Chapter 5206

With a crisp “clang” sound, a blood mark was left on the demon’s arm, and black blood gushed out.

“Looking for death!” The demon roared angrily and swung his axe at David, several times faster than before.

David dodged quickly, but was still hit on the shoulder by the axe. The golden indestructible body was instantly shattered, leaving a deep wound on the shoulder that could be seen to the bone, and the black demonic energy spread rapidly along the wound.

“David!”

Hu Mazi exclaimed, wanting to step forward to help, but was locked by the demon’s breath and could not move.

David gritted his teeth and activated the Condensation Heart Technique in his body to absorb the spreading demonic energy.

He knew that he could not delay any longer and must find the demon’s weakness as soon as possible.

He scanned the demon’s body and found a white scale on its chest, which was completely different from the black scales on other parts. “That’s its weak spot!”

David stopped dodging and rushed towards the demon’s axe. At the same time, he concentrated all his spiritual power on the Dragon Slashing Sword, and the golden sword energy burst out with unprecedented light.

“You don’t know whether to live or die!”

The demon roared, and the axe with a force of ten thousand pounds chopped towards David’s head.

At the moment when the axe was about to fall on David’s head, he suddenly turned sideways and narrowly avoided the axe. At the same time, the Dragon Slashing Sword stabbed out like a venomous snake, accurately piercing the white scales on the demon's chest.

"Ah—"

The demon screamed miserably, and his huge body trembled violently, and black blood gushed out like a fountain.

"Now!"

David shouted, and threw the inner elixir of the magic dragon to Hu Mazi, "Use the power of the inner elixir to activate the seal array!"

Hu Mazi caught the inner elixir and placed it in the groove in the center of the altar according to David's instructions. At the same time, he pasted the drawn talismans on the runes around the altar.

The power of the inner elixir echoed with the talismans, and the runes around the altar lit up again, emitting a dazzling light, forming a huge seal cover that enveloped the demon general.

The demon general struggled frantically, trying to break through the seal cover, but the power of the seal cover became stronger and stronger, trapping it firmly inside.

"No! I won't give up!" The demon general let out a desperate roar, and his huge body gradually dissipated in the seal cover, turning into countless black mists and being absorbed by the seal cover.

As the demon general dissipated, the vibration of the underground palace gradually stopped, and the demonic energy began to slowly dissipate.

The two of them breathed a sigh of relief and sat on the ground gasping for breath.

"Finally... we succeeded."

Hu Mazi wiped the sweat from his face and looked at the altar which had returned to calm. "We did it."

David nodded and looked down at the wound on his shoulder. Although the black evil energy had been absorbed, he still felt a stinging pain in the wound.

"Youyue's trick is really vicious. She doesn't want us to take any treasure at all, but wants to use us to open the seal and release this demon general."

"Then what should we do now?"

Hu Mazi looked at the magic core on the altar, “Should we take this magic core?”

“Yes! Why not?”

David stood up, walked to the altar, and took the magic core down. “This magic core contains a huge amount of demonic energy. Although it cannot be used directly, it may be used to deal with Youyue. Besides, we can’t come here in vain.”

He put the magic core away and looked at the black sword on the altar: “This sword is also a treasure. Although it is a magic sword, it is extremely powerful. It may be useful to keep it.”

Hu Mazi also stood up, walked to David, looked at the wound on his shoulder, frowned: “Your injury...”

David smiled and circulated his spiritual power to repair the wound. “Let’s leave here first. It’s not advisable to stay here for long.”

The two returned along the original route and did not encounter any danger along the way.

When they walked out of the rift and returned to the surface of Jiupan Mountain, it was already three days later.

Chapter 5207

Back at the Black Demon Palace, Youyue was already waiting in the main hall.

Seeing David and Hu Mazi return safely, a flash of surprise flashed in her eyes, and then she regained her composure.

“You two really lived up to expectations and successfully retrieved the treasure.”

Youyue said with a smile, “I wonder what reward you two want?”

David threw the magic core to Youyue and said lightly: “Reward is not necessary, we just hope that you can keep your promise and help investigate the truth of the Hu family’s genocide.”

Youyue took the magic core, a flash of greed flashed in her eyes, but quickly concealed it: "Don't worry, I will naturally do what I promised."

However, it takes time to investigate the truth. You stay in the Demon Palace first and wait for my news."

David and Hu Mazi looked at each other and nodded.

They knew that although Youyue agreed to help, she would definitely not tell the truth so easily, and they still needed to wait patiently.

After settling down in the Black Demon Palace, David began to practice with great concentration, while repairing his injuries, he was also digesting the gains from this time in the Buried Demon Abyss.

The inheritance of the Hu ancestors' talisman greatly benefited him, and his understanding of the talisman became deeper, as did his strength.

Hu Mazi studied the ancient books and the clan leader tokens of the clan all day, hoping to find more secrets about the Hu clan.

In this way, the two settled down in the Black Demon Palace, waiting for the news of Youyue.

What they didn't know was that a bigger crisis was quietly approaching.

The days in the Black Demon Palace were a little strangely quiet.

Youyue seemed to be really fulfilling her promise. Not only did she not make any more requests, but she sent people to deliver a lot of healing pills and cultivation resources, and her attitude was so respectful that people were alert.

David's injuries had long been healed under the nourishment of the Ningxin Jue, and he even took the opportunity of this injury to refine the spiritual power in his body to be more pure, and he was only one step away from the seventh level of the scattered fairyland.

In addition to practicing every day, he would wander around the Demon Palace. He seemed careless, but in fact he was secretly investigating the Demon Palace.

That day, he walked to a rockery in the back garden of the Demon Palace, and suddenly heard a suppressed conversation coming from behind the rockery.

"... Is the witch really going to let those two humans go? That magic core is the key to your breakthrough!" A hoarse voice said.

“What’s the hurry?”

This was Youyue’s voice, with a hint of cold smile, “Since those two humans were able to come back alive from the Demon Burial Abyss, they must have something extraordinary.

Especially that David, his strength is unfathomable.

Instead of making an enemy of him, it is better to win him over for the time being. Once I have refined the magic core and broken through to the fourth level of the Earthly Immortal Realm, it won’t be too late to deal with them then.”

“But... that kid from the Hu family has already begun investigating the truth of the genocide. What if he finds out...”

“So what if he finds out?”

Youyue snorted coldly, “What happened back then was done in extreme secrecy. Even if he finds some clues, there is no evidence.

Besides, he is still under our control and can’t cause any big waves.”

“Then I’m relieved. By the way, several forces around Jiupan Mountain have begun to stir, and it seems that they also want to get their hands on the treasures of the Demon Burial Abyss. Do you want me to send someone to deal with them?”

“No need.”

Youyue said calmly, “Let them make trouble, it’s just right to test the strength of the two humans.

If they can deal with those forces, it would be the best; if not, it would save us from having to do anything if they die.”

The voice behind the rockery gradually faded away, and David quietly walked out from behind the rockery, with a hint of coldness in his eyes.

Sure enough, Youyue had no intention of letting them go from the beginning. The so-called help in investigating the truth was just a delaying tactic.

He returned to his residence and told Hu Mazi what he heard.
