Chapter 1361 - Bloodlines!

In a nondescript area in the Ruination Sea, the recently teleported few million existences under Stormdust could be seen situated nearly into rows, and a figure of one of Noah's clones was releasing a ring of Flames of Kismet in the surroundings as he created a huge space that no Ruination Essence could pierce through!

He contained his experimental subjects and future Cosmic Resource Points here as he didn't bring them back to the Infinite Empire, taking some caution to not allow others to easily locate his base for now.

With them here, Noah could begin a sequence of plans to accomplish two of the three conditions required for forging a Primordial Epitaph!

As his clone watched the experimental subjects in this region of the Ruination Sea, his Universal Body was in the Cosmic Holy Land as with a brilliant luster of colors, he spoke out grandly.

"Proceed with the design of the Cosmic Dao of Conversion, the Cosmic Dao of Regeneration, and the Cosmic Dao of Bloodlines."

RUMBLE!

He fantastically authorized the designs of three Cosmic Daos as even after all this, he wasn't done!

"Elevate the Grand Daos of Destiny, Devouring, Oscillation, Archetypes, and Fealty into Cosmic Daos."

WAA!

The moment his words faded, storms of essence erupted out as old Daos at the Grand level were elevated to the Cosmic level, and the new Cosmic Daos of Conversion, Regeneration, and Bloodlines bloomed as the Cosmic Filament Core buzzed with activity to make it all possible!

Conversion, Regeneration, and Bloodlines were of course geared towards the Edict Noah wanted to forge that would increase his rate of generation of True Blood of Higher Existences, and the Grand Daos elevated were possibilities to be used to form this Edict and also go the fact that their strength could be increased with their rise in rank- and this only went forward to further increase Noah's strength.

OOOM!

Noah's stellar hair that shone with the light of Universes waved around him madly as he didn't wait long before the Runic symbols representing the new Cosmic Daos of Conversion, Regeneration, and Bloodlines bloomed, his eyes watching them carefully as they sank into his Origin as he was able to understand their composition extremely well!

Three new Cosmic Daos bloomed in his Origin as five Grand Daos became Cosmic Ones, Noah feeling this awe inspiring sense of power coursing through him as he focused on the newly formed Daos.

While he did this, his people across the Infinite Empire experienced wild boosts in strength from the elevation of Fealty and Archetypes, many more intricate designs rising from these Daos that Noah would have to delve in another time!

His eyes focused on the first Dao of Conversion as it allowed for not just the Conversion of some forms of essence into others, but it also allowed one to convert or reconstruct concepts of Daos at a small level along with other concepts. Noah designed this Dao in mind of the Edict it would go towards producing- an Edict that allowed him to convert normal Blood into True Blood!

Then there was the Cosmic Dao of Regeneration that vastly increased his rate of Regeneration for all Resources, and he designed this to aid in the increased generation of blood when he formed the Edict. On top of resource regeneration, it also increased the generation of blood within his body by ten- directly increasing his daily output of the nanoliters of True Blood!

Lastly, there was the Cosmic Dao of Bloodlines which fully deserved its own description.

COSMIC [Dao of Bloodlines] :: A Cosmic Dao birthed by the Cosmic Filament Core of Noah Osmont. As the Dao Architect, Noah Osmont can comprehend and assimilate the Dao at 10 times the normal speed. The Cosmic Dao of Bloodlines allows one the capability to consolidate any Bloodlines below the level of Bloodline Edicts, being able to fuse the different types of lineage in one's Origin into a single one. One can also choose to lock their other Bloodlines to allow for the quadrupled effect of a single Bloodline. Expert control over Blood is granted as the abilities {Bloodline Master}, {Devourer of Blood}, {Blood of Old}, {Unnatural Regeneration} are granted...

The Cosmic Dao of Bloodlines was the most unique out of the new ones as it directly granted Noah the ability of Unnatural Regeneration that took a portion of the boosts that the Cosmic Dao of Regeneration provided and elevated them even more, with it also having the carryover effect for even the True Blood within his body!

{Unnatural Regeneration} :: Your bloodline cells regenerate at an Unnatural rate, increasing to be a thousand times more for normal Blood and ten times as much for unique types of Blood. Blood loss isn't a concept for a being such as you...

A passive ability that directly increased the Regeneration of different types of Blood, and this included the True Blood that was classified as unique!

Noah felt these changes first hand as the minuscule amounts of golden blood within his Origin began to bubble, more of them slowly coming to fruition as he smiled when he felt these fantastic changes.

After the design of these three Daos, he was ready to begin the forging of another Edict- one that would be the highest Tier edict he had made to date as his destiny already told him it should be a peak GREATER Edict!

This was because he would be including not just the Primordial Dao into it- but also the Dao of Ruination.

And on top of this...he would be doing something he had yet to do so far, and that was to incorporate not just laws and Daos into this Edict, but also the concepts of things like the Blood Lord Skill Tree and the very essence of the Vampire Progenitor and its abilities!

'It is a new age of experimenting and trying new things...why just stop at laws and Daos?!'

Noah had such a domineering thought as he was only confident in doing so due to nothing other than the Primordial Dao that he saw worked to interlink many things.

If it could interlink laws and Daos to forge a GREATER Edict within seconds, surely it could also handle other concepts like skill trees and bloodlines?!

Chapter 1362 - Insuperable! I

Within the Cosmic Holy Land.

A golden throne stood behind Noah as floated near its glimmering aurelian steps, his Universal Form surrounded by the light of too many concepts.

That's right- not laws and daos alone, but many other concepts too!

The concept of the Vampyre Progenitor Bloodline...he called forth outwardly as glimmering crimson speaks of blood floated around him. The core of the Blood Lord Skill Tree that held Universal Blood Clones was also expressed outwardly as Noah called out the knowledge and authority of this skill tree that had bound to his Origin.

All of these...were swirling along with the light of the Cosmic Daos of Conversion, Regeneration, Bloodlines, Runes, Primordial, Ruination, Fusion, Destiny, Fealty, Oscillation, Archetypes, Chronos, and Devouring. To top it all off, the laws of fate, Karma, chaos, and time were also shining in a dazzling fashion around Noah as multiple Shards of a Cosmic Primordial Heart rotated around him!

The Dao of Fusion was already bathing everything as Noah was utilizing his Primordial Eye and utilizing the Dao of Blueprints and Edict of Commandment to gaze at everything, his focus remaining on the Primordial Dao that he knew could interlink everything together.

'Can you interlink all of these concepts together though?' Noah was in the dark in this as well, Kismet only showing him this through <Path to Victory> as something he should follow, but the result would be a surprise for him just like anyone else!

"Let's take it slow..." His voice echoed out across the majestic looking area within this Holy Land, his fingers beginning to move as he weaved the many concepts around him together.

The Nomological Edict of Commandment had its Flames already summoned as Narrative Reality Manipulation was ready for Noah to use at any point where he faced a roadblock, and his pioneering of not just the fusion of laws and Daos but many more concepts as well commenced!

OOOOM!

An austere air of wonder and fantasy permeated out as he first began by spreading Primordial Essence around everything using it like a thick line that wrapped around the essence of the Vampyre Progenitor Bloodline and the Blood Lord Skill Tree first before he even touched the other Daos and Laws.

The sight he had under the Dao of Blueprints allowed him to see the smallest make up of these concepts and find the easiest ways to link them together, and he watched on as a crimson light pulled out when he cross linked the concept of a skill tree and Bloodline together, these two going well as the were of the same Origin!

Then came the Daos and laws. Noah's brows tightened as he weaved the Primordial Essence as a line of connection from the two previously fused concepts as he went towards the particles of the Dao of Conversion, Regeneration, and Bloodlines first, finding this entirely difficult as even with the interlinking quality of the Primordial Essence, the connections did not seem to be stable when they formed!

"Hmmm..." Noah saw the hardship appear as the fusion of the concepts of Blood Lord and the Vampyre Progenitor Bloodline caused instability, his will moving rapidly as the Flames of Commandment were activated.

<Narrative Reality Manipulation> began to weave grandly as a golden pen appeared within his hands, his eyes themselves glazed gold as he saw an excerpt that showed his actions in the last 30 seconds as he went ahead and forcefully changed portions of it!

<<....Then came the Daos and laws. Noah's brows tightened as he weaved the Primordial Essence as a line of connection from the two previously fused concepts as he went towards the particles of the Dao of Conversion, Regeneration, and Bloodlines first, finding this {to be difficult at first, but he slowly watched on as the Primordial Essence clutched onto every concept by force to connect them all together!}...>>

THRUM!

Waves of the pristine essence of Commandment echoed out as they also went to bathe the mixture of different concepts, slight alterations in Reality being made through Narrative Reality Manipulation as the hardship Noah faced with connecting other Concepts to Daos faded, truly watching the interlinking process continue!

"Haha, good!"

His eyes released beams of stellar light as he continued, slowly but surely weaving other Daos together as Primordial Essence acted like a bridge stretching out to all of them.

But due to the large number of Cosmic Daos involved and the hardship of weaving them all together, the process took some time!

Unlike when he completed a GREATER Nomological Edict within seconds, he found himself delicately moving forward to fuse the many differing concepts as he only moved on to the next Cosmic Dao or Law when one concept was fully inducted into the Edict that had yet to form.

Like this, hours passed!

His Universal Body continued to shine in a Resplendent manner as his hands weaved around him constantly, directing the Primordial Essence in many different directions as after the Daos of Conversion, Regeneration, and Bloodlines were fully fused, he proceeded towards Destiny, Runes, Oscillation...and all the other ones contained within this Dao as constantly, the light of the Nomological Edict of Commandment shone as he utilized <Narrative Reality Manipulation> to erase any mistakes or advance himself forward.

He continued on like this as in the outside 'world', nobody knew what a tremendous task he was undertaking or what fantastical wonder would come out of it, but Noah remained steadfast as he took everything on his shoulders!

A day passed.

Three days passed!

If it were anyone else, even someone at the Cosmic Realm- they would have utterly been exhausted of Mana after constantly keeping active the essence so many Daos and Edicts, but it only required Noah's concentration as on the fourth day...he finally saw the locks of the last Cosmic Dao- he finally saw the locks of Ruination closing in to finish the fusion of all the concepts together.

Ruination was actually the hardest concept to include as it should have directly opposed the Primordial Essence- but Noah had seen how the white essence had interlinked with the crimson essence before as he simply repeated this carefully...and he watched with shining eyes as an enormous piece of a puzzle became completed!

A piece of a puzzle that at the moment of its completion, a beam of a multicolored colored light shot from it as it pierced past the Cosmic Holy Land...and even out of the Cosmos itself as an entirely radiant beam of light actually erupted from the Infinite Empire and shot out into the Ruination Sea!

Chapter 1363 - Insuperable! II

In the depths of the Primordial Sea, a meditating Hyperion raised his Draconic-Elephantine head as he saw a blinding multicolored light shoot past a portion of the Primordial Sea and continue to edge upwards, the light causing the Cosmic Origin of this being to tremble when he gazed at it!

It wasn't a gaze that spoke of more power or dominance, but it was a gaze of suppression- suppression as if he was looking at something a reach higher than anything he had before.

"This..."

His eyes flashed sharply and dangerously as he looked at this light, turning down towards the direction it shot out from as he disappeared towards its direction as a streak of light!

Far from the Primordial Sea, within the Primordial Empire...the Champion of Reality saw the same thing as while he held onto the fair body of Havenbreaker on a grand bed of utter comfort, his eyes burst open to stare at a certain direction where his Primordial Eye honed in to see a blinding pillar of multicolored light shooting out from an origin of a single area and out into the expansive Ruination Sea as it seemed to continue endlessly.

WAP!

His figure instantly disappeared from the embrace of his love as she woke up drowsily, but he was gone chasing the origin of the light that brought a sense of oppression to the Origin of even a Champion of Reality!

Noah's eyes released arcs of stellar multicolored light as he saw this fantastic beam of light shoot forth endlessly from the fully fused cluster of many concepts that also shone with a glorious of multiple colors- colors that sank into him while his Origin churned out its endless drives of Mana into the Cosmic Filament Core of the Infinite Empire.

He did so as his face carried an expression of immense happiness and also a tinge of annoyance- happiness at what he had been able to achieve and annoyance at the ridiculous light show it came with!

His Cosmic Core understood his intentions as it accepted his mana and commands, its Cosmos becoming wrapped in blinding rays of spatial light as in the next second, a unique scene occurred in the Ruination Sea as a uniquely connected cluster of 100 Cosmos disappeared.

THRUM!

The seas churned and toiled as in the next second, the titanous structure of the cluster of Cosmos disappeared and the crimson sea rushed to fill the space it was in.

A few seconds after this, the figure of another titanous structure appeared as Hyperion's profound form materialized, his three eyes gazing at everything thoughtfully as he locked onto the space being filled by Ruination Essence!

"Is it him...?" His ancient voice echoed out as it was filled with doubt, his figure becoming wrapped in a spatial light as he disappeared soon after.

Another few seconds passed silently as the surrounding Ruination Sea calmed, and sometimes later, yet another figure appeared.

With dark hair waving down gorgeously to his shoulders and his muscular chest etched by countless Runic Dao Lines visible, Aegon appeared as he gazed at the surroundings carefully, but he also found nothing as he left soon after!

Both of these beings were drawn in by the birth of something illustrious- the birth of something they could only guess as it was the product of a being who could forge a GREATER Nomological Edict in seconds, and yet it had taken him more than 4 days to complete this product.

They wouldn't get to know exactly what it was as the being who had forged himself was only finding out now!

In the recently relocated Infinite Empire, within the Cosmic Holy Land.

THUMP!

Noah's body was releasing constant and booming sounds of a heartbeat, but it wasn't his actual heart beating- but it was the beat of a new Nomological Edict that was binding with his very Origin and soul!

From the fusion of both the Primordial Dao and the Dao of Ruination along with many other Cosmic Daos, Laws, and two other concepts- a product that actually was not a Minor or Greater ranking Edict was formed.

It was close to reaching the next tier of Edicts...but it also wasn't quite there yet as it was attached with the affix of "QUASI"!

"Ah..."

At this reality, Noah's heart and very origin trembled as he saw the rank above Greater Edicts appear before his eyes, even if what he achieved was merely a quasi form of it and not entirely there!

QUASI-INSUPERABLE <Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor>

INSUPERABLE!

After Minor and Greater Edicts, there came Insuperable Edicts as this word had a grand meaning!

It meant something that was impossible to overcome, something insurmountable to cross or deny.

This was Insuperable.

Noah had only achieved the Rank of QUASI-INSUPERABLE as even with this, it was a reason for celebration as even someone like Cecilia- a Primordial at the Cosmic Filament Rank- even she had not achieved a QUASI-INSUPERABLE Ranked Edict or much less one at the full rank of Insuperable!

The Nomological Edict to be forged in question was termed Sanguine Emperor- the word Sanguine relating to blood as this Edict crowned its architect the Emperor of Blood.

Noah's heart settled as he allowed his eyes to gaze upon the glorious Edict that was meant to propel him rapidly towards the status of a Higher Existence!

QUASI-INSUPERABLE <Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor>:: A Nomological Edict is a form of undeniable truth and authority that is birthed from the combination of laws and Daos, and it cannot be circumvented or stopped by anything, with the only possibility of deniability lying with another Edict. The Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor is further elevated as it stands at the rank of QUASI-INSUPERABLE, touching on the boundary of ancient and undeniable authorities privy to select beings. The Edict is birthed from the combination of the Cosmic Daos of Primordial, Ruination, Fusion, Destiny, Conversion, Regeneration, Bloodlines, Chronos, Fealty, Oscillation, Archetypes, and Devouring. The user is granted the title of The Sanguine Emperor as when it comes to the control and Manipulation of blood, they are unrivaled within the same Realm of power. With the inclusion of unique Daos to bring it to fruition, this QUASI-INSUPERABLE Edict allows for its essence to transmogrify normal consumed blood and other unique resources into True Blood. Under its essence, the user undergoes a qualitative and quantitative change in their blood as they are granted a base increase of +500,000,000% to All Parameters and +500,000,000% to Health Regeneration. Your blood is the ultimate panacea as consumption of it by others will produce many different effects. Complete progression of this Edict will allow one to even be capable of exerting control over the blood of existences a Higher Realm than them, among other boosts. The abilities <Blood Transmogrification>, <Sanguinity>, <Blood of Old>, and <Bloodborne> are granted. Along with this, any Nomological Edict grants its user a smoother pathway towards Reality, granting them an increase in the speed of their Realm Progression by +10,000,000%, an increase of +20,000,000% to All Parameters, and increases the chances of Fusions of other Laws and Daos by 10% for the production of other Nomological Edicts. Current fusion of the laws and Daos for the Nomological Edict of The Sanguine Emperor: 1%

The product of his 4 days of hard work lay before existence eyes- one with a solution of him being able to reach the stage of a Higher Existence in a short period of time!

Chapter 1364 - Sanguine Emperor! I

"What the hell could that have been?"

In the Novus Universe, the Great Old Nazzagath in the form of a terrifying star the size of a galaxy spoke out, the figure of Oathkeeper clad in gold light beside him glancing at the fading pillar of multicolored light that stretched from the Cosmic Holy Land in shock and disbelief.

This was because Oathkeeper was among the very few 18 Existences that had been granted one of the Bloodline Edicts from Noah, Oathkeeper being given the Bloodline of Kismet as he had already begun to sense the fusion of laws and Daos that went into it as he arrived at the step of glimpsing the Edict itself with the help of the Dao of Fusion, and he was close to fusing it as he was gradually becoming familiar with the aura of an Edict!

Precisely because of this reason, Oathkeeper was in tune with the feeling of a fresh Edict as he thought he had touched upon a grand and regal path of the highest stature finally, and yet this whole view was blown out of the water the moment he saw that multicolored pillar of light.

The budding essence of Kismet that had barely formed within his Origin had trembled and quivered when this light appeared, seeming like a mere child cowering frightfully at the appearance of something entire levels above it as it showed off its dominance over everything else!

This...was the stage he was touching on. The multicolored light he and all others in the Infinite Empire saw...it was the stage that Noah was touching on!

"How are you doing this...? How can this be?" Oathkeeper could not help but utter a question towards this being that he still had not fully understood, and he was one of the many existences still wondering about Noah and becoming surprised at the actions he undertook.

He wasn't alone as two other beings who were actually proficient in Edicts felt the same thing, Halcyon and Springforge gazing towards Noah's misty golden Throne in the Cosmic Holy Land in utter shock at the oppressive aura of an Edict being released as towards their shocked faces and demeanors, the beings near them were conversing calmly with each other while looking at them.

Barbatos played with the essence of Commandment that had already begun to bloom within her after being granted its Bloodline, voicing out with a mischievous smile towards a proud looking Elena beside her.

"When do you think they'll get used to the crazy things Little Fish does and take things like this as an everyday occurrence?"

Barbatos was among the many who had come to gradually be used to shocking scenes like this, Elena's eyes looking towards the misty golden throne in the Cosmic Holy Land as she replied with fervor.

"At least three weeks. By that time they should probably witness the great Progenitor achieving another Realm of Power or even stand above the corpse of the Champion of Reality..."

Dangerous words leaked from her mouth as Barbatos laughed devilishly beside her!

A combination of a skill tree, the concept of a Bloodline, multiple laws, and a full assortment of Cosmic Daos granted him a QUASI-INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict!

Its mere presence alone was astounding, allowing him to convert consumed normal Blood into True Blood!

This..was what the Tainted Ones and other existences that Noah had bound in a region of the Ruination Sea were for.

They were for him to obtain Cosmic Resource Points and Shards of a Cosmic Core, yes- but he also wanted them for their blood as he prepared for this Edict!

Now, its stellar details laid before his eyes as he could feel his own universal blood boiling, becoming increasingly heavy with power and authority as he gazed at the first ability that came with this skill- and the first ability that he would be utilizing with subjects ready.

<Blood Transmogrification> :: The Sanguine Emperor is not just an Edict, but a title granted to a being proficient in the Manipulation of True Blood. The more basic abilities of such a title is the conversion of unique resources and normal Blood into True Blood itself, being capable of replenishing oneself as for so long as your True Blood courses through your veins, you shall not perish lest it be through the ravages of cycles of time. Different resources can grant different percentages of True Blood, with immensely large amounts of each resource being required as only an existence at the Cosmic Filament Realm could afford them. The first and most costly resource is the resource of Mana that is capable of generating 20% of your True Blood, then the resource of Fortune and Destiny being capable of generating another 20%, the resource of unique treasures/items being capable of generating another 20%, and the remaining 40% is only capable of being transmogrified from normal devoured and one's own Blood. The Authority of the Sanguine Emperor can be extended from the Emperor himself towards 9 other beings as a maximum of 40% of their Blood can be transformed into True Blood, and another extension to 81 other beings as a maximum of 20% of their Blood can be transformed into True Blood.

"Beautiful..." How else could Noah describe it but beautiful?!

The concept of True Blood itself was so foreign and new that he was getting Nanoliters of it from Bloodlines of completed Edicts, and yet now with the advent of the Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor, he could forge 20% of all his True Blood with Mana alone.

Mana!

If it wasn't capped at 20% for this resource, he would have blown through it entirely and fully achieved a full body of True Blood as even with this small percentage alone, nobody else had access to it but him.

Not even a Primordial like Cecilia had the authority of a Sanguine Emperor to be capable of transforming pure Mana into True Blood.

"But I can!"

His voice came out as below in the austere Cosmic Holy Land, his floating figure taking a meditative position in the space as he called out dominantly.

"<Blood Transmogrification>."

RUMBLE!

Chapter 1365 - Sanguine Emperor! II

<Blood Transmogrification>!"

OOOM!

A glorious authority descended as his Origin pulsed with ancient authority, the essence of the Sanguine Emperor erupting wildly within Noah's body as it asked him what exactly he wanted to Transmogrify!

"Mana!"

He called out with a glimmer of light as the essence of the Sanguine Emperor agreed, beginning to pull from his very Origin as the beautiful cerulean blue color of Mana bloomed out madly.

Mana came from one's Origin, and only 20% of his True Blood could come from the Transmogrification of Mana. Normally as stated in the description of the skill, one had to have mana equivalent to the Cosmic Filament Realm to be capable of having enough Mana to achieve this successful Transmogrification!

Noah didn't know this, but even those at this level would have had to drain their mana reserves dozens of times over before they fully obtained 20% of their True Blood from this resource.

Yet for him...

OOOOM!

The gorgeous cerulean blue covered his Universal Form as in conjunction with the vibrant undulating light of the Essence of the Sanguine Lord, this mana began to be absorbed and disappear with terrifying speed!

It was swallowed by the essence of the Sanguine Emperor as moments later, Noah saw this verdant essence begin to leak out droplets of golden blood.

True Blood!

He truly watched the conversion of the resource of Mana into something else entirely, the essence of the Sanguine Emperor bellowing like a hungry beast as it demanded more and more...and Noah provided an endless amount of it as golden blood began to freely permeate within his Origin.

Blood that he obtained as Nanoliters before, now droplets of milliliters were constantly being formed as his purple-blue Universal form began to be painted with a hue of gold outwardly!

OOOM!

The air of majesty only rose until it reached a crescendo as due to the fact that the resource of Mana was endless, the essence of the Sanguine Emperor pulled out insane amounts equivalent to the reserves of multiple Cosmic Filament Realm existences in a short period of time as hundreds of milliliters of True Blood were produced- as enough golden blood was transmogrified to fill 20% of Noah's body and Origin!

THUMP!

The essence of the Sanguine Emperor stilled and calmed.

A raging river of True Blood showed off its majesty within Noah's body as he felt boundless strength coursing through him, where even though it didn't show him the quantification of just how much percentage boosts he had achieved, he felt like it was more than getting even a +500,000,000% to All Parameters from Edicts just from this small 20% of True Blood now coursing through him.

His body now began releasing a glow of gold that would make anyone around him feel an oppressive force- that would make anyone feel as if they were Lesser beings compared to him!

It was a glow he had only seen on a Primordial as it made others look at them as unreachable beings on a high pedestal.

Yet Noah was approaching that pedestal with firm steps as even after doing the fantastical action of the Transmogrification of pure Mana into the True Blood of a Higher Existence, his eyes released beams of dominating light as he spoke out commandingly.

"Then....Fortune and Destiny!"

RUMBLE!

The Essence of the Sanguine Emperor was relentless as after it had its fill of Mana and produced Resplendent reserves of True Blood that caused Noah's very Origin to scream in joy, the next resource was Fortune and Destiny!

This resource had bathed his Origin as he had a stupendous amount of it that even the Champion of Reality and the Ender of Reality could not compare, the Essence of the Sanguine Emperor pulling onto the reserves of this Essence as well as it began to change into golden dewdrops of True Blood.

Even though this resource wasn't endless, Noah was an anomaly that even Champions or Enders of Reality could not compare to in terms of destiny that the Essence of the Sanguine Emperor found it had more than enough to devour and transmogrify, Noah sensing over 80% of all of his current reserves being taken away before hundreds of milliliters of True Blood were produced to full up another portion of his body and Origin.

With the magisterial golden blood flowing through him, he was like an ancient creature from primordial times born from the highest of lineages, and he now seemed to be reawakening this lost lineage as the glow of gold he released seemed natural to him!

As the blood within him pumped and coursed through his heart and the rest of his body, he felt a feeling of invincibility where as long as drops of this golden blood remained...he would not perish.

This was what he had managed to achieve in a short few seconds, something that neared the progress of even the Ender of Reality that had lived for millions of years!

"Good!" Sensing the viscous and profound goblets of golden blood flowing through him, Noah turned his gaze towards the direction where his clone was overseeing a few million looked existences, a spatial light covering his Universal Body as he sought to head to this location at this time.

The resource of Mana and Fortune & Destiny were now utilized to grant him 40% True Blood within his body, what remained now being the resource of unique treasures or items that might be the only thing giving him slight trouble...and the remaining portion was him needing to devour normal Blood and a portion of his own Blood for it to be changed to True Blood!

He felt this balance to be half and half as to complete this condition, he changed locations from the Cosmic Holy Land and into the nondescript area of Ruination Sea where millions of blood bags awaited for him.

In the milliseconds that he shuttled through the gold of space, his vibrant mind couldn't help but gaze onto another ability from this QUASI-INSUPERABLE Edict of the Sanguine Emperor apart from the <Blood Transmogrification> that he had been using.

It was the ability that held the simple name of Blood of Old!

<Blood of Old> :: The Blood of the Sanguine Emperor has achieved a level of potency and purity that even average Primordials have a hard time grasping. As the Edict Architect holding the authority of such blood, you gain full control of your Blood and Bloodlines as you can fully fuse all bloodlines into one, with exception of Bloodline Edicts which require full completion of the Edict of the Sanguine Emperor. Those with sufficient strength and sufficient Flames of Edicts have to connect them together to form different Tiers of  * that depend on the connected Edicts, but the Sanguine Emperor can achieve not just a connection- but the seamless fusion of the Bloodline of the Edicts as with their connection, their Flames will follow. The fusion of Bloodlines is intricate and full of mysteries as if they are weak, they will merely be assimilated into the Bloodline of the Sanguine Emperor. If the fused Bloodlines are strong enough to stand on their own, a new Bloodline shall bloom within your Origin....

"Ah...!"

Yet another ability that bloomed with shocking possibilities was there for him to utilize.

This one...edged towards something that even a Primordial like Cecilia would gaze at with envy!

This was merely a portion of the QUASI-INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor!

Chapter 1366 - Sanguine Emperor! III

Blood of Old!

Its contents were filled with information that made one wonder about many things, with Noah being the one thinking about its many possibilities the most.

The capability to fuse his Bloodlines together was unique enough, but the description of this ability stated that when he completed the Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor, he could even seamlessly fuse the Bloodlines of Edicts to achieve the indecipherable achievement that only Primordials held!

The connection of 15 Flames of Edicts brought about an authority that Noah only knew the Primordial Cecilia to have at this moment, but he could fuse the Bloodlines of his Edicts to bring about an even more powerful effect than she could ever hope to achieve under the abilities of this QUASI-INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict.

"Hoo..." Noah breathed out calmly to calm his beating heart that now pumped rivers of golden blood, the True Blood within him uniquely being the one reeling in excitement as the thought of Bloodlines.

He had appeared in the random location of the Ruination Sea where his clone was watching over the few million Tainted Ones and most powerful existences under the House of Stormdust, his appearance causing these beings that were still bound by the essence of Commandment to turn their auras towards him in a show of shock and terror.

This was because the moment Noah arrived, the Ruination Seas that had been churning chaotically stopped!

They calmed down and became entirely serene as unlike Hyperion who was halfway through becoming a Higher Existence or the Primordial Cecilia, Noah was not hiding the aura and grace brought about by his reserves of True Blood!

It caused the minds of these bound existences to go numb as their auras could not look at Noah any longer than a millisecond, finding themselves forcefully averting their gazes as they couldn't even bring themselves to glance towards him.

Yet Noah wasn't fully paying attention to them as the concept of fusion of Bloodlines from the ability of <Blood of Old> could not escape his mind as his eyes released bright pearls of ingenuity!

'What if...' His thoughts moved as while he floated in the calmed Ruination Sea, his body began to release waves of the Essence of Commandment as he utilized the ability that allowed him to ask many questions- <Vault of Commandment>.

"Can I copy the Bloodlines of other existences into my Origin to carry out fusions of Bloodlines with the <Blood of Old>?"

WAA!

A question that circled in his mind the moment that he read over the description of this skill, and the essence of Commandment buzzed around him with stellar light before golden words appeared before his eyes as an answer!

<<The capability of Bloodline Extraction will be unlocked with the completion of the Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor, allowing you to extract the Bloodlines of others unto yourself as the limitless possibilities of bloodlines and their fusions will arrive.>>

THRUM!

Golden words that were enough to cause the surroundings to shake as Noah's destiny and fortune nearly exploded outwards at this mere knowledge!

With the completion of the QUASI-INSUPERABLE Edict, he wouldn't just unlock the capability to fuse the Bloodline of Edicts- but also the ability that would allow him to extract Bloodlines for him to play with!

This was the first thought that rose in Noah's mind when he read Blood of Old, and his thoughts were affirmed now as he looked forward to the things that might come in the future.

His thoughts were revolving not just on the Bloodlines of exotic beings like Dragons or Phoenixes, or even the Bloodlines of a few other fantastical Races. What he thought of was the Bloodlines of Terrors like Cthulhu or others from the Chthonian Universe, Primordial Beasts and of course, the bloodline of the Race of Primordials!

"But even those are of lesser importance..." His eyes shone as he spoke, closing his eyes to picture the image of an existence bobbing up and down in the Infinite Empire near one of his bodies.

The Blue Slime.

The Bloodline of the race of the Universal Emperor Slimes that held the racial ability of <Universal Devouring> that granted one everything from the target they devoured! Could he...get his hands on this as well?

And what would happen if he combined the Bloodline of the Universal Emperor Slime with that of Primordial Beasts or Primordial? Or Cthulhu? Or...

OOOM!

The mere thoughts of all these ideas caused Noah's fortune and destiny to bubble with hunger and greed, his essence of Kismet erupting out around him in a glow of gold and he couldn't bring his essences to settle down!

The oppressive aura he was releasing had unconsciously become even heavier as it caused a few hundred thousand nearby Tainted Ones to faint with shaken minds, Noah's buzzing thoughts being reeled in as he closed his eyes and calmed the surging golden blood within his body.

The surroundings calmed.

WAA!

Noah opened his eyes again as they only released a flash of golden light, his face filled with resoluteness as he vowed to achieve what was merely fantasy at this moment! But before he did this, he still had to take everything step by step. He still had to obtain the resources to elevate the Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor to completion!

The only question was whether its requirements would be the same as Minor and Greater edicts or because of its much higher level...the same amount of Cosmic Resource Points would not be enough. But Noah would only find out by proceeding forward as his stellar eyes locked onto the few million existences bound before him.

Tainted Ones and other existences filled with terrible karmic lines who followed the steps of Stormdust to betray their very Origins! Noah's psyche had advanced so far in the past months that when he looked at them- whether for good or bad, he only saw them as those set for death at this point in time! His mind was serene as within his Origin, 1 million Splendiferous Universes began to burn.

The essence of the Cosmic Dao of Loot permeated outwards as its stupendous effects of Increased Loot Quantity and Rarity became active, Noah not even lifting a finger as he simply locked his gaze onto the few million existences as he saw the raging crimson blood pumping throughout all of their bodies.

THUMP!

As their hearts beat in conjunction, the destiny of all of those still conscious warning them of impending and unstoppable doom as their blood became more active!

Noah saw this blood...and he sought all of it.

So he called out.

"Blood Transmogrification."

THUMP!

The hearts of a few million existences resounded out one last time as their after...a shower of blood erupted in the crimson Ruination Sea!

Chapter 1367 - Sanguine Emperor! IV

A cast of a skill, and existences ranging from Paragons all the way to Forefathers that had begun fusing laws and daos erupted into rivers of blood.

It was a truly gory scene as their defenses and origins were utterly helpless under the call of the Sanguine Empire, their very blood betraying them as it heeded his call and erupted from them almost in a gleeful manner! As if they would find a better home towards the one beckoning- towards the Sanguine Emperor!

THRUM!

Noah floated calmly in the now calm Ruination Seas as he observed the scene of a few million beings turning into rivers of blood that rushed towards him, his very skin opening subsurface pores as billions of Universes glimmered on it, all of these droves of blood rushing into him through the surfaces of his body as they rushed towards his Origin where the essence of the Sanguine Emperor was hungrily waiting to transmogrify the impatient blood.

It came in crimson in color as milliseconds later, hundreds of milliliters of True Blood shining a gorgeous gold came out. The rivers of blood of millions of powerful existences continued to surge into him endlessly as they thinned up from the Ruination Sea, Noah's bright eyes watching as only when less than 5% of this blood was remaining did he achieve another 20% of True Blood within his body!

20% from Mana, 20% from Destiny and Fortune, and 40% from Blood- a portion of it his own, and a portion of it devoured from others! Since he had just completed the devouring of others, he now willed the essence of the Sanguine Emperor to turn onto his own blood.

The viscous blood still coursing through his Universal Body that wasn't True Blood- a resource that he could regenerate a great deal of through the Cosmic Dao of Regeneration!

BZZZT!

His Origin once more moved as after decimating millions of existences into mere blood, his own blood now boiled and was forcefully transformed into something else. Meanwhile, the other fruits of his labor were shown as the millions of Splendiferous Universes stopped burning within his Origin, golden prompts of loot rising before his eyes.

[+3,242,413 Galactic Filament Cores obtained...] DING! The effects of the Cosmic Dao of Loot are applied...[+1,621,206,500 Universal Filament Cores obtained.]

[+3,592 Universal Filament Cores obtained...] DING! The effects of the Cosmic Dao of Loot are applied...[+1,796,000 Resplendent Shards of a Cosmic Core obtained.]

[+189 Billion Skill Points obtained...] DING! The effects of the Cosmic Dao of Loot are applied...[+189 Cosmic Resource Points obtained.]

The glorious light of loot shone upon him in a grand fashion as Galactic Filament Cores became Universal Filament Cores- a billion and a half of them as that as after Duplication, it would grant one upwards of 6 Billion Universes on this alone!

Then there were the Resplendent Shards of a Cosmic Core that after duplication would be an addition of close to 35 Billion Universes, getting Noah infinitely close to the 100 Billion required of him as all that would be left was to turn them all into Splendiferous Universes and step into the Cosmic Realm.

But...

"No..." Noah thoroughly denied this idea as he was already promised the Cosmic Realm for as long as he completed 4 more Edicts. The Flames of Commandement assured this! All of the Loot that Noah had just gained and much of the loot that he still had in his reserves...it would actually be the first time that he didn't use them for their intended purpose of birthing Universes as he needed them for the last 20% of his True Blood!

RUMBLE!

With this thought, his raging Origin that was always shining with multicolored light calmed down as much of his old Blood was transmogrified into True Blood, Noah checking his body to feel it coursing nearly entirely with True Blood as in the span of mere minutes since he obtained the QUASI-INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor, he was 80% of the way towards becoming a Higher Existence.

80%! The resources of Mana, Fortune and Destiny, and Blood had fully been utilized as only 20% remained, and the description of the <Blood Transmogrification> skill stated that this latter percentage could be achieved by the devouring of unique treasures or items!

The Loot within Noah's hands- what was more unique than this cluster of loot? If he used it in its usual manner, he might not get his hands on sufficient treasures or items that would cover the last percentage of True Blood he required. But with its usage, he would actually achieve something that even the Ender of Reality who had lived for millions of years could not!

The elevation from a Lower Existence to a Higher Existence, just what would it entail? What did Primordials have under their banner that Noah would tap into?

It was a burning question that Noah would not delay.

THRUM!

His Origin released crimson rays of light as RUINATION finished the duplication of the Loot, Noah waving his hands as from his Expansive Space, the glittering array of over a billion Universal Filament Cores and over a million Resplendent Shards of a Cosmic Core appeared.

Noah's dominant eyes held no emotion when looking at all of this loot that could grant one tens of billions of Universes, his voice calling out to the essence of the Sanguine Emperor as he wanted the last 20% of his True Blood. As he wanted the olive branch to enter the stage of a Higher Existence!

WAA!

The essence of the Sanguine Emperor erupted out like the deadliest flames as they latched onto the loot before Noah, beginning to melt it all down before bringing it into his body in the form of gorgeous and iridescent golden blobs of blood.

All of this...made possible by the single design of a QUASI-INSUPERABLE Edict. An edict that Noah also wanted to bring to completion as soon as possible, his expectant eyes paying attention to the burning of Loot before him as he awaited a grand achievement while he asked once more.

"What will it take to complete the Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor?"

The essence of Commandment moved as the Vault was called upon once more, golden words appearing before Noah after just a few seconds.

<<The usage of the Edict for at least 10 million years, or through the forceful elevation through the Essence of Reality, or through the Author's Jurisdiction that would require less utilization of the Essence of Reality, or by the addition of 200 Cosmic Resource Points.>>

A myriad of methods as Noah's eyes focused on the last one.

It was logical that an edict above Greater would require much more for its elevation, and this was shown at this moment as the Sanguine Emperor required double the amount of Cosmic Resource Points to be completed!

Noah released a breath of relief at this as it wasn't 1,000 Cosmic Resource Points or something that ridiculous as he attributed this to the [QUASI] level of the edict, and a smile couldn't help but etch his face as while he watched the last percentages of his True Blood be completed, he also knew that he had the required Cosmic Resource Points to complete a QUASI-INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict at this very moment!

Chapter 1368 - The Flames Of The Sanguine Emperor! I

Countless resources were burned and liquefied before Noah's very eyes as in turn, golden drops of True Blood were formed within his body.

It was a fantastical and serene process that showed the advancement of a being from one stage into another, and Noah would be the only one from his Reality to do so at this time!

As this process continued Noah looked into his status panel that was currently fluctuating constantly, trying to quantify the rapid changes occurring within him as there were too many.

There was also a unique process occurring within his Origin as while his True Blood neared 100% completion, he felt this viscous mass of liquid wrap around his Origin as uniquely- without absorbing any treasures, he felt new Universes being formed rapidly inside his Origin!

Was this another boost of becoming a Higher Existence? His True Blood actually passively forging him his Universes?

It was such a ridiculous concept that Noah could only observe the changes so far as he would only understand everything after it was completed!

Then, there was the Edict of the Sanguine Emperor itself that with its first two abilities alone, too many pathways opened. <Blood Transmogrification> paved the way toward him becoming a Higher Existence, and <Blood of Old> had everything one could dream about on the subject of Bloodlines.

Before the completion of the Edict, Noah glanced at its other two abilities that were in no way lesser than the first two!

<Sanguinity> :: The Blood of the Sanguine Emperor carries unique qualities as it is capable of producing Sanguine Clones- replicated versions of oneself as the number varies based on what level of Sanguine Clones are being summoned. To summon Sanguine Clones at the level of Lower Existences, the only cost is one's blood and mana as theoretically, an Infinite number of Lower Existence Sanguine Clones can be called out. The production of True Sanguine Clones at the level of Higher Existences carrying the same level of True Blood is nearly impossible, but the Sanguine Emperor at the level of QUASI-INSUPERABLE allows one to be capable of summoning 3 Higher Existence Sanguine Clones when they step onto this level themselves. Apart from the replication into Clones, the Sanguine Emperor can recall all Clones to fuse into himself momentarily as they transform into the genuine Sanguine Emperor. The level of power of this transformation is dependent on the number and level of Clones, with the most powerful version of the Sanguine Emperor only being able to be called out from the fusion of many Higher Existence Sanguine Clones into your Original Body.

"Ah...!"

The portion of Blood Lord Skill Tree that was fused into this Edict finally showed itself, and it was something terrifying to gaze at as Noah's mind nearly exploded when he looked at <Sanguinity>!

Infinite Clones!

Well, Infinite Clones at the level of Lower Existences- but he had no problem with this! He didn't know how large the gap of power would be from a Lower Existence to a Higher one or how that translated with the Realms of Power, but this theoretical aspect of Infinity could not be looked down upon.

At the same time, only 3 Sanguine Clones at the level of Higher Existences were granted to him. And he also didn't have enough information to measure any of this yet as he had yet to step into this stage himself!

But the future that lay before him...ah, it was too bright to even wonder as before he could do anything else, his eyes found themselves going towards <Bloodborne>.

<Bloodborne> :: The Blood of the Sanguine Emperor is his strongest tool as it can be used to attack and defend, the Blood gaining the capability of being layered with multiple Daos or Edicts as any damage dealt by your blood is increased by 1,000,000,000% True Annihilatory Damage, any defensive abilities cast with the usage of your Blood gain a 1,000,000,000% True Soul and Physical Defense. Born of Blood, Death by Blood, and Power through Blood. These three principles surround the Bloodborne as he is capable of devouring the blood of others to recover health and mana, and extending his influence by making Bloodborne Heralds that he can choose to extend specific Bloodlines into. Only the Common and Rare Bloodlines that the Sanguine Emperor holds can be extended into Bloodborne Heralds as with enough effort, one could have an entire Reality under their feet with Bloodborne Heralds spread throughout...

The aspect of the Vampyre Progenitor supported by the fusion of all other concepts Noah had thrown into this QUASI-INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict showed itself once more as he was speechless!

He finally saw the appearance of 1 billion in percentage as his strongest attack and defensive tools were through blood! Furthermore, he could turn others into followers similar to the Vampyre Progenitor as the possibilities on this aspect were further opened up.

"I need to fuse skill trees and other concepts into daos more..."

He couldn't help but voice out as he looked at this glorious product of a Nomological Edict that was about to be completed, not being able to help himself but think of the other skill trees and concepts he had and what fantastic things could bloom when he added them to fused Daos in designing Edicts!

What could the Cthulhu skill tree bring? The concept of the Undead Legions? Hell, even the concept of the Seven Deadly Sins incorporated into an Edict!

WAA!

The sheer possibilities were endless as Noah's stellar eyes released profound rays of light, the affirmation within them becoming even more solid as he turned his gaze towards the QUASI-INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor.

With a heavy and profoundly expectant heart, he voiced out.

"Put all Cosmic Resource Points into the Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor."

RUMBLE!

Surrounded by a crimson ruination sea, his words were heard as they were soon followed, his Origin beginning to bubble crazily as while the last few percentages of True Blood entered his body, the profound change of a QUASI-INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict being completed occurred first!

Chapter 1369 - The Flames Of The Sanguine Emperor! II

Just what distinction was there between the Flames of Minor and Greater Edicts compared to those at the QUASI-INSUPERABLE level?

Noah received an answer for this first hand as while he watched the Cosmic Resource Points that were an enhancement from skill points by the reality-altering effects of Increased Loot Quantity and Rarity- he felt a flame stronger than any other begin to rise from the depths of his Origin!

One's Origin was extremely unique as if it was imagined like a circle that one could sense and feel clearly, they would be able to feel the concepts of the skills and Universal Laws in the periphery of this circle.

The racial characteristics or Bloodlines were further into this circle as Daos could be felt even deeper, and Edicts could be felt even further in as at this moment...Noah could feel the Flames of the Sanguine Emperor beginning to erupt near the center of his Origin!

Near the center...but not at the exact center as it seemed something even more pristine was waiting for him to place there.

But this QUASI-INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict had come so far as after the 200th Cosmic Resource Points flooded into it...

THRUUUM!

WAA!

Pristine Flames with the color of Blood fully sprouted, these Flames overpowering Noah's Origin the moment they arrived as they bloomed to cover his whole figure soon after- their appearance into the Ruination Sea causing the environment to quake madly as a pillar of multicolored light began to form above Noah's head!

A multicolored pillar of Authority and power that undeniably wanted to announce itself across the whole Reality! But before it could sprout out madly and with defiance...

"No."

RUMBLE!

Noah's eyes swirled with the bloody Flames of the Sanguine Emperor as he commanded out!

The forming multicolored pillar of light that would have announced the completion of a QUASI-INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict to the whole Reality trembled as it stopped right in its tracks, fearfully receding as only the glorious figure of Noah's Universal Form surrounded by bloody Flames remained.

And glorious his figure was as even the essence of Ruination in the surroundings didn't dare to approach him!

It was as if he existed in his own space as he lifted his hands up to see the Flames dancing on them- at the bloody Flames that screamed of power and regality that could overpower any Minor or Greater Edicts!

He looked at the details of the Flames of the Sanguine Emperor.

<Flames of the Sanguine Emperor> :: The Flames of the Sanguine Emperor bloom in your origin as they usher in the Bloodline of the Sanguine Emperor. The title of the Sanguine Emperor Bloodline Progenitor is granted for being the Architect of this Nomological Edict, granting you the capability to introduce 1 other Existence into your Bloodline. The tier of this Edict is extremely high as for the sake of purity, only a single follower is allowed. The follower of the Bloodline of the Sanguine Emperor will gain an increased chance of comprehending the Nomological Edict and have the task of fusing the required laws and daos to be an eventuality. A natural suppression effect also exists with this Edict against any GREATER or MINOR Nomological Edicts due its higher rank, with the essence of lower Edicts losing 60% of their effectiveness when facing the Sanguine Emperor. As the architect of this Bloodline Edict, you are granted the abilities of <<Bloodline Extraction>> and <<Sanguine Aggregation>> that can be utilized with the essence of the Sanguine Emperor. As the Progenitor of the Bloodline of the Sanguine Emperor, you are granted +5,000,000,000% to All Parameters, +5,000,000,000% to True Defense, and +5,000,000,000% to True Annihilatory Damage. All abilities that utilize the essence of the Sanguine Emperor also have their resource requirement cut down by half, and your Origin begins to produce 100 milliliters of the True Blood of a Higher Existence within your body daily...

Utter magnificence bloomed before his eyes as what was promised before could be seen along with even more surprises!

The Flames of the Sanguine Emperor were of such a Higher rank that with them, one held a natural suppression against all other Edicts

The loss of 60% effectiveness of all Lower-Ranked Edicts! This was a terrifying concept by itself alone as it showed just how horrific the truly powerful existences who could design Edicts like these or even a genuine INSUPERABLE Edict were.

If QUASI-INSUPERABLE was also so domineering enough to suppress all lower Edicts by 60%, did one suppress them entirely by 100% if they achieved an INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict?!

It was an unanswered question that Noah didn't know how long it would be before he found out! But apart from all this, there was the sight of multiple percentages that synonymously had 5,000,000,000% next to key concepts.

5 Billion in percentage increases for multiple factors- the most important one being All Parameters!

WAA!

It was why at the completion of this Edict, Noah felt his strength break out multiple levels higher as he found himself questioning whether he would have achieved such a high level of boosts that he could even match someone at the higher Cosmic Realm.

That was how powerful he currently felt!

His speed, vitality, strength...many other factors were enhanced so crazily that he ached to test what all these percentages truly meant for him.

Then of course, there was the fact that instead of nanoliters, the Flames of the Sanguine Emperor granted milliliters of True Blood, a 100 of them daily at that as while Noah was lost in his thoughts- he didn't realize that the conversion of Resplendent Shards of a Cosmic Core and a myriad of other Loot was nearing its end!

The change of all of his Blood into True Blood was nearly complete as it had an insignificant percentage remaining, and the moment Noah achieved the Flames of the Sanguine Emperor as its 100 Milliliters of daily blood bloomed out...

OOOOM!

He actually achieved 100% conversion of True Blood in this manner!

He...had met the requirement to become a Higher Existence!

The moment this occurred, Noah felt the stellar universal heart within him beat one last time as he raised his hands to find his universal skin being deconstructed into golden particles of utter majesty.

Following that...

POOOF!

His entire Origin released a golden wave of light as his entire body was vaporized, a vast and endless golden sea beginning to spread in its place!

Chapter 1370: Higher Existence! I

His entire body that was made up of billions of Universes entirely vaporized itself as what was left behind was a vibrant golden sea!

Not just his body, but his very Origin that lay at his core had been extinguished into nothingness as one would think they were facing certain death. But it was not so!

His soul was perfused throughout the sea of golden blood that had begun to expand crazily as it contained everything about himself- his identity, abilities, laws, daos, edicts...even the flames of his Edicts could be seen stretched out across the golden sea as only concepts remained while he himself faded away!

The Cosmic Treasure RUINATION floated mesmerizingly in the fantastically expanding golden sea as apart from all of this, even more terrifying changes occurred in other locations. Within the Infinite Empire, Noah's clones that were spread throughout were disappearing into dust as it caused a great shock to spread on anyone he was around.

In the Forgemaster's Universe, Steel Mikhail was with one of Noah's clones as he watched a huge tower shield he especially requested be forged, but his heart shook as he found the Noah he was standing to turn into gray dust in the next second! In the Novus Universe, the Blue Slime was comfortably situated atop the head of one of Noah's clones as in the next second...it felt weightlessness as the being it was on also turned to dust!

Through the Infinite Empire, scenes like this occurred for all of Noah's clones as it brought a huge shock to all those who were around him, their minds not even connecting to the possibility of death as it was something that seemed so far away from Noah.

And before this shocking thought could permeate any further, a resounding mechanical voice rang out in the minds of everyone that was affected by the recent actions!

<He is okay.>

The Cosmic Filament Core that still felt the unbreakable connection between it and Noah's soul spoke out, settling the hearts and surprise of all those affected as if we go even further- it wasn't just Noah's clones that disappeared.

In the Ruination Realm, one of Noah's three main bodies disappeared as whatever origin and soul was contained within it...it was shuttled through space and back to the nondescript location in the ruination sea where a golden sea of True Blood was expanding!

In the Novus Universe, the other original human body of Noah also disappeared as he was watching the progress of those granted the Bloodline of Edicts, all the collection of his Soul and every concept that made it- whether it be skills or Trait unique to this body, it also disappeared in a flash of light to rejoin the mass of expanding True Blood in the far away region.

All his bodies and clones perished as they were connected to the same Origin, and this Origin was about to undergo a tremendous and unshakable change as everything was recalled into the mass of True Blood!

All the concepts that made Noah were contained within his soul that was stretched out across the bundle of the golden sea, everything about him still being there as when it was all collected...

BZZZZT!

The golden sea crazily stretched out in four different directions for millions of light years, and then they began to contract back as when the golden pass was pulling into itself, the surrounding itself seemed to be getting squeezed and pulled!

Space fluctuated unstable as the ruination sea bent and twisted in a unique space-time phenomenon, Noah's budding consciousness that was watching this in shock finding that when the golden sea of True Blood contracted and squeezed the surrounding space...it eventually became torn as from four different directions, Reality itself tore apart.

Reality tore apart as from its tears, pearls of multicolored Essence of Reality stretched out to sink into the golden sea of blood as it went to its very center where it began to shine with utter resplendence!

The magisterial Essence of Reality itself released rays of light in the center of his True Blood as from this light...his new Origin began to manifest.

Going from a Lower Existence to a Higher Existence actually had such a process where one's very Origin...it was molded by the Essence of Reality!

Ah!

Furthermore, this process was even more unique to Noah as his three bodies had all of their qualities brought into the golden sea of True Blood where the end product of it would be a single Origin of a Higher Existence. As for what changes this would bring, what gains or losses Noah would have...he had yet to find out.

Hundreds of millions of Splendiferous Universes began to bloom as they formed a new Origin, each of them shining a multicolored brilliance as since Noah was an Existence with the Universal Race that had its Origin be its actual body...his consciousness began to see the process as this body became reforged by the fantastical Essence of Reality!

Why were Primordials so powerful? What made them stand out since the beginning of time as the strongest beings as countless eons later, they still stood on top of every other existences and races across the myriad of Realities?

What gave this race of beings across the multiple races the capability to split apart the Main Reality itself into countless ones to bloom into limitless possibilities?!

Well, for one- their Origins were molded by the very Essence of Reality as something that Noah did not yet know was that every single Primordial since their birth...was a Higher Existence.

RUMBLE!

Majesty crackled and suffused the surroundings as the golden sea of True Blood began to recede calmly around the reforging Origin and body, entering its interconnected system of veins and arteries as this resplendent sea enclosed in on itself to form an enormous golden cocoon the size of a galaxy!

THUMP!

The cocoon released a constant and resounding beat that caused the surrounding ruination essence to tremble, an oppressive and mystical aura leaking from it with every thump as every now and then, pearls of the Essence of Reality sank into it to complete its transformation.

THUMP!

Eventually, the cracks in Reality faded as the golden cocoon continued to pulse before within seconds....everything became calm and silent.

"..."

The waves of ruination sea resumed their activities while staying away from this location, creating a region of blackness that even the essence of Pandemonium would fear.

In this region, only a golden cocoon remained!
