame Plane being destroyed.

There was no suspense in the negotiations, it went very smoothly, and soon, everyone joined together to form an unified front to save the Raging Flame Plane from its destruction.

What came next was left for later. There was only one outcome for those that didn't want to exert themselves and wanted to fish in troubled water: the destruction of the Raging Flame Plane.

No one would gain anything from it.

Battle continued every day, and the closer to the Holy Mountain they were, the more Demons and abyssal lifeforms appeared. Especially around where they were gathered. There would be three to four large battlefields on 10,000 armies scales every day.

A Demon Overlord appeared in almost every large-scale battle, and whether it was the humans or the Beastmen, they had no choice but to send their main force to deal with these Demons.

...

The leaders of every force were now gathered in a shabby ancient temple.

The temple was completely dilapidated, the idols were already shattered and vegetation was already occupying the greater part of the temple.

The group of humans and most of the Beastmen were puzzled as to what they were doing there.

At this time, an old wrinkled Beastman emitting a deathly aura walked out from the back of the temple.

Gallsworth walked forward and respectfully lowered his head, letting the old Beastman pat his head.

"High Priest, the Raging Flame Plane is suffering its hardest trial, the earth is already suffering the God's merciless destruction.

"We came here in hope of asking for the codex to guide us."

The old Beastman closed his eyes and his crooked body slowly walked to the end of the temple. He then kowtowed in front of a broken idol.

In an instant, everyone felt a shocking soul power emerge. Dark red blood seeped out of the old Beastman's wrist and converged with his soul power to form a complicated design in front of a broken idol.

Suddenly, it looked like the area around the old Beastman suddenly rewinded. That idol rapidly became intact and an ancient sheepskin book appeared in its hands.

The old Beastman raised both hands, and the seemingly alive ancient idol placed the sheepskin book in his hands.

Then, the surroundings regained their original appearances. But the old sheepskin book was still in the hands of the old Beastman.

The old Beastman softly coughed and put down the sheepskin book on the table while trembling. He then clearly said with a piercing trembling voice that could be heard within several hundred meters, "Children, the hope you are looking for is here. I hope it may be of help."

The old Beastman then turned and disappeared into the back of the temple. Gallsworth bowed to send the old Beastman away.

"This is the former High Priest of the Gold Tribe. Before he died, he took over the task of recording in the codex. He has already died, but his soul has yet to return to the earth and instead remained in his body, waiting for the next successor to appear.

"It's been two thousand years so far, he is a senior worth respecting."

The group of Beastmen and humans displayed admiring expression. Beastmen believed in shamanism, souls had to return to the earth, this was a fundamental teaching.

Violating shamanism's teachings would incur the disgust of all Beastmen. A soul not returning to the earth meant that the soul would suffer a perpetual torture.

Willingly suffering torture in order to record history and secrets wasn't something that just anyone could do.

Gallsworth took a step forward and put his hand on the sheepskin book before flipping it open. Soon, the book automatically flipped to the page with the information Gallsworth was looking for.

"Eh?! Why is it that passage?"

Gallsworth doubtfully looked at the information recorded on the sheepskin.

"This passage illustrates the Greater Demon Overlord wreaking havoc.

"According to the records, that kind of thing happened back then. At that time, war spread through the entire Raging Flame Plane, and the Greater Demon Overlord's power eventually triggered the plane's source, awakening the Ancient God.

"Then, that period of spacetime was sliced and not only was the Greater Demon Overlord sealed, it also delayed the awakening of the Ancient God, hindering his awakening.

“But the Raging Flame Plane doesn’t have an existence powerful enough to sever spacetime. Can we only watch as the Ancient God thoroughly awakens and destroys the Raging Flame Plane?”

A trace of despair flashed on Gallsworth’s face. The others also remained silent.

A powerful existence able to sever spacetime... There was none in this era. Not to mention that power, even a powerhouse 10% as powerful couldn’t be found.

Even Low Rank Heaven powerhouses were the strongest forces in the Raging Flame Plane.

“Could it be that this is the only method? Impossible, there must be a different way, there must be. Don’t tell me that without a powerhouse able to sever spacetime, the only thing we can do is wait for our deaths?”

A Heaven Rank Bronze Beastman emotionally roared, completely unwilling to accept the fate of the Raging Flame Plane. He also couldn’t accept that they would all die with the Raging Flame Plane.

The destruction of the Raging Flame Plane was equivalent to losing their origin. Just like how all powerhouses died when Noscent fell.

The strongest powerhouses actually died the fastest, until only ant-like existences could survive.

Gallsworth was covered in cold sweat. He kept flipping the codex, hoping to gain some useful information from its pages.

He expanded the search range and looked for all sorts of related information, but there wasn’t a single useful information, all the information he found were useless at the moment.

After searching for ten minutes, someone on the human side already raised a suggestion: Giving up on the Raging Flame Plane.

An Ancient God wasn’t something they could contend against after all.

The Raging Flame Beastmen were completely despairing. These Heaven Rank powerhouses couldn’t even dream of surviving the Raging Flame Plane’s destruction.

“If you don’t leave the Raging Flame Plane, will you be buried along with it?”

“An Ancient God isn’t something we can resist. A powerful existence like an Ancient God, even if it just awakened, isn’t something that our few Heaven Rank powerhouses can resist. We have to leave, or we won’t be able to escape by the time the Ancient God awakens!”

“Right, if we wait until then, the Ancient God might even follow us through our Planar Path and enter Noscent...”

“Our demise has already arrived, we must send our weaker tribesmen out of the Raging Flame Plane, in hope that they can continue to pass on our inheritance. This is our final resistance...”

“Our powerless resistance...”

As the mood got lower and lower, and while everyone started planning their escape, Gallsworth loudly roared, “Found it!”

Immediately, everyone stopped quarrelling and grumbling.

Gallsworth's eyes turned red as he pointed at the codex and loudly shouted, "We still have hope. A previous legendary priest left behind a passage, which is said to be a conjecture left behind by that powerful existence that severed spacetime.

"When the Ancient God's soul awakens while his body is still slumbering, then severing spacetime is the best method to buy time, as well as the most simple.

"But if that is impossible, then before the Ancient God's body awakens, destroying his body to avoid the disaster is the only method.

"Without his body, the Ancient God would only have his soul remain, and without any support, it would sink in eternal slumber.

"Even if it doesn't work, only the God's soul would remain, we would have a faint chance at victory..."

Gallsworth slowly took a breath and turned to look at everyone, his eyes burning with glaring light.

"This is our only hope, the only method to gain the final victory! We have to give it a go!"

A group of people frowned, pondering over the success rate of this plan.

At this time, a huge power pressured the mountain temple and a Gold Beastman slowly floated down with a serene expression.

In an instant, everyone was suppressed by that huge power and they couldn't lift their heads. A few Heaven Beastman powerhouses were shocked as the appearance of that Beastman was out of people's expectations.

"There is no need to ponder on it. The matters recorded in the codex can't be wrong. That's a codex linked to the plane source and successive generations of High Priests personally recorded events. A mistake simply can't be recorded within.

"Gallsworth, immediately notify and gather 70% of the Heaven Rank powerhouses here. We will directly attack the Holy Mountain and destroy the Ancient God's body."
