Chapter 1131 - A Cosmos Bound To Me! II

At the depths of the Universal Core, Noah had no knowledge of the movements of other beings as he was fully focused on the task at hand!

Currently, his main body was pulsing with immense light as he released droves of mana outwards, and there were clusters of millions of Marks of Antiquity that had begun to form around him as they descended endlessly.

The rewards of the Assimilation of Universes had already begun as the process was currently occurring at a rapid speed, a Universe becoming covered by the light of Assimilation every few seconds as they were dissociating their boundaries and becoming linked with the Dark Universe quickly!

The 9 Universes that were affected by the Universal Amalgamation were the first as after that, the light of Assimilation began to cover Universes that even Noah hadn't had the chances to fully explore yet.

The Cerulean Universe where an old enemy came from.

The Light Universe, The Stone Universe...the dozens of Universes that could fill up the requirements and allow a cluster of Universes coming together to be called a Cosmos were all gradually becoming covered by the light of Assimilation as their nature was being changed, coming in contact with Ruination Essence as their centers were shifted to all join the Universal Core of the Dark Universe!

The effects of such actions were stupendous as the Hegemonies within all of these Universes looked at what was occurring in shock, but they didn't have to wonder of what was going on for too long as from their Wings of Primordial Destiny, the somber voice of the Oathkeeper came out.

"The Primordial Cosmos is undergoing a change currently. Do not try to interfere!"

A statement that seemed very overbearing, but the Hegemonies had seen Oathkeeper's rise to Antiquity in the Abyssal Universe as they could only nod to his words.

In a short period of time, all of the Universes of the Primordial Cosmos were covered with the light of Assimilation as their boundaries fused with the Dark Universe, only a thin line remaining between each of the Universes to distinguish them as at this moment...the entire Primordial Cosmos was nearly connected to the Dark Universe.

There were 52 Universes within the Primordial Cosmos, this number actually being a fairly small one when one looked at a Cosmos!

Now, all of them were bound to the Dark Universe as one key factor remained.

That last remaining factor...was the very core of the Primordial Cosmos that supplied Primordial Essence to all Universes.

<It seems like it is time.>

An ancient voice reverberated out in the roiling Primordial Sea that Noah's Primordial Ruination Clone and Oathkeeper were in.

Noah nodded his head with shining eyes as even though the core of the Primordial Cosmos was hidden within layers of space in unreachable depths...he could sense its location at this moment as he made a move to allow another consciousness to go towards it!

RUMBLE

From the pristine white Primordial Essence around them, a point of red began to bloom and permeate outwards.

This blooming red Ruination Essence brought with it a terrifying consciousness, and it was the consciousness of the Universal Construct under Noah's control!

The Universe that aspired to be a Cosmos was right now standing at the cusp of it as it just had to complete the final process and merge with the core of the Primordial Cosmos...completing its goals in an efficient and stupendous manner!

<For survival.>

The ancient consciousness of the Primordial Cosmos spoke out as it stated the main reason behind its actions and acceptance of what was currently occurring.

But the consciousness of the Universal Filament Core that was about to become a Cosmic Core said something entirely different.

<For power.>

WAA!

For power! The consciousness reflected its Master's thoughts as its intent was made clear, the Ruination Sea blooming out vigorously to fill the space they were in as a grand light began to shine out!

It was the light of two consciousnesses merging, a light of Ruination and Primordial Essence coming together!

Even though they were entirely opposed, they swirled around each other in an interconnected manner as the result of it left Noah and the Oathkeeper with a sight they wouldn't be able to forget for the rest of their lives.

As all of this occurred, Noah's main body was almost overwhelmed by the vast amounts of Marks of Antiquity rushing onto him, the number having long since passed billions every second as the effect of coming under the control of 52 new Universes and being on the cusp of being under the control of a Cosmos were too stupendous!

The number of Marks of Antiquity had actually toppled 148 Billion at this moment as they were enough to birth another Splendiferous Universe, but they continued to come relentlessly.

Mind you...Noah hadn't yet used his Dao of Fealty on the other Universes he had yet to visit!

His vast seas of fortune and destiny were churning crazily as the actions he had done were truly too significant, carrying a level of importance that even Noah did not fully comprehend.

Never before had a Cosmos come under the control of a being.

Never before had a Cosmos been turned into a movable unique treasure that could do a great deal of things!

Never before could a single existence like Noah close his eyes as at this moment...he could feel the over 50 Universes releasing powerful glows as they were all connected together towards a single core.

They held thin barriers to distinguish them as it was still a myriad of circles clustered together to form a Cosmos, but a shining light was bathing all of these Universes as they were prepared to become capable of carrying out the features of Noah's unique treasure!

Noah was nearly overwhelmed with the boundless information coming in, but this was when he heard the voice he was used to hearing for many times in the past months reverberate in his mind.

<The merging with the consciousness of the Primordial Cosmos was a success>

A voice akin to Noah's Universal Core...but different.

<The Universal Core has been upgraded to a Cosmic Core as many features have been enhanced and unlocked>

A glorious new reality was born!

Not a Universe or Universal Filament....but a Cosmos!

THUMP!

Noah felt his heart beat as he couldn't help but magisterially call out, his eyes releasing glorious rays of golden light.

"My Cosmos..."

Chapter 1132 - My Infinite Cosmos! I

An array of golden Marks of Antiquity continued to rain down as they had long since surpassed 400 Billion, such a number seeming wild just a few days ago as Noah was struggling to accumulate even tens of billions for his Dao Galaxies.

Yet they now freely flowed unto him as the actions of turning an entire Primordial Cosmos into a treasure were that shocking, his actions inexplicably changing the lives of all existences living within it even though they had yet to pledge Fealty!

He didn't know if the Marks of Antiquity would be reduced or stay at the same levels when he carried out mass calls for Fealty, but this was something that actually had to be pushed in the far reaches of his mind that was currently being overwhelmed with information.

Glorious information of the results of his actions as at this moment, Noah's connection to the Cosmic Core allowed him to feel the smooth assimilation of all the 53 Universes within it as they melded together like pieces of a puzzle!

The feeling one would have when their consciousness could "feel" the vastness of multiple Universes- and entire Cosmos at that, such a feeling was hard to describe as even Noah couldn't put the words for it at this moment.

What he could put words on though...were the constant and increasing bundles of information that he was receiving from the Cosmic Core.

The only word to describe them was...magisterial!

<All previous features are enhanced as the features of Universal Empowerment, and Universal Singularity are unlocked.>

These words were preceded by bundles of information for all the changes, Noah having to go through them one by one as his eyes landed on the skill that used to be known as Spiritual Land Management...but it was now termed Cosmic Core Management!

{Cosmic Core Management}

[Upgrade Conditions- Unknown]

There were a great deal of things to unpack on the sheer possibilities that could unfold from the Cosmos that Noah had bound himself to at this moment.

He had to get through it in stages as first and foremost...were that he could now plant and harvest things like Seeds of Chronos, Primordial Apples, and Ruination Strawberries!

[Primordial Apples] :: A type of unique fruit elixir only capable of being planted in a Primordial Dao Space. Capable of infusing intestate Primordial Essence into the body as it acts as the ultimate elixir to cure all status effects and fully rejuvenates the mana and health of even a Universal Realm existence. Even though it is due to chance that infinitely nears 0%, when Primordial Apples are eaten and in large amounts, there lies a possibility of gaining Comprehension in the Primordial Dao. Those already comprehending the Dao gain increased Comprehension and Assimilation when Primordial Apples are eaten...

This was an example of the description that Noah read under these brand new plantable plants, this description also revealing the fact that Noah could now enact Primordial Dao Spaces and Ruination Dao Spaces within the Cosmos!

He could actually designate entire areas to be filled with the essence of these 2 supreme Cosmic Daos as only only them could he plant ridiculous fruits.

That wasn't all as from the description, it also detailed that there lay a miniscule chance to gain Comprehension within the Cosmic Daos...and that one could gain increased Comprehension and Assimilation when they devoured these fruits! Noah was focusing on the Ruination Strawberries for this as he nearly laughed at the fact that he was given another method to increase the ridiculously slow pace of comprehending these Cosmic Daos.

He would make a grand campaign to plant all of these fruits and herbs that dealt with a myriad of the Daos he was working on as he made sure to comprehend and assimilate them at speeds that would even shock Antiquitys!

This was just the farming portion of the upgrades that almost wanted to make Noah live a different life and become a farmer that became crazily overpowered just from eating the things he planted and harvested...

The Size Regulation and Movement features were enhanced just like all the others, still allowing Noah to reduce or expand the size of the Cosmos somewhat and move with it, but he wouldn't be able to reduce such an object that was who knew how many light years in diameter in terms of human prospects!

He might be able to compress and expand the Cosmos to a few light years or even possible millions of miles, where he would need to have his body grow larger than Galaxies for his dream of holding a Cosmos within his hands could be accomplished.

Can one imagine the sight? Being capable of moving across the vast Ruination Sea while holding an entire Cosmos in one's hands?!

"Ah..."

It was a magisterial sight that Noah would do anything to bring to fruition, even if it was to just satisfy his heart!

Chapter 1133 - My Infinite Cosmos! II

Aside from the many other features, [Blacksmith's Forge] and [Alchemy Hall] had many more terrifying weapons and concoctions they could make, with Dao Weapons filled with Ruination and Primordial Essence being a piece of cake to forge and pills or bombs from the same of such essence being capable of being formed in the Alchemy Hall!

But Noah's eyes breezed past all of this as he arrived at [Dao Birth] ability that was one of the ones to change the most.

When Noah first had his Universal Core formed with the Dark Universe, the feature had the following description!

<Dao Birth> :: Dao Birth is normally an ability that only those in the Universal Realm can have a chance of utilizing. Such an ability holds the secrets on how to surpass the Universal Realm to reach the state of ●●●●● ●●●●●. After coming into control of a Universal Core, Noah Osmont can utilize this feature to Birth a limited number of Daos of his own making. Dao Spaces of already utilized Daos can also be established within the Universal Core. Currently possible Daos : 3 Lesser.

Now that the Universal Core had become a Cosmos, this feature had vastly different content!

<Dao Birth> :: Dao Birth is normally an ability that only those in the Universal Realm can have a chance of utilizing. Such an ability holds the secrets on how to surpass the Universal Realm to reach the state of Nirvanic Antiquity. After upgrading to a Cosmic Core, Noah Osmont can utilize this feature to Birth a limited number of Daos of his own making. Previously designed Daos can also be enhanced to higher levels. Currently possible Daos : 9 Lesser, 6 Grand, 3 Cosmic. The design of Cosmic Daos faces strict limitations and possibilities, be careful in its utilization.

Yes!

Cosmic Daos could now be designed!

Not just that, but the number of lesser daos he could design increased to 9 as he could also design 6 Grand Daos!

"...!"

Even Noah raised his eyes in alarm at such a thing as he had to know its limits.

"The design of Cosmic Daos..."

<Anything like the Cosmic Daos of Annihilation or even the slightly higher tier ones like Chronos and Extinction can be designed. Cosmic Daos at the level of Ruination or the Primordial Dao are not capable of being designed at this moment.>

The voice of the Cosmic Core that was a mix of his past Universal Core and the consciousness of the Primordial Cosmos rang out as Noah's eyes shone with glorious light when he heard them!

He was particularly interested in three words as he had to repeat them.

"At this moment?"

<At this moment.>

RUMBLE!

A devilish smile couldn't help but form on Noah's face at this confirmation. He couldn't do such a thing now, but there lay a possibility for him to later be capable of designing Daos that made for the very structure of the reality he was in!

"But..."

His eyes went back to the interface that showed the number of Daos he could design as he had to be content with what he could currently do.

3 Cosmic Daos and 6 Grand ones, along with 9 Lesser.

He could choose to bring any of his 3 Lesser Daos to the Cosmic Level, or simply advance them to the Grand level and design entirely new different Cosmic Daos!

The Lesser Daos of Subterfuge, Fealty, and Conquest each had their own strength, but Noah could definitively say that when it came to usage and importance currently, Fealty and Conquest were at the very top.

He was using Fealty to constantly expand and gorge connections with quintillions of beings at a very close level as it granted him an overabundance of Marks of Antiquity, and the Lesser Dao of Conquest effectively quadrupled his strength among other things within the Cosmos under him.

He saw himself definitely enhancing these two to the level of Grand Daos, but the question of enhancing or designing Cosmic Daos...that was something to give a whole lot more thought to!

This was something virtually no Hegemonies or Antiquities could do, with Noah possibly thinking that maybe someone at the Cosmic level could do such a thing, or even possibly the Primordials.

Now...he could do this too as the possibilities were too stupendous!

"And then..."

Then there were the two new features after the Universal Core was elevated past a Universal Filament Core to a Cosmic Core all at once.

Noah's eyes gazed upon these two new features with an expression that seemed to already be imagining what their effects would be!

[Universal Singularity] :: It starts with a Singularity. A point of an unknown density and gravity as from it...a Universe can be born. This ability allows the Cosmic Core to use the vital Ruination and Primordial Essence of the Cosmos to cause the emergence of a new Universe. Since Primordial Essence has always been the main contributor for the emergence of Universes, any Universes designed through this feature will be under the dual Enhancement of Ruination and Primordial Essence.

[Universal Empowerment] :: Selected Universes can be empowered as their concentration of Atmospheric Essence, Dao and Law Essences, Golden Destiny, and Universal Fortune are increased by 10,000%. Existences living under such conditions will find themselves ascending through Realms of Power faster as the tides of fortune and destiny veer towards their direction.

Two brand new features!

The stupendous effects of Universal Empowerment aside, there was the feature of Universal Singularity.

A feature that allowed the Cosmos to use Vital Ruination and Primordial Essence to cause the emergence of an entirely new Universe!

"Vital Essence?"

Noah couldn't help but find himself asking the enormous consciousness he was connected to.

<The purest form of Essence that a Cosmos builds up over time. The reserves that the Primordial Cosmos had over the years are large for the Primordial Essence, but the available vital Ruination Essence will only allow for the emergence of 1 or two Universes at most currently.>

Essence to allow for the emergence of more Universes!

As he got to this point, Noah's eyes found that they couldn't help but keep on staring at the feature of [Universal Singularity].

Just....just how glorious would such a scene be to witness?!

Chapter 1134 - My Infinite Cosmos! III

Since the merging of the old Primordial Cosmos and Noah's Universal Construct had just occurred, the vital essence for both Ruination and Primordial Essence was extremely low. It was only enough for the emergence of one or two Universes.

When Noah got to this point in his thought process, he actually had to come to a stop for a second just to take in what it truly meant.

He had actually arrived at a stage in his life where he was actually looking at the prospects of using a unique treasure to watch the emergence of an entire Universe!

A treasure that was found on a small world in the Novus Galaxy. A treasure that stemmed from a floating landmass. From a mere Spiritual Land...now, it was a Cosmos capable of causing the emergence of Universes!

With all the new features that had just been opened up and the myriad of possibilities laying in front of Noah, he wanted to experience the emergence of a Universe among the first set of things. This included the design of new Cosmic and Grand daos, the mass spread of fealty across the Cosmos, restructuring and visiting the unseen Universes, farming fruits such as Ruination Strawberries and Primordial Apples...

He truly did have too many things to delve through, his main body alone being besieged on all sides by Marks of Antiquity that had now surpassed 500 Billion after the completion of the merging of the Cosmos! Currently, Noah had 2 normal Universes and a third one that barely had over 10 Billion Galaxies within it aside from his first Splendiferous Universe.

The number of Marks of Antiquity he held meant he could change the nature of his remaining normal Universes into a Splendiferous Universe as with nothing to stop him, he allowed the Marks to flow into his billions of Galaxies and change them into Dao Galaxies right away!

THRUM!

The glorious Origin that had begun establishing its universes trembled with might as the marks sank in with ease, billions of galaxies becoming changed every single second as in a short period of time, Noah's second Universe glimmered with an array of rainbow colored lights- a second Splendiferous Universe being born.

A few moments later, the third universe also shone with an array of colors as it shone gorgeously, 200 Billion Marks of Antiquity being used in a matter of seconds as the fourth universe that held only 10 Billion Galaxies were also changed into Dao Galaxies!

So just hours into Noah becoming an Antiquity by stepping into the Universal Filament Realm, all of his Universes were Splendiferous Universes as he even had reserves of Marks of Antiquity he couldn't utilize because of the fact that he didn't have any galaxies to apply them to!

If other Antiquities knew this, they would bellow in anger and unfairness as it was good Noah didn't brag, or one wouldn't know what the Blue Slime and Oathkeeper would think when they realized just how much further ahead Noah had pulled himself in the short period of time.

"Just ridiculous..."

Deep within the Cosmic Core, Noah looked at his own hands and body after arriving at this stage, sensing the profound level of power as he could hardly believe it even now. He could quite literally wield the strength of multiple Universes as the might of this was enough to cause one's brain to buzz in confusion if ever they tried to understand this concept of strength.

But for Noah...he just wanted to see how much further he could take it as he put everything else aside and gazed over a certain direction, his body beginning to bubble with essence as he disappeared into the folds of space!

He was currently utilizing the pure strength of his body alone, weaving into the folds of space of the Cosmic Core and the Universes around it as it was like opening wormholes in one area and appearing out of another.

This was the concept of entering the folds of space as depending on how fast one could move in these folded spaces, they could cover large distances in a short period of time! With Noah's current strength, he stepped out of the Cosmic Core with one step as he entered the Liberated Universe.

With another step, his figure disappeared into the folds of space as he appeared in the Animus Universe! With another step, he was in the Microbial Universe as on the fourth step...he actually left the Primordial Cosmos!

Four steps, and he crossed a myriad of Universes and arrived into the Ruination Sea.

THRUM!

Such a level of speed and power caused Noah's heart to shake in utter joy and excitement as he stepped into the Ruination Sea. His eyes couldn't help but lock onto the outline of the Microbial Universe he just came out of, his figure beginning to expand in size as he flew further and further away from the Cosmos so he could see all of it with a single glance!

[Size Regulation].

WAA!

A glorious crimson and white glow instantly suffused the Cosmos, Noah beginning to shrink it in size as in the Ruination Sea, his body expanded to grow bigger and bigger as it very soon surpassed millions of miles, seconds later expanding to a few light years as with the usage of immense mana, Noah grew to become a gigantic titan in the Ruination Sea while the Cosmos before him continued to shrink.

"Stop."

It only took a few seconds before he called out lightly, and this one because he had grown to an exaggerated amount in the Ruination Sea as his multicolored eyes could see a glimmering object before his eyes.

It was a collection of transparent circles that pulsed with powerful light, these circles coming together and attaching to each other with unbreakable bonds as they formed into a multicolored and glimmering Cosmos!

The sigh of an entire Cosmos and the Universes within it...Noah could actually see such a magnificent scene with his own eyes as his titanous hands that were light years in size reached out across the roiling Ruination Sea to try and hold on to the Cosmos before him in his very own hands.

As he did this, he uttered out shocking words that foretold his plans for the future!

"My Infinite Cosmos..."

Chapter 1135 - My Infinite Cosmos! IV

Infinite Cosmos!

Such were the words Noah uttered out as gloriously, he took in a miniaturized Cosmos that was still light years in diameter in his very own hands. That was an uncountable trillions of miles...all fitting into his palm as he floated gloriously in the Ruination Sea.

It was an action that was enough to make a being think highly of themselves, an action that might make others think that they had exceeded some boundaries and become untouchable existences that others can only ever aspire to be!

But for Noah...

He only had a light smile while letting himself experience this scene, his thoughts being very different. This was because even as he had arrived at such a juncture, when he thought about the Primordials that controlled entire branches of realities that held who knew how many Cosmos, he knew he couldn't be arrogant.

He wouldn't deceive himself to think he had unbeatable power when he had just stepped into the Universal Filament Realm and had yet to explore the vast Ruination Sea.

When he thought of this, his titanous head turned around to look at the vast Ruination Sea around him. It was utterly silent without a single noise, only the constant and roiling essence of ruination flowing around endlessly! When he stared out into the crimson expanse of this sea, a deep sense of foreboding began to fill Noah's heart as he knew out there within this Sea were terrifying Primordial Beasts as well as Cosmos that had their own terrifying beings!

Who knew when he would run into a Primordial Beast or what its level would be? Would he even be able to handle it if it was a Grand or Cosmic Primordial Beast?

When he arrived at such a thought, his careful eyes glistened with an array of colors as he called out slowly.

"Save Point."

WAA!

A cascade of light glimmered from his body silently as Noah left a mark in the timeline of this reality, a mark that he could return to if anything ever happened in the future!

After this, Noah glanced at the Infinite Cosmos within his hands as he brought it close to his eyes, communicating with the Cosmic Core.

"Let's test the birth of new Universes with the utilization of Universal Singularity."

<Yes, Master. Initiating the usage of Universal Singularity.>

THRUM!

The glorious Cosmos before him vibrated intensely. It floated before Noah's eyes as he could see everything clearly, noticing a white and crimson light wash over the 53 Universes within this Cosmos as this light came to coagulate at an empty spot past the Microbial Universe in the Ruination Sea!

This single spot...this point of Singularity, it took form at this moment as an area of infinite density and gravity bloomed, its source stemming from vital Ruination and Primordial Essence.

Noah's heart shook as he found his eyes were actually nearly blinded when he stared at this point of Singularity. It wasn't that it was bright, but it seemed to suck in everything around it endlessly!

This point of infinite density and gravity was where matter was compressed down to an infinitely tiny point, and the feature of [Universal Singularity] used precious vital essence to induce this point to release the infinitely compressed matter.

BZZZT!

The Ruination Sea churned as the crimson and white light from the Infinite Cosmos exploded out.

Noah's eyes released beams of gold and red light as he didn't even dare to blink, watching the magisterial essence of Ruination and Primordial wrap around the point of Singularity as a second later...this infinitely dense spot expanded out!

BOOOOOM!

An explosive sound akin to a clap of thunder reverberated across the Infinite Cosmos.

Before Noah's eyes, as if everything was playing in slow motion- he was able to see the point of Singularity expand outwards at an instantaneous rate as he saw billions of unformed stellar bodies unfurl right before his very eyes.

Even though the process was instantaneous, he was able to see its expansion and how in an instant point of time, stellar bodies unfurled as blank stars clustered together in Galaxies appeared!

The blooming of billions of Galaxies as they drew in the Primordial and Ruination essence was a fantastical scene reflected in his eyes as after their formation, they shone with an Incandescence across the entire Universe.

Noah was speechless as he saw the newly formed Universe tightly hug the boundaries of the adjacent Microbial Universe and Omicron Universe, a brand new circular object being added onto the vast Cosmos as its Universes reached 54.

<A Universe was successfully induced to form from a point of Singularity. What shall be its name?>

The voice of the Cosmic Core rang out in his mind as Noah adopted a thoughtful expression.

It was the first Universe he had the chance to see the formation of, his gaze becoming reminiscent as he thought of the name of a certain place he came from.

"As it is new, let it be termed Novus! The Novus Universe!"

RUMBLE!

Novus meant new! Novus akin to the past Novus Galaxy that Noah stemmed from! At this moment, the blank Novus Universe was born in the Ruination Sea as it joined the Infinite Cosmos, Noah looking at such a scene with eyes that swirled with many thoughts.

His eyes shone with incandescent lights as his figure began to reduce in size, there still being many things he had to do as he prepared to advance forward and wander across the Ruination Sea!

Chapter 1136 - Antiquity Of Mana! I

In the vast Ruination Sea.

Far away from Noah observing his Infinite Cosmos, the prominent figure of a certain Primordial that he had come in contact with not too long ago could be seen!

She had crossed untold distances and deadly Ruination and Primordial storms to arrive at a certain location in the Ruination Sea, and she was currently hidden in the folds of the Ruination Sea as she watched a certain spectacle play out with interest.

Her figure was actually located a few trillion miles away, but her eyes crossed this shocking distance to gaze upon a battle that was taking place between two existences.

The battle was something that caused the vast Ruination Seas to churn and tumble as when the Primordial gazed upon it, one couldn't find any awe or surprise on her veiled expression, but simply a sense of interest!

"Little Aegon has truly grown up since I first met him. To be handling a Grand Primordial Beast like this..."

Yes! The Primordial was shockingly watching a battle between an existence that was set to be the champion of an actual reality against a Primordial Beast that could devour entire Cosmos!

RUMBLE!

The Ruination Sea trembled as the figures of the two existences became clear.

One was a valiant looking human, his figure being nothing as such as it towered many light years in size, being larger than any Galaxies based on his form alone! The eyes of this being shone with utter darkness as they seemed like black holes that could draw in all light, his eyes and jaws looking so sharp that they could cut apart those that looked too closely.

His hair was even darker as it draped over his shoulders, giving this being a wild look as this wasn't the most impressive thing to look at on his body. The most shocking thing was that below the neck of this being...his entire body was glowing like a pristine and sculpted Cosmic Treasure, every single portion of his skin shining beautifully with a rainbow glow of light!

An innumerable number of lines and runic sigils seemed to be revolving on his skin constantly, his body rumbling with power as he even caused the surroundings Ruination Seas to vibrate due to his sheer power.

With his dark eyes and hair cascading down his shoulders and his body glowing with multicolored light, he was the brightest thing in the Ruination Sea for thousands of light years as the enemy he faced...was a Beast that was actually five times his size.

A Beast that eclipsed the sizes of multiple Galaxies as its eyes were filled with an adorned majesty and power, these eyes shimmering a beautiful gold as they reflected the colors of this Beast gloriously! Its entire body was filled with golden white fur that draped over it majestically, this Beast having 5 pairs of white and gold wings erupting on its back as it floated on four legs that glistened gloriously!

The head of this Beast was extremely unique, looking like a mixture of the most pristine dragons and phoenixes as paired with the 5 pairs of white and gold wings, it had an air of inviolable majesty that screamed sacredness and honor! As if this Beast could be the protector of some holy land that graced the lands with love and protection...but this was a Primordial Beast.

A Primordial Beast that devoured entire Universes and Cosmos as they had the goal of erasing all the Cosmos within a branching reality and returning it to the Original Reality!

This Primordial Beast was even termed a Grand one at that, thousands of Splendiferous Universes shining brilliantly on its chest as it stared fearlessly at the titanous human before it. The human stared back with even less fear as the multiple colors all over his body rotated even faster, and one would be able to notice something shocking sparkling on the chest of this being.

There, hidden amidst the brilliance of moving lines and runic circles on his skin, one would be able to see a grandly shimmering Cosmos.

A Cosmos!

Such a being was standing against a Grand Primordial Beast fearlessly, but the more profound thing was that the Primordial Beast didn't fear him as well! The Beast being in the upper tier of the Universal Filament with thousands of Splendiferous Universes actually didn't relent when facing against an existence in the Cosmic Realm, and this was due to a truth that very few beings knew that even allowed Grand Primordial Beasts to stand against regular existences in the Cosmic Realm.

It was the terrifying power that all Primordial Beasts were given at their birth that caused them to be so terrifying that normal Antiquities would only find themselves facing death if ever they came across one. It was...

"Let's see...this one has already entered its second stage in life as it has complete comprehension and assimilation of both the Primordial Dao and the Dao of Ruination. Should have already devoured a few cosmos..."

RUMBLE!

The Primordial watching from afar spoke out with no emotions at the mention of this beast having already devoured a few Cosmos- that was an uncountable number of lives! But her apathetic words contained shocking information about the nature of Primordial Beasts.

At their birth, they either held complete comprehension and assimilation in the Dao of Ruination OR the Primordial Dao.

It was something that even the existences who were lucky enough to comprehend these Daos would struggle to achieve until the Universes within their Origins dried up and they died, and yet they had it at birth!

The complete assimilation of Daos such as these brought about profound strength that would almost make an existence unrivaled across myriad of Cosmos.

Yet this was the first stage of life of Primordial Beasts.

Their second Stage consisted of them gaining the complete assimilation of BOTH Ruination and the Primordial Dao, and this was when they were termed Grand Primordial Beasts.

The third stage of life was truly the most terrifying one, and it was these Primordial Beasts that more often than not accomplished their purposes of returning things to how they once were and destroyed entire branching realities.

The stage that allowed them to be termed Cosmic Primordial Beasts, the Enders of Realities!

RUMBLE!

Chapter 1137 - Antiquity Of Mana! II

Cosmic Primordial Beasts!

Enders of Realities!

Existences that even those in the Cosmic Realm would be hard pressed to fight, existences that more often than not- Primordials had to take care of.

Primordials...or the special and unique champions that they raised across different realities.

The existence that the Primordial was watching wasn't matching an Ender of Reality, just a Primordial Beast that was a level lower. But if anyone within dozens of Cosmos claimed they could do what this being was doing...they would be lying!

THRUM!

The innumerable colorful lines and runic circles rotating on the skin of the ones known as Aegon thrummed powerfully, his body shining like a treasure as he moved across the Ruination Sea fearlessly.

ROOOAAR!

The Grand Primordial Beast also bellowed out as the Ruination Sea around them fell under its control, its entire body suffused with Primordial and Ruination Essence as it seemed like it could change its entire nature into these very Daos at any second!

SHAA!

A glorious light flashed as the figure of Aegon and the Grand Primordial Beast passed each other.

BOOOM!

A sound akin to a Universe shattering exploded out, golden blood from the Grand Primordial Beast erupting out as two of its wings were actually ripped apart, the golden blood from them still freshly flowing from the hands of the dominantly colored Aegon.

The Ruination and Primordial Essence flowing through this creature couldn't stop what had just occurred, as Aegon didn't use any flashy moves and simply utilized his very own hands to somehow rip apart a pair of wings from the terrifying Primordial Beast!

His eyes were without any enthusiasm or happiness as he looked at such a result in utter calm, the angered roars of the Beast not even being registered by him as he moved forward again, the many runic lines and circles moving colorfully across his body being the reason for his shocking power as he moved without any flashy skills to tear apart a Beast with thousands of Splendiferous Universes and completely assimilated Ruination and Primordial Daos.

Just what was the mystery behind his strength? How could he so easily bypass the stupendous might of fully assimilation Ruination and Primordial Daos?!

The mystery would remain unsolved as in the turbid Ruination Sea, golden blood overflowed.

The regal and sacred looking Grand Primordial Beast continued to release shocking power and awe, but it was still being ripped apart endlessly by this single being that had his body shining gloriously with an array of rainbow colored lights!

ROAR!

The cries became weaker and weaker as minutes passed, the Ruination Sea nearby becoming dyed gold as in a short period of time, the weakening roars ultimately ceased.

"..."

The majestic figure of the multicolored Aegon shone gloriously in the Ruination Sea, glancing at the lakes of golden blood around him as within his hands, a colorful heart thumped powerfully.

A Grand Primordial Heart pulsed with glorious power while still dripping golden blood, this existence doing something stupefying in the next moment as he opened his mouth and threw this heart into his mouth, golden blood spurting out amidst his chewing!

This Primordial Heart was nothing like the one Noah had received as it was light years in sheer size alone, the stupendous existence actually chewing this heart and devouring it raw as in this process, his sharp eyes gazed towards a certain direction.

A few trillions of miles away in the Ruination Sea, it was the spot where a certain Primordial was watching the events unfold, her veil shaking slightly as she raised her head, a hidden smile appearing that nobody could see as she tore through the Ruination Sea to appear out grandly!

As a meeting occurred after a grand battle countless light years away, another one formed in the Microbial Universe of the Infinite Cosmos.

It contained a majority if not all of the Hegemonies that spanned from the 54 Universes, all of them converging here amidst their shock as this was the place where from its boundary, they could see the thin veil of another Universe that had not been here for the millions of years that even the oldest of them had been living in the Primordial Cosmos!

They also gathered here for answers as after Oathkeeper had sent a message for them to not interfere when they sensed changes occurring across many universes, he also told all of them to gather in the Microbial Universe if they wished for answers.

And so they did.

These powerful beings were clustered around each other with somber expressions as they were very aware of what had been occurring the past few minutes, noticing the wondrous light of assimilation that passed through many Universes as well as the appearance of this new Universe.

As for the being responsible? All of them had an inkling of who it was as the Great Old Nazzagath was the first to turn his head from the direction of the newly formed Universe!

WAA!

From there, the figure of a devilishly handsome young man appeared, his brows sharp as his eyes glimmered with a golden and crimson light.

His body released the powerful aura of an Antiquity as Great Old Nazzagath and the other Hegemonies found their Origins shaking when they noticed the manifestation of 4 wondrous Universes, 3 of them being completed Splendiferous Universes that shone with a fantastical glow!

All of the powerhouses of the Infinite Cosmos gazed towards Noah's figure with a myriad of thoughts as a white crack expanded above each of them soon after, Primordial Essence gushing out of it as the figures of Oathkeeper and Noah's Primordial Ruination Clone that looked exactly the same as his main body that just stepped out of the newly formed Novus Universe.

Oathkeeper glanced at Noah's main body and then back to the Primordial Ruination Clone that had been with him all this time in the unique Primordial Sea of the past Primordial Cosmos, this ancient being sighing out slowly as his gaze landed on the Hegemonies of the now Infinite Cosmos.

"I guess now is a good time as any for introductions."

RUMBLE!

The voice of Oathkeeper reverberated out as it carried with it the unique aura of Antiquity, catching the eyes of all Hegemonies as they felt very familiar with Oathkeeper! He was someone they knew very closely as even though he had achieved a grand stage before them, they still saw him as their own.

They paid attention to him as he gazed and pointed towards Noah's figure that just stepped out of the Novus Universe.

"You knew him as the Apex Paragon just days ago. He achieved Hegemony in the past day as hours later...he achieved Antiquity."

...!

Even though they knew the sequence of events, the Hegemonies still had their Origins tremble in a stupor at this incredible reality being real as they also felt ashamed of themselves for having spent hundreds of thousands if not millions of years in the stage of Hegemonies!

But the Oathkeeper paid no attention to their emotions as this ancient being had already learned many lessons recently, thinking of how to introduce Noah now that he had achieved Antiquity.

He could base it off of the most unique Dao this being comprehended as he introduced him as the Antiquity of Ruination, but the golden eyes of the Oathkeeper shone as he truly thought about another unique feature that he had seen with this being over and over again since the appearance of the Universal Constructs and this whole ordeal!

The unique feature of this being that as a Vassal, he felt very closely at this moment as it had made him overly powerful.

It was the feature of mana!

"I introduce to you all the being responsible for our current state of affairs, the Antiquity...of Mana!"

RUMBLE!

Chapter 1138 - Comprehending And Assimilating Cosmic Daos Is Easy! I

Antiquity of Mana!

When the Hegemonies heard this title, they couldn't help but nod when they recalled the actions of this being the past few days!

Thus, another title was conferred to Noah as the Hegemonies still looked towards him with somber expressions, a hint of carefulness and fear hiding deep within their hearts at this being's power.

Achieving Antiquity just hours after becoming a Hegemony! What a concept this was to wrap one's head around. The sheer meaning behind it caused the Hegemonies of the Infinite Cosmos to be extremely wary of his power!

But with this introduction, Noah smiled lightly as his main body disappeared, the Primordial Ruination Clone being left behind as the unique authority of an Antiquity emanated from him to address everyone here.

"I've gone ahead and taken the liberties to expand my authority over the entire Cosmos...and you all should be able to see the changes that come with this as time passes."

THRUM!

Like a bolt of thunder, his words struck down into the hearts of these existences that had lived for hundreds of thousands and millions of years.

Yet he, an existence still in the middle of his 20s...stood above them and delivered such a message!

"Along with my authority...comes possibilities for you all to achieve even more power, and it is through the method that the Oathkeeper himself has just taken."

Noah looked towards the direction of the Oathkeeper who held immeasurable sighs hidden in his ancient face, continuing lightly as he then locked eyes with dozens of Hegemonies.

"Fealty."

RUMBLE

"In this Infinite Universe...those that will pledge Fealty to me will be able to ascend ranks and obtain power in their wildest dreams! Consider this closely in the next few days as I spread my authority even more closely with the existences across this Cosmos."

...!

In a domineering tone, Noah addressed the masses of the most powerful beings of the Cosmos as they did not dare to talk back, his eyes gazing over each of them as he even gave a nod to Great Old Nazzagath whom he had given this same offer to before!

"There is much to be done, so I'll be taking my leave first."

SHAA!

With a flash of light, Noah disappeared before the eyes of the Hegemonies as they felt like they could somewhat breathe again, their gazes all locking towards Oathkeeper that had the same aura of an Antiquity as the being that just left, only his aura was a few notches lower!

"Oathkeeper, this Antiquity of Mana..."

The beings who knew him and his allies that he had been working with for millions of years came forward to take with him as busting discussions erupted about Noah.

Amidst all of this, the powerful aura of an Antiquity didn't escape the minds of the Hegemonies as after some time, strong voices began to echo out.

"What shall we now address Oathkeeper as? We cannot keep referring to you with a title from your birthed Dao after you achieve Antiquity..."

"Yes! Something to fit your current achievements..."

THRUM!

As the talks were getting more and more robust, the star form of the Great Old Nazzagath shook as he grabbed the attention of everyone. This old being was nearly as old as Oathkeeper and the Goliath as he knew these beings from a long time ago, his voice echoing out powerfully at this moment.

"Since Oathkeeper is the only one in our Cosmos to comprehend the Primordial Dao...we can just refer to him as the Primordial Antiquity!"

Another title was conferred!

The Hegemonies looked at each other as they nodded, their gazes then returning to the Antiquity above them as their eyes were filled with flames of wanting.

Wanting the same realms and power that this being had achieved!

It was this wanting and search for greater power that started off the next Era of the Infinite Cosmos, and also this wanting that caused all the Hegemonies to remember Noah's words about Fealty!

The river of time ebbed ever so slowly forward.

Like this, a bit over a week passed as a great deal of things were accomplished in the Infinite Cosmos.

Grasping onto and accepting the changes was easy for the masses, with Noah going into the Cosmic Core on the first day as he carried out multiple grand actions!

The first was to elevate the Lesser Dao of Fealty to a Grand Dao, and he did this first as he would expand the essence of this Dao across the Cosmos to the uncountable number of Quintillions within it.

The changes were, as always- stupendous!

GRAND? [Dao of Fealty] :: A Grand Dao birthed by the Cosmic Core of Noah Osmont. As the Dao Architect, Noah Osmont can comprehend and assimilate the Dao at 10 times the normal speed. The Dao of Fealty allows a being with extensive influence over others to boost their power, with those who swear Fealty and are considered as [Vassals] becoming applicable subordinates under the banner of an Emperor. [Vassals] can access 10% of the total power of their Emperor, with the amount of power they can access being limited by their comprehension and assimilation in the Dao of Fealty. Complete comprehension allows for 15% access, with full Assimilation granting 25% access. The unique abilities, qualities, laws, and Grand Daos of the Emperor can be utilized by the Vassals in a much lower form, with the possibilities Cosmic Daos being utilized by them only becoming a reality if the Dao of Fealty is elevated to the respective Cosmic level. Vassals with more than 50% Comprehension in the Dao of Fealty are given the titles of Barons, those with complete Comprehension being titled Earls, those over 50% Assimilation being titled Dukes, with Vassals standing at complete Assimilation being titled Kings as all of the Titled Vassals are under the banner of their Emperor...

With the advancement to a Grand Dao, the power that his Vassals could access was effectively doubled, and those with complete assimilation of the Dao Of Fealty could utilize 1/4th of his total power!

This...was just the elevation of a single lesser Dao to the Grand level!

Chapter 1139 - Comprehending And Assimilating Cosmic Daos Is Easy! II

A Grand Dao that would allow his Vassals to utilize 25% of his power when fully assimilated!

But...there were no Dao Crystals or any methods for others to ascend through the Comprehension and Assimilation of a Dao that Noah created not too many days ago, and even now there weren't any beings that had surpassed the rank of Baron by having more than 50% Comprehension in Fealty.

Another point was that the increased percentage allowed Noah to influence his Vassals at an even deeper level, his vast fortune continuing to expand resplendently as when he released the Grand Dao Essence of Fealty to cover the Infinite Cosmos...

RUUMBLE!

The regal essence of the Emperor calling for Fealty suffused throughout powerfully, an unknown number of Quintillions of existences seeing the prompt that told them if they wished for power...to pay Fealty to the Tyrannical Emperor, to the Antiquity of Mana!

The Dao Essence was filled with memories and scenes of Noah's stupendous authority, most existences throughout the Infinite Cosmos answering the call as they read through the shocking memories within the essence as well as the idea of gaining power.

With the masses pledging their Fealty, Marks of Antiquity had coalesced like never before around Noah as on the first day of the birth of the Infinite Cosmos...it's Core had released such dense golden light from the Marks of Antiquity converging towards Noah that these rays of gold light had even suffused out of the hidden folds of space and into the outside Universes!

This...was just the first day.

The majority of existences pledged Fealty as the rest would follow for the days and weeks to come, where at the end of it all, the number of Marks of Antiquity that Noah had obtained were a truly obscene amount.

The number..had actually spilled over a trillion as over 1000 Billion Marks of Antiquity were surpassed, the number stabilizing over 1580 Billion- or 1.58 Trillion Marks of Antiquity at the end of the day!

The golden rays of light had gone to wash over countless light years as by the end of it, Noah had enough Marks of Antiquity to bring to fruition over 16 Splendiferous Universes...with the only thing left to do being for him to produce them within his Origin.

Thereafter, Noah also elevated the levels of the Lesser Daos of Subterfuge and Conquest to Grand levels, these Daos gaining a significant boost as well.

GRAND [Dao of Conquest] :: A Grand Dao birthed by the Cosmic Core of Noah Osmont... Conquered lands will always allow the user to quadruple their power while fighting within them, while their strength will always be tripled when they are in the process of Conquest... Full Assimilation of Conquest grants the user the capability to Empower not just Absolute Skills, but any Lesser and Grand Daos they Comprehend, along with their power being quintupled in Conquered Lands and quadrupled while in the process of Conquest...

It was a stupendous enhancement of multiple levels as for Noah who had fully assimilated it, he would always have his power quadrupled under the path of Conquest while having it quintupled whenever he was within conquered lands like the Infinite Cosmos!

This wasn't to mention the fact that he could now even Empower Grand and Lesser Daos from using the Light of Conquest which after conquering the entire Primordial Cosmos...this Light was burning so brightly within Noah's Origin and the glorious Star of Conquest above him that it now caused his body to always release a regal white aura constantly.

The base effects and boosts this Dao provided to Noah were above and beyond even some Cosmic Daos like Annihilation, making Noah look at the Dao of Conquest as a possible Dao to turn into a Cosmic one!

If he did, he could then gain the capability to Empower even Cosmic Daos as such a thought made his calculative mind imagine a qualitative leap in strength, especially if he could Empower Daos such as Ruination.

But Noah held off on doing this as of now as the 3 spots for the Cosmic Daos was extremely precious, and only after more deliberation and guidance from his own Dao and Fortune would he go ahead and do this.

The elevation of the Dao of Subterfuge to the Grand level on the other hand didn't provide as much ridiculous boosts as Fealty or Conquest, only enhancing the capabilities of Subterfuge being seen through as Noah could hide in front of or fool an existence a whole realm above him and have no chance to be discovered!

The elevation of all of the first 3 Daos Noah designed only boosted his strength to another level as he now directed his efforts to see what Cosmic Daos he should produce, and it was during this same period of days that he oversaw the Universes of the Infinite Cosmos while taking up his role as...a farmer.

A farmer! As grand as Noah was, his scale wasn't small as he devised a plan for him to heavily elevate the Comprehension and Assimilation of his Daos, and this could now be done with ease when utilizing the newly unlocked plants and herbs of the Infinite Cosmos such as Ruination Strawberries and Primordial Apples!

For this, Noah spared no efforts as when he acted, he acted in a major way.

With the help of {Cosmic Core Management}, he could expertly select which areas he wanted to turn into farmlands that would be designated as Dao Spaces, these lands having increased concentrations of specific Dao Essences as Noah would plant their matching fruits and herbs here.

For the area that Noah designated as farmlands where he planted obscene amounts of Seeds of Time, Primordial Apples, Ruination Strawberries...it was an entire Universe.

The blank and newly formed Novus Universe...had all of its tens of billions of Galaxies with all of their stellar bodies turned into cultivation fields and Dao Spaces where he planted a shocking number of fruits that when consumed- they granted an increase in comprehensive and assimilation of their respective Daos!

An entire universe!

The extremely slow paced Cosmic Dao of Ruination and even the Primordial Dao that Noah had yet to learn....when he began eating up the treasured Ruination Strawberries and Primordial Apples, what could they do but submit to him and rise up crazily in proficiency?!

Chapter 1140 - Comprehending And Assimilating Cosmic Daos Is Easy! III

In the newly emerged Novus Universe.

The figures of multiple important personages could be seen floating in the void of space, all of them situated behind a single being that was surrounded by a few key figures!

The devilishly handsome appearance of Noah could be seen with clarity as he floated at the forefront, his figure suffused with golden and white lights from his overabundance of fortune and light of Conquest.

Around him, the calm and steady figure of the Ice Queen Adelaide could be seen, this Queen being clad in a white dress as she stood the closest to Noah!

Nearby, the figure of Valentina could be seen as she sported an unreadable expression, Barbatos floating beside her lazily as the figures of Anna, Elena, Athena, Kazuhiko, Morgana, the Sword Emperor...it was many of the core beings that stemmed from Noah's world and Dark Universe.

They had the honor to stand beside the being that released terrifying waves of Authority as further behind them were the figures of Noah's Summons, each of them showing shimmering Universes manifested within their Origins as with the passing of 7 days...Noah had truly been busy!

With his Realm being higher, Noah could seamlessly bring the Realm of his contracted Animus Summons to the same level through the [Animus Growth Empowerment] ability that if one remembers- it allowed his contracted summons to be brought to the same Realm as the Summoner.

But there was still a limitation to this as when one looked closely at the manifested Universes of Noah's summons, they would be able to notice they were all normal Universes as they also released the aura of Apocryphal Antiquities!

This was because they didn't enter the Universal Filament Realm through completing their first Splendiferous Universe, but through Noah breaking them through by force as they didn't hold a sufficient amount of Marks of Antiquity to have enough Dao Galaxies.

But their life up was still terrifying for others to see as the hearts of the Hegemonies of the past Primordial Cosmos were the most shaken as they looked towards them from the back.

Many existences were currently present within this Novus Universe, with the Oathkeeper standing in front of multiple Hegemonies as they stared in wonder at the sight of Apocryphal Antiquities...and the scene that everyone here was glancing at in front of Noah.

It was the scene of countless Galaxies glimmering brightly, all of them lined up and arranged in neat rows as they covered their sight for innumerable light years all around!

Under the control of the Cosmic Core, the layout of the Novus Universe was changed as all of the Galaxies within it were put together in these neat rows, Noah using these Galaxies as farming fields as he designated all of them into Dao Spaces of different Daos to grow the unique treasure fruits and herbs of the Infinite Cosmos.

As always, the plants had a period of time they had to pass through before they could be harvested, and Noah had gone ahead and reduced tens of years of waiting for sacred fruits like Ruination Strawberries and Primordial Apples into a mere 7 days.

7 days!

Of course, this was only made possible through the skill tree of [Versatile Farmer], Noah utilizing the ability of [Master Farmer] within it and bathing the entire tens of billions of Galaxies within the Novus Universe with a verdant light that caused the planted seeds of a myriad of sacred Dao plants and herbs to quickly sprout and grow until they were now ready to be harvested!

This was why everyone was gathered here!

They were all staring in utter stupor at the sudden increase of Antiquities around Noah, but they also couldn't hold their amazement at the countless Galaxies lined up around them that shimmered with different lights.

Some shone brightly red as Ruination Strawberries were planted on all the planetary bodies of this Galaxy. Others shone purple as Seeds of Time permeated throughout them, and other Galaxies shone a resplendent white as Primordial Apples filled their planetary bodies.

Their thick essence caused the entire Universe to be suffused with a wondrous glow and atmosphere, the life force of these plants even causing all the races of the Euthenia Universe that was largely plant based to want to live here!

But as everyone stared at the sight before them and at Noah in a stupor, this being at the center of it all spoke as he utilized [Automatic Planting and Harvesting] to pluck all the harvestable fruits of a single Galaxy.

THRUM!

The light of one pristinely white galaxy dimmed slightly as a second later, sparkling Incandescent white apples that shone like the most sacred treasures appeared before everyone in the trillions.

Sacred fruits capable of allowing one to gain increased Comprehension and Assimilation in the Primordial Dao...were actually harvested by the trillions from a single Galaxy!

"..."

As Noah looked at such a scene, even he thought he might have gone overboard by planting an entire Universe with such types of Dao Fruits, and he knew they would be nearly endless for him and his subordinates to use as they wished.

But the prerequisite for one to fully enjoy them was to have initial comprehension in the respective Dao!

Noah waved his hands as one of the Primordial Apples landed on his hands, the sacred fruit releasing rays of light as they seemed full of Primordial Essence.

He didn't have any comprehension in the Primordial Dao...but it didn't mean such a reality would remain for long as while he held on to the pristine harvested Primordial Apple and under the gazes of many beings, Noah's devilish smile could be seen as he uttered out.

"Shower me with Primordial Essence!"

RUMBLE

He voiced out as it was akin to a command, the space above his figure splitting apart as the Cosmic Core heeded his command and began to release boundless waves of Primordial Essence unto Noah!

As for the reason why?

It was of course, for the skill of [Cosmic Dao Essence Integration and Emergence] that in the period of 7 days, it had finished its cool down and was ready to be used.

The first time he used it, he obtained the Cosmic Dao of Chronos. Now, he was using it again to obtain the Primordial Dao that only a single other being was capable of comprehending in the whole of Primordial Cosmos!
