

Mana 1411

Chapter 1411 - The Descent of a Bloody Halo! III

Who put them up to it!

A grand question that looked down on anything Noah and Hyperion had achieved as if it wasn't their own.

"For you to have achieved the stage of a Higher Existence and even be capable of forging Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edict...yet you go ahead and ruin your destiny by raising your hand against someone you shouldn't."

BZZZT!

The brilliant white Ascendancy Halo swirled around her faster and faster as she spoke, her golden eyes releasing arcs of profound light as she took her gaze from Noah and onto Hyperion who was holding the Eonic Bell of the Unguarded that restricted her Realm.

"For you to scheme with a Primordial Beast who only seeks to destroy Reality...you further destroy your destiny as with the Infinite Realities as my witness...I vow to eradicate this depraved communion by extinguishing you all entirely!"

RUMBLE!

A vow!

A Primordial had taken a vow upon the Infinite Realities as the moment she did so, the surrounding Reality shuddered chaotically as something imperceptible to many beings surged around Cecilia.

Once a vow was taken under the Infinite Realities, it had to be fulfilled!

It was the utmost form of conviction and dedication one could have as they could not turn back until it was accomplished, their minds only being capable of focusing on their singular conviction.

Noah and Hyperion's faces retained their calmness even amidst all of this, the four Telos staring with their countless eyes towards the daunting Primordial whose aura was rising ever higher every time her Ascendancy Halo rotated around her!

Her eyes released a chilling light as after making this vow while gazing at Noah and Hyperion, she then gazed at the 10 Million army that Noah brought with him along with the Legions of Primordial Beasts that all floated silently in the Ruination Sea while gazing up towards them.

The Primordial Beasts were under Hyperion as he gave them the command to not attack any beings on this day. Noah's forces were given their own commands under Noah as to them- this was a unique war that wasn't about defending or destroying Reality!

The Legions of the Protectors of the Bastion of Reality were the only ones flustered and unsure of what would happen, but Cecilia's gaze only saw how they were all situated in harmony with the Primordial Beasts as the wrath within her rose ever further, her voice continuing to echo out.

"For associating with Primordial Beasts that seek to destroy Realities itself...the Lower Existences of this Reality have sinned as they shall all face damnation along with you."

WAA!

If Aegon were here now, he would recall Cecilia's words to him how recently, there had been many movements across different Realities where Primordial Beasts were allying or working with other races within their own Realities as Champions were unexpectedly falling at higher rates! He might be the only one who could fully understand her rage as she saw the calm scene of Legions of Primordial Beasts and other races all gazing up as she was attacked.

Her cold words reverberated all around as wondrously, the Ascendancy Halo around her spun around at an increased rate, a milky white aura beginning to surge around her as she continued to speak out while gazing around her.

"Tainted by the collusion of Primordial Beasts and other races...this entire Emerging Reality shall be purged to stop any such future possibilities from arising!"

...!

Filled with utmost power and awe, her gaze returned to Noah as she spoke coldly!

"These are the results of your actions."

"The extermination of this Reality to cut off everything at its root...this is the result of colluding with Primordial Beasts and daring to breach the authority of a Primordial!"

RUMBLE!

The extermination of Reality!

The moment she uttered these words, the Ruination Seas seethed angrily as their waves became chaotic.

Not just in this area, but the vast Ruination Sea across Reality until it reached the ends where Pandemonium surged. Even the white Primordial Sea that Hyperion stemmed from....they also seethed with immense anger at this moment!

The anger...was from a broken promise!

From the Ascendancy Halo of Cecilia, a golden light shot out that was distinctly different from everything else, this light releasing a wave of authority that spread out across countless light years as it seemingly melded and fused back into the vast Ruination Seas. Cecilia looked at such a scene as she snorted.

"So what if you take back the authority? You think the regeneration of my Essence of Reality will be heavily affected by a single Emerging Reality?!"

Dominatingly, Cecilia spoke out as Noah and Hyperion watched this scene with shining eyes.

The authority that the Primordial was able to obtain from Reality itself as she had the passive generation of the Essence of Reality was now broken after this being went back on her one promise, now proclaiming that she would exterminate and purge this entire Reality itself!

This...created a unique situation.

It created a Reality that was not under the jurisdiction of the Ascendancy Halo of any being!

But it also created a Reality that under the words of the Primordial...was about to face an Apocalypse.

"Good!"

RUMBLE!

Noah's vibrant voice echoed out at this time as he could now finally make a move.

The pieces had fallen into place.

The weaving of destiny had reached a crescendo!

BZZT!

Under the awe inducing aura of the Primordial, Hyperion flashed as his figure came to appear beside Noah's true body.

The expression in Noah in Telos form was extremely terrifying as his countless eyes on the chthonian Starlike body seemed to be smiling. Meanwhile, the expression on Hyperion seemed to be complex as within his eyes, one could see a trace of unwillingness as this ancient being sighed!

Time seemed to come to a standstill as after proclaiming the exterminating of this Reality, Cecilia actually felt a unique feeling of a buzzing threat that had not appeared anytime before all of this.

This feeling was an Intuition of a Primordial as she focused her gaze on the two beings still gazing up at her fearlessly!

Why would insects such as these cause her to have any such feeling?

Her pride and honor as a Primordial unfurled wildly at this moment, the Ascendancy Halo spinning around her primed and ready for a tremendous attack as her voice echoed out once more.

"The purging shall start with the main perpetrators."

RUMBLE!

With such words, her hands waves down as the clear white Ascendancy Halo began to descend down!

It shattered space and Reality itself as it threatened to devour everything, its targets gazing up towards it with bright eyes as Hyperion was the one to speak lightly, a sense of dejection in his voice.

"Just do it."

THRUM!

The moment his words finished, the surroundings that had been bathed with the white light of the Ascendancy Halo above began to be tinged red!

Bloody and crimson red as around Noah and Hyperion's bodies, the outline of an archaic and ancient ring began to form!!!

Chapter 1412 - The Descent of a Bloody Halo! IV

A promise was broken and rescinded!

Under it, a unique possibility arose as Noah's destiny surged steadily, Hyperion standing right next to the terrifying Telos form of his main body as when he gazed at the boundlessly powerful white Halo descending down, Noah calmly called upon the most recent authority he had gained access to.

BZZZT!

With Hyperion by his side, they stared down a blazing white Halo smashing towards them while around them...a crimson ring of light pulsing with unique power began to form!

A crimson ring of light that seemed to be dripping with its blood as its outline was eerily similar to an Ascendancy Halo!

A unique authority only forged by the connection of 15 Flames of Nomological Edicts! It was something out of mere fantasy with many conditions required to be met, which begged one to question exactly how a Halo was currently rising around Noah and Hyperion- and why it was so starkly different from Cecilia's Halo that was the color white.

How exactly did they manage to form an Ascendancy Halo across two different beings? How did they consolidate Hyperion's Edicts and Noah's Edicts into a singular thing for them to utilize?!

The answer was simple as if there were two beings...they just had to become a single one!

WAA!

Two beings just had to fuse together and bring their Flames of Edicts as the answer to this...actually came in the form of a Lesser Dao.

The Lesser Dao of Summoning!

Within this unique Dao, there was a feature that allowed one to merge with the existences considered their Summons under this Edict as this was the solution that Noah had proposed...a solution that nearly caused a rift to form between the two beings at first.

Hyperion had his own unrelenting will and pride that when it came to be bound by another being- it wasn't even a possibility under his eyes!

He was unruly and unwilling to be put down on the feet of another as Noah could only think of another solution- and he went ahead and simply devised and forged a new Cosmic Dao that took the concepts of the Lesser Dao of Summoning and Cosmic Dao of Fusion to produce something that allowed two existences to form a temporary fusion of Origin and soul, one side not being more in control than the other!

Even with this solution that Hyperion accepted, he was still unhappy with it as this was why his expression was cloudy as he stood beside Noah.

A resonance of origin and soul.

A fusion of two separate existences into one.

This...was made possible by the newly forged Cosmic Dao of Unification!

There were many perks within this Dao just like many others, but the biggest one under use at this moment in time was a singular skill contained within after one achieved complete assimilation in this Dao.

"Unity."

RUMBLE!

Noah called out lightly as while the bloody ring of light around them was only hazy, it began to materialize more and more into fruition as in the next instant- his body and Hyperion's shimmering with light as they mixed and fused into each other!

Unity!

:: An ability that utilizes the essence of the Cosmic Dao of Unification to allow for two or more beings to merge two bodies into a single paramount being. The effects of increase of power through the fusion are dependent on those merging together, with there being possibilities of the strength of the product ranging from 10 to 100 times more powerful. Unity allows for the fusion of Origin and Soul momentarily, and it is recommended to only utilize it with those who have earned your trust as it is common for memories of the merging beings to overlap...

An utterly unique ability that took the concepts of merging from the Lesser Dao of Summoning, with the augmentation of strength for the fused being ranging depending on many factors!

But for Noah, it was the factor that the ability allowed for the Unity of Origin and Soul temporarily as this...met the conditions to call forth an Ascendancy Halo from the Edicts of two different beings!

BZZZT!

The void shook from the descent of a pristine white Halo, but the hazy bloody Halo that formed around the figures of Noah and Hyperion solidified rapidly, brightening up at a fantastical rate as in no time....

RIING!

It buzzed with utmost power and awe as one could see a shimmering coagulation of ancient weaving of runic lines that connected together to form a glorious crimson Ascendancy Halo.

A Halo that seemed to be surrounded by a cloud of blood as it roared out with pride and power, rushing up to meet the descending white Halo as it seemed like two disks capable of destroying Reality itself went to clash with each other!

BOOOOOOM!

The void that even the Ruination Sea ran away from was razed and shattered as wondrously, tears and breakage occurred in reality itself!

Two blazing rings of light smashed into each other as one carried the stench of blood and power, while the other carried prideful arrogance that roared against destiny itself.

WAA!

If a powerful enough being were to watch the impact, they would notice that after the appearance of the crimson Ascendancy Halo, the color red began to occupy more than half of the surrounding space as the white Ascendancy Halo actually lost out in this exchange!

BZZT!

The two Ascendancy Halos pulled apart from each other as the white Halo returned to spin around Cecilia- the eyes of this Primordial currently releasing rays of sharpness as within them...one could actually see surprise and shock.

And how could she not be shocked to see the glimmering crimson Halo before her?!

"What is..." Her sharp eye focused intently as she uttered out with utmost confusion- this confusion stemming from the fact that the mere appearance of a red Ascendancy Halo was something that entirely defied all her knowledge.

This was because she had never before seen or heard about a red Ascendancy Halo!

Among their Tiers commonly known by Higher Existences, red was not one of them!

So what exactly was this?!

Chapter 1413 - I Will Shoulder the Burden!

BZZT!

Cecilia's confusion was never cleared as just like how her white Halo returned to spin around her, the crimson Halo also returned to its holder as the merged form of Hyperion and Noah could now be seen.

With the grandeur of the crimson Ascendancy Halo spinning around him, his entire body was lit up gloriously as one could see a majestic figure!

With a body light years in size as he was larger than multiple Universes, one could see a titanic humanoid figure that was entirely too radiant with waves of different colored flames circling all over his body!

Two golden horns reminiscent of the tusks of an elephant rose from his head as they put the deadly horns of dragons to shame, his hair waving wildly as one could see it perfectly split in half with white side being pristinely white and the other glimmering entirely black with a stellar light.

On his back, two wings could be seen as they released terrific light and power- these wings being a coalescence of Flames of Edicts as they were the source of the roiling tendrils of Flames that constantly snaked across the body!

The upper body was laid bare as ancient Runic Tattoos covered it all around, and one could see the white skin painted with the light of billions of Universes. The lower body was adorned with obsidian pants that were entirely covered by burning golden flames, the very surroundings of this body shaking fearfully as the aura released was supremely terrifying!

On his head where the two golden horns sprouted, six eyes could be seen as they all represented Eyes of Power- the iris within each of the eyes shining with their own unique light that threatened to burn anything they gazed at.

With such a form bubbling with power and a crimson Ascendancy Halo surrounding him, the figure raised his head and bellowed out grandly, the waves of power causing the eyes of Cecilia to turn even sharper!

"OOOOOOOH!"

The surrounding quaked chaotically as an Emperor announced his arrival.

With a devilish smile appearing and his six eyes blinking with power, he proclaimed his title to the whole Reality as his voice echoed out for countless light years.

"I...am...Nion!!!"

RUMBLE!

Nion!

One could look at it as the combination between Noah and Hyperion, or they could look at the word itself as Nion also had the meaning of lofty!

With a blazing spirit and baleful cylindrical flames of Edicts snaking across his body, this being bellowed out as Cecilia's gaze towards him was now dark.

"What is this?"

Her vibrant demeanor was as powerful as always even now with her Realm suppressed, gazing questioningly towards Nion even though her verdict of him and everything else within this Reality was unchanged!

The newly unified being that proclaimed him as Nion ignored Cecilia as he gazed at the crimson Ascendancy Halo swirling around him slowly, his Origin feeling a unique and wondrous sensation with this Halo as he raised his hands and willed- causing it to spin around him faster and faster as a bloody glow surrounded his titanic figure.

Those gazing up were in utter awe as Kazuhiko, Barbatos, Halcyon, the Emperor Penguin...many of those around him had their eyes shining with lights of pride and longing when they saw how far Noah had reached!

The glow around him intensified as after a certain period of time, his boisterous laughter could be heard across the vast Seas of Ruination as the swirling Ascendancy Halo came to a complete halt a moment later. It was then that Nion spoke out with a voice filled with ancientness and power.

"The Primordial has neglected her duty and promise as she wishes to bring apocalypse to this Reality...the duty of protection that she has neglected- I will shoulder it!"

...!

The overseeing of a Reality!

This was a tremendous duty that one could undertake with Emerging Realities, and the prerequisite was for the one to undertake the duty to have an Ascendancy Halo to be capable of obtaining the authority.

Even then, it was extremely hard to gain the recognition of a Reality that wanted to passively protect itself- where Primordials were among the many Higher Existences who had high chances of being granted the unique authority that would go on to grant them passive generation of the Essence of Reality, with Primordials using unique means of Champions and Systems to systematically protect multiple Realities!

The authority came with unique perks but also restrictions- the main one being how much influence one could have over the masses of existences within the very Reality.

For the will of a Reality to recognize others, it was extremely hard if they didn't have the uniqueness of Primordials! But at this moment, Nion spoke out grandly.

He said he would shoulder the responsibility of protecting this Reality from Annihilation as the moment his words finished...

CAAAAAA!

A piercing cry rang out.

A cry of defiance and power as moments later, immense shining lights of Authority moved across the vast Primordial and Ruination Seas- golden waves of light that just left the white Primordial Halo of Cecilia not too long ago now moving and surging towards the crimson Halo swirling around Nion!

As the blood Ascendancy Halo swirled around his devilish figure wreathed in coiling flames of Edicts, golden lights of immense authority surged towards him as Nion looked like an ancient existence from Forgotten Realities that all others would follow with reverence.

The crimson Ascendancy Halo became bathed in gold as before Nion's eyes, multiple prompt messages rose up in a fantastical fashion!

WAA!

RUMBLE!

Stellar and exquisite messages filled with wonder!

The Ascendancy Halo was a stellar and dictatorial achievement. The capability to allow one to obtain a unique authority to obtain passive generation of the Essence of Reality was just one of the perks.

Just what other domineering uses did it have?!

---

For the combination of the two names, it was a battle between Nion, Noarion, or Norion- but Nion won at the end!

Chapter 1414 - Indomitable! I

The prompts before Nion's eyes ended with the last line of gold words as his body continued to release a glorious splendor.

Reality Overseer!

Something that only Primordials and other Higher Existences held- and yet now Noah was also among those who had achieved this stage!

And all of it...was made possible through the Ascendancy Halo.

There were many questions to unfold when it came to the unique Ascendancy Halo conjured around the combination of Noah and Hyperion- or as he called himself, Nion!

The most crucial thing was that at this moment as he received a unique authority from Reality itself...who did this authority truly belong to?!

Even before coming to the conclusion of this, one must look at the tremendous significance at the mere fact that the authority to ensure the protection of Reality was being granted to an existence that was actually an Ender of Reality.

A Primordial Beast born to cause the destruction of Reality itself!

How ironic! How wild!

Among the Infinite Realities, who could say they came across an emerging reality that granted the authority to guarantee its protection to an existence born to end it?

It was an extremely unique scenario as it was crucial to understanding the division of the authority of the Overseer of Reality when it came to Noah and Hyperion!

A very simple question to determine this is to ask oneself- who was the architect of the Cosmic Dao that made the act of Unity possible? Who contributed the most to the glimmering Ascendancy Halo that now contained this Authority? Was it a matter of quality or quantity?!

The answer to all of these questions leaned towards Noah as much of the authority of the Reality Overseer was clustered around his Soul and Origin!

It was clustered much more densely and heavily around the portion of the Ascendancy Halo made from his Nomological Edicts and much less on Hyperion's.

This was because even though Hyperion contributed 9 Edicts...they were all Minor and Greater Edicts while Noah contributed 4 Quasi-Insuperable and 2 Greater Nomological Edicts!

The strength and quality of the Ascendancy Halo was dictated by him to a large degree as much of its power and authority was clustered around him!

When they first forged the Ascendancy Halo, there was a unique phenomenon where after their separation, each of them could still call upon an illusory form of a half Halo that actually seemed to be broken, its power and authority being much lower until they fused again to complete it.

With the inclusion of the authority as the Reality Overseer, Noah had to now see what would occur if they separated again!

These questions and more made Noah look forward to competing 9 other Remaining Edicts by himself and utilize them to forge his very own genuine Ascendancy Halo, but for now...the current Halo would be more than sufficient to achieve its intended purpose.

Barely a hundredth of a millisecond passed as he thought of this, his gaze going towards the changes within his Origin after gaining the title of Reality Overseer, and he began by looking at this title itself!

:: Emerging Realities are prone to destruction as in order to survive, the passive wills of these Realities exchange an authority unique to them towards an Overseer. The smoothest and easiest method to be capable of accepting this authority is through an Ascendancy Halo. During the tenure as an Overseer, one gains the passive generation of 1 Unit of the Essence of Reality daily. The job of an Overseer restricts the influence one can exert over the inhabitants within the Reality, with very limited exceptions through the method in which the Overseer chooses to overcome the threat of Primordial Beasts. Against external threats, the Overseer can move freely. The title of Reality Overseer is evolvable as the amount of Essence of Reality generated daily can change depending on how many additional Realities grant this same title...

A title capable of evolving the more Realities that one gained the recognition of and was granted the same authority!

Currently, Nion would be receiving a single unit of Essence of Reality as he had to measure exactly how much this was when compared to the reserves of this unique resource that he currently had.

Within his Origin, there was a specific area at the very center that acted like a pocket space for the reserves of the Essence of Reality. It was unlike any other resource as it could only be contained in this limited space, with its generation being unique as it wasn't affected by any resource generation statuses that a being held!

What was most crucial though, was this limited space where this essence could be held.

Most average Higher Existences were limited by the amount of Essence of Reality they held with the size of this space, with it being expanded in unique means or by elevating oneself to higher Realms!

The more powerful one was, the larger their capacity to hold more Essence of Reality...the more power and might they could display.

Nion didn't know exactly how the size of his space compared to others, but he could already see trickles of the Essence of Reality slowly swirling to form after he gained the authority as the Overseer of Reality!

He had actually elevated himself and finally arrived at the point in time where he could generate Essence of Reality, and he actually came to a point where he was staring impassively towards a primordial who at this moment...turned much more careful as her valiant voice echoed out.

"What abomination have you conjured up? Such a false Ascendancy Halo is nonexistent across the Infinite Realities!"

WAA!

Her sharp eyes swirled with immense light as an Eye of Power bloomed within them, gazing at Nion's figure up and down with no answers as this titanic existence whose body continued to be surrounded by snaking flames of Edicts laughed boisterously while motioning with his fingers to cause the crimson Ascendancy Halo to spin faster and faster.

"A false Ascendancy Halo? You dare to gaze at something you cannot even achieve as false?!"

RUMBLE!

His body trembled with ecstatic power as the spinning halo bathed him with utter majesty and power, its edged sharp enough as they could slice apart Reality itself!

"Let me show you...whether this Halo is true or false!"

...!

For the first time since Unity, Nion's body exploded out with fervor and power as with an Ascendancy Halo in tow, he instantly disappeared and rematerialized before the eyes of the Primordial at speeds that fractured Reality itself!!!

Chapter 1415 - Indomitable! II

The Antiquities could not follow the speed.

Daolords could not follow the speed of the battle! Even the Family Heads who had comprehended Edicts...none of them could actually follow when Noah made a move within the domains of apocalypse as he instantly materialized before Cecilia's eyes!

"Boo!" In a show of utter calmness and power, Nion had a devilish smile as he spoke out the moment he appeared- the Primordial's eyes squinting while her Ascendancy Halo instantly brightened up with immense power!

BOOOM!

Not a single move was made as the crimson halo merely spun and smashed into the white Ascendancy Halo. Yet...

RIIP!

Reality itself was torn as the impact was akin to a spark of billions of nuclear bombs that smashed the figure of the Primordial from where she stood!

Like a star made of pristine white light, Cecilia's figure was smashed back at such speed and fervor that horrifically, her body smashed onto the Walls of Cardinal Sins of one of the Domains of Apocalypse as she felt a sense of boundless and unshaking pressure envelope her.

...!

Her hazy eyes brightened up as she gazed at the point she just received the impact that was countless light years away, but she didn't find the primal and archaic looking figure of the existences wreathed in snaking Flames of Edicts there as she very quickly sensed something to her side!

"I am right here, O Primordial!!"

RUMBLE!

Shockingly, the crimson Ascendancy Halo materialized along with the figure of Nion once more at a speed that even this debuffed Primordial that had her Realm brought down a level could not catch up to, the crimson halo weaving in a majestic manner as it smashed onto her like a cosmic hammer!

BOOM!

Barely capable of reacting, Cecilia could only bring her own Halo to rise up and meet the terrifying Ascendancy Halo that she had called false as an instant later, her figure was smashed back again as she smashed across one end of the meaty wall where Cardinal Sins were budding off of to another end!

One must know....each of the Domains of Apocalypse were vaster than a Cosmos.

In one attack, she was thrown countless light years from the ends of one Cosmos to another as her figure was only stopped when she smashed onto another section of the terrific walls of the domain.

Tentacles of Cardinal Sins erupted around the Wall of Cardinal Sins around her as they passively tried to drown her, but her Ascendancy Halo brightened up to burn them all as after getting smashed twice, Cecilia's eyes flashed with immense anger as a blinding light echoed from her!

WAA!

Her figure became utterly bathed in white as nothing could get near her, her Ascendancy Halo spinning so much around her that even her figure could not be seen.

Yet even against this blinding light that burned everything, her senses rang out madly as she was barely able to turn around to find the figure of Nion calmly withstanding the burning light from the pulsing on the crimson halo around him, his devilish smile etched onto her wrathful eyes as he spoke out calmly once more, the golden horns that looked like tusks above his head shining with a murderous light at the same time!

"Tell me more about how my Halo is false, O Primordial!"

BOOOM!

An unshakable impact as for the third time, the Primordial was knocked away.

"..."

Domination!

Absolute domination!

Nion was absolutely indomitable as after the fusion of Noah and Hyperion, the power displayed was utterly mind-numbing.

The combination of two Cosmic Realm existences who were at the peak of power within their own Reality!

Apart from this, there was the advent of the Ascendancy Halo that when he utilized with this new body, he achieved power and speed that even the Primordial could barely follow!

It showed the difference in the quality of the Ascendancy Halos.

It showed what a glorious future was coming as the forging of this Halo would have consequences echoing out across Realities!

{<>{Unranked}{Temporary} :: The culmination of 15 Flames of an Edict forged into a tool of immense power. The Tiers of Ascendancy Halos are set as this particular one is currently unranked due to the process of its formation. Due to the process of the Bloodlines of the Edicts being fused to achieve the Ascendancy Halo, a new possibility has been unlocked as the limit of 15 Edicts to forge a single Halo is broken. Up to 15 additional Bloodlines of Edicts can now be fused into this Ascendancy Halo as the power it can attain is unimaginable and unsurpassed when compared to other Halos. A natural and unbreakable suppression exists when this Ascendancy Halo comes across others that are not on par with it, with the ranking of this Halo only being accurately determined when its architect comes across an existence with a Halo of similar power. With an Ascendancy Halo, one is capable of accepting the recognition of a Reality and obtaining the title of Reality Overseer. The Halo itself is extremely unique as with the harmonious connection of 15 Nomological Edicts, it constantly stimulates the refinement of the True Blood within one's body as the number of passively formed Splendiferous Universes increases over time...}

{... In addition to the passive generation of 100 Million Splendiferous Universes daily, this Unranked Ascendancy Halo now grants the passive generation of 1 Billion Splendiferous Universes daily- with this number increasing over time as one's True Blood is refined even more. Those still in the Cosmic Realm with a unique Halo like this established will be capable of refining their Cosmic Origin faster as within a short period of time, they can naturally step into the Cosmic Filament Realm. Apart from its many auxiliary uses, the Ascendancy Halo is the strongest attacking tool as the Flames of Edicts that make it have their effects elevated to the extremes. If high quality Edicts are contained within the Halo, one can even become capable of withstanding High Tier Edicts past the level of Greater or Quasi-Insurmountable with the protection of the Ascendancy Halo. There are currently many unquantifiable boosts and perks of this Ascendancy Halo, with the only quantifiable perk so far being the increase of +100,000,000,000% to All Parameters. Other perks and boosts are currently in the process of being analyzed. Ultimately, one can fuse with their Ascendancy Halo to take on their True Form- where even the destruction of Realities is a possibility with the power one obtains through this...}

...!

A boundlessly powerful tool was obtained as among the many details it held, there were still more that were still being analyzed and waiting to be discovered!

Chapter 1416 - The Unruly Celestial Vine Blooms! I

The Ascendancy Halo of Catastrophe!

This was the wondrous bloody halo that currently rotated around Nion, with its full uses still unknown as it was being analyzed even now.

But at its base...was a ridiculous 100 Billion percent increase in All Parameters!

This explained the shocking speed and power that even the Primordial Cecilia was having a hard time keeping up with in her restricted state.

But something even more unique was the fact that this Ascendancy Halo...did not end at just 15 Flames of Edicts. And one must be extremely clear about the reason for this- it was solely due to the Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor!

It was the fact that this high tier Edict focusing on the concept of Blood allowed for Noah to fuse the Bloodlines of Edicts and grant him this unique type of Halo that could actually break through the restrictions of 15 Edicts to forge a Halo as Noah could continue to add 15 more.

How could others compare!

How could Higher Existences match him when he began to delve across the vast Infinite Realities?!

Any Higher Existence he met across the vast Realities would even naturally be suppressed by his Ascendancy Halo of Catastrophe unless they had a tier of a Halo that matched his- and this would be when Noah would finally learn about the actual rank of his Ascendancy Halo.

Of course, you then had the ridiculous passive generation of 1 billion Splendiferous Universes every single day brought about by this Halo. The reality that in a 'short period' of time, one would have their Cosmos naturally refined as they would step into the Cosmic Filament Realm!

'What exactly is a short period of time though?' Such a thought crossed Noah's mind as he yearned for even more power.

The Ascendancy Halo came with many things as Noah and Hyperion had yet to fully understand it even now, but it was enough to combat a Primordial at this moment as Cecilia's brilliant figure smashed from one end of the Domain of Apocalypse to another, Noah's other bodies moving like mere glimmer of lights along with the fused body of Nion to try and break apart the defenses of this Primordial!

'But...this is currently an impossibility.'

WAA!

Even as Noah enjoyed the feeling of battle and the upper hand, he knew that it was not enough to break past the protection of Cecilia's Ascendancy Halo in this short period of time, and that the power of this Primordial...was far from being displayed to the fullest.

Days ago, he had utilized Author's Jurisdiction and gotten false information on this being as just like him- she was also capable of hiding who she was along with her abilities as she gave others a false sense of security!

The status sheet he pulled from her barely had the required number of completed Edicts for an Ascendancy Halo, and there were many falsehoods written within that Noah had not been able to bypass because this being...had passively protected herself with a Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edict!

The Greater Nomological Edict of Kismet trying to break past the barriers of a QUASI-INSUPERABLE Nomological Edict...how could it do such a thing?

But as Noah smashed into Cecilia the past few times with the oppressive outburst of his Ascendancy Halo, he was able to utilize an Edict of the same level to finally pierce apart the falsehoods and arrive at True results.

"Author's Viewpoint."

THRUM!

As the figure of Cecilia smashed into a Wall of Cardinal Sin, the Nomological Edict of the Dictum Emperor shone with splendor as its Flames that were fused into the Ascendancy Halo of Catastrophe shone.

After coming in contact with this being closely multiple times, the essence of the Dictum Emperor along with the essence of Reality churned from Nion's origin as all of space and time came to a halt briefly!

For barely a fraction of a millisecond, Noah saw the space around him come to a complete halt as everything turned gray- his eyes catching the appearance of white pages unfurling above Cecilia as an instant later, they became filled with golden words.

BZZT!

Time then resumed once more as if nothing happened, but the golden pages never disappeared as they came to rest before Noah's eyes!

Within the pages...were details of the terrifying existence that was Cecilia as no falsehoods were retained this time around, the essence of the Dictum Emperor being capable of piercing through the veils of deception!

With it, Noah utilized Author's Viewpoint as he truly viewed Cecilia as if she was a mere character in an epic.

<> :: A Higher Existence that has stepped on the path of consolidating her Flames of Edicts and has already obtained the lowest tier Ascendancy Halo. Female, Cosmic Filament Rank(Currently restricted to Cosmic), 287 Million Years Old. Cecilia is an above-average Higher Existences tasked with overseeing a few Emerging Realities. Her uniqueness comes from her unique Ultra Rare Bloodline of a Celestial Vine- a unique plant type existence that is birthed from seeds of Cosmos within Prime Realities. She has forged the Invincible System within her Origin and Soul as when faced with great enemies and pressure, she blooms to even more powerful stages. She possesses immense vitality and understanding as with a White Tier Ascendancy Halo forged, her second forging of an Ascendancy Halo is not too far off. Cecilia uniquely holds the Bloodlines of Celestial Vine, Golden Emperor, Unbridled Emperor, Savanna, Vestige, Primordial, Rosary, Deceiver, Refulgence, Samsara, Erosion, Insurgent...Songbird, Phlogiston, Avant-garde, Velocity, Sagacious, Manipulator, Charlatan, Gazer, Protuberant...She burns with the ambition to rise through the ranks of power as becoming an Elder Primordial is something she only sees as a stepping stone...

[Skill(s)]...[Law(s)]...[Authority(s)]...[Dao(s)]...[Nomological Edict(s) :: Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edict of the Golden Emperor- 100%, Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edict of Savanna- 100%, Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edict of the Golden Emperor- 100%, Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edict of Vestige- 100%, Greater Nomological Edict of the Primordial- 100%, Greater Nomological Edict of Rosary- 100%, Greater Nomological Edict of Deceiver 100%, Greater Nomological Edict of Refulgence - 100%, Greater Nomological Edict of Samsara- 100%...Minor Nomological Edict of Erosion- 100%, Minor Nomological Edict of Insurgent -100%, Minor Nomological Edict of Songbird -100%, Minor Nomological Edict of Phlogiston- 100%, Minor Nomological Edict of Avante-garde -100%...]...[Current Point in Time]...[Past Points in Time]...

The true status sheet of the Primordial that was Cecilia was revealed.

She was not 121 million years old. Nor was she of the human race. Nor did she only have just Greater and Minor Edicts. But worst of all...she was close to a second Ascendancy Halo!

Chapter 1417 - The Unruly Celestial Vine Blooms! II

Cecilia was hidden too deeply as she had Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edicts hiding the core of her strength, with others like Noah only utilizing a Greater Nomological Edict to garner information only putting themselves at risk as if they attacked with such information...they would come to find themselves perishing without even understanding why!

An existence from the Celestial Vine Race. Owning the same system she designed for her Champions! The number of Edict he held were over 30 as shockingly, there was a possibility for her to form a second Ascendancy Halo.

It was a fantastical existence that deserved the awe and power carried across a few Realities!

BZZZT!

Under the glow of a crimson and white Halo, the Domains of Apocalypse burned with the essence of Outer Eldritch Terrors as existences reminiscent of the most terrifying and dreadful Chthonians materialized to attack the target of the Master of Apocalypse.

The forms of Telos under Noah and his fused body of Nion encircled the Primordial as she continued to be on the losing side when in the next instant...

"ENOUGH!"

WAAA!

A voice full of rage and valor echoed out from the blindingly white surroundings of Cecilia, the Ascendancy Halo spinning around her this whole time shrinking rapidly as it came to even touch the skin on her body...and it then sunk into her body as a radiant white light that burned everything around her was released!

"A mere abomination of a Primordial Beast and human actually dares to be so bold?!"

The rage in her wrath was palpable as after the Ascendancy Halo fused into her body, the blinding white light was accompanied by a verdant gold light as it began to expand rapidly.

"To dare disparage the honor of a Primordial? To dare and even think about truly standing up to me? You are not worthy!"

RUMBLE!

With her words, her body began to expand rapidly as it encompassed millions of light years in an instant as it continued, the glow of green and gold pervasively spreading out amidst the surroundings as they screamed of overabundance in life force!

Nion gazed at such a scene with sharp eyes that glimmered with excitement as he knew.

The boss was taking its final form. To him, it meant the weaving of destiny was nearing a climax as after this...their plans would be tested on whether they would come to fruition!

After a fantastical show of light, the surroundings became clear.

Where Cecilia used to be, an oppressive and mystical looking golden green structure rose from the bottom of the Domain all the way to the top.

"Let me show you what it means to provoke an Esteemed Celestial Vine!"

From the verdant gold structure, an ancient voice echoed out as after the fusion of the Ascendancy Halo into her body, Cecilia had taken her true form as she became an existence only found across special Prime Realities!

An existence from the race of Celestial Vine made her appearance at this moment as it was a fantastical sight for all to admire.

A glorious Vine stretching out endlessly as it glimmered green and gold, a huge trunk vaster than any Universes as countless dangling branches extended out.

It was something that even Noah's past Yggdrasil form could not compare to, this existence seeming like an ancient primal life force that could look down over everything else!

There were two central branches that danced mysteriously from the wondrous Celestial Vine, shining entirely in gold wrapped around them were purple Circlets rotating with fervent power- these Circlets releasing a glow of a treasure that surpassed anything that a Cosmic Treasure could release as they were at the level of Quasi-Primordial Relics!

In a matter of moments, Cecilia revealed her ultimate form and brought out two Quasi-Primordial Relics, yet when Nion looked at such a scene...his face showed an even brighter devilish smile as his six eyes released horrific lights of power!

Cecilia's transformation revealed a little bit more about the race of Primordials, where these beings held their own unique Bloodlines similar to how Noah was a human being, and yet he also had the Bloodline of the Universal Race, the Destiny Goblin...and many more.

If Cecilia began her life as a Celestial Vine...then it meant that she was inducted into the Bloodline of a Primordial and became one soon after! It meant that in the vast Infinite Realities, there was a possibility for others to obtain the Primordial Bloodline and join the ranks of Primordials.

WAA!

The thought buzzed and danced wildly within Noah's mind as after seeing the final transformation of this being, essence fluctuated from him as it rose up silently towards the vast void above.

This essence...carried a message and a signal!

Past the Ruination Sea and going towards the very boundary of Reality, this signal went forth!

His six eyes then blinked with power and might as even with the ultimate form of this existence revealed, the Ascendancy Halo of Catastrophe only shone brighter as Nion surged forward!

OOOOM!

His figure wreathed in Flames of Edicts only lost a little in luster to the Celestial Vine that gazed towards him with utmost wrath and disdain...yet other thoughts also crossed the mind of this Celestial Vine.

Truth be told, the Celestial Vine, or Cecilia- was currently in a very unique situation. She had many tools under her belt, but none of them could be used to the fullest!

Her Origin was restricted to the Cosmic Realm. Her Invincible System was not activating against the beings before her as they were stages below her, but even with that...she saw that the conditions for her System to be triggered between beings was actually not met.

It meant that these existences of lower Tiers fighting her...actually did not consider her their enemy!

WAA!

Such a thing filled her with utter rage at the mere idea of it as she bellowed out angrily!

They dared to disdain her like so? They dared to not even gaze at her as an enemy while they fought with their lives on the line?

If she wasn't an enemy for them....then they would have no enemies in their lifetimes!

'Since you carry such disdain, let me show you what it truly means to be matchless in power.'

...!

'I was saving my accumulation of Essence of Reality...but for you all, it shall be used to complete my last Edict and call forth another pristine Halo!'

RUMBLE!

Chapter 1418 - You Are Already Dead! I

Cthulhu's crimson eyes the size of stars watched the ecstatic scene in the Domains of Apocalypse as immense emotion burned within him.

It was the scene of a single existence wreathed in snaking Flames of Edicts standing against a golden green Celestial Vine that was vaster than a Cosmos!

His clones in the forms of terrifying Telos moved in the surroundings as the domains were held up by four glimmering Towers of Ragnarok. Towers that released arcs of origin destroying essence of Apocalypse in the forms of unstable Universes constantly! Towers that released the repulsive essence of Pandemonium that seemed to want to devour everything around it!

Within the Domains that these Towers of Ragnarok were centered around, Cthulhu could see the unique essence of Eldritch Terrors that made his bloodline burn with excitement- as if this essence was the final direction he should be heading towards! As he gazed at everything, the feeling of wanting to grasp such a power within his own hands was extremely pervasive as he wasn't the only one.

Barbatos had the same gaze.

Halcyon had the same gaze. The Oathkeeper. The Emperor Penguin...many beings had fervent gazes of wanting to experience such a stellar battle, but they were too weak to do so! And yet at this moment...each of them felt a calling.

A calling from the Domains of Apocalypse as one of the features of the Towers of Ragnarok was to call upon the vassals of the Seeker of Apocalypse and grant them the identity of Heralds of Apocalypse, their lives being tied to the Seeker of Apocalypse as if Noah does not perish, the Herald of Apocalypse will not!

They could die over and over again within the Domains of Apocalypse as while they were reinforced by the essence of Apocalypse and the support of the now fully materializing Eldritch Terrors...the battle power they could display was rather remarkable.

OOOM!

One by one, they began to answer the call as their figures disappeared in a flash of light!

When they opened their eyes again, they felt their bodies budding off from a pristine black tower, surrounded by the essence of a Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edict as boundless power coursed through them! When their eyes gazed at everything at this close range, they sucked in shocked breaths as they saw a terrifying Outer Eldritch at the Cosmic Realm wading through the Domain of Apocalypse on an illusory old ship the size of a Universe, this Eldritch shrouding his humanoid form with a cloak of darkness as one could see feelers and tentacles blooming horrifically from its face.

In another direction, another Unique Outer Eldritch also materialized as he released scorching waves of heat akin to a sun, but the light released was entirely obsidian in color as it caused increasing darkness.

This was the battle they were given access to help in and experience! A total of four Outer Eldritchs at the Cosmic Realm were fully materialized as they supported the back of a single being who had a crimson halo surrounding him- a halo that was currently trying to suppress an untouchable figure of the Celestial Vine Race!

"OOOOOH!"

Such an apocalyptic scene and battle caused all of those that had answered the call to be Heralds of Apocalypse to move out fervently as they acted like small Universes containing the essence of apocalypse to smash towards the vibrant Celestial Vine. Death was of no consequence to them, so they might as well say they battled against a Cosmic Filament Rank Primordial with the help of their Emperor!

BZZZT!

The uncountable number of vines sprouting around the Celestial Vine went to smash towards the Telos, Outer Eldritchs, Heralds of Apocalypse, and the countless unstable universes filled with apocalypse sent forth by the Towers of Ragnarok.

The two central vines of the Primordial that were armed with two sharp Quasi-Primordial Relics...these weaved towards Noah with utter malice and fervor as they actually ruptured apart reality itself where they crossed!

Nion gazed at such a scene with clarity as under his collective six eyes, it was coming in at a very slow motion.

He watched the two Quasi-Primordial Relics with a fiery gaze. These were Quasi-Primordial Relics! Just the Eonic Bell of the Unguarded allowed Hyperion to bring down the Realm of a Primordial. These Circlets that Cecilia was using...Nion knew he could not take on their offensive damage!

Or it was more correct to say that he couldn't take them on...yet.

"Big guy, it's time for you to go to sleep."

As a terrific Primordial returned to her True Form and threw a spacetime rupturing attack towards him, Noah uttered such a sentence to the existence that shared his origin and soul currently.

The Primordial had merged with her Ascendancy Halo to return to her most powerful state- reverting to an elevated version of her Celestial Vine race as the power she wielded could erase existences at the level of time and space as she wielded her Quasi-Primordial Relic Circlets! Now...Nion had to also fuse with the Ascendancy Halo of Catastrophe and revert to an elevated version of his own True Form.

But due to a myriad of factors that made Noah the main contributor of the Ascendancy Halo, fusing with it to grant the True Form only allowed a single consciousness to remain active in order for one to truly obtain the True Form! For this, Hyperion's consciousness had to sleep.

OOM!

Within Nion's six eyes, a trace of Hyperion could be seen as his voice rang out in the collective consciousness.

"I will wake up free of the shackles of this reality?"

A grandiose question that Noah's consciousness answered simply!

"You will wake up free."

With these words, one of the consciousnesses of the two fused beings dimmed. The Eonic Bell of the Unguarded remained powered up and attached to Nion's body as its effects continued on its target.

RUMBLE!

The bloody Ascendancy Halo released a burst of excited light as while watching in slow motion the coming of a terrific attack of two Quasi-Primordial Relic Circlets that were cutting apart Reality itself, the crimson Halo instantly receded and fused into the body of its Master!

Chapter 1419 - You Are Already Dead! II

The attainment of one's true form!

Cecilia had reverted back to the existence she was born as, the terrific figure of an elevated Celestial Vine being born!

But what about Noah?

As the consciousness of an Ender of Reality dimmed and Noah took the full reigns, a blinding crimson light emanated from him in a shocking fashion as the Ascendancy Halo of Catastrophe fused with him instantly.

Barely a fraction of a millisecond, and it was enough for the glorious transformation to occur!

Before this, the form of Nion had 6 eyes, tendrils of Flames of Edicts swirling around his body, and wings made from flames of Edicts on his back as it was a truly oppressive form. But now...

BZZZZT!

Fair white hands reached out from the cacophony of crimson light as they sought to take hold of the Quasi-Primordial Relic Circlets that were cutting apart Reality itself.

Mere hands trying to halt the progression of offensive Quasi-Primordial Relics!!!

"Arrogant!"

The Celestial Vine bellowed out in fervor as the two central golden vines brightened up even more, the Flames of Edicts coursing through them giving the sharp Circlets a multicolored glow.

Yet...

BOOOM!

A tremendous impact occurred as something was brought to a halt.

BZZZT!

The Quasi-Primordial Relics capable of cutting apart Reality itself...could be seen held in place by two fair hands as they buzzed and threatened to break out, but they were clamped down domineeringly as they couldn't move forward or back!

...!

"Impossible!"

WAA!

On the expressionless Celestial Vine, shock coursed through it as to its utter stupor, the golden vines that were its strongest could not pull back the Quasi-Primordial Relics stopped by an existence's own hands!

How was it possible! These were genuine Quasi-Primordial Relics! Not Cosmic Treasures. Not any mere weapons. Backed by the might of a Primordial in the form of a Celestial Vine who had fused with an Ascendancy Halo...just how could they be stopped?

Those fair white hands...just what were they attached to?!

The vibrating Reality cleared as the stellar scene of the being that had actually stopped the progression of attack capable of cutting Reality with his bare hands was seen.

His form...was entirely that of a titanous human being as he was the size of a Cosmos.

He was adorned in a loose-fitting flaming crimson robe that left most of his chest bare, a flaming crimson illusory crown rotating gloriously above his head as it released waves of authoritative light!

His head was exactly that of Noah, his dark hair rising up with crackles of power as an exceedingly handsome face that was enough to topple entire Realities could be seen. His two eyes shimmered with an unknown stellar light that when the Celestial Vine gazed towards them, her consciousness had to turn away as it felt a dangerous sense of sharpness from these eyes that seemed to release a light of power and benevolence!

Eyes that looked at everything with utter calmness as if they had everything under control!

On the bare chest of this being that could partly be seen from the adornment of the crimson flaming robes were faint Runic Dao Lines that at this moment in time...they actually acted as a blueprint.

A terrific blueprint as in real time, colorful flames of Edicts began to fill up the lines of ancient tattoos as Noah's entire body was becoming lit up even more brightly- his figure beginning to look more and more fantastical and otherworldly!

The traces of Runic Dao Lines were actually used as blueprints that Flames of Edicts followed! What did this even mean?!

RUMBLE!

There was no answer as boundless might erupted from the hands grasping onto the Quasi-Primordial Relics, Noah not letting go as he instead reached out to twirl the two golden vines around his hands tightly!

"Let me expand what you know, O Primordial."

RUMBLE!

Shock reverberated across the Celestial Vine as it found an unstoppable force being released from these hands of a mere human, a force that she couldn't break away from as his voice continued!

"Let me show you how vast the oceans are."

RUMBLE!

Noah's fair hands began to shine with an ecstatic light as after wrapping around the tough golden vines, he began to pull down as if he were tearing apart mere weeds!

"Let me show you how boundless the skies can be."

RIIIIIP!

Shockingly, a ripping sound began to echo out as from the base of the Cosmic sized Celestial Vine...its two most central vines began to be ripped out as golden green blood spilled!

The Blood of a Primordial was spilled!

"Ah..."

Cecelia's mind was blank at such a scene as she didn't even feel pain, just pure unadulterated shock at the force and power being released from this existence that should not in any way be possible.

She was fused with her Ascendancy Halo as she achieved unshaken power and might! This being...had also just fused with his Halo as what he achieved...was it not just a bit much?

For him to be doing what he was doing right now, was it truly not too much?!

"Let me expand the horizons of a frog like you from your pristinely erected golden walls as I show you the vastness that lies around you!"

RIIIIIP!

With a forceful tug, the golden Celestial Vine trunks were ripped apart from their base as golden green blood overflowed.

"..."

The entire Domains of Apocalypse turned silent.

The four Outer Eldritch Terrors moving forward and battling with the countless other smaller branches of the Celestial Vine gazed up in shock.

Halcyon and others who were surrounded by the Essence of Apocalypse and fighting the smaller branches of the Celestial Vine also gazed up in utter stupor!

None of them could fully wrap their minds around the scene above them, but Halcyon's eyes were bathed gold as she could see the illusion of a boundlessly powerful crimson halo float domineeringly above a white Halo- utterly dominating it as what she had seen before came to fruition.

A crimson and white ring fighting for supremacy.

At this moment in time, the crimson right of light was unmatched as it seemed everything was set in stone!

But amidst the shock and stupor of everyone, a screech of utter malevolence and denial echoed out as the vast Celestial Vine shook and crackled with power!

"Impossible! IMPOSSIBLE!"

RUMBLE!

Piercing bellows echoed from it as its anger was palpable, its voice coming out once more with maddening sharpness!

"I am a Primordial...and my authority cannot be denied!!!"

The moment these words ended, the Domains of Apocalypse shook as a terrible power unfurled out.

The eyes of Halcyon glazed gold as the essence of Kairos churned, shock and grimness appearing on her face as she saw that while the crimson ring of light was about to completely suppress the white ring of light around Cecilia...yet another resplendence ring was blooming out and trying to form!

Its color...was not white.

Ah!

Chapter 1420 - You Are Already Dead! III

Cecilia's Origin vibrated powerfully as it answered her call and churned out all of the Essence of Reality within her reserves!

Even though a unique power restricted her from utilizing her Cosmic Filaments and allowed the might of a single Cosmos to be used- she still had her Cosmic Filaments.

Her pure and shocking power was still there as hidden within were the reserves of Essence of Reality from multiple emerging Realities, her strong will sacrificing all of them to go towards completing her second Ascendancy Halo!

'Bend to my thoughts and change the workings of Reality! Let me obtain the might to put this insect in his place!'

Her soul screamed powerfully as the multicolored essence of Reality weaved to complete her last Greater Nomological Edict.

The burning flames that were already rotating within her gained a 15th one, the essence of Reality bathing them and pulling them all together forcefully! Large amounts of this unique essence were sacrificed as it would never be done even by Elder Primordials in this manner, but Cecilia knew she didn't have a choice.

The abomination before her could never reach the level of a Primordial's feet, but he did possess power to threaten her! So she would do all she needed in order to put him in his place!

OOOOH!

An illusory blinding ring of light erupted out around her glorious figure of a Celestial Vine as it roared out with majesty and power!

It was not white at all as in the surroundings, a regal light of blue began to spread out wildly.

A Blue Tier Ascendancy Halo!

BZZZT!

It spun madly around the figure of the golden green Celestial Vine as her golden blood stopped flowing, the faceless Celestial Vine gazing towards Noah with malice as her voice echoed out when watching this being actually wave his hands to put away her ripped out central golden trunks along with her two Quasi-Primordial Relics.

"Now...you shall perish without a doubt along with your abominable Reality!"

WAA!

Cecilia wanted to now put on a dominating show as she moved, her non-fused and newly forged Blue Ascendancy Halo releasing powerful waves of light as it expanded to attack Noah!

As the blue light filled everyone's gazes, Noah looked at it calmly as his recently freed hand went forward, once more using his palms to actually dare to grasp onto a coming Ascendancy Halo!

BZZZT!

A scraping sound as if metal was grinding upon metal echoed out, Cecilia's consciousness lighting up as she saw even though the hands of the being before her weren't ripped apart...he was rebuffed for the first time since his dominating pace of battle began.

A cerulean blue light flashed dangerously as Noah's body was pushed back a little, but his eyes remained calm! This was because even as he gazed into the details of his fused Ascendancy Halo of Catastrophe, he didn't see any changes to its rank as he could confidently say he could suppress the Blue Tier Halo before him!

The rank of his Ascendancy Halo would only be decided if he met another Halo that it couldn't suppress.

This new Blue Tier Halo below him...he could suppress!

This was why he could counteract it with his bare hands as wondrously, even though the Primordial had now displayed two Ascendancy Halos...his power was enough to stand against it!

OOOM!

His body surged with power as he felt the fused flames of edicts coursing through him through the lines created by the Runic Dao Lines- as if these inscriptions were always there for this purpose as the power he could display was increased by multiple levels over.

He had to take the time to understand the mysteries of this and what this True Form could fully display with the authority of his Ascendancy Halo, everything he was doing now felt natural as it brought out immense might and power!

The Flames of Apocalypse among many more were layered on his body as his hands alone released all of his fused flames of edicts while he withstood the authority of the Blue Tier Ascendancy Halo, and his body stopped being pushed back as he now tried to pierce through its authority and erase Cecilia once and for all.

OOOH!

His True Sanguine Clones thundered down with their own attacks towards the endlessly spreading branches and vines of the enemy before them, the four Cosmic Rank Outer Eldritch Terrors and Heralds of Apocalypse that answered his call fighting against the smaller vines of Cecilia as the attention of this existence was spread out in order to keep away from the baleful essence of Apocalypse and Pandemonium!

"The effects of your Quasi-Primordial Relic will be dispelled in the next few seconds...when that occurs, I will truly show you which of us is the sky and just what little thing is the frog!"

RUMBLE!

At such a time, Cecilia's piercing voice filled with pride echoed out as the reality was stated simply for the pace of the battle. Noah was dominating it, yes! He was withstanding two Ascendancy Haloes. He was even pushing his way within the authority of these Halos...but all of this was under the pretense that this enemy remained in the same Realm as him!

The words of Cecilia of what would happen when she regained her full Realm weren't false, and Noah knew this very well.

The Eonic Bell of the Unguarded was powerful- but it was only that. A powerful Quasi-Primordial Relic that after affecting a Cosmic Filament Realm existence this whole time...its effects were actually about to be dispelled!

In this short period of time, Noah had to bypass the might of two Ascendancy Halos as in such a limited time slot...it wasn't possible.

Even though his Ascendancy Halo of Catastrophe could actually suppress Cecilia's white and blue tier Halos, it still required him to spend some time before he could break through their authority!

Yet the time wasn't there as if Noah did not bypass them in the next few seconds...all would be lost.

And yet...his eyes were still calm.

This was because he had planned for a great deal of things, and he had spent quite a significant amount of time with the abilities from Kismet and the Dictum Emperor- the abilities of Reader's Viewpoint and Premium Reader!

He had seen this story.

He knew how it would end!