Chapter 5546

The moment the formation shattered was like a dazzling fireworks display, radiating powerful energy fluctuations.

“Now I can release the soul within,”

David thought, his eyes revealing anticipation and excitement.

He began attempting to control the jade pendant, releasing the soul within.

Soon, a faint wisp of soul light drifted out from the pendant, coalescing into a blurry human figure in the air.

The soul light flickered like a candle flame in the wind, seemingly about to dissipate at any moment.

“This is...”

David said, frowning, his eyes revealing doubt and concern.

He could sense that this soul was extremely weak, seemingly on the verge of vanishing into thin air.

“It seems this soul has been sealed for a long time, losing much of its soul power,” David thought, his eyes showing worry.

He knew that if such a soul didn’t recover its strength in time, it might disappear from this world forever.

He began to circulate the immortal energy within his body, infusing it into the soul, attempting to help it regain its power.

The immortal energy, like warm sunlight, shone on the weakened soul, giving it a glimmer of life.

With David's help, the soul's light gradually brightened. The light, like the bright moon in the night sky, grew brighter and clearer.

Soon, the blurry figure became clear.

"Lin... Patriarch Lin?" David was filled with surprise, his eyes revealing an expression of disbelief.

He recognized the figure; it was Lin Yun'er's father, Patriarch Lin.

David didn't understand. Hadn't he absorbed Patriarch Lin's soul?

How could it reappear from this jade pendant?

Suddenly, David seemed to realize something, looking at the Great Luo Golden Scripture.

He must have absorbed Patriarch Lin's soul, but hesitated to use the power within the Great Luo Golden Scripture to open the jade pendant, so Patriarch Lin's soul reappeared.

Thinking of this, David was very excited. After all, Lin Yun'er had treated them well, and this would allow the Lin family head's soul to return to its rightful place, putting David at ease.

Lin, the head of the

Lin family, slowly opened his eyes, looking at David with a puzzled expression.

His questioning gaze seemed to ask, "Who are you? Why am I here?"

"Who...who are you?" Lin asked, his voice weak and hoarse, as if coming from a distant place.

"I am David, your daughter's friend,"

David said, his voice gentle and kind, trying to convey his goodwill to Lin.

"Yun'er? My daughter?" A trace of confusion flashed in Lin's eyes, as if he were recalling something.

“Yes, Miss Lin has been worried about you,”

David said, his eyes revealing sincerity and concern.

A trace of pain flashed in Lin’s eyes: “I...what happened to me? I remember attending the Six Palaces’ opening ceremony, and then...”

His brows furrowed, as if trying to recall that hazy memory.

“Patriarch Lin, don’t think about it anymore. Your soul was collected by the Sixth Palace and sealed within this jade pendant,”

David said.

David was afraid that Patriarch Lin would remember, and if he recalled the scene of the lecture, knowing that he had absorbed his soul, it would be quite embarrassing.

Patriarch Lin suddenly understood: “So that’s how it is. No wonder I felt like I had a nightmare.”

His eyes revealed a sense of relief and relief.

“Now you are free. You can return to your body,”

David said, his voice filled with encouragement and expectation.

Patriarch Lin nodded: “Thank you, young man.”

David released Patriarch Lin’s soul from his sea of consciousness.

As soon as it was released, Patriarch Lin’s soul transformed into a stream of light and flew towards the room.

The stream of light, like a shooting star in the night sky, drew a beautiful arc.

Chapter 5547

After the Lin family head’s soul returned to his body, a commotion immediately erupted within the Lin residence.

The commotion was like a sudden storm, shattering the Lin family’s usual tranquility.

Upon hearing from a servant that her father had recovered, Lin Yoona hurriedly lifted her skirts and ran over.

Her heart was filled with joy and excitement, like a joyful little bird eager to see her father.

“Father!”

Lin Yoona cried out excitedly, her voice trembling with emotion, as if long-suppressed feelings were finally bursting forth.

The Lin family head smiled upon seeing Lin Yoona.

His smile was like the warm and kind sunshine of spring.

“Yoona, I...I’m back,”

he said softly and gently, as if comforting his daughter.

“Father, your soul has finally returned!”

Lin Yun’er threw herself into her father’s arms and burst into tears.

Her cries contained so many emotions: longing for her father, joy at his return, and the pressure and grievances she had endured these past days.

The Lin family head gently patted his daughter’s back, his eyes filled with guilt: “I’m sorry, Yun’er, I made you worry.”

His voice revealed self-reproach and heartache; he knew he had caused his daughter too much pain these past few days.

“Back then, when the princess sent you to the Six Palaces to listen to the Dao, it was actually to absorb your souls,”

Lin Yun’er said, her voice hoarse from crying.

“I know, I know everything! I shouldn’t have disobeyed you!”

Father and daughter embraced and wept, a deeply moving scene.

The servants around, witnessing this, also shed tears.

They were touched by the profound father-daughter bond, their hearts filled with warmth.

David and Hu Mazi, hearing the commotion, also rushed over. Patriarch

Lin, congratulations on regaining your senses,”

David said, his voice gentle and respectful.

Patriarch Lin looked at David, his eyes filled with gratitude: “Young man, thank you for saving me.”

He knew that without David, he might never have woken up.

“You’re welcome, it’s what I should do,”

David said.

Patriarch Lin nodded, then looked at Hu Mazi: “And this is...”

His eyes revealed a hint of doubt and curiosity.

“This is Master Hu Ma, also my friend,”

David said.

Hu Mazi cupped his hands in greeting: “Patriarch Lin, I’ve heard so much about you.”

Patriarch Lin smiled slightly: “Fellow Daoist Hu, you’re too kind.”

Just then, Patriarch Lin suddenly remembered something, his expression turning serious: “By the way, how are the people from the Sixth Hall? Are they still collecting cultivators’ souls?”

“The Sixth Hall Master, Jin Fu, has already been killed by me, and Xue Wuying of the Evil Path Hall is also dead,”

David said calmly, as if killing these two people was an easy task for him.

“What? Jin Fu and Xue Wuying are both dead?” Patriarch Lin exclaimed in surprise, his eyes filled with disbelief.

He hadn’t expected David to possess such power, capable of killing two important figures from the Divine Temple and the Evil Path Temple.

“Yes, they committed numerous evils and have received their due punishment,” David nodded.

“Then the Princess...” Patriarch Lin was unaware that the Princess of Dongxiang County had also been killed.

“Father, the Princess was also killed by Fellow Daoist Chen. Dongxiang County is now leaderless...”

Lin Yun’er hurriedly said!

Upon hearing this, Patriarch Lin breathed a sigh of relief: “That’s great. In this way, the cultivators of Dongxiang County will be safe.”

He knew that without the threat of the Six Temples, the cultivators of Dongxiang County could live a relatively peaceful life.

Chapter 5548

“Patriarch Lin, Dongxiang County is currently leaderless. With the power of your Lin family, I think it’s the perfect time to take control of the entire county,”

David said to Patriarch Lin.

Patriarch Lin remained silent for a moment, then slowly said, “My soul has just recovered, and I want to rest a bit more.”

“Father, let me help you to rest...”

Lin Yun’er supported Patriarch Lin, then looked at David and Hu Mazi: “Fellow Daoist Chen, Master Hu, please excuse us for now...”

“Please, Miss Lin...” David nodded.

But Lin Yoona had only helped her father take a few steps when she turned back to Hu Mazi and said, “Master Hu, those two maids are a bit too much for you. I’ve replaced them with two more. I hope you’ll be more gentle with them this time!”

Hu Mazi blushed and quickly nodded, “Okay, okay, okay...”

Lin Yoona helped her father into the room, and David and Hu Mazi also went back to their respective rooms.

“Yoona, what do you think of this David?”

After entering the room, the Lin family head asked his daughter with a solemn expression.

Lin Yoona was taken aback, then said, “I think he’s great. He’s kind, handsome, and most importantly, strong. He was able to kill the Sixth Palace Master and the people from the Evil Path Palace. Even a single Huihe wouldn’t be able to hold off the Princess in his hands.”

Seeing his daughter’s evaluation of David, the Lin family head looked him up and down and asked, “How did you two meet?

Did you sleep with David?” “Father,

what are you saying? How could I be such a promiscuous woman?” Lin Yoona blushed, then continued, “I was being held hostage by two people from the Sixth Palace, and they were trying to defile me. Fortunately, Fellow Daoist Chen and Master Hu happened to pass by and “However, at that time, my clothes were all stripped off, and Fellow Daoist Chen must have seen my body completely...” Lin

Yun’er said, blushing.

“That’s nothing!” Upon hearing this, the Lin family head shook his head slightly, then looked out the window with a deep gaze and said, “This David is not as good as you think. This guy was able to kill the Sixth Palace Master and Xue Wuying with his Earth Immortal cultivation. He is definitely not simple.” “Moreover

, although my soul was absorbed by the Sixth Palace Master, it was ultimately absorbed and refined by David.”

“Ah?” Lin Yun’er was stunned, her face full of confusion. “Father, what happened?” The Lin family head could only recount what happened during the altar opening.

Now that his soul had returned to its place, the Lin family head had actually remembered everything. The reason he hadn’t shown it in front of David was because he knew David’s abilities and was afraid that David would have murderous intent, which would have led to the destruction of the entire Lin family.

Even the Princess of Dongxiang County, the Sixth Palace Master, and Xue Wuying were no match for David. What were the Lin family compared to him

? “How could this be?” Lin Yun’er was completely stunned, staring at her father in disbelief. It took her a while to recover before she said, “I’m going to find Fellow Daoist Chen and ask him why he lied to me.”

“Yun’er, don’t go...” The Lin family head stopped Lin Yun’er.

“Father, since Fellow Daoist Chen absorbed your soul, how could he release it?”

Lin Yun’er asked her father, realizing something.

“I don’t know what method he used, but I have indeed recovered.”

“Besides, he warned us about the situation, but we were all deceived and ended up having our souls absorbed. We deserved it, no wonder David did.”

The Lin family head said, afraid that Lin Yun’er would go to question David again.

Chapter 5549

“Father, what should we do next?” Lin Yoona asked.

“Now that Dongxiang County is leaderless, we can use David’s strength to help us control the entire county!”

the Lin family head said.

“Father, will David help us? Now that you’ve regained your senses, they’ll probably leave too,” Lin Yoona said.

the Lin family head said mysteriously.

“What way?” Lin Yoona asked, her face full of curiosity.

The Lin family head leaned close to Lin Yoona’s ear and whispered a few words. Lin Yoona’s face turned as red as an apple.

...

That night.

David stayed in his room, listening to the sounds of Hu Mazi and the two maids next door, feeling a surge of lust.

The two newly hired maids shouted even louder, and David heard them clearly.

Just as David was about to lose his temper and call out Zhong Li to vent his frustration, the door was suddenly pushed open!

Lin Yun'er entered David's room, her steps light and elegant, like a fairy dancing gracefully. She felt a mixture of shyness and anticipation.

"Fellow Daoist Chen, are you there?"

Lin Yun'er said softly, her voice as clear and melodious as a nightingale's song.

David opened the door and, seeing Lin Yun'er, was somewhat surprised: "Miss Lin, what brings you here so late?"

"I've come to thank you,"

Lin Yun'er said, entering the room.

"Thank me for what?" David asked.

"Of course, I'm thanking you for saving my father," Lin Yun'er said, her eyes filled with gratitude. "Without you, my father might never have recovered, and our Lin family would have been in dire straits."

"You're welcome, it's what I should do." David smiled slightly, his smile revealing humility and kindness. Lin

Yun'er shook her head: "No, you saved my father, which means you saved our Lin family. I will never forget this kindness."

Her voice revealed a firmness and determination; she knew the weight of this favor.

She looked at David, a complex expression flashing in her eyes: "Fellow Daoist Chen, I know you are a good person and a very powerful cultivator."

"Miss Lin, you flatter me." David said modestly.

Lin Yun'er took a deep breath, as if she had made a great decision: "Fellow Daoist Chen, I... I want to repay you with my body."

Her voice was weak and shy, and a blush rose on her cheeks.

David was stunned, looking at Lin Yun'er with some surprise: "Miss Lin, you... what did you say?"

His eyes revealed a mixture of doubt and surprise; he hadn't expected Lin Yun'er to say such a thing.

A blush crept across Lin Yoona's face, but her eyes remained resolute. "I said, I want to repay your kindness to the Lin family with my body."

With that, she began to slowly undress.

Her movements were light and elegant, like a dancer performing on stage.

David quickly said, "Miss Lin, you...you mustn't do this. I didn't save your father for this."

His voice betrayed his anxiety and sincerity; he didn't want Lin Yoona to make such a decision out of gratitude.

Although David had been with many women, he had never forced any of them. He needed women to willingly let him have their way, not to repay a debt of gratitude.

"I know, but I really don't know how to repay you,"

Lin Yoona said. "My father said that a drop of kindness should be repaid with a spring of gratitude, let alone the fact that you saved his life."

She had already removed her outer garments, revealing her undergarment.

The undergarment, like a blooming flower, accentuated her graceful figure.

"Miss Lin, you...you should put on some clothes,"

David said somewhat awkwardly, his cheeks slightly flushed. He hadn't expected to encounter such a situation.

Chapter 5550

David was already burning with desire, and with Lin Yoona acting like this, he was finding it hard to resist.

"No, I've made up my mind,"

Lin Yoona said. "Fellow Daoist Chen, I know you might not like me, but I really want to repay you."

After saying this, she threw herself into David's arms.

David could smell the faint fragrance emanating from Lin Yoona, a fragrance like spring flowers, intoxicating.

He felt her soft body, a body like warm sunshine, which made his heart waver.

But he still said, "Miss Lin, you...you shouldn't do this, we can still be friends."

"I know, but I want to be your woman," Lin Yoona said, her eyes full of expectation.

Her eyes revealed sincerity and longing; she hoped to be by David's side.

Feeling Lin Yoona's body and listening to the maid's cries from next door, David's desire reached its peak.

Lin Yoona began to kiss David's lips proactively.

The kisses were like blazing flames, igniting the passion in their hearts.

David could no longer resist; he embraced Lin Yoona and returned her kisses.

The two fell onto the bed in each other's arms. What followed was naturally a natural progression.

Although it was Lin Yoona's first time, she was very proactive, using all her skills to serve David diligently.

David was also infected by Lin Yoona's passion, and the two spent a wonderful night together.

That night was like a dazzling starry sky, filled with romance and passion.

The next morning, as the sunlight streamed into the room through the window, David slowly opened his eyes.

He saw Lin Yoona nestled in his arms, sleeping soundly. Her face was filled with a happy smile, a smile as beautiful and moving as a spring flower.

David gently stroked Lin Yoona's hair, his heart filled with tenderness.

He felt very lucky to have met such a kind and beautiful woman.

Lin Yun'er slowly opened her eyes and saw David looking at her. A blush rose on her face: "Fellow Daoist Chen, you're awake."

Her voice was weak and shy, like a startled fawn.

"Yes, you're awake too," David said, his voice gentle and kind. "

Last night...last night I..."

Lin Yun'er said shyly, her cheeks as red as ripe apples.

"Miss Lin, don't worry, I will take responsibility for you," David promised.

A hint of surprise flashed in Lin Yun'er's eyes: "Really?"

Her voice revealed anticipation and joy.

She hadn't expected David to say that. In the Heavenly Realm, many cultivators were unrestrained; as their cultivation advanced, they might go to other worlds. How could they possibly take responsibility for a woman? They all just played around and then disappeared without a trace...

Lin Yun'er hadn't expected David to be such a responsible man.

"Of course it's true," David said. "Although I, David, am not a good person, I would never abandon someone after starting a relationship."

David revealed sincerity and a sense of responsibility.

At this moment, David thought of his women. Although he couldn't even remember some of their names, he would never abandon them.

Once he ascended to the position of supreme god, found his father, and uncovered the conspiracy behind the war between gods and demons, he would gather all the women around him and take responsibility for them.

Lin Yun'er excitedly hugged David: "Fellow Daoist Chen, thank you."

A look of happiness and satisfaction appeared on Lin Yun'er's face.

"You're welcome."

David said, then pressed down on her again.

The two engaged in another passionate encounter before getting up to dress.

As they walked out of the room, they ran into Hu Mazi.

Hu Mazi saw the two of them and a knowing smile appeared on his face: “Oh, David, Miss Lin, you... did you sleep well last night?”

“I didn’t sleep well at all, I heard Miss Lin screaming all night...”
